Portland and vicinity—Tonight and Tuesday fair, moderate westerly winds. Wednesday—Bright fair, Tuesday probably rain, moderate westerly winds. Thursday—Moderate westerly winds. Friday—Fair, moderate westerly winds. Saturday—Fair to clear, moderate westerly winds, cooling to cooler.

Weather Conditions

The pressure is high over the northern Rocky Mountain region and over the Atlantic coast States. It is low in a series of centers extending from the region of the great lakes in a southeasterly direction to the region of New Mexico. This pressure condition caused light showers in the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys. Rain was also reported in Utah, where the rain fell at Fairfield during the past 24 hours.

Observations

TOWN TOPICS

Bullet Fired into Coach.—By only a matter of inches, a bullet fired by some vandal along the right of way of the Olmstead C. M. & St. P. overland train between the east and west portals, missed the head of Chief Hanson, Portland lawyer, on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. It caused a flurry of excitement when the bullet flashed through the glass of the car. The company has a number of special agents investigating the case, and is leaving nothing undone to locate the person who shot the bullet. Mr. Hanson has just returned from a trip east.

Potato Vines Long.—Many persons have brought topless potatoes to The Journal, and potatoes tops, but this morning a specimen of tuber was quite different. The plant was quite tall, and the vines were long as follows: It was a sturdy vine, measuring 5 feet and 8 inches and bore half a dozen large potatoes. The plant was quite tall, and the vines were long as follows: It was a sturdy vine, measuring 5 feet and 8 inches and bore half a dozen large potatoes.

Army Map Issued.—The Rock Island railroad has issued a new army map of the United States which shows the location of national guard mobilization training camps, national army cantonments, reserve officers' training camps and government aviation fields. It is being distributed among Portland railroad men and shippers for their convenience and information.

How to Salt and Pickle Vegetables

Published daily in The Journal by authority of the Department of Agriculture. SALT-PICKLED GREEN TOMATOES. (In Brine.) Water-tight kegs or crocks may be used to hold pickled tomatoes. Place upon the board covered with kegs or crocks. Wash the tomatoes. On the bottom of the container place a layer of dill and a handful of mixed spice. Pack the container full of tomatoes. Add a top layer of dill and spice. Pour over all enough weak brine to cover the tomatoes.

South slopes of Mount Adams. The trio went to the mountain by way of Glenwood, and camp was made in Bird Creek meadow. They met the Mountaineers, a Seattle club, just leaving the meadows for Trout Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway and Bens started for the summit last Thursday, and the two men reached the summit. Automobiles for Army Service.—I. B. Rhodes, secretary of the Northwest department of Y. M. C. A. war activities, has bought three automobiles to follow the American lake troops on practice marches and police duty. A touring car for the speakers, a heavy truck for the portable Y. M. C. A. and a light truck for magazines, papers, writing supplies and the like have been bought.

Victim Still Unconscious.—The condition of Mrs. Edith Losner, 1193 East Third—first street north, who was taken to Good Samaritan hospital with a possible fracture of the skull, remains unchanged. She is still unconscious. Mrs. Losner was riding on the rear of a motorcycle driven by Hamilton M. Loring, 13 East Thirty-second street north, on Saturday night when the machine skidded, throwing the riders to the pavement. Mr. Loring was only slightly bruised.

Defense Units Will Meet.—Members of the Oregon reserve companies will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at Multnomah Hall to discuss plans for organization and equipment. Captain J. Francis Drake, in command of Company B, Oregon reserves, has called a meeting of his men for 8 o'clock, as has Captain McKinnon of Company A. Members of the company, former members and men desiring to become part of the organization are requested by the commanders to attend.

Young Forest Growing.—W. H. Levee, forest examiner for the federal forest service in the northwest district, has returned from an inspection of a planted area on Battle Ax mountain near the district office. The area, about 500 acres, which was planted with Douglas fir about four years ago, from stock taken from the Wind River forest, is now completely denuded by fire, but is now being nicely, Mr. Levee says.

Smoke Slows Traffic.—Traffic regulations received full recognition this morning when the smoke, with a generous quantity of fog intermixed, filled the downtown streets. Cars and automobiles stayed a respectful distance apart, although traffic men say the smoke alone, at least at the time, on one or two occasions in the past when lights were burned in the cars in the daytime, when forest fires were raging.

Home-Reading Course For Citizen-Soldiers

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army. It is a practical help in getting started in the "right way." It is informal in character, but it gives the men the best of the best of the various manuals and regulations of the United States army, to which this course is merely introductory. (Issued by the Department and all rights reserved.)

Lesson No. 13 Grouping Men into Teams The smallest unit or "team" in the army is the squad. A squad usually consists of eight men, one of whom is the leader; he is called the "corporal." You will be assigned to a squad almost at once on entering the army. At first, you may be shifted about considerably from one squad to another, but within a short time you and seven other men will be brought together to form a permanent team. This means that you will work together, drill together, and sleep in the same tent or in the same section of the barracks. You must come to know the other men in the squad through and through and they will become equally well acquainted with you. Some of them will probably grow to be your closest and lifelong friends. On the other hand, there may be one or two men whom you dislike or do not respect.

The Squad Unit In any case remember this: The eight men in a squad form a team in the same sense that a baseball nine or a football eleven is a team. Your squad is competing with all the other squads in your company. Whenever you grow to be your closest and lifelong friends, you will work together, drill together, and sleep in the same tent or in the same section of the barracks. You must come to know the other men in the squad through and through and they will become equally well acquainted with you.

It is your first duty to help your own squad make a good showing. Also it is to your own interest to do so. There is no more pleasure or reward for you in belonging to a poor squad than there is a ball player in belonging to a losing team. Take pride in your squad and in the good work of the squad as a whole. If you find you have one man among you who is lazy or childish, try to get him into a different attitude. Every squad has at least one weak link. The best way to change him is to talk to him until you get him as much interested as you in making your squad rank as the best in the company.

The Platoon and the Company To do, three or four squads usually three may be joined in the next higher unit, which is called a "platoon." The platoon, however, is not so permanent as a squad, but is formed whenever there is need for it; in drilling or on the firing line. Next comes the company, which is made up of full strength of 150 men; this is about 16 squads or six platoons. This number is "war strength" in our old tables of organization; the

U. S. GIVES PROMISE TO AID RUSSIA

(Continued From Page One) without, and pledged the United States again as ready to give "every material and moral assistance" to the Russian government in the "promotion of the common cause in which the two nations are unselfishly united." Message Considered Significant Officials declared that they considered the president's message to Russia at the present time most significant. While both the state department and the White House declined to make any statement regarding when the note to the pope would be completed, it was been about completed by the president and that it will go forward this week. The president's message to the Russian people was as follows: "I take the liberty to send to the members of the great council now meeting in Moscow, Russia, the cordial greetings of their friends, the people of the United States, and to express their utmost confidence in the ultimate triumph of the ideals of democracy and self-government against all enemies, within and without, and to give their renewed assurance of every material and moral assistance they can extend to the government of Russia in the promotion of the common cause in which the two nations are unselfishly united. "WOODROW WILSON."

Note May Leave Opening In connection with the general belief that the reply of the president to the pope will be a rejection of the peace plan, coupled with a concrete expression of the ideals for which the United States is fighting, so that his holiness, if he sees fit, can continue negotiations to end the war, the state department today affirmed the sentiments expressed by Sir Robert Cecil in London. It was stated that all of the information in the possession of the United States strongly proved that it had been the aim of Germany to overcome France, then Great Britain, and then the United States. Secretary Lansing stated that there was plenty of evidence to show this fact.

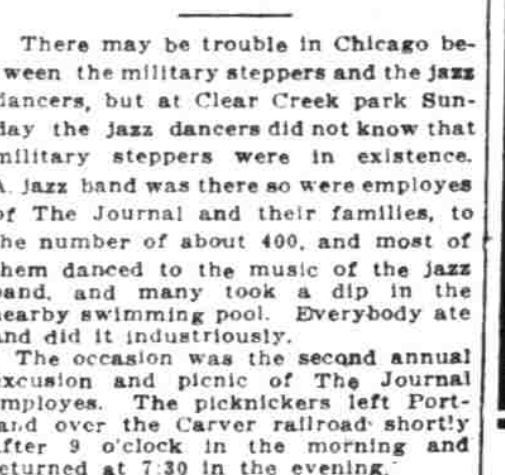

Will Probably Assail Autocracy Following the making public of the president's note to Russia many officials expressed the belief that the

JOURNAL WORKERS AND FAMILIES ENJOY DAY AT CLEAR CREEK PARK

David Smith Makes Coffee—Jazz Band Performs; Many Dance, Others Swim.

There may be trouble in Chicago between the military steppers and the jazz dancers, but at Clear Creek park Sunday the jazz dancers did not know that military steppers were in existence. A jazz band was there so were employees of The Journal and their families, to the number of about 400, and most of them danced to the music of the jazz band, and many took a dip in the nearby swimming pool. Everybody ate and did it industriously.

Smith Makes Good Coffee A word or two should be said of the train. A combination coach, two flat cars and a big yellow open car made up the excursion train which the train stopped. The engineer had forgotten to oil the movable parts. He did it en route under the critical observation of members of The Journal staff. The first move after reaching the park was to eat. Eating on picnics is always an enjoyable affair, especially when you are hungry and in the mood to partake of some one else's lunch. David Smith, the genial circulation manager, looked after the coffee, also the ice cream. Both were excellently circulated.

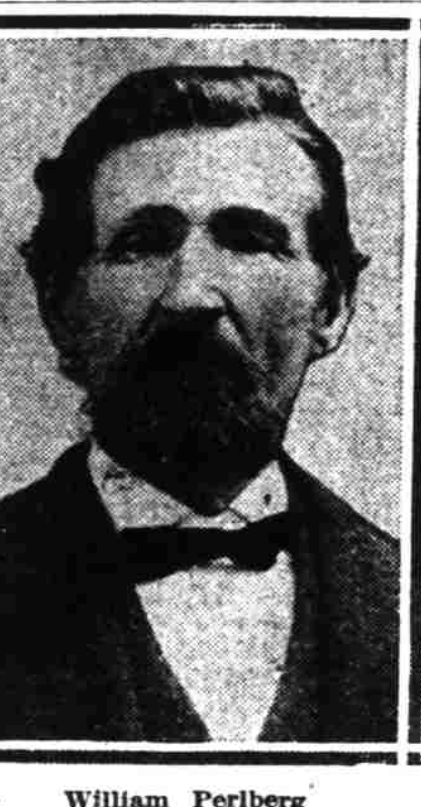

Freight Increase Will Be Denied

Salem, Ore., Aug. 27.—The request of the railroads for an increase of 15 cents a ton in the freight rates on coal shipped within the state will be denied by the public service commission. The order in the case is now being prepared and will be out this week. A strong protest against the requested increase was made by Marshfield coal companies.

Russia Will Ignore Proposal

Petrograd, Aug. 27.—(U. N. S.)—The Russian government has decided to ignore the peace note of Pope Benedict XV. Announcement to this effect was made in the following statement given out by the official News Agency: "The provisional government has thoroughly deliberated the question of Pope Benedict's note with regard to peace negotiations. In view of the fact that no mention is made in
