Call Issued for July 26, 27 and 28; Oregonians Are on the Program.

WILL VISIT VICTORIA, B. C.

Number of Entertainment Features Provided for Those Who Attend—British Columbia Represented.

Olympia, Wash., July 21.—The secretary of the Washington State Bar association, C. Will Shaffer, state law librarian, announces that the Bar associations of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and British Columbia, will meet in joint session in Seattle on July 26, 27 and 28, with program as follows:

Thursday, July 26
Calling to order by President Tucker of the Washington State Bar association. Address of welcome by H. Gill, mayor, of Seattle. Address of welcome by W. B. Stratton, president of the Seattle Bar association. Response by President White of the Oregon Bar association, who will preside for the day. Address by Wilton Tucker, president, Washington State Bar association.

Address by Dalton Riggs, Portland, Or., "Is Reformation the Sole Object of Punishment?" Address by Gordon Hunter, chief justice of British Columbia.

Discussion to Be Permitted
Discussion will be permitted after each address or at such other times as may seem convenient. After adjournment of the joint session, the members of the Washington association will convene for the transaction of business. Other lawyers are welcome to sit in this meeting.

Upon general adjournment the lawyers in attendance will be the guests of the Seattle Bar association on a marine trip out upon the Sound and through the Lake Washington canal, Green lake, and Lake Washington to Leschi park. Thence by automobile over Seattle's beautiful drives and to the several hotels.

Friday, July 27
Calling to order, President Tucker presiding. Address by Samuel White, president, Oregon Bar association. Address by Sir Charles Hilbert Tupper, Vancouver, B. C. Address by James F. Athlete, ex-chief justice of Idaho. Address by Professor Orrin Kipp Murray, professor of law, University of California. Address by James B. Howe, Seattle.

Social features—The social program for afternoon and evening of this day is in charge of the local committee and will be announced at the proper time, the committee desiring to withhold information as to the nature of this entertainment.

Saturday, July 28, will be devoted to an excursion to Victoria, B. C., leaving Seattle at 9 a. m., arriving at Victoria about 2 p. m.

Round trip will be at the cost of one-way fare. A banquet will be held at the Imperial hotel at Victoria, but whether the banquet will be afternoon or evening will be determined by a majority vote of those desiring to attend.

Baker Judge Will Appeal His Recall

J. R. Messick, Defeated in Recent Election, Makes Announcement Following Lower Court's Denial of Petition.

Baker, Or., July 21.—Ex-County Judge J. B. Messick, defeated in the recent recall election by William Duby, president of Baker Commercial club, today said his attorneys in a few days will file an appeal to the supreme court from the local court's ruling denying petition for a recount of votes. Messick's announcement of appeal followed a court order this afternoon quashing the recount proceedings and dismissal of the case from the local court. The recall against Messick carried by 32 majority, and Duby's majority was 98. Messick claims many ballots in his favor were thrown out by election boards, and that the recount will show a majority against the recall. In which event the office is not vacant and Duby was not elected, even though receiving more votes than Messick.

George McGaughy Dies

Pendleton, Or., July 21.—George McGaughy, former well known liveryman at Pilot Rock, died this morning at the Eastern Oregon State hospital, where he had been for 15 months. He was 65 years old. The funeral will not be held until word is received from relatives.

Blanche McGaughy, well known in the "Wild West" world as a bucking horse rider, is a niece. Mrs. H. J. Bean of Salem, wife of Supreme Judge Bean, is a sister.

Brief News of the Northwest

Freewater—Wayne, Bert and Robert Brinker, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brinker, have enlisted in the army hospital corps.

Grants Pass—Arden Craig, fine ranch home of Captain K. M. C. Neill, now with the British army in Washington, was saved from destruction by passing motorists. The garage and pump house were burned.

Marshfield—It is said that bootleggers are now unable to supply their customers, because of official activity in the prevention of liquor importation, and that Coos county is now actually bone dry for the first time since the prohibition law went into effect.

Freewater—Celebrating the thirty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk of Umpqua, who were married at Cold Springs, north of Pendleton, relatives and neighbors took possession of their home and made merry as a wedding bell. The "bride and groom" were presented with gifts of coral and Mrs. Kirk was also given a bride's book.

Winlock—Postmaster Wall has received notice that the postoffice at Veness will be discontinued July 31. Patrons will be served by route 2, or will call at the Winlock office.

Centralia—George Aggers, Tacoma traveling man, was pinned under his auto when it capsized and suffered a broken jaw. He is in a Centralia hospital.

Freewater—The doors were blown from the safe in the Fruitland grocery store and the burglars made away with $10.

Hood River—With an enlistment of over 100 from Hood River county the county is exempt from draft under the Old Soldier Hangs Himself to Rafter

Hillsboro, Or., July 21.—William Thomas, about 80 years old, committed suicide at the Davis home, south of Reedville, Thursday afternoon, by hanging himself from a rafter. He had been to the grocery the day before and had put in his usual weekly supply of groceries.

Thomas was an old army man and was in the relief that arrived a day late at the time of the Custer massacre. He was an Englishman by birth. He was highly esteemed. He had lived near Reedville for about 12 years. He

Boys Have Bath In Mountain Snow

Grants Pass, Or., July 21.—The Grants Pass Boy Scouts recently spent an enjoyable five days on an outing to Mount Ashland. They climbed to the summit, slept at the snow line, saw the sunset and sunrise from the peak, and indulged in the rare luxury of a snow bath as a morning bracer.

They plan to spend two weeks soon in the mountains with John Hammsley, the government hunter.

Thomas was living alone on the Davis ranch. The owner lives in Portland.

PORTLAND'S HOSPITAL UNIT NOW 'AT HOME' AT AMERICAN LAKE

Equipment Unloaded, Camp In Readiness, Within 12 Hours After Arrival.

ALL ARE IN FINE FETTLE

Four Officers and Eighty Men Have Three Months' Training Ahead of Them; Then for Field Service.

Tacoma, Wash., July 21.—Within 12 hours after Field Hospital No. 30, United States Reserves, Portland's crack field hospital unit for service in France, had reached American Lake, Wash., where it will be in training probably for the next three months, it had its equipment unloaded from the cars and its camp well established. The 80 men and four officers are now settling down to daily routine and are prepared to serve any of Uncle Sam's men who may need attention on the ground.

Work Is Accomplished
The corps will work with the sanitation and medical force of the construction quartermaster's department, now under the direction of Captain Eugene G. Northington.

The corps arrived at American Lake at 6 a. m. Monday. By 10 o'clock the entire equipment had been checked off and Lieutenant J. Guy Strohm, in command, had arranged for the issuing of blankets, coats and other things needed from the camp quartermaster's stores. The work of throwing up the tents and of installing sanitary arrangements was complete long before "taps." First Sergeant Whitcomb put his men through the paces of the camp making work in systematic order.

The college and professional men, not all of whom have yet been hardened to severe field labor, along with the athletes that make up the corps, buckled down to the grind and made a showing that brought forth the hearty approval of Captain Northington and other army officers who saw them establish camp.

All Are Happy
The "esprit de corps" that has already distinguished the unit and proved itself in the camp-making, carried it likewise through the first night's discomforts with only a jest for the chill that crept into the beds of the men, under the one blanket that had been thought sufficient for the night. The dewy early hours of morning found most of the men awake and shaking, in spite of the fatigue of their day's work. On Tuesday a requisition for more blankets was made on the quartermaster.

During Tuesday the hospital tents were raised and medical and dental service dispensed to any who called for it. Lieutenants F. R. Mount, J. R. Wetherbee and Spiro Sargentich each took their share of the direction of the work with Lieutenant Strohm. At 4 in the afternoon all men not on special detail were released to allow them to go to Tacoma for a shower bath in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Just previous to their departure they were addressed on personal sanitation by Lieutenant Mount, as officer of the day.

The hospital tents of the corps are being added to as needed in the work. The tents will accommodate 212 patients. The company is now awaiting with some impatience the arrival of the 12 trucks which are to be part of its equipment. Practice of the packing of the entire equipment, which in war time is supposed to be done in 17 minutes, will be had when the trucks arrive.

The camp of the corps is located near the headquarters buildings of the cantonment at American lake, where in September 4,841 men and officers of the first conscription army are expected. The site is ideal, on well-drained, gravel-underlaid prairie land, among scattering fir trees. A short ways distant and all about, the hamlets of a thousand carpenters are busy building the barracks that are to house the army division to be trained for service in France.

State Hotel Men Meet at Roseburg

Roseburg, Or., July 21.—The delegation of members of the Oregon Hotelmen's association arrived here this morning by special train and spent the forenoon on an automobile trip through the orchard districts of this vicinity, through Sutherlin and back to Winchester, where they enjoyed a lunch on the banks of the North Umpqua river.

The delegation returned to Roseburg this afternoon, where the business session of the association was held. The party left late this afternoon for Medford, from where it will take a trip to Crater lake.

MAN WHO EMPTIED A GUN AT TIL TAYLOR IS TAKEN IN MONTANA

Frank Moran, Wanted for Postoffice Robbery, Eluded Pursuit Since Last March.

Pendleton, Or., July 21.—Sheriff T. D. Taylor today received word that the man with whom he engaged in a revolver duel at the mouth of Juniper canyon on March 23, had been picked up by the authorities at Billings, Mont., and would be returned to Pendleton.

Ever since the man made his getaway in the dusk after emptying his revolver at the sheriff, the latter has been on his trail. Sometimes it was hot and sometimes cold, but his efforts were finally rewarded.

The man, who goes under the name of Frank Moran and Frank Murray, served a term at the Walla Walla prison from 1910 to 1912. He is 25 years old. In company with Frank Mason he is alleged to have robbed the postoffice at Umatilla on March 21. The following day Sheriff Taylor came upon them under a trestle along the Columbia. He covered Mason, but the other man ran behind a pole and opened fire. Taylor returned the fire until his cartridges gave out, and he could not follow Moran for fear of losing Mason. Mason is now serving a four-year sentence at McNells Island.

America's Only Smart Utility Sport Model

This is the only car built in America today that combines the smartness of the sport model with economy and utility.

It is a strikingly smart, stylish car, entirely original-looking with a design all its own.

Extreme measures have been taken to give it a most exquisite finish in a rich gray, trimmed with black enamel and brightened with an occasional flash of polished nickel.

A fashionable dash of color is added to its striking lines by the red wire wheels.

The individual front seats, with aisleway between, are adjustable forward or back, to suit the reach of the driver and his companion.

The rear seat is roomy for two. Front and back, four large people ride sociably in real comfort.

It has four-inch tires and cantilever rear springs—buoyant riding!

The motor is powerful, it is surprisingly economical in the use of gasoline as compared with other cars of similar size.

Let us show you the car now.
