This is Clackamas Day. Saturday is Clackamas county day and it ought to attract a large gathering of the residents from all sections of the county.

Declaring in an unequivocal manner that we should pay for this war as we go, Mr. Lybarger said that he was strong in the belief that the wealth of the country should be conscripted to meet the war obligations...

J. P. FINLEY

These surroundings have a softness that is not unlike home. Our chapel is arranged for the comfort of the relatives, the friends and the clergy.

But whether the services are conducted from home or from our chapel, there is the same thoughtful attention to every detail that means much to those in bereavement.

I. W. W. BLAMED FOR ANOTHER DAIRY FIRE NEAR KLAMATH FALLS

New Milk House at Ford Williams Plant Destroyed at Early Morning Hour.

Klamath Falls, Or., July 21.—Incendiary destruction at 2 o'clock this morning of the new milk house and new pasteurizing equipment of the Williams dairy, which gained about this city, is evidence, say local officials, that the menace of the I. W. W. has not yet been removed from this vicinity.

Members of a hayting crew, sleeping in a nearby barn, detected the fire, and they turned out a dozen strong to fight the flames, which gained rapidly.

United States Attorney Reames declared this morning that he had received telegrams from Dorris to the effect that the I. W. W. situation was being controlled entirely by the local authorities.

There are only three I. W. W. in Dorris, he said, "and they are all in jail. There is absolutely no reason for apprehension."

The situation at Klamath Falls also is under control, without the need of outside aid.
