

LIVELY SCRAMBLE IS PROMISED FOR PLACE ON HEAD OF BALLOT

Auditor Barbur Will Begin Receiving Nominating Petitions on Wednesday.

MORE ASPIRANTS, RUMOR

Charles A. Johns and A. G. Rushlight Are Mentioned as Possible Candidates for Mayor.

With candidates for mayor and commissioner now busily engaged in circulating their nominating petitions, a lively scramble is promised when petitions are first received by City Auditor Barbur next Wednesday morning.

It probably will be a case of "first come, first served," as far as securing the top places on the ballot for the June election is concerned, although two years ago candidates secured places by picking numbers from a hat.

Four Already in Race. To date four candidates are openly in the race for mayor. They are Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, whose term expires July 1, this year; George L. Baker, commissioner of public affairs, whose term does not expire for two years; W. H. Warren, secretary to Mayor Albee, who resigns his place May 1, and E. N. Wheeler, a real estate man.

Rumor has it that A. G. Rushlight, ex-mayor, is also going to jump in the swim. Then a story is out to the effect that attempts are being made to induce Charles A. Johns, a former candidate for governor, to join the merry throng. Mr. Johns declines to comment on his plans at present, however.

Some have mentioned Ralph W. Hoyt and B. S. Josselyn also as possible candidates, but there has been little activity in their behalf to date.

Commissioner Aspirants Busy. As for the two places of commissioner there will be plenty of candidates if a survey of the field means anything.

Here are those who have already announced themselves. Robert G. Dieck, present commissioner of public works; A. L. Barbur, city auditor; O. Laurgaard, K. K. Kuhl, Archie Mason, John M. Mann and John Quinn.

George W. Caldwell, formerly chairman of the municipal utility service board, has let it become known that he would run for commissioner, but is withholding formal announcement.

George Garrett, employe of the department of public works, who was a candidate for county surveyor in the last general election, is circulating nominating petitions and so are several others.

A story is also whispered around that John D. Mann is going to run for commissioner and that John M. Mann, who was one of the first in the race, is decidedly vexed. John D. Mann's story goes, doesn't care what John M. thinks and is telling his friends that he is in the race in earnest.

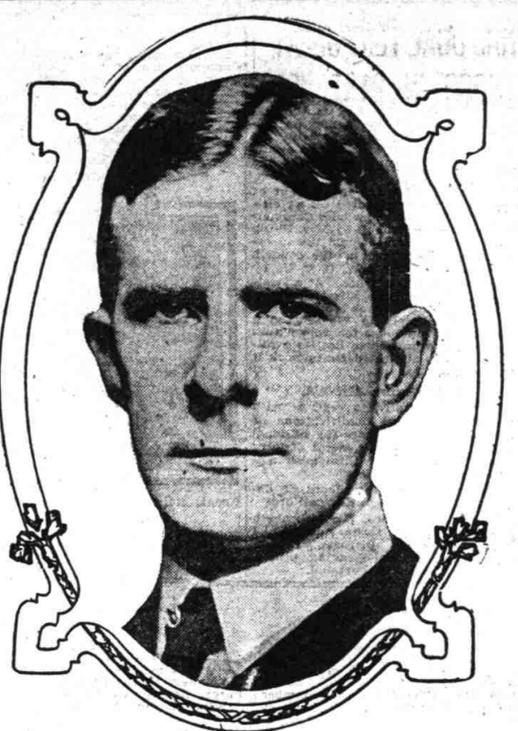

Complications Are Foreseen. John M. Mann is president of the Ivy Press. John D. Mann is a lawyer and formerly was employed in the county clerk's office under John B. Goffey, and is now in the office of the collector of customs. John M. says he is in the race with "both feet" and will make a fight to the finish.

Both are trying to figure out schemes to explain to the voters who they are and why a vote for one is a vote against the other.

To secure a place on the ballot candidates are to file their nominating petitions not later than May 14. Under no circumstances may they be filed before April 25.

Nominating petitions are to consist of 100 individual certificates for each candidate. The certificates must be signed by registered voters, and acceptances of nomination must be filed along with the nominating petitions.

HYDE REGAINS FREEDOM

Dr. B. Clark Hyde, whose prosecution on murder charge failed because state was unable to finance trial.

Kansas City, Mo., April 21.—The prosecution of Dr. B. Clark Hyde on the charge of having slain Col. Thomas H. Swope, philanthropist, ended here when Judge E. E. Porterfield, in the criminal court, dismissed the last indictment against Hyde and his bond of $50,000 automatically was canceled. The action followed motion of defense attorneys that the prosecution be dropped because four terms of court had passed since Dr. Hyde last was tried and at none of these was a trial ready to proceed.

Inability to obtain funds necessary for the case was given as the reason for the state's failure to continue the litigation. The wholesale killing of a family to get for himself the $2,500,000 fortune of Col. Swope, to which his wife, Margaret, was heir, was the charge on which the seven-year effort by the state to prove that Dr. Hyde, one of the most conspicuous criminals of the state, was based.

Poison Administered. It was the aim of the state to prove that Dr. Hyde was responsible, first, for the death of James Moss Hunton, cousin of Col. Swope, and that he tried, after Hunton's death, to get himself appointed administrator of the estate; that he administered deadly poison to Col. Swope, to Christian Swope and Margaret Swope, was responsible for the epidemic of typhoid fever which attacked members of the Swope family, including Sara Swope, Stella Swope, Lucy Lee Swope and Margaret Swope; that Dr. George I. Twyman, who died April 13, 1910, one week after Dr. Hyde's first trial started, carried with him to the grave secrets which, if he could have disclosed them on the stand, would have convicted Dr. Hyde.

The chronology of the case follows: October 1, 1909.—James Moss Hunton, cousin of Col. Thomas Swope, died suddenly. He was attended by Dr. Hyde, who, it was alleged, bled him too much.

October 3, 1909.—Thomas H. Swope died suddenly at the Swope home, supposedly of apoplexy.

Fever Epidemic. October 9.—Will of Col. Swope filed for probate. Estate valued at $3,500,000, and of this $1,500,000 was left to

Dynamite Missing, Plotters Suspected

Chicago, April 21.—(U. P.)—Federal operatives here are perturbed over the mysterious disappearance of 5000 pounds of dynamite, which, it is believed, has been stolen by plotters. Since the explosive was reported missing to the government agents, no clue as to its whereabouts has been found. Several additional arrests were made by officials today, including Heinrich Greim, said to be an escaped sailor from the interned Appam, German prize crew. He will be interned.

Leather Is Real Test

In the selling of shoes, the value of the leather in them is of great importance. While shoe men may boast, with just pride or for advertising purposes, of the style and finish of their shoes, yet the real test of the merit of shoes is the durability of the leather in them. A pair of shoes that wears well is kept in service long after fine finish has been kicked off and the new style has been forgotten. If the leather wears well, the wearer calls for a pair of shoes like them. When you figure the wearing qualities, EXCLUSIVE STYLE, comfort and lasting satisfaction to be obtained only in HANAN SHOES, you will find, as we have found, that they are really THE CHEAPEST SHOE TO BUY IN THE END.

We offer the season's latest models to our patrons with the conviction that no better value is obtainable.

ONE PORTLAND GIRL ENROLLED AS YEWMAN IN THE FEDERAL NAVY

Miss E. B. Murphy Has Place for Her Because of Exceptional Efficiency.

CAMPAIGN IS STILL ON

Demand for Recruits Is Still Just as Strong as Before First Quota Filled.

Miss E. B. Murphy, stenographer in Lieutenant Commander Blackburn's office, is the first Portland girl to be enrolled in the Naval Coast Defense Reserve.

She was given a rank of chief yeoman when she enlisted Saturday. Although all available positions for women in the service are filled, Miss Murphy's efficiency and ability were said to have warranted an extra place being made for her.

Enlistments in the navy recruiting station Saturday showed only 19 recruits.

Recruiting Still Active. The possible impression that recruiting is being abated now that the quota of 800 has been obtained is being offset, as the recruiting demands exist for recruits for the navy now as formerly.

Lieutenant Commander Blackburn made a patriotic address in Corvallis Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when he will speak at the Y. M. C. A. and this evening in the First Congregational church he will deliver an illustrated lecture on the opportunities and life of the navy.

C. H. Epton and A. A. Gorton, the men enrolled in the aviation section of the navy, left for Pensacola, Fla., Saturday night.

The army recruiting station under Captain Hubecher, in the Worcester building, obtained about 45 recruits Saturday, most of them enlisting in the popular Coast Artillery corps.

More men can be seen in the army aviation section. Applicants have a choice of being assigned to San Diego or Omaha.

A branch army recruiting station has been opened at Third and Washington streets, to give information and direct prospective recruits to the main office.

South Portland Asks Gulch Be Improved

Six Thousand Children Need Proper Playground Facilities, Is Plea of Citizens.

In order that 6000 children residing in the neighborhood of Failing school, located in South Portland, might have a proper playground free from the dangers of the streets, the South Portland Improvement club held a meeting in the assembly hall Saturday evening and discussed the need of converting Marquam gulch into a suitable recreation place.

A. H. Lepper, president of the improvement club, presided and introduced Miss Fanny Porter, principal of Failing school, as the first speaker. Miss Porter explained the need of a playground for the children of the school and the present danger to the pupils' health if the gulch was permitted to stay in its present unsanitary condition.

L. M. Lepper, secretary of the East Side Business Men's club, explaining the four-tenths mill tax which is proposed as a measure for raising funds to establish playgrounds in all parts of the city between South Portland.

Dr. E. A. Sommer took up the matter of Marquam gulch especially, and said that it was necessary to put it into sanitary condition.

J. F. Kelly and O. Laugaard spoke for the four-tenths mill tax and the need of improving Marquam gulch.

Music was rendered by some of the pupils of the school, and about 150 people were present.

Joe Harty, perhaps the best known newsboy in the northwest, and who has conducted his business for a number of years at the corner of Broadway and Washington streets, has recently sent a letter to Woodrow Wilson offering his services in any capacity he may be able to serve.

"I am physically incapacitated," says the letter in part, "in that, several years ago I had the misfortune of losing my lower limbs, but notwithstanding this handicap, I am able to conduct a business that enables me to provide for my wife and self in an honorable and quite sufficient manner, and regardless of my physical incapacity, I feel it my bounden duty to offer you my services, as there are many, many matters for attention, and in which I can be of assistance."

The institute is interdenominational and is free to all.

BOWMAN IS CHOSEN CAPTAIN COMPANY D OF TRAINING CLASS

Election on Second Ballot Is Unanimous; Charter Member Company C. O. N. G.

Captain Dan Bowman was unanimously elected captain of Company D of the training class at its meeting in the Army Saturday night.

The vote was taken first by ballot, Captain Bowman receiving 50 of the 50 votes and Richard Deitch 44. A second vote was taken by acclamation, and Captain Bowman was declared unanimously elected.

Captain Bowman has had considerable military experience. He is one of the charter members of Company C of the Oregon National Guard, and went with it as its captain to the Mexican border. Ill health, however, forced him to resign shortly after his return. He is a brother of Major Loren A. Bowman, commander of the Third Battalion of the Oregon National Guard, and has been for some time proprietor of the Moyer Clothing company store at Third and Oak streets. Both candidates were absent tonight.

General Beebe spoke to the business men and congratulated them on their assistance in the patriotic parade Thursday. He impressed upon them the duty of attending drills regularly and urged that the members try to be as efficient as the members of the Seventh New York was in the Spanish-American war.

At the close of the business meeting it was decided that other officers would be selected from members of the company at some future date, when Captain Bowman was present. The members were then formed into two platoons and drilled out on the street for an hour.

Lieutenant O. S. Peabody had charge of the drilling of more than 70 recruits from 10 different regiments. The time for drilling is 7:30 every evening and 9 a. m. Sunday.

Conservation Folk Indorse Festival

Mrs. R. D. Inman Writes That Organization Will Do All It Can to Make It Successful.

With patriotism the keynote of the 1917 Rose Festival, the eleventh annual flower fête for which Portland is celebrated in all parts of the world, is receiving the indorsement of civic and patriotic organizations throughout the state.

The Conservation league, by its chairman, Mrs. R. D. Inman, has just sounded its indorsement of the great festival.

"Our organization wishes to go on record as favoring the Portland Rose Festival, and contributing anything in its power to make this occasion a great success. We have several hundred field workers, and as soon as our work is over we will direct your attention for a few days to the work that you have undertaken.

"Soliciting flowers or aiding in their distribution, either by mail or some other similar device may be required of us.

"Among the several reasons why we feel that there should be Rose Festival this year is this: 'We are able at that time to celebrate our Independence day in a patriotic way and give the various smaller cities in our neighborhood an opportunity to hold celebrations throughout the country entertaining our visitors during the Rose Festival week and asking them in return to entertain our children in the country on the Fourth of July, where they will be able to make all the noise they please and celebrate the Fourth of July as young Americans should.'

Hubert H. Ward, president of the Oregon Patriotic Service league, has been elected in an advisory capacity in plans for the Festival Center and Court of Patriotism, as well as for the monster pageant to be held June 14.

The teams from the various clubs and civic organizations have waged a lively campaign in the past week for the 1917 Rose Festival, and reports are satisfactory. Portland has been generous, and those who have not done their share yet will be given an opportunity to do so.

Dr. Alan Welch Smith has charge of the campaign.

CREDIT SOLVES THE CLOTHES PROBLEM

The number of men and women who can go into a clothing store any time they wish and outfit themselves with new clothes is far smaller than you think. It is not because they do not have the money, but because they do not have the credit. The credit problem is the one that most people have the ready cash and are able to buy a new suit or coat. It is even better than a regular third when they feel the impulse. Quite to the contrary.

It is one thing that any man or woman can do. If they have a good clean record of meeting their bills promptly, they get the credit. It is that popular CREDIT CLOTHING store at 389-51 Washington street, in the Plimack block, that has everything they wish in the CLOTHING line and open a charge account for same. For it is even better than a regular third or sixty-day charge account. You can make a small payment weekly, and subdivide the balance you can arrange a schedule of small weekly payments monthly or monthly. It is just what you need to get you receive your day.

The fact that CHERY'S patronage has shown an increasing growth from year to year is the best proof that their system of doing business is very practical and substantial, and that the treatment accorded their patrons is of the very best.—A.W.
