MINISTERS WILL CALL ATTENTION TO NEEDS FOR PRISON BUILDING

June 3 Has Been Designated "Prison Sunday" by Proclamation of the Governor.

BISHOP SUMNER APPEALS

People of Oregon Asked to Support $400,000 Appropriation for New State Prison.

Sunday, June 3, has been designated as "Prison Sunday" by proclamation of Governor Withycombe, and on that day ministers throughout the state will discuss the conditions existing at the Oregon state penitentiary and call attention to that measure of the state ballot providing an appropriation of $400,000 for the construction of a new penitentiary.

Present Conditions a Disgrace

In all our social efforts the most glaring failure has been our attempts along the lines of prison reform. Bishop Sumner says in his letter, "It is a crying disgrace to civilization that we have herded men under abnormal conditions—themselves abnormal—expecting to make of them normal citizens."

Prison Reform Sought

The commission appointed by Governor Withycombe to make a survey of prison conditions was shocked at the insanitary and overcrowded conditions existing at the penitentiary, and recommended the construction of a new building. Because of existing conditions, no attempt can be made at the segregation of the convicts.

UMATILLA COUNTY IS FOR ROAD BONDS, SO SAYS ROY W. RITNER

Thousands of Dollars Paid Out Heretofore, but None Given Eastern Oregon.

Umatilla county is naturally interested in the passage of the $6,000,000 state road bond because it insures a square deal for Eastern Oregon, said Roy W. Ritner of Pendleton.

Thousands of Dollars Paid Out Heretofore, but None Given Eastern Oregon.

Umatilla county is naturally interested in the passage of the $6,000,000 state road bond because it insures a square deal for Eastern Oregon, said Roy W. Ritner of Pendleton.

Other reasons for supporting the bill are:

Because Multnomah county, which pays about 40 per cent of the highway tax and two thirds of the cost of the state road, is to receive no direct benefit, but is to contribute its share to the other counties; because we need the roads as soon as we can get them; because the highway commission is composed of business men who will safeguard the expenditure of the funds and pay no royalty on patented pavements; because the commission will be composed of men who are not likely to let contracts if labor conditions and prices of material are abnormal; because when the state takes over the trunk road in each county from 25 to 50 per cent of the county road funds will be available for improving the lateral and feeder roads and because the war department and the National Council of Defense have requested the people of the nation that at this time they should speed up and go ahead with their usual activities, especially in increasing agricultural production and building good roads.

George Is Some Vote Reacher Ferd Is Proud of Biography

"That's better," T. Paer agreed, "but George'll have to deliver the goods if he wants to get any votes out of that organization."

"Oh, I expect to lose some votes," T. Paer said. "We said George's father was an invalid, and—"

HARDEST PEDDLER GETS IT

"Do you expect to vote the hospital, too?" T. Paer asked.

"You bet," said Ferd enthusiastically.

"Well, it gets 'em now and then," T. Paer said. "Then George was a new-boy, and—"

"Newsboys can't vote," T. Paer said doubtfully.

"Some of 'em can," Ferd insisted.

"George W. Baldwin," Ferd answered. "George L. and I peddle it that George W. is managing our campaign, but don't you believe it. When you want to vote, you put the paper in the paper that's me."

"Was the biography good?" T. Paer asked.

"Was it good?" Ferd chuckled. "Believe me, George's father was born in Germany, and—"

"That's to get the German vote," said T. Paer, holding up one finger.

"And his mother was Scotch-Irish and—"

"That's to nail the allies," said T. Paer, sticking up two fingers.

"And was a New England Yankee, and—"

"Backfire Already Started," T. Paer said.

"That's to fix the New England societies," said T. Paer, adding another finger.

"George's parents came to Oregon when it was a territory," continued Ferd.

"There goes the forty-niners," said T. Paer, putting up another finger.

"His father was an Indian war veteran and a member of the volunteer fire department," continued Ferd.

"No many votes there, though," said T. Paer.

"George overlooks no bets," said Ferd. "George's mother belonged to the relief corps."

"That's to get the relief corps vote," said T. Paer.

"I'll take all the time to keep cases on his lodge meetings," said T. Paer.

"You got him wrong," said Ferd earnestly. "He don't go to lodge meetings, just before elections."

"That's to make some difference," admitted T. Paer. "But for the love of Pete let's stop. I've used up all my fingers, and my toes, too."

"Yes," T. Paer agreed, "George is the all-embracing kid."

George Is All Embracing

"I see it now," said T. Paer.

"Yes, what?" Ferd demanded suspiciously.

"Why George says he don't intend to do any real work about the mayor's office if he is elected," responded T. Paer.

"I'll take all the time to keep cases on his lodge meetings," said T. Paer.

WOMAN RECALLS DAYS WHEN BAKER SPURNED PLEAS FOR CLEAN CITY

Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden Says Best Interests Will Be Served by Electing Daly.

ADDRESS MADE VOTERS

When Baker Was Member of Old Council He Always Voted to Let Dives and Pitfalls Remain.

Contending that the official record of Will H. Daly entitled him to election as mayor, and that the best interests of the city would be served by his election, Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden, in an address at Central library hall, strongly urged the voters to rally to his support on Monday.

"They say that either Baker or Daly will be mayor," said Mrs. Hidden.

"Very well, then, let it be Daly, a man with a clean record and one whose entire public career has been a course of fighting for the defense of the womanhood of the city."

Women Remember Baker

"I will remember in the old councilmanic days that George Baker always turned a deaf ear to women appearing before the council to protest against saloon grilles and other vice dens."

"I remember when girls in their teens were nightly staggering out of such dives as the Quells, the Louvre, the rotten Richards hotel and other pitfalls that at one time flourished here."

"But Baker's vote has always been for these disreputable places and his voice has always been heard pleading their cause."

"The same delusions of the city are already boasting of how they will be allowed to flaunt themselves if Baker is elected mayor. We are at war, and we fathers and brothers of our women may be called away to defend our country. I insist that Baker is not the man to have in the mayor's chair. Every woman should vote for a clean man and the man is Daly."

Thoughtful Citizens Advised

"Daly has tried to serve all the people and I think he has succeeded admirably. They attack his meter saving when they know that meters save money for the water consumer. With a meter my bill is now less for three months than it used to be for one month under the flat rate. Yet they because of this policy Daly is a radical."

"Daly is a safe and conservative business man in spite of all misrepresentation. The contrary, and he is the one man to lead our womanhood. I advise all thoughtful citizens to vote for him."

C. P. Howard Debates Picketing Ordinance

Portland Faces No Labor Troubles, He Declares, in Answer to Stories Circulated in Behalf of George Baker

"There are at present no strikes or other labor or industrial troubles pending in Portland," declared Charles P. Howard, president of the Portland Central Labor Council, in a debate Friday night at the Men's Forum of the First M. E. church.

Mr. Howard's unqualified statement was made in answer to the campaign stories being circulated by followers of George L. Baker, candidate for mayor, for the purpose of defeating Will H. Daly, an opposing candidate.

The question arose in connection
