

Women's War Work

BY VELLA WINNER

THE W. C. T. U. organizations of Portland are interesting themselves in the collection of funds to purchase a truck to follow the ambulance to the battlefield. Such a vehicle is necessary for carrying food and drink and clothing for the immediate need of the wounded.

Vancouver Sewing Clubs.—Sewing clubs of Vancouver, Wash., are going to donate their time and efforts in behalf of the Red Cross movement. Three clubs at least have taken this stand including the Sewing Club, the Vancouver Thimble club and St. Luke's guild.

Banks Red Cross Dance.—Banks Red Cross committee will give a large dance on Saturday evening. Mrs. W. L. Moore, chairman; Miss Eva Schuler, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Kessler, treasurer, assisted by the members of the committee, have perfected arrangements and extend an invitation to all the other committees as well as Hillsboro. Mrs. Groff, Mrs. Reynolds and Miss Gordon, officers of the North Plains Red Cross committee, accompanied by Mrs. Gordon, visited headquarters Thursday.

League of Women's Service.—Mrs. J. L. Baldrige was elected president of the newly-organized Sedro-Woolley League of Women's Service. The meeting held in the Sedro-Woolley commercial club rooms Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Bellingham organizer for the Women's Service, acted as chairman until the work of organization was completed. When Mrs. Baldrige was called to preside, the women who will assist Mrs. Baldrige as officers were selected by her within a few days. Sleeveless sweaters for our boys in the navy and knitted mitts, without thumbs leaving the thumb fingers, but protecting the hand and arm, knitted scarfs, jackets lined with pieces of old kid gloves, and affording ideal protection from the weather and drafts, were passed around the rooms for inspection by the officials, demonstrating that the women's service does practical work for the soldiers.

Weighting and Measuring.—About 42 cents out of every dollar earned is spent for food and about 90 per cent of the food consumed is either weighed or measured in retail. A. Storlow, state sealer of weights and measures, in an address and demonstration before the Women's Conservation club of Bellingham Thursday, explained weighing and measuring process is simply a matter of counting money, in which the vendor and vendee both are involved.

State Senator Storlow called the women's attention to the importance of reweighing from time to time in order to see how they are being treated. He pointed out that the merchant has no objection to their reweighing a commodity purchased at his store, because the merchant is aware of the fact that the greatest business asset is the satisfied customer.

Club News

Monday Musical Board Meets.—The 1917-18 board of the Monday Musical club held an organization meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Leverett Thompson Newton, Thursday afternoon. There was a general reorganization of the various departments and an announcement of chairmen of various committees. Great plans were laid for a most efficient and successful year. One feature of special notice was an entire reorganization of the club chorus. A right set of rules was adopted and Mrs. Rose Courson-Reed was chosen director. With the leader and an able committee the chorus bids fair to be a most helpful and promising one. Mme. Closset was reappointed French teacher and Professor Lucien Becker was also chosen again to conduct the classes in harmony.

The following were officers elected for the coming year: Mrs. Leverett Thompson Newton, president; Mrs. R. F. Feemster, first vice president; Mrs. Charles G. Arnold, second vice president; Mrs. Bessie Ricketts-Aitken, recording secretary; Mrs. J. E. Bonbright, corresponding secretary.

Bed Time Tales

Fog Fairy Coats
ONE morning the sun got up very late. He really intended to get up early in a nice, proper sun fashion; and he had gone to bed at night with a rosy splash of color and that perfectly good intention in his mind. But in the morning when the time came for him to get up, he peeped one eye over the edge of the horizon, saw mist and fog lying thick on the ground, and he decided it would be a good idea to take another nap.

"Whatever is the use," he told himself, "of my getting up and trying to find my way through all that fog? It would take me all morning to do it and it would be hard work at that."

He pulled some gray mist clouds over his face and dozed off into a comfortable nap. Now, all night the fog and mist had been spreading across the earth, over fields and forests and towns and cities. And the little fog and mist fairies as they talked and played together talked of the day that was coming.

TUBERCULOSIS RAGES AMONG DAIRY CATTLE IN COQUILLE VALLEY

State Veterinarian Discovers Starting Condition Among Herds; Will Kill Afflicted.

Marshfield, Or., July 23.—A startling condition among dairy cows in the Coquille valley section of Coos county was discovered when Dr. C. M. Gardiner, state veterinarian, made a tuberculin test of a number of herds. He examined 630 cows and found 60, or nearly 10 per cent, affected with tuberculosis. These animals will be taken by the state and killed.

The state allows $25 for grade cows and $37.50 for full blood cows, but in many cases the condemned animals were valued at very much higher prices. Dr. Gardiner will make 340 tests in the Coos bay section and will give attention especially to the herds from which the city milk supplies are procured.

Thought Don't throw a way stale bread and leftover skim milk. Madam Housewife, from them you can make that simple and well known, nourishing dish, milk toast. This makes a good food for breakfast, luncheon, or supper, especially for children.

FOR A SILVER WEDDING

A correspondent from Eugene asks for plans for a surprise party to celebrate a silver wedding. Invite your friends to spend the evening and tell each one to come to the house by the rear entrance a few minutes before half after 8. This will give you to have dinner with your parents and make them think that the dinner is the only way you intend to celebrate. Have a simple meal, with a fancy dessert, and they will probably think that very nice and be perfectly unsuspecting of anything more. Suggest dressing up in evening clothes for the occasion. After dinner designate one member of the family to keep your parents interested in something until your friends have arrived and you have managed to usher them all into the drawing room. Then tell them some one, mentioning the name of one of the number, has called and so manage that they descend the stairs together. As they enter the parlor door turn the lights on full and let the guest so named greet them with best wishes and sit down to talk, then have the other guests, who have been waiting back of various articles of furniture, rise one by one at short intervals of time, so that as each greeting is finished another starts. After this a procession may be formed at the door and the guests march up to your parents and present them with the gifts they will bring. Much time will be consumed in this and a great deal of enjoyment will ensue.

COMBINATION SALAD

Boil beets, scoop out centers to form cups and fill with cooked asparagus tips with buds uppermost. Roll as many eggs as number to serve, when hard cut in two, remove yolks and fill with cream. Cook peas in mayonnaise, mix yolks with half quantity of grated cheese. Moisten with melted butter, add pepper and salt and roll the mixture into small balls, dip each ball in ground nuts. Arrange in lettuce, beet cups and balls in lettuce shells with mayonnaise in lemon shells, garnish with parsley. Half dozen can be served.

BAYS

One pound of flour, three-quarters ounce of compressed yeast, pinch of salt, one pint of milk, half-teaspoon of oil. Warm the milk and stir into it the yeast, add a pinch of salt and 4-6 eggs, add a pound of fine flour. This should make a bountiful and must be set to rise in a warm place for half an hour. When risen stir in the oil and butter and mix well together. Have ready a hot griddle and some iron rings of the right size, grease both, fill the rings with the batter and bake at once. When ready to turn the pikelets will be full of holes at the top; they do not rise very much and should only be baked lightly. Turn them for serving and butter the side with holes in it. A quantity can be made at one time and toasted when required for tea.

Woman Is Champion Lane County Angler

Mrs. Russell, Fishing From Boat Managed by Boy, Catches Limit of Fish in a Few Hours.
Eugene, Or., July 23.—Mrs. B. F. Russell, wife of the superintendent of the Lane county poor farm, is probably the champion angler of Lane county. Thursday she fished from a boat in the McKenzie river and caught the limit of 50 in a few hours. Among the string was a lolly varden that weighed three pounds and several rainbows that were nearly as large. She attributes a great deal of her success to the skill of her boatman, York Thomson, 15 years old. They floated down from Carey Thomson's place to Leaburg, a distance of eight miles.
