

HUGE LUMBER SUPPLY TO BE REQUIRED FOR WAR BY GOVERNMENT

Estimates Place Amount for Next Year at Nearly Two Billion Feet.

SHIP MATERIAL INCLUDED

Lumber Users Are Being Assured No Great Disturbance in Market Should Result From Federal Orders.

Washington, June 11.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.)—Estimates of the lumber to be used in war construction work in the next year now run up to nearly 2,000,000,000 feet. This is more lumber than Oregon produced in 1914, and nearly one fifth of the total lumber output from Douglas fir in that year. Uncle Sam is doing his bit to bring the lumber industry back to its own, and he is doing it in many ways. Timbers for trench lining are mentioned as one of the prospective uses. The main uses are for the merchant ships to be constructed for the government. The estimates for the army cantonnements are placed at about 500,000,000 feet.

Millions of Feet for Ships
For the ships, it is estimated that 400,000,000 feet will be needed. This is on the basis of 250 wooden ships to be built in the next 18 months giving an allowance of 1,600,000 feet for each ship. This is about the line on which the wooden shipbuilding program will develop, according to the best information.

Industry Should Not Suffer
Lumber users are being assured that this ought to cause no great disturbance or prevent their being able to secure lumber of the kinds and dimensions they desire.

Committee Adopts Food Bill
Washington, June 11.—(U. N. S.)—The administration food control bill providing for a minimum price for food products but with provision for a maximum price eliminated, was adopted by the house committee on agriculture this afternoon.

Trade Control Favored
Washington, June 11.—(U. N. S.)—The house committee on foreign and interstate commerce voted this afternoon to report favorably the "trading with the enemy" act which has been under consideration for the past month.

Maritime School Outlined
Washington, June 11.—Plans have not yet been decided upon for training schools for the men who are to officer the new United States merchant marine fleet, but the general ideas announced for the east will govern on the Pacific.

Many Uses Swell Total
Erection of 250 buildings at army and navy training camps by the War Work council of the Y. M. C. A., 6,400,000 feet.

Army wagons, 25,000,000 feet.
Gunstocks, 10,000,000 feet.
Army cots, tent poles, airplanes, automobiles, artillery, coopers, furniture, docks and piers, trench lining, saddles, mine timers, tools, railroad construction, and the lumber necessary in building factories, will all go to swell the total.

Along the Atlantic coast 15 schools will be established forthwith, to give technical instruction in navigation, which will be woven in with actual experience on the bridge and in the engine room along the coast from Maine to Norfolk.

Four deck officers and four engine room officers are figured upon as necessary for each ship. Counting ships building, the German ships taken over and all other requirements, 10,000 officers are wanted for the merchant marine. It is expected that most of the material offered will have practical sea experience.

There will be no age limit, as there is in the navy, and men of 50 will be welcome if they are in condition to pass the physical test. It is expected that the period of training will be about two months, and while training at sea compensation will be paid. When licensed, mates will receive about $250 a month and captains $350, with a war bonus additional.

Wrapping Paper Cases Set
Washington, June 11.—Cases of the Crown-Willamette Paper company against the Santa Fe and southeastern lines of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle and the northern lines, involving rates on fruit wrapping paper from its mills in Washington and California, have been set for hearing before Examiner J. E. Smith of the Interstate Commerce commission at San Francisco, on July 14.

SPY OR TRAITOR IS EMPLOYED IN NAVY, IS CHARGE

every effort to locate the man who mailed them to him, but had so far been unable to do so.

"Spy or Traitor, Says Daniels"
It plainly shows that there must be a spy employed in the navy, furnishing information in a manner for which we should put him in the penitentiary," said Secretary Daniels. "A detective should be put on his track immediately so that he may put him in a place where he would be punished. He had access to the confidential files of the navy department. He is either a spy or a traitor."

Files to Be Considered
"Some of it is false and some of it is true," replied Secretary Daniels. "I am resentful because the confidential files of the department have been revealed."

Secretary Daniels admitted there was such a possibility. Secretary Daniels said that inasmuch as there had been so much talk in the committee about the files they should be made public. Secretary Daniels said he had no objection to their being made public and declared he courted the most thorough investigation. The committee then went into executive session to regain the records and letters and to decide whether they should be made public.

Chairman Lever will report the bill to the house before adjournment tonight. The minimum or guaranteed price provision will be enforced through proclamation which the president may issue in his discretion.

The bill, as finally agreed upon by the committee, also penalizes hoarding of foodstuffs, and adds fuel to the commodities for the sale of which license regulations may be made by the president.

It places $150,000,000 at the disposal of the president, to be spent in enforcing the minimum price provision and other administrative features of the bill.

The measure retains the provision empowering the president to prohibit or restrict the use of foodstuffs in the manufacture of alcoholic liquors.

for the transaction, and the total is added to the quota from this city.

Workers More Optimistic
The next largest subscription was the one announced Saturday of $250,000 by Max H. Houser, grain exporter. The third largest subscription was that of T. B. Wilcox for $200,000.

When members of the Liberty loan committee were fearing that Portland's quota would never be subscribed, news came suddenly of the subscription of the shipbuilders and more optimistic sentiment prevailed.

The city still has over $900,000 to subscribe while the whole state, including Portland, must subscribe $2,000,000 in order to make her quota.

Liberty Bond Drive On
Oregon City, Or., June 11.—The drive is now on to sell Clackamas county's share of Liberty bonds, and Tuesday's meeting of the Live Wires will be devoted to working up interest in the same. Speakers are to be present from Portland and the luncheon will be devoted to talks by the visitors and local workers. This county is expected to take $140,000 of the bonds. Among recent purchasers are Dr. M. C. Strickland and L. Adams, each $2500, while the Crown-Willamette has announced to its employees that it will purchase $10,000 worth and sell to the latter not to exceed two bonds of $50 each on a basis of 10 per cent from the first pay check and 10 per cent each month thereafter until the full sum is paid.

Offers Farm for Bonds
Marshfield, Or., June 11.—The most unusual offer yet made in the way of buying Liberty bonds in this locality comes from S. Jumper of North Bend. He offers to trade his ranch for $1500 in bonds. He has his money tied up in Liberty bonds and therefore cannot invest it, but is willing to let his entire farm go for bonds if he can make a trade.

Odd Fellows in Liberty Loan
Weston, Or., June 11.—Watson lodge No. 58 I. O. O. F. has invested $1000 in the Liberty loan and $500 in the addition to the Odd Fellows' home at Portland.

School Funds May Buy Bonds
Klamath Falls, Or., June 11.—It is very probable that $11,000 in the hands of the Klamath Falls school trustees will be invested in Liberty bonds, to help swell the total for the county which is now something over $20,000. The $11,000 is known as the Conker fund and its use is given to the school district, though it cannot be spent. The trustees feel that this would be a patriotic way of investing it.

Pocahontas Lodge Buys
Oregon City, Or., June 11.—Pocahontas lodge, the ladies' auxiliary to the Red Men of this city, has instructed its trustees to purchase $100 worth of Liberty loan bonds, this following the action of Washington tribe of Red Men in buying $250 worth of the bonds.

Chehalis Considers Shortage
Chehalis, Wash., June 11.—A meeting of the executive committee in charge of Chehalis' $1,000,000 Liberty fund was held Saturday in the hundreds of churches next Sunday.

Walville, a small lumber town, has pledged almost $300 for Liberty bonds. The Walville committee is also handling the town of McCormick. The population of these two towns together does not exceed 500 persons.

Mass Meeting at McMinnville
Word came today that the Studebaker corporation had subscribed $1,000,000 to the Liberty bonds, of which $100,000 is allotted to the twelfth federal reserve district. A small portion of this sum will be given credit in the Portland budget.

everything for the Red Cross work, and the whole state is bent on to win the honor of being the first district in the Northwest to turn in its full allotment.

Boise Starts in Promptly
"In Boise, the whole situation was put on an efficient working basis less than an hour after the situation was presented to the people there. The Rotary club came to the front and said it would take the whole task off our hands and would guarantee to hand us over the full quota of $25,000. Here, the full organization of the Rotary club from president down to office boy has taken hold of the task and it is putting up probably the most energetic and spectacular financial campaign in the history of Idaho."

Workers Will Rally Wednesday
Locally the plans are being driven forward with zeal and vigor. The entire staff of leadership in the $200,000 drive will meet for the first big rally of the campaign at noon, Wednesday, as the guests of W. E. Ayer, general chairman, when actual launching of the gigantic drive will be set in motion.

Dr. John H. Boyd will give an inspirational address dwelling on the patriotic activities of the Red Cross and explain "Why One Hundred Million Dollars?" Mr. Ayer's guests will include his 25 team captains, members of the executive committee and chairmen of other important committees.

At this meeting the work of recruiting each team to its full complement so that the total of 200 field reserves" will be held available on a minute's notice for service in whatever capacity the needs of the big dollar drive will require.

J. C. English, chairman of the speakers' bureau expects to have his complete staff of 100 orators lined up by the next two or three days so that when this phase of the drive is inaugurated, the whole city will be made conversant with the needs of the Red Cross, beginning with the observance of "Bunker Hill" day in the hundreds of churches next Sunday.

Dr. W. T. Foster, president of Reed college, has joined the speakers' bureau, and the Multnomah County Bar association is expected to furnish the biggest share of the Red Cross speaking staff.

Henry E. Reed, county assessor, this morning took charge of the city wide canvass for funds, which will be conducted simultaneously with the great drive down town. Reed's phase of the campaign will be a door to door sweep of the whole city, while the 200 workers now being mobilized by General Chairman Ayer and his 25 team captains will devote their energies to personal solicitation of a group of 3000 prospects, the names of whom have been drafted from the city directory, telephone directories and membership rolls of all the leading civic and business organizations, fraternal orders, lodges, societies, etc.

During the drive, noonday luncheons will be held, attended by the team captains and their staffs, at which daily reports of the progress of the drive will be made. Each day the actual returns in pledges and cash will be indicated on a huge clock to be located at some prominent corner in the downtown district.

aging progress, reports Mr. Larimore. A number of the big business houses of the city, he says, have bought whole blocks of tickets, which they are distributing among their employes. Patronesses were asked to report ticket sales not later than Thursday morning.

The festival center in the park blocks, a few days ago merely a patch of green, is rapidly becoming a great garden. The area has been enclosed by a fence, and lights have been installed. Huge piles of sawdust and earth have been dumped on the grounds, and the florists will begin work Monday morning setting out roses and other floral displays, which are already bursting into bloom.

The concert Friday evening in the south park blocks will be the greatest ever staged in the city. Under the direction of Professor W. H. Boyer, a trained chorus of 4000 voices, accompanied by a band of 60 pieces, will render patriotic airs, in which the entire audience is expected to join.

Sale of the official Rose Festival buttons by members of the Girls' Honor Guard will begin Tuesday morning, the funds from these buttons to go proportionally to the Rose Festival association, the honor guard and the manufacturers.

The management of the Oaks park announced to the festival that its park would, on Saturday, be free to all children who were in the Wednesday parade, providing that the children wore their parade costumes and were accompanied by their parents.

Probable Death List Lowered by 10 Today When Men Were Brought to Surface From 2800 Foot Level.
Butte, Mont., June 11.—(U. P.)—Ten more entombed miners were found alive and brought to safety today from the 2200-foot level of the Speculator mine. This leaves 80 men unaccounted for. With hope of saving still others who may be alive in the mine, rescue crews were working desperately to penetrate the lower levels of the mine.

The probable death list was lowered by 25 yesterday when rescuers brought to the surface a group of miners from the 2400 foot level, where the fire began. The rescued miners, after barricading themselves by building a cloth bulkhead of their clothes, which protected them from deadly gases, remained in the tunnel for more than 24 hours. The air in their tiny refuge had become foul during their imprisonment and the twenty-sixth man had succumbed to its effects.

Slav Sailors Want Late Czar in Jail
Petrograd, June 10.—(I. N. S.)—The demand for the trial and punishment of former Czar Nicholas is growing daily.

The crews of the battleships Republic and Ganago and the cruiser Diana, at Helsingfors, have adopted a resolution requiring the imprisonment of the former emperor at Kronstadt until he is placed on trial. If the demand is rejected the sailors say the warships will apply force.

Copies of President Wilson's note to Russia, explaining the war aims of the United States, will be distributed among the Russian troops.
