

THE BOOK PAGE

NEWS OF NEW BOOKS, WRITERS AND MAGAZINES.

LIBRARIANS OF THE NORTHWEST TO MEET HERE SEPTEMBER 3-5

State Librarian Announces Sessions and Gives Out Tentative Program.

Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, has announced that the Pacific Northwest Library association will meet in Portland September 3-5, 1917. This association includes in its membership librarians and library trustees of Washington, Oregon, British Columbia, Alaska, Idaho, Montana and Utah.

Investigator Warns Against the Use of All Headache Cures

A dozen times every day, in the experience of the average American druggist, a customer enters who says, "I want something to make me sleep," or "I want something to cure my headache."

Students Take to Wartime Books

While definite figures are not yet available, library assistants at the university report a decided drift toward wartime subjects in the books taken out at the loan desk within the last few weeks.

THROUGH THE WINDOW

Keep cool. It's time to round up the rounds and cut the snappersicks. Famous Crosses. Maltese. Double. Hot... bun. Red. Fire. Stitch. Baby. Iron.

Belgian Princess Is a Regular Girl

Alyn Williams, miniature painter, in an article in the July Art World, tells of his work for royalty: "My latest royal sitter was the little Princess Marie Jose of Belgium, who was living in England with her governess— an English lady— during the autumn of 1915 in a quiet little village."

Find Wonderland Down in Arizona

Arizona, The Wonderland.—By George Wharton James. The Page Company, Boston. $3.50 net. A handsome volume, companion volume to "California, Romantic and Beautiful."

University Buys Volumes of Law

University of Oregon, Eugene, July 14.—The law school of the University of Oregon, situated at Eugene, has just purchased a set of the American Law Review, complete to date, augmenting its law library in preparation for the opening of the fall term in October.

Many Women Do Manual Labor That Men May Fight

LAWSMUST PROGRESS

"Some men," wrote Jefferson in his old age, "look at constitutions with sanctimonious reverence, and deem them like the ark of the covenant—too sacred to be touched. They ascribe to the men of the preceding age a wisdom more than human, and suppose what they did to be beyond amendment."

Library Has Book For the Handicapped

There is a new book at the Central Library, "Handicrafts for the Handicapped," which ought to be of great value to any one wishing to learn or wishing to teach the crafts suited especially to the handicapped.

Joe, Circus Boy, Has a Companion

Rosemary.—By Alice E. Allen. The Page Company, Boston. $2.50 net. "Rosemary" is a companion volume to "Joe the Circus Boy."

Tricks of "Trade" In the Trenches

There is an old saying that there are tricks in all trades. While arms can scarcely be called a trade, it has, according to Captain Leslie Vickers, author of "Training For the Trenches" (Doran), innumerable tricks of its own.

Some Best Sellers

The fiction most in demand from booksellers during the past month, according to the Bookman's list, is as follows: "Mr. Britling Sees It Through," by H. G. Wells (Macmillan).

Here's Case Where One Mustn't Talk About the Weather

Women are on "war duty" at the Erie railroad shops at Buffalo, N. Y.

Women are on "war duty" at the Erie railroad shops at Buffalo, N. Y. (top, copyright by Hearst-Pathe News) and the superintendent reports that they are doing the work, even the heavy part of it, painting cars, repairing broken parts and general labor, with credit.

American Writes On Trench Warfare

"More earth has been removed by a combination of man, pick and shovel, in making these trenches, than was excavated to make the Panama canal possible, and in less time," says Lieutenant J. S. Smith in the introduction to his "Trench Warfare," just published by E. P. Dutton & Co.

O. Henry Honored In Old Home Town

Greenboro, N. C., took its name from the General Greene who fought the battle of Guilford Court House at its doors, but it has not called its new hotel after him, says the New York Evening Post.

Belgian Princess Is a Regular Girl

Alyn Williams, miniature painter, in an article in the July Art World, tells of his work for royalty: "My latest royal sitter was the little Princess Marie Jose of Belgium, who was living in England with her governess— an English lady— during the autumn of 1915 in a quiet little village."

University Buys Volumes of Law

University of Oregon, Eugene, July 14.—The law school of the University of Oregon, situated at Eugene, has just purchased a set of the American Law Review, complete to date, augmenting its law library in preparation for the opening of the fall term in October.

Invest Yourself in Known Demand, Is Advice to Young

Russell H. Conwell, whose new book, "What You Can Do With Your Will Power," was published this season, makes it one of his great pleasures in life to help boys through college.

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

- Biography: Everett—Great Victorians. 1916. Franklin—Benjamin Franklin, by J. C. Oswald. 1917. Lincoln—Abecedes of Abraham Lincoln. 1916. Lloyd George—Life Romance of Lloyd George, by E. G. Evans. 1916.
- Books in Foreign Language: Durand—Les Kommissars. Fr. France, pseud.—L'Orme du Mail. Description and Travel. 1916. Kemp—Seven Years at the Prussian Court. 1916.
- Fiction: Bacheller—Light in the Clearing. Casanovi—Head Wind. Hutter Zam Stolsberg—Mag Fye. Saunders—Wandering Dog; adventures of a fox-terrier. The Arts: Jekyll—Annals and Biennials. 1916. Palmer—Meadow's House Plants. 1917. Portfolio of House Building. c1916. Schilling—Christmas Cards. History: Brandes—World at War. 1917. Chapman—Letters From France. 1917. Poland—Case for Independence. 1916. O'Callaghan—History of the Irish Brigades in the Service of France. 1870. Poland—Case for Independence. 1916. Roesler—With the Flying Squadron. 1916. Swinton & Percy—Year Ago; eye witness of the war from March 30 to July 18, 1915. 1916. Williams—Armenia; past and present. 1916.
- Language: Bracht—Etymological Dictionary of the French Language. 1882. Literature: Bai, tr.—Twenty-five Chinese Poems. 1916. Coolbrith—Songs From the Golden Gate. c1916. Edda—Edda Sturimsson—The Prose Edda, tr. by A. G. Broder. 1916. Goldner—The Six Plays of the Yiddish Theatre. c1916. Omond—Romantic Triumph. 1900. Poets—Responsibilities, and other poems. 1916. Religion: Bridges—Some Outlines of the Religion of Experience. 1917. Constock—Men; the Life Free. c1916. Man's Life of Purpose. c1915; Thought for Children. Will Hildesheim. 1916. Ingram—Church in Time of War. 1915. Lewis—Liberal Judaism and Social Service. 1915. Science: Ellis—Essays in War Time. 1917. Jones—Arboreal Man. 1916. Treatise & Industry—Mushrooms and Other Common Fungi. 1915. Shaw—Weather Map. 1917. Thomas—Instructions in Aviation for Beginners. 1916. Veblen—Hered Race and the Aryan Culture. 1915. Sociology: American Academy of Political and Social Science, Philadelphia. Modern Insurance Problems. 1917. Atkinson—Aids and Kindred Parts of School Life. c1914. Blunt and Simon—Intelligence of the People. 1916. Laffargue—Attack in Trench Warfare. 1916. Lusk and Hyde—Conditions of Labor in the United States. 1916. Moss—Non-Commissioned Officers' Manual. 1916. Services—Service of Information. 1916. Swinton—Defense of Duffer's Drift. 1916. Tucker—Woman's Suffrage by Constitutional Amendment. 1916. Marine—Army Service Schools. Port Leavenworth, Kan.—Studies in Minor Tactics. 1916. U. S. Quartermaster's Dept.—Manual for Artillery. 1916. U. S. War Dept.—Combined Infantry and Cavalry Drill Regulations for Automatic Machine Rifles. 1916. Useful Arts: Balch—Amateur Circus Life; A New Method of Physical Development. 1916. Brinton—Textbook of Amusing. Ed. 12, rev. 1912. British fire prevention committee—Fire Protection for Buildings. 1916. Gibson—Breeding and Care of Rabbits. c1916. Hall—Modern Steam Building. Ed. 4, rev. Sea and Air. New ed. 1916. Hall and Buck—Handicrafts for the Handicapped. 1916. Harman—Rise of our Children. 1916. Howard—Documents Governing the Construction of a Bridge. 1916. Hurley—Awakening of Business. 1916. Hyde—Attack and Defense of Fortified Harbor. Ed. 2, c1916. Marston—Modern Steam Building. Ed. 4, rev. 1916. Martin and others—Industrial Gases. 1916. Redler—Mother and Her Child. 1916. Sothman—Making of Paper. 1916. Sothman—Marine Steam Turbine. Ed. 4, rev. and enl. 1916. Reference: Adam, comp.—International Customs of the War. 1916. Beach—Manual of Military Field Engineering. Ed. 12. The transition has been made by Emile Havelague. On the same day appeared a new book by Ian Hay (Captain Reith), author of "The First Hundred Thousand." It is called "The Oppressed English," and like his "Getting Together" is published under the name of "The Oppressed English."

EDUCATOR BELIEVES FREE TEXT BOOKS IS BEST SCHOOL SYSTEM

R. H. Wilson of Oklahoma Expects That Plan Will Ultimately Be Universal

There is no doubt that free textbooks for school children will ultimately be provided in all of the states, declares R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of public instruction, Oklahoma City, Okla., in Portland for the N. E. A. convention.

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

- Efficiency Is Increased: Promotion and demotion of pupils is easier and imposes no additional expense on the parents or public. The dilatory parent or dealer does not interfere with the work of schools through a failure to provide books on time. Therefore, there is a decided gain in time of classes and in efficiency of the school. Since books are free, all children have the same day without loss of time, and where high school texts are furnished free, a larger percentage of pupils enroll in the secondary school and remain until graduation. Care Is Taught: The rules relating to preservation and neatness of books can be so arranged and enforced as to teach young pupils the value of proper bookkeeping and the abuse of public property. Old and out of date texts can be changed without the usual turmoil that follows a change in communication. Each one does not desire to buy books, and with a greater economy, since under the free texts system all the old books will be exchanged, while under the present system more than half the old books are left in the homes or thrown in the corner and eventually destroyed. It is possible to have a larger number of texts at a smaller cost to the community through centralized buying. The authorities controlling the books have greater power in managing the school library, and requests for permission to study together are eliminated. Work Is Better: Members of the same family do not have to share in the use of a text, as is now done in many instances; therefore, each one does his own part in exercising the proper sanitary precautions, there is less chance of spreading disease than under the system which permits children to study in which parents but rarely visit in other districts, where proper sanitary precautions may not have been taken. Free texts make the schools free to pupils in fact, as well as in name. New Volume on China: Religion and history have been closely intertwined all through the long story of China and in "The Historical Development of Religion in China," by the Dutton Co. editor J. Cleaveland presents an outline of their age-long relation and gives the reader an idea of the Chinese attitude toward religious beliefs and practices. The later chapters, dealing with the effect upon China of contact with the world, aim to show how similar the nature of man and the working of his spirit are in China and the western world. Where Queens Really Rule: Walter F. McCabe, author of "Happily: The Life of a Bee," said not long ago, "I have a difference of opinion for further information about bees, that he had observed a curious fact in regard to the individualities of bee colonies. Two hives may be side by side, with the same surroundings and the same possibilities for gathering honey, yet one of these colonies will do twice the work of the other. In spirit are in China and the western world, some, he finds, being much fiercer and more energetic than others.

WOMEN! MOTHERS! DAUGHTERS!

You who are pale, haggard, nervous or irritable; who are suffering from indigestion or the "colic," get your blood examined for iron deficiency. F. King, M.D.