

DISCIPLINE TO BEREAVED IN RUSSIAN ARMY

New Minister of War and Marine Under Coalition Cabinet Makes Forceful Appeal to People.

FACTIONS ARE BEING UNITED BY KERENSKY

Government Insists on Re- vision of All Existing Treaties.

Petrograd, May 19.—(U. P.)—Russia's new coalition government will insist on revision of all existing treaties pledging the nation with its allies and will demand full publicity and revision of all peace terms and war aims. With the completion and installation of the new ministry today, this platform became known.

The new government does not insist on publication of present internal agreements—those treaties which were entered into by the old regime in Russia. It insists, however, that these old agreements be abrogated and new contracts, with the existing government, replace them. These new agreements, in line with the present Russian slogan of publicity and no secret diplomacy, will be made public.

It was stated today that President Wilson's aid would be invoked to carry out this program and second the Russian government's demands on the allies for revision of treaties and of peace terms.

Allied Socialists Will Aid.

French and British socialist delegations now here announced they would recommend such steps to their respective governments.

A. F. Kerensky, minister of war and marine under the new coalition cabinet, is uniting all factions into a harmonious administration.

Nathan Straus Arrests Rich For Stinginess

Throws Meeting of Charity Workers at Home of Miss Anne Morgan Into Consternation by Talk.

New York, May 19.—(U. P.)—Nathan Straus' blistering arraignment of Gotham's ultra-wealthy for "their paltry war relief donations," hurled at a meeting of high society charity workers in the home of Miss Anne Morgan, left New York's exclusive set gasping today.

"Let me speak," demanded Straus, interrupting a report at the meeting of the National League for Women's Service at the Morgan home. "The richest people have acted shamefully. The few paltry donations of $1000 each have come from men who have made millions out of this war."

Straus denounced "that man who recently gave $200,000 for a picture," Charles M. Schwab that not long ago.

Miss Grace Parker, national commandant of the league, quickly apologized to the rich, saying Straus was airing his own views, not those of the league.

Several wealthy women haughtily departed after Straus' tirade. James W. Gerard and George W. Wickersham, also present, sat through the meeting silent.

CONVICT CONFESSES MURDER OF BOOTH AT WILLAMINA, '15

William Riggan, Who Tells Story, Is a Pervert; His Father Believes Tale.

Hillsboro, Or., May 19.—William Riggan, convict from the state prison at Salem, brought here in the investigation of a local case, has made voluntary confession to Sheriff Applegate and Deputy Sheriff McQuillan of Washington county that he murdered William Booth, near Willamina, Yamhill county, October 8, 1915, a crime for which Booth was hanged.

Riggan is a pervert, and local authorities are rather skeptical of his story, though the man's father, George Riggan of this city, in whose presence the confession was made, says he believes the confession is true.

Booth, who was 39 years old, was found dead near the Willamina brickyard, with a 38 calibre bullet hole in his body. William Branson, a householder somewhat removed from Booth, who had been more or less intimate with Mrs. Booth, 39 years old, was taken into custody on suspicion, and later, Mrs. Booth was arrested as an accomplice. The Booths had two children.

Booth was found guilty of second degree murder, February 15, 1916, and was sentenced to life imprisonment, and Mrs. Booth was likewise sentenced upon conviction, March 12, 1916, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The trials were held at McMinnville, Judge Belt sitting.

Sheriff Applegate has not thoroughly investigated the confession of Riggan's confession, but has turned the case over to the Yamhill county authorities.

COLORED MAN BUYS $800 OF LIBERTY LOAN BONDS THIS MORNING

Interest in Big Issue Steadily Increasing Judged from Number of Applications.

A roughly dressed colored man walked up to the cashier of a Portland bank this morning and announced that he had discussed the liberty loan with his "better half" and had decided to invest.

He was given blanks and the necessary information and shortly produced a check on a savings account. The cashier thought it would be for some amount like $50, but the figures read $800.

"I'm too old to do much of anything else in this war," said the bond subscriber, "but I want to help where I can. Anyway, I'm making a contribution to my money this way, than in a savings bank."

This is the spirit the banks are looking for which, with a few exceptions, seems to be sadly lacking. Interest is increasing steadily, however, as was shown by the number of applications for the bonds being taken away with the explanation that the prospective buyer wants to talk things over with his family.

PRESIDENT EXPLAINS WHY HE WOULD NOT LET ROOSEVELT GO

Washington, May 19.—(I. N. S.)—The senate this afternoon passed the $3,342,000,000 army and navy bill without a roll call and without a dissenting vote.

The bill carries appropriations totaling $155,000,000 more than those contained in the house bill. The chief new item is an appropriation of $400,000,000 made immediately available to the president for ship building, with an additional authorized expenditure of $50,000,000 for the same purpose—a total of $450,000,000 for ship building.

The total provided in the bill for army and navy purposes is nearly $3,342,000,000. The senate added approximately $91,000,000 to the house appropriation for the army and $16,000,000 to the house appropriation for the navy.

Just before the final vote was taken the senate reduced the appropriation of $73,000,000 for horses to $55,000,000 on motion of Senator Weeks of Massachusetts.

Senator Weeks explained that it was his understanding that the war department did not intend to send any cavalry to Europe and that he could not see the necessity for such a large expenditure for horses. The amendment was accepted with the understanding that it would be subject to reconsideration in conference.

The bill contains an amendment, sponsored by the president, empowering the president to commission all ship building facilities and materials in the country to defeat the submarine warfare.

The measure is the largest appropriation bill ever passed by any legislative body in the history of the world. It carries more money than the entire cost of the Civil war.

"It is up to us to render the quickest aid that can be provided and our first opportunity to do so is to supply the money to be used for food. We must not only finance the needs of our own government, but we must help the allied governments."

McAdoo explained also that it would be his policy to deposit the money procured by the sale of these bonds in the community in which it originates. The $4,500,000 to be subscribed in Minnesota will be redeposited in Minnesota banks and will be used to extend
