

FERDINAND E. REED'S OWN CANDIDATES ARE ONLY MEN CLUB SEES

Laurelhurst Members Who Are Friends of other Aspirants—Openly Object.

Ferdinand E. Reed, president of the Laurelhurst club, threw a nice stinging bomb into the peaceful precincts of that social organization Wednesday night with his personally-conducted campaign meeting organized in the interest of George L. Baker and his candidacy for mayor. As a result of the meeting, which was pulled off largely as per schedule, the membership of the club is simmering and unhappy.

President Reed sent out special invitations on the club stationery a few days ago inviting the recipients to hear Commissioner Baker, K. K. Kubli and John M. Mann, for whose political fortunes Mr. Reed is particularly solicitous. None of the other candidates for office were invited to be present.

The first speech of the evening was made by Kubli who defended the proposed anti-picketing ordinance. When he finished, Arthur I. Moulton, a member of the club, hurled a monkey wrench into the program by demanding to know why it was that only Kubli was permitted to present his argument in favor of the anti-picketing ordinance without the other side of the question being discussed.

Friends of various other candidates for club office who are members of the club are outspoken in their disapproval of the injection of politics into the affairs of the club.

Gets Judgment for 25 Cents, Appeals And Loses $38.70

Charles Gunn took a small filer in the courts the other day and as a result is minus about $40 and plus a lot of respect for the cost of invading legal circles.

Not satisfied with having gotten judgment in District Judge Dayton's court for 25 cents rental for a pair of jack-screws loaned to P. Davis, he pyramided his bet and traveled up to Circuit Judge Kavanaugh's court via the appeal route.

Judge Kavanaugh dismissed the appeal, with the remark that there was no reason why a man should appeal a "two-bit" case.

Gunn's present standing is as follows: Assets—One judgment in the district court, 25 cents; liabilities, costs in the district court, $13.45; defendant's filing fees in circuit court, $11; plaintiff's filing fees in circuit court, $15.50; attorney's fees allowed by circuit court, $10. The net loss is $38.70.

RECRUITING IS IN FULL SWING FOR COMPANY OF RAILROAD BUILDERS

Office Opens in Multnomah Hotel, Fourth and Pine; Men Will Go at Once.

Recruiting of a railroad construction company, which will be a unit of Colonel Cavanaugh's regiment of engineers, is on in full swing at the office opened in the Multnomah hotel building, corner Fourth and Pine streets. This morning eight recruits were accepted, and as the opening of the recruiting office becomes known it is expected that the company will be quickly filled.

The railroad and contracting companies of the city are behind the movement to organize a company from among railroad workers. The organization will be under command of Harold W. Young, division engineer of the O-V. R. & N. company, and who last year completed the Malheur canyon line from Ontario to Crane.

Portland's quota in the company has been set at 100 men, while Spokane and other points will also furnish recruits.

The company will in effect be an ordinary railroad construction outfit, including bridges, grading and trackmen. Only men of actual railroad experience will be accepted. In addition to railroad workers, however, the company requires three cooks, two buglers and a saddler.

The regiment of which the company will be a part is being organized for service in France, and will be sent to the front immediately upon its organization.

Those Who Pay for Roads Best Judge Of Proposed Bonds

M. Fitzmaurice, mayor of Clatsop, is of the opinion that if the automobile owner is willing to bear the burden of the $6,000,000 road bond bill he should be allowed to do so.

"How any one can object to these bonds is a mystery to me," he said today. "Nobody pays the tax on the motor car, owns a car and is unfortunate that anyone should object to let him have a good road if he is willing to pay for it."

"Personally I would be willing to pay four times the old license fee for a decent road to drive on. We are sick of mud, chuck holes, rocks and all other abominations to be found on the roads of Gilliam county. We want a change and should have it."

PAVING PLANT PLAN MAKES FRIENDS FOR ROAD BONDS ISSUE

Charge That Paving Trust Is to Be Favored Falls Flat; Opposition Outflanked.

From all sections of the state letters are coming to the headquarters of the state-wide legislative good roads committee indicating that the plan of the state highway commission to purchase paving plants and do paving work by force account in the event satisfactory bids cannot be obtained from paving contractors, meets with popular sentiment and successfully controverts unsubstantiated charges that the $6,000,000 road bond measure was framed in the interest of paving promoters.

State Senator Garland of Linn county has written as follows: "I am gratified to know that the state highway commission has announced in case the $6,000,000 road bond issue is authorized, it will purchase paving plants, so as to be in position to do its own paving, in case the bids for the work are unsatisfactory. This policy, in my opinion, removes the only argument against the bond issue. Much damage has been done to the bond issue by sowing in the minds of the people seeds of suspicion that the paving companies will rob the state. This policy of the commission covers up all of the ground under the feet of those men who would defeat the bond issue by instilling suspicion in the minds of the voters."

H. J. Overturf of Bend wrote: "The opponents of this bill have been basing their argument practically altogether on the theory that it was an enormous paving trust graft. I am of the opinion that the policy of the state highway commission will have a most beneficial effect on the honest opponents of the bill, and will at least drive the dishonest ones, the poison gas artists, to the trouble of getting a new supply of arguments."

Through its secretary, H. R. Morris, the Newberg commercial club has endorsed the policy of the commission.

It will not be taken there, but must be made through the banks.

Security Is Explained.

For those not familiar with the Liberty loan, this information is repeated. The loan is issued and secured by the United States government. For war expenses, the government is raising $2,000,000,000.

The bonds are issued in two forms, coupon and registered. The interest is 3 1/2 per cent. The bonds mature in 30 years, although the government has the option of redeeming a portion of all of them in 15 years.

To subscribe one goes to his bank or bond house and fills out the application blank furnished by the government. With the application a deposit of 2 per cent is paid. At intervals thereafter, as stated on the application, partial payments on the bond may be made. The last payment is due August 30, or one may pay the whole amount at one time.

The bonds are not here for delivery, and will probably not be ready until the middle of July. One receives a receipt for his subscription now, and the receipt may be exchanged for a bond when the banks get them.

Money Wanted Now.

But the lack of bonds must not keep one from subscribing. The government has to have this loan money now. It makes no difference whether you have the bond or not. The interest begins June 15, and goes on just the same, and your investment is just as safe as if you had the gilt edged document in your safe deposit box. Don't go to the bank and expect them to pass you out a bond for your money. It can't be done. Deposit your money, however, and fill out the application, and your banker and Uncle Sam will attend to the rest.

Monterey, Cal., Land Bought for Range

Washington, May 24.—(I. N. S.)—The purchase by the government of 16,000 acres at Monterey, Cal., for a field artillery and target range was announced today by the war department.

The camp will be used by the national guard and regular army field artillery of the Pacific coast and completes the project of establishing such camps in every section of the country.

CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS LAY PLANS TO FIGHT TWO PLATOON SYSTEM

Action Comes as Result of Report of National Board of Underwriters Against It.

Believing that it is to the best interests of the city and the efficiency of the fire bureau that the two-platoon system proposed for the fire bureau should be defeated at the city election June 4, a number of civic organizations and the board of fire chiefs today combined their efforts to carry on a campaign against the proposed two-platoon measure.

The action comes as result of the report of the experts of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who recently completed a survey of the fire bureau, with a view of determining the effect of the adoption of the two-platoon measure, and the condemnation of the measure by the committee representing the Portland Ministers' association.

The report of the underwriters says the adoption of the measure will prove injurious to the efficiency of the fire bureau. It points out in detail the various objections to the measure.

The committee of ministers, in its report, stated that a plan for more exact duty for the firemen, with their endorsement, but that the measure to be voted on could not be approved.

The measure is not happily worded. There is, in our judgment, no provision made for funds to take care of the increased expenditures. The 6 per cent tax limitation on tax increases is insufficient. Funds must be gotten from some other source, or the present number of stations be reduced, either of which we do not feel free to recommend.

LIBERTY LOAN PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN WILL BE ANNOUNCED SOON

manager, and at 4 o'clock the augmented distribution committee, including a number of representative business men from all lines of industry, will meet again.

The Oregon campaign is at least a week behind that of other states. The Portland banking committee was organized a week ago on lines requested by the San Francisco federal reserve bank, but its members have been awaiting the arrival of the reserve bank representative to detail the plan of action. With his coming, there will be no further delays, it was asserted today.

The distribution and publicity committees will include men not engaged in the banking business, according to Mr. Miller. The organization and financial committees will consist of bankers only.

The organization committee is really an executive body, having general direction of the campaign. The financial committee will be a purely technical organization, with which the public has no concern.

To Create Districts.

The distribution committee will have charge of territory division and subscriptions. This committee will divide the state into districts and appoint sub-committees in each section.

One or more of its members and Mr. Miller will then visit each center and use their influence to spur on the campaign.

"The country or territorial bankers are called upon to cooperate with their Portland correspondents to the highest possible extent," said Mr. Miller. "It should be remembered that Portland bankers are standing all the expense of this campaign. The outside banks will not be called on for a cent."

"For that reason the out-of-town banks should be more than willing to do everything in their power to popularize the loan."

"The country banks should send their subscriptions direct to the federal reserve bank at San Francisco. They should not be sent to their Portland correspondents, as the city banks will have their hands full with local subscriptions, and the outside business would only mean extra burden and extra expense."

Appeal to Country Banks.

"We want the country banks to preserve their identity in this matter. If they subscribe through the Portland banks, then all the subscriptions will be lumped together, and there will be nothing to show how patriotic the small cities and the country have been. Oregon cannot do too much for the Liberty loan. In California we are confident that the state will lose nothing by subscribing heavily. We feel assured that much of the loan money will come back in the shape of business, and consequently the thing has been undertaken in enthusiastic manner."

"There are 156 bond salesmen in and about San Francisco, and every one of these was working when I left for Portland. Every city about the bay will be thoroughly canvassed, for San Francisco has $42,000,000 to raise and we are going to do it. Remember we are paying our own expenses to the last nickel's worth of postage in all this work. It is a labor of love to the last degree."

Portland people seeking information about the Liberty loan are urged to go to the campaign offices at 202-4 North-western Bank building. Subscriptions

SAMUEL P. GARRIGUS, EX-HEPPNER RESIDENT, DROPS DEAD IN YARD

Retired Merchant Falls Victim of Heart Trouble; Widow and Son Survive.

Samuel P. Garrigus, for many years a prominent hardware and implement dealer of Heppner, dropped dead in the yard of his home at 623 Holly street this morning from a sudden attack of heart failure.

Mr. Garrigus has made his home in Portland for seven or eight years, having retired from business in Heppner during his residence in Heppner. He was prominent in the business life of the town.

Mr. Garrigus is survived by a widow and one son. Mr. Garrigus, who has been attending to business matters in Heppner and who will reach Portland this afternoon in response to notification of his father's sudden death.

Mrs. Hazel Fisher.

The funeral of Mrs. Hazel Fisher, wife of Dr. Ralph Fisher, who died Tuesday, was held this morning from the chapel of J. P. Finley & Son and the Catholic Cathedral, Fifteenth and Davis streets, Father Cronin officiating.

Mrs. Mary P. Sax.

Mrs. Mary P. Sax, who died at McMinville Tuesday, was buried today at Mount Calvary cemetery under charge of the Edward Holman company. Mrs. Sax was 84 years old. Her father is McNamper of McMinville officiating at the funeral. Mrs. Sax was born in Iowa and had resided in Oregon since 1844. Surviving Mrs. Sax is a son, John J. Sax of Tillamook; three daughters, Mrs. J. E. Druicks, of San Francisco; Mrs. W. H. Warren, of Hood River, and Mrs. J. E. Cullison, of Portland. Mrs. Clayton Fallas of Chicago is an adopted daughter.

James W. Hill Dies As He Sits in Auto

Superintendent of Wells-Fargo for the Northwest, Succumbs Here While on Visit From Seattle.

James W. Hill, superintendent of the Oregon, Washington, Alaskan and Yukon division of Wells-Fargo & Co., whose offices are in Seattle, died suddenly this morning at 11:30 o'clock while riding in an automobile.

Mr. Hill was accompanied by A. H. Peterson, general agent of the Wells-Fargo company of Portland, and when turning the corner at East Ash and Grand avenue, Peterson saw Mr. Hill sink back in his seat and fall. He summoned Dr. J. M. Batchelor and Dr. H. F. Ong, who, however, found the stricken man past all aid. Mr. Hill died while being carried away in the Red Cross ambulance, which then took the body to J. P. Finley & Son's establishment.

Heart failure is attributed as the probable cause of death. The widow, an invalid in a Seattle hospital, and three small children, are survivors. Mr. Hill was about 45 years old.

THE big hits that everyone is singing right now—the catchiest, brightest songs of the day are here for your enjoyment on Columbia Records with so much snap, life and genuine good singing that you'll vote them the best you have ever heard.

Voices, recording, accompaniments—the songs and the way they are rendered on these records will rouse all the enthusiasm you have. These are the songs and records you want!

"Where the Black-Eyed Susans Grow"
Columbia Record A2208, 75c.
Popular Sam Ash sings "I'm Going Back to a Shack Where the Black-Eyed Susans Grow" in a way that makes this catchy, bright tune an invitation for you to come back with him, too. On the other side is the ballad success, "After You've Had Your Way."

"For Me and My Gal"
Columbia Record A2190, 75c.
Ragtime at its best, syncopated joy—a swinging, jingling tune that will set your shoulders swaying—here is a wedding song that's a hit indeed! And "Cross My Heart and Hope to Die" is the funniest "kid" song ever.

"Poor Butterfly"
Columbia Record A2206, 75c.
Here is the finest tenor rendition of this greatest song-hit in years. Charles Harrison's fine voice brings out all the feeling in the touching little story of "Poor Butterfly," and the string accompaniment of the refrain has a poignant quality that will grip your heart. Charles Harrison sings another classic, "My Rosary For You," on the other side.

With those other genuine hits, "If I Had a Son for Each Star in Old Glory" (A2209, 75c) and "She's Dixie All the Time" (A2210, 75c), here you have five records you should not miss hearing. And once you hear them, you will want to own them, too!

There's a store that shows the Columbia "music-note" trade-mark right in your vicinity—make this the occasion to renew its acquaintance sometime to-day or to-night.
