

What Society BY IS DOING NONA LAWLER

MISS KATHRYN HOYT, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Hoyt, was presented to Portland society last night at a debut dance which was one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The Multnomah hotel ballroom where the affair was held was filled with a fashionable gathering of about 300 guests. Flowers and more flowers, lovely blooms sent to the charming debutant, made a beautiful setting for the receiving line. Flowering cherry, quince and plum blossoms amidst the dark green of huckleberry greenery and palms made a most effective decorative effect. Miss Hoyt was a picture of loveliness in a frock of delicate pink taffeta with touches of silver. Supper was served in the tea-room adjoining the ballroom and here again the genius of the decorator had full sway and resulted in a veritable tropical garden of palms and flowers.

Too Sick To Work

Many Women in this Condition Regain Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Convincing Proof of This Fact
Ridgway, Penn. — "I suffered from female trouble with backache and pain in my side for over seven months so I could not do any of my work. I was treated by three different doctors and was getting discouraged when my sister-in-law told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her. I decided to try it, and it restored my health, so I now do all of my housework which is not light as I have a little boy three years old."
—Mrs. O. M. Raines, Ridgway, Penn.

Mrs. Lindsey Now Keeps House For Seven.
Tennille, Ga. — "I want to tell you how much I have benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About eight years ago I got in such a low state of health I was unable to keep house for three in the family. I had dull, tired, dizzy feelings, cold feet and hands nearly all the time and could scarcely sleep at all. The doctor said I had a severe case of ulceration and without an operation I would always be an invalid, but I told him I wanted to wait awhile. Our druggist advised my husband to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has entirely cured me. Now I keep house for seven and work in the garden some, too. I am so thankful I got this medicine. I feel as though it saved my life and have recommended it to others and they have benefited."
—Mrs. W. E. Lindsey, R. R. 3, Tennille, Ga.

Private Printing Stopped.
Salem, Or., April 13.—The state printing board, at a meeting Thursday, ordered a stop put to state commissions and institutions having state printing done by private printing concerns when the state printing plant is available for handling the work.

This action was taken when printing bills, aggregating over $600, incurred by the state fish and game commission, were presented to the board for approval. Under the law the state printing board must approve the bills before the secretary of state may draw warrants for the payment.

In a number of instances the fish and game commission was paying private printers nearly double the amount for which the state plant could print at the state printing office.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., April 13.—Official word was received by President Campbell Thursday morning from Adjutant General Johnston of the United States army that Oregon's application for a reserve officer's training corps had been accepted. Lieutenant Willis Shippam, U. S. Army, who is stationed in Eugene, inspected the university's equipment and locker room when the application was forwarded to Washington.

Lieutenant Shippam reported, favorably, that drill facilities, storage and locker room were needed. These are now assured as the board of regents at its last meeting voted to provide the necessary equipment contingent upon the acceptance of the application by the war department. According to Adjutant General Johnston, an officer will be sent to Eugene as soon as one can be spared.

Ministers of Baker Mount Water Wagon
Baker, Or., April 13.—Baker ministers literally went on the water wagon Thursday night when five of the pastors of churches, participating in union revival meetings, clambered aboard one of the city's sprinklers and headed an auto parade through the city, boosting for attendance at the service. Over 50 autos were in line. A band followed the "water wagon," and a combined choir next to the band furnished music while the band was idle.

MEDFORD MAN HELD FOR ARSON IS FOUND DEAD IN EUGENE JAIL

N. E. Hemphill May Have Committed Suicide With Poison or Died of Apoplexy

Eugene, Or., April 13.—N. E. Hemphill of Medford, Or., who was arrested here Thursday on a charge of arson, was found dead in his cell at the county jail last night. Officers say he had either committed suicide or had died of apoplexy. The contents of a cup into which he had poured some coffee will be examined by chemists at the University of Oregon to ascertain whether or not he swallowed poison.

County Health Officer W. L. Cheshire is of the opinion that he died of a stroke of apoplexy, but Deputy Sheriff Elkins, who has charge of the jail, says that Hemphill told him during the day he was very depressed and that the deputy had "better look out for him."

Hemphill and Mrs. M. M. Garwood were arrested here, charged with setting fire to the residence of Mrs. Nan L. Strickfaden, at Ashland, March 18. The house was insured for $5000 and the damage done by the fire was about $2000. Hemphill was about 50 years old and cards in his pockets show he was a member of the various branches of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, at Ashland; of the lodge of Elks of Medford and the Modern Woodmen of America.

SENATOR OLSON AND MASTER OF GRANGE DEBATE ROAD BONDS

Over 1000 People Gather to Hear Proposed $6,000,000 Issue Discussed at Albany.

VIEWES DIFFER WIDELY

Unspoken Verdict of Persons Present Seemed to Give Opponents on Subject Just About a Draw.

Albany, Or., April 13. — Over 1000 people gathered at the Armory Thursday to hear the debate between State Senator Conrad F. Olson of Portland, and C. E. Spence, of Oregon City, master of the State Grange, on the subject of the $6,000,000 road bond issue. Olson spoke in favor of the issue and Spence against it. There was no decision, those present forming their own opinion. The unspoken verdict seemed to be about a draw.

Senator Olson stated that it is generally conceded that the auto license tax and the fourth mill levy will take care of the principal an interest of the bond issue, and he ventured a guess that the automobile licenses alone in two years time would be sufficient, due to the rapid increase of machines in the state.

Tourists Would Be Attracted.
He pointed to the fact that California has made two issues of $18,000,000 and $15,000,000 and has over 2000 miles of hard surface roads. He declared that by Oregon connecting up with this highway a considerable portion of the tourist travel would be induced to come to this state.

Olson stated that the cost of paving Lincoln county 30 miles of highway would be about $200,000, while the county pays but $275 in automobile licenses at present, or not more than $100,000 for the amount to be received. He also advanced the argument that the farms pay but 18 per cent of the taxes, while the cities and towns pay over 40 per cent.

Oregon Not Far Behind.
Mr. Spence stated that Oregon is not so far behind in road building as is represented, the state paying a higher tax per capita than any other state. The money is mostly spent by districts in the counties and not on state or trunk highways.

"Where we differ is not on the question of good roads but in the manner of financing them and which roads should be built first," he said. "The grange plan is to take the automobile and fourth mill tax and the federal aid and put it directly on the roads. The proposed plan is to issue bonds and use the tax money to pay principal and interest. Under our plan we will build 500 more miles of paved roads than under the bonding plan."

Wisdom of Debt Doubted.
Spence doubted the wisdom of plunging the state into debt, which, he thought, would be worse than not having any roads at all. "This issue," he said, will be but the entering wedge for more bond issues. Many people will be disappointed, not getting what they expected and he referred to the experiences of California, which, he says, is taxed to the limit.

Run on Flags Has Caused Shortage

Makers of National Emblem Are Overwhelmed With Orders and Patriotic Spirit Is Increasing.

Chicago, April 13.—(U. P.)—The Star Spangled Banner market is booming. Flag stocks of many big wholesale houses are cleaned out; the manufacturers are overwhelmed with orders and with the patriotic spirit increasing, the nation faces an actual flag famine.

This is the opinion of I. T. Smith, who handles the flag business of one Chicago firm, known as among the heaviest dealers in the national emblems in this country.

"Ten days before the declaration of war the flag rush started," said Smith. "Appeals for flags came from every section of the country. When the war declaration came more were demanded. I do not know what was done with them all. There were enough sold to decorate most of the houses in the United States and leave enough over for the Philippines and Hawaii."

Representative Kahn of California Says Conscription Will Prevent Slackening and Shirkers.

Washington, April 13.—(I. N. S.)—Representative Julius Kahn of California, ranking Republican member of the military affairs committee, in answer to a letter protesting against the draft plan, declares there will be no "slackers" under the conscription system, whereas there will be thousands under the volunteer plan.

"It is the judgment of many members of congress that the volunteer service is not a fair service," Mr. Kahn wrote. "It seems to me that it is only just and equal and democratic to have every American bear his share of the burden. The volunteer system broke down in our own country in the Civil war and we had to resort to conscription. It broke down in England in this war and they have had to resort to conscription over there.

"Under the volunteer system there would be thousands of shirkers and slackers. Under the conscription system there would be none."
