How Much Seed? Asks Home Gardener

Here Are Figures Supplied By Expert

In planning a home garden the question is frequently asked, "How much seed and how many rows shall I plant of different vegetables in order to supply family needs?"
Expert gardeners have their varying opinions, but a fair average planting to supply one person (multiply then by the number in the family) may be stated with fair accuracy as follows:
Bunch beans, 10-foot row, one fifth of a pint, drop 2 inches apart in rows 26 to 30 inches apart, cover 2 inches deep.
Pole beans, 4 hills, 2 1/2 feet each way, 3 to 4 beans to the hill, cover 2 inches deep.
Beets, 10-foot row, plant one fifth of an ounce 1 1/2 inches apart in rows 1 1/2 feet apart and cover 1 1/2 inches.
Cabbage, 10 plants, 18 inches apart in rows 24 inches apart.
Carrots, 7 1/2-foot row, drop seeds 1 inch apart in rows 1 1/2 feet apart, cover half to three fourths of inch.
Sweet corn, 8 hills, 2 1/2 feet apart each way, 4 seed to hill, cover 2 inches.
Cucumber, 2 hills, 6 feet apart each way, 10 to 20 seeds in hill and thin out weakest plants, cover three fourths to an inch deep.
Lettuce, 10-foot row, sow in rows 15 to 24 inches apart, cover less than an inch deep.
Onion sets, 10-foot row, 2 to 3 inches apart in rows 15 inches apart, set so that tips barely project from surface. Parsnip, 10-foot row, seeds 1 inch apart in rows 1 1/2 feet apart, cover less than 1 inch.

Peas, two 20-foot rows, 2 inches apart in rows 30 inches apart, cover one half inch.
Spinach, 15-inch row, 2 inches apart in rows 1 foot apart, cover an inch to an inch and a half deep.
Tomatoes, 8 plants, 2 1/2 feet apart each way, set in accordance with size of plant.
Turnips, 10-inch rows, seeds 1 1/2 inches apart or sow broadcast on well prepared ground. Cover one half inch deep or take in lightly.
Those who have special questions as to methods of cultivation, amount of seed, time of planting, or who desire other information, should communicate with the garden department, care of The Journal.

Dredger Picks Up Unidentified Body
The body of a man was drawn from the river this morning by the dredger Tualatin, sucked through the cutter and shot out through the pipe line. Fragments of the body, picked up ashore 800 feet from the dredger were unrecognizable and the coroner decided identification was not possible. The Tualatin is at work below the Broadway bridge scouring out the channel there.

DALY A POOR POLITICIAN; BOALT IS HOT
News Writer Sees Baker in Baseball Parade but Discovers Commissioner Daly in His Office—WORKING!
BY FRED L. BOALT.
I'm done with Daly, I told him so today. Let him run for mayor if he wants to, but he'll get no help from me. I'm thru.
I called on him to see him at the way he conducted his campaign. He was so usual, at his desk, his one hand in a heap of papers, letters, reports, estimates and so on. I don't know what all.
He was busy doing his work.
He greeted me as I would be thru "in a minute," so I'd like to know if that is any way for a candidate to treat an interviewer?
By and by he swung around on me and said one word "Wait!"
"Wait," said I curtly for I was angry "were you here yesterday?"
"And why," I demanded, "were you not in the base ball parade?"
"Would like to have been in it, but I was too busy to get away," I gave you my word he neither blushed nor batted an eye.
Baker nearly wore out his elbow.
He was in the parade, and later he went to the game, as a candidate should on opening day. He tipped his hat. He bowed. He waved his hand.
"I was up to my neck in work," Daly protested.
"Did you see Baker in the parade?"
"Did you see Commissioner Daly in his office working?"
The purpose of the article was to lead the public to believe that Commissioner Baker was in the baseball parade and attended the baseball game, while Commissioner Daly is quoted as having advised the reporter that he was not there because according to the News Commissioner Daly replied to questions from Mr. Boalt as follows: "Why? I demanded, 'were you not in the baseball parade?' "I would like to have been in it, but I was too busy to get away." Mr. Daly said "I was up to my neck in work. If you think I am going to leave my desk . . . and get into every parade you are mistaken."

Now Then, Read This:
The Portland News, April 25th, printed a lengthy article, under the heading "Daly a Poor Politician, The News Reporter sees Baker in Baseball Parade, but discovers Commissioner Daly in his office working." The purpose of the article was to lead the public to believe that Commissioner Baker was in the baseball parade and attended the baseball game, while Commissioner Daly is quoted as having advised the reporter that he was not there because according to the News Commissioner Daly replied to questions from Mr. Boalt as follows: "Why? I demanded, 'were you not in the baseball parade?' "I would like to have been in it, but I was too busy to get away." Mr. Daly said "I was up to my neck in work. If you think I am going to leave my desk . . . and get into every parade you are mistaken."
The undersigned citizens and voters in the City of Portland do not object to the News helping the candidacy of Commissioner Daly for Mayor in any legitimate manner, but we do disapprove of publishing articles which misled the public, as in this case, because Commissioner Daly WAS IN THE BASEBALL PARADE, and Commissioner Daly DID ATTEND THE BASEBALL GAME, together with the Mayor and ALL of the Commissioners of the Council, and WAS SEEN both in the Parade and at the Ball Park by the undersigned:

The Milk Problem
YOU Can Help Solve It—The Producer and Distributor Are Doing Their Part!
For months the fresh milk business has been conducted by the farmer and dairyman at no profit and in most cases at considerable loss.
Milk condenseries with huge war orders at big prices, have continued to boost the price for "raw" milk. All kinds of feed has gone out of sight. Farmers have, in many instances, not received enough for their milk to pay bills.
And on top of this bottles, milk caps, labor, and everything connected with the production and distribution of fresh milk, have gone up 15, 25 and 50 per cent.
ON MAY 1ST, THE FIRST ADVANCE IN MILK PRICES FOR FIVE YEARS, TAKES EFFECT
Two big concerns—the Portland Pure Milk & Cream Company and the Damascus Creamery Company—joined forces to try to eliminate enough expense to keep down milk prices. We wanted to try and prevent an advance, by cutting delivery costs, introduce more efficient management, and handle products on a smaller margin. But we have found it impossible to maintain the old milk prices further. We would not lower our standard of quality—our safeguards of purity. So we must advance milk prices on May first to—
PER QT. BY THE MONTH. Paid in Advance. of month.
Milk, raw or pasteurized 12c $3.25 $3.50

We Advance Wages 10% on May First
Our employes must be considered in the big advancement in food products. On May 1st we advance all employes of Portland-Damascus Milk Company 10 per cent.
MILK Is Your Biggest Food Value
Do you know that a bottle of MILK contains the same nutriment as 18c worth of sirloin steak or pork chops—as 24c worth of ham—or 60c worth of chicken, at today's prices? Professor Sherman, of Columbia University, says: "Those who are able to spend 30c to 40c a day for food, are practicing true economy when they buy and use liberally the best milk obtainable, even at a price of 15c to 20c a quart."
No matter who is your milkman, use more MILK!

The Light:
It's as plain as the nose on your face. It isn't a mere stretching of truth; it isn't a distorting of the facts, because there isn't any truth in it; no facts in Daly's story to distort. Get that! Not a vestige of truth in the whole business.
It's something manufactured with but one intent—to mislead you and me—to have us believe that which cannot be compromised—that which cannot be explained under any code of morals; under any rules which cover any game, you or I have ever been interested in or care to play.
Whether Daly was or was not at the game means nothing. That he or anyone else would attempt to use such small drivel for political advancement is monumental. There is not a taxpayer in the city who cares whether or not he attended the game. Most of them probably would be glad to find that he has enough red

It's something manufactured with but one intent—to mislead you and me—to have us believe that which cannot be compromised—that which cannot be explained under any code of morals; under any rules which cover any game, you or I have ever been interested in or care to play.
Whether Daly was or was not at the game means nothing. That he or anyone else would attempt to use such small drivel for political advancement is monumental. There is not a taxpayer in the city who cares whether or not he attended the game. Most of them probably would be glad to find that he has enough red blood in his veins to be interested; provided the duties at the City Hall are executed. Daly has had two days in which to deny the story. He did not do it, nor try to explain. We are expected to swallow it without explanation.
What's the answer?—
That there is a force at work to make Daly mayor, which will stop at nothing; to which the truth is less than water.
If it will deliberately falsify about such a small matter; if it will go out of its way to placard an untruth, then how can you or I, or any other thinking man believe that force when it talks on matters of real import; matters that are vitally interesting to every voter? Is a man who backs such stuff or allows his name to be connected with such stuff, and doesn't even try to explain it, fit to be our mayor?
Echo answers—No!
