PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN THAT OREGON APPLES ARE TO BE EXPORTED

Space on Ships Leaving for England and Scandinavian Ports to Be Had.

BRITISH WANT THE FRUIT

United States May Soon Establish Its Own Rules for Exportations to the Scandinavian Countries

Washington, Aug. 31.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.)—Prospects for opening the British and Scandinavian markets for Oregon apples next winter are steadily improving as additional facts are produced before the state department, where Congressman Sinnott, with representatives of the apple growers, has been trying to speed up the diplomatic machinery.

It is now established that there is space for the apples on ships departing from American ports. This space cannot be used, because of a cumbersome system of securing special permits from British trade comptrollers. Shippers have found that by the time the red tape is unwound the ship usually has sailed.

Next, it develops that British dealers are calling for Hood River and other northwestern apples. They are anxious to handle them, and have recently become active in petitioning their trade authorities to make it possible for them to receive such shipments.

Another situation arises as to Scandinavian importations. When this country was a neutral, Great Britain established the rules under which importations into those countries were governed, under penalty of seizure and the prize court. That course was justified as a necessity of protection against supplying the enemy.

Now the United States is a belligerent and the ally of Britain. This country has as much interest in preventing supplies going to the enemy as her ally, and presumably is just as capable of handling the questions of exports. An exports embargo was placed in the hands of the president for that very purpose.

Intimations are now heard that within a short time the United States will establish its own rules for exportations to the Scandinavian countries, in cooperation, of course, with the British, but without interference by her trade authorities. This will make the manner of export and the plan of control under American authority.

M'NARY WANTS ALL PAPERS PAID TO HELP NEXT LIBERTY LOAN

Washington, Aug. 31.—Senator McNary has had an interview with Secretary McAdoo to urge that the next Liberty loan be advertised in the newspapers and that the government pay real money for space, which heretofore has been freely donated by the papers.

Considerable sentiment for using part of the advertising fund in this way has grown up, and Secretary McAdoo said that he is giving the matter consideration, and will ask congress for an appropriation for the purpose if he decides in favor of it. This indicates that the responsibility for the step will be put up to congress, and that the expense will not be taken care of by allotting the newspapers part of the money regularly set aside for defraying the bond issue expense.

Senator McNary presented the matter to the secretary not as a grievance of the newspapers, but as a matter of fair dealing with a business which lives largely upon advertising, and ought not, he argued, be asked to continue unusual donations of advertising space to help the government without receiving compensation for it.

Colored Spot Lights May Hide Army Lads

Cleveland Man Has Camouflage Invention That May Make Troops Invisible at Will at Night.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 31.—Something new in camouflage that may revolutionize warfare again was hinted at Thursday by M. Luckiesh of the National Lamp Works. By casting colored lights on objects Luckiesh promises to make them disappear absolutely from view.

His process is to make colored spots blend with their background by throwing upon them lights of such colors that the spots and the background reflect rays of equal character, all in equal amounts.

An army going "over the top" with these lights playing on the men would be invisible to the enemy, Luckiesh says. By reversing the process, the enemy's troops could be made to stand out in unusual distinctness.

RIGHT TO CHARGE 6-CENT FARE TO BE COMPANY'S REQUEST

Early Hearing Is Sought on Traction Firm's Request for Increase in Revenues.

Application for a six cent car fare in the city of Portland will be made to the public service commission, according to President Franklin T. Griffith of the company, who made an informal appearance before the commission yesterday.

It is presumed that the application for an increase in fare is being made in anticipation of action regarding the demands of the street car company employes for increases in their pay. The demands of the carmen have already been submitted to the company.

President Griffith asked the commission to waive the customary 10-day notice of the application and set a date for the hearing. Under the state law the city is entitled to 10 days' notice in such proceedings.

Chairman Miller stated that no official action on the request will be taken until the street car company files a formal petition in the case.

The public service commission already has complete data regarding the physical properties, etc., of the traction company up to December 31, last. Before considering the granting of six cent fare the company's books would have to be audited to cover the conditions resulting since January 1 last.

Kaiser's Men Have New Plot, Is Charge

Seattle, Aug. 31.—(I. N. S.)—The government has received information of an anonymous nature that German agents are directing a campaign of interference with condensed milk shipments to the allies, according to Assistant United States Attorney McDonald. It is said that German agents have made efforts to deflect the shipments to Germany.

Government Plans To Prevent Strike

Washington, Aug. 31.—(U. P.)—The shipyard adjustment board will be completed at once and will go to Seattle to prevent a general strike on the Pacific coast, it was announced at the shipping board late Thursday. Chairman G. Everett Macy and Secretary Berries of the metal trades department, American Federation of Labor, are board members so far announced.

4000 SLAV TRAITORS TO BE SHOT TO STOP TRENCH DESERTIONS

Kerensky and Korniloff Will Order Firing Squads For Troops That Quit Posts.

London, Aug. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Four thousand Russian soldiers will be shot as deserters by Russian firing squads if Premier Kerensky carries out his threat, voiced at the close of the Moscow conference.

"This hurts us to the very soul, but for the salvation of the country we will kill them with all our soul."

Two regiments on the Roumanian front who Thursday abandoned their positions to the east of Iristia, inviting a new important Teutonic advance, are expected to be the first to be hit by the restitution of the death penalty.

Death Order Expected

General Korniloff, the commander-in-chief, just back at the front from the Moscow conference, where he preached a "blood and iron rule," is expected to make a gruesome example of these latest traitors to free Russia's cause.

Berlin's official version of the resumed offensive on the Roumanian front says nothing of the deliberate Russian withdrawal that made it possible.

Cossacks Stay Loyal

"A powerful thrust by our attacking troops," says the statement, threw our stubbornly resisting enemy out of Iristia and pressed him back over the heights beyond the village in the direction of the Huchitza valley."

The Russian offensive spirit is by no means broken. The cossacks, loyal to death, are battling with superhuman heroism, regardless of the cowardice of some of their brethren. The German war office indirectly pays tribute to this death defying bravery.

Will A. Moore to Be Named as Collector

Washington, Aug. 31.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL.)—Practically all doubt is removed as to the appointment of Will A. Moore to succeed Thomas C. Burke as collector of customs at Portland. Moore's name will be sent in for confirmation at an early date. It is understood Burke's friends have practically abandoned hope in view of Senator Chamberlain's stand, which would have prevented Burke's confirmation.

Trivial Cause Leads To Killing in Camp

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 31.—(I. N. S.)—The theft of a blanket led to a murder tragedy here today. Private August Hedke of Chicago was cold when he woke up in his tent at the Belleville aviation camp this morning, so he took Private John La Cavita's blanket.

Shivering from cold, La Cavita woke up and discovered his loss. He shot and killed Hedke with an army rifle. Both men are members of Company M, Sixth Illinois infantry of Chicago Heights.

Finnish Leaders Try To Precipitate Strike

Petrograd, Aug. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Representatives of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates at Helsingfors are trying to precipitate a national strike as a result of the refusal of the provisional government to allow the Finnish diet to meet. A protest from a group of Finnish senators was received today from the governor general of Finland at Helsingfors.

A resident of Venezuela has applied for a patent in that country upon a new dry process for recovering tanning extracts from the fruit of the divi-divi plant.

Mars Has Wife So Exemption Claim Allowed by Board

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Local exemption board No. 6, selecting men for the national army, is disappointed today.

They selected Mars to be in the first trenches of the far flung battle line, as tradition would have it. But the district board overruled their decision in the case of Arthur C. Mars—who was married since the declaration of war—and have permitted him to remain home with his bride.

BAKER MAN IS FINED FOR HAVING LIQUOR; TO BE TRIED AGAIN

Both City and County Prosecutions Fall to F. Pollitta As Result of Raid.

Baker, Or., Aug. 31.—Frank Pollitta, a wealthy sheepman, Thursday afternoon plead guilty in police court to having liquor in his possession and was fined $150, which he paid. He was immediately rearrested by the sheriff on an information from the district attorney's office, and will be prosecuted on the same charge. Pollitta was admitted to $250 bail for hearing. In a raid at his house a few days ago officers seized five gallons of whiskey.

Two Picked for Service

Baker, Or., Aug. 31.—George I. Jett and George W. Neff, both of Baker, will be the first Baker county men in the new national army, being selected Thursday as the first five per cent of Baker's quota of 48 men drafted. Jett is married but claims no exemption. Neff is single, likewise serving without protest. They will report September 5. Four Baker registrants, failing to appear for examination, are being sought by the sheriff.

Baker, Or., Aug. 31.—The Right Rev. Charles J. O'Reilly, bishop of Baker diocese of the Catholic church went to Boise Thursday to take up the work of the late Bishop Glorieux until the latter's successor is named. He expects to be in Idaho several months.

Landowner Attacks Special Tax Levies

Seven Districts Are Affected in Litigation Started in Collection of Money.

Eugene, Or., Aug. 31.—John F. Kelly filed a complaint in the circuit court Thursday, attacking the validity of the special road taxes levied in districts Nos. 5, 4, 2, 39, 57, 64 and 66 for the year 1916. Kelly, who owns lands in each of the road districts, alleges in his petition that in each case the meeting was illegally held and the special road tax levied by the district is illegal.

Kelly has paid all other taxes on his lands mentioned in the complaint and asks that the sheriff be restrained from collecting these taxes.

He further alleges that the assessment creates a cloud on his title and asks the court to declare them illegal.

University Is Unaffected

Eugene, Or., Aug. 31.—The activities of the University of Oregon will not be curtailed in any line by the war, according to an announcement made Thursday. Military drill will be held, and instruction in other branches relating to military activities, in addition to the usual work. Military science and household art have been added to the course of study.
