INDUSTRIAL PLANTS OF COOS BAY REGION IN FINE CONDITION

Conditions Are Better Than They Ever Have Been in History of Big District.

WAGES HIGH; MEN NEEDED

Concerns Are Promising Work All Year Around as Inducement to Secure Labor for Factories.

Marshfield, Or., May 21.—The industrial conditions on Coos bay are now better than they ever have been in the history of the place. The payroll of North Bend and Marshfield combined is bigger than ever before and the wage scale is better. New industries are being started and 500 men are needed at once in the mills, logging camps, shipyards and factories.

The settlement of the strike at the C. A. Smith mill gives a minimum wage for common labor of $2.91½ a day with a bonus which assures 6 per cent. All of the mills at North Bend raised to this scale and the locality claims to be paying the best wages of any point on the Pacific coast.

Year-Round Work Promised.

In their efforts to secure more men to keep the industries busy to full capacity the manufacturers are guaranteeing work the year around and the agreeing to meet any further raise in wages which may be made at Pacific coast points.

In addition to the Smith mills in Marshfield and the Buehner Lumber company, the North Bend Mill and Lumber company and the Bay Park Lumber company of North Bend are running to capacity. A shingle mill is operated in both Marshfield and North Bend. A new shingle plant has been started at Eastside. The Krause & Banks shipyard in North Bend is building three vessels and Coos bay has been promised the contracts for building 12 of the government boats.

Box Factory Is Resuming.

The box factory, which was closed for several years, opens for operation Monday and will give employment to from 75 to 100 men and boys. The sash and door factory, which was also idle at North Bend, has been sold by the Buehner Lumber company to the North Bend Mill and Lumber company and as soon as improvements are made will be opened as a planing mill. Postmaster Hugh McLain, of Marshfield, and W. I. Clarke of San Francisco, who are interested in the box factory, have taken over the old Courtney mill near Marshfield, which was idle for a number of years, and will operate the place to cut spruce lumber for box material. There is not a factory of any kind now on Coos bay, even older plants which had been abandoned, which is not being put into active use.

The result of the new industries starting has made a shortage of men and 500 more workmen could be given employment at once in the Coos bay section of the county.

North Bend Graduation.

North Bend, Or., May 21.—Seventeen young persons will be graduated from the North Bend high school May 24. This is the largest class that has graduated from the schools of the city in the history of the place. Three of the graduates are not here, as they have enlisted in the army, but they will be given their credits and diplomas. They are Horace T. Byler, Herbert C. Cavanaugh and Ronald C. Russell. The other members of the class are William A. Chapman, Bertha A. Chapman, Myrtle E. Helm, Ruby H. Hunt, Frede E. Johnson, Stella H. Kjelland, Mildred F. Milledge, Kari L. Raab, Lloyd B. Kaab, Melinda H. Anderson, Martha G. Brock, Nora C. Sell, Catherine J. Stambuck and Vera O. Wilson. The graduating class will hold a picnic on Coos river Wednesday and class day exercises that night. The North Bend schools will close next Friday, a week earlier than usual, on account of the vacation during the Christmas holidays being of only one week's duration.

WESTERN UNION GIVES ALL EMPLOYES CHANCE TO BUY LIBERTY BONDS

Portland Manager Telegraph Company Notified of Decision by President Carlton.

The Western Union Telegraph company is the latest big American corporation to advance money to its employes with which to buy Liberty bonds. A telegram advising W. A. Robb, local manager, of this was received Sunday from Newcomb Carlton of New York, president of the company.

The plan, in brief, is to advance the money for the employes and allow them to repay it in installments, charging the same rate of interest on deferred payments that is borne by the bonds, 3½ per cent. Each employe may borrow up to 25 per cent of his yearly salary.

Mr. Robb says indications are that a great many of the company's Portland employes will avail themselves of the company's offer. The message from Mr. Carlton is as follows:

"It is the clear duty of every patriotic American citizen to assist the government in the successful prosecution of the war. All cannot fight, but all can lend the government something toward the cost of the war. To enable employes of the Western Union Telegraph company to take advantage of this patriotic opportunity the company will, upon request, advance up to 25 per cent of each employe's yearly salary and purchase bonds for the employes' accounts, payment by the employes to be made in equal installments over 18 months by deduction from wage payments.

"The full interest at 3½ per cent per annum received from the bonds will be credited to employes' accounts and interest at the same rate charged on unpaid balances of subscriptions subject to regulations established by the board of directors to be filed with the company on or before June 30, 1917."

Food Gamblers Fear U. S. Will Prosecute

Indictment Expert and Food Probe Specialist Arrive in Chicago and Produce Dealers See Visions.

Chicago, May 21.—(U. P.)—Visions of indictments, court action, fines and imprisonment haunt the middle west food gamblers.

The visions were engendered by the arrival of Oliver E. Pagan, assistant United States attorney and indictment expert of the attorney general's department, and Robert W. Childs, special United States district attorney, in charge of fod investigations. It was intimated by federal officials that drastic action was looked for very shortly.

The efforts of the federal grand jury were expected to be directed particularly against the Chicago and Elgin butter and egg boards, the Chicago board of trade and warehouse men.

Soon after the arrival of the two officials they went into conference with United States District Attorney Clyne and his assistants, who have been conducting the grand jury work during Child's absence. The result of this conference was not made public.

Representation for Labor Is Demanded

Gompers Declares Spirit of Labor Is Generous and Patriotic, But Must Be Met With Fairness and Justice.

Washington, May 21.—(U. P.)—In a statement defining the attitude of labor toward the conscription bill, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has demanded that representatives of labor and wage earners be placed on every board—national, state and local—which administers the selective service laws.

Gompers declared that the spirit of organized labor men in the nation's emergency is generous and patriotic and they are willing to do their part, but that they must be met in the same spirit of fairness and co-operation by the government and employers.

The labor leader cited the experience of England with organized labor during the war. He said that all war agreements affecting wage earners in Great Britain have followed conferences between trades unions and the government.

Homestead Rights Made More Elastic

Senate Passes Bill to Count Service in Army or Navy as Equivalent to Performance on Entered Lands.

Washington, May 21.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.)—The senate has passed without objection or debate the bill of Senator Shafroth of Colorado to count service in the army or navy during the war with Germany as equivalent to performance of the residence and cultivation requirements of the homestead acts, so that settlers who enlist will have their rights preserved just as though they remained upon their land. The bill further provides that if the entryman dies in service the government shall issue a patent to the widow, minor children or legal representatives of the deceased soldier.

New Method Used For Sinking Divers

Edinburgh, May 21.—(I. N. S.)—A new method of making attacks on U-boats which so far has met with success, was announced here Sunday in an address by Kennedy Jones, British director of food economy. He added he confidently believed that the success would be continued, that "it would trump another trick and might produce an earlier termination of the war than those high in command allow themselves to hope for."

Boy Steals Jewelry From Woman's Room

Two Rings, Necklace and Another Valuable Said to Be 250 Years Old Are Loot—Other Robberies Reported.

A boy not more than 14 years of age stole two rings, a necklace and another piece of jewelry, said to be 250 years old, from the bedroom of Mrs. G. W. Carter of 466 Burnside street, early Sunday morning. Mrs. Carter awoke just as the thief was disappearing through the window, but managed to catch a glimpse of his face.

An unusual number of such robberies have occurred in the city during the past two or three days. While G. H. Howard, barn boss at the stables of the United States laundry, 189 East Sixth street, was feeding his horses Saturday evening, some one stole $306.40 from a tool chest in his office.

Dr. Karl Swenson entered his private office in the Broadway building Saturday night and found a visitor there ahead of him.

"What do you want," asked the doctor.

"Dope," replied the intruder, and Dr. Swenson ejected his would-be-patient forcibly. Later he missed a bag of surgical instruments.

City detectives are working on several other minor robberies which were reported to the police Sunday.

M'CAIN OPPOSED TO PLEA TO KEEP FARM LABOR OUT OF ARMY

Adjutant-General Says That Only Seven From 1000 Are Taken; Labor Loss Slight.

Washington, May 21.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.)—Officers of the war department do not take kindly the suggestions that have come from many sources that the government should not be active in promoting recruiting for the army among certain classes of labor.

Governor Withycombe of Oregon recently appealed to the secretary of war to suspend recruiting from the farms in that state because of the shortage of farm labor. Senator Chamberlain has made a suggestion along the same line. H. H. Ward, president of the Oregon Patriotic league, has written to members of the Oregon delegation with a like object, and has also urged that no more men should be taken from the logging camps at present.

Representative Sinnott transmitted Mr. Ward's letter to the war department and has received a reply from Adjutant-General McCain in which that official maintains that all citizens under the law "have an inherent and inalienable right to volunteer."

The number of volunteers called for in every thousand to fill up the ranks is only seven, says the adjutant-general, and it is therefore not the policy of the department to discourage volunteer enlistment or interfere to stop the enlistment of men qualified for military service.

Men skilled in a useful trade, he says, may safely be left to decide for themselves whether or not they should continue in the employment in which they are engaged or should volunteer for military service.
