But I trust that we shall not surround the matter wit.; a mist of sentiment. Facts are our masters now. We ought not to put the acceptance of such prices on the ground of patriotism. Patriotism has nothing to do with profits in a case like this. Patriotism and profits ought never in the present circumstance to be mentioned together. Patriotism Cuts Profits Out

"Fatriotism leaves profits out of the question. In these days of our supreme trial, when we are sending hundreds of thousands of our young men to the wrong side of the street. In an across the sea to serve a great cause. no true man who stays behind to work driven by L. B. Snyder of the Boss for them and sustain them by his labor will ask himself what he is personally going to make out of that labor. No true patriot will permit himself to take toll of their heroism in money or seek to grow rich by the shedding of their blood. He will give as freely and their blood. He will give as freely and with as unstinted self-sacrifice as Belgians Welcomed they. When they are giving their lives, will he not give at least his money? "I hear it insisted that more than a just price, more than a price that will sustain our industries, must be paid; that it is necessary to pay very liberal and unusual profits in order to 'stimulate' production; that nothing by pecuniary rewards will do it-rewards paid in money, not in the mere liberation of the world.

Burdens Must Be Shouldered

"Of course you will not. It is in-conceivable. Your patriotism is of the same self denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead or maimed on the fields of France, or else it is not patriotism at all. Let us never speak then of profits and of patriotism in the same sentence, but facts and meet them. Let us do sound business, but in the midst of a mist.

"Many a grievous burden of taxa-tion will be laid on this nation, in this generation and in the next, to pay for this war, so, let us see to it that for every dollar that is taken from the people's pockets it shall be possible to people's pockets it shall be possible to Republican Troops stuffs they need.
