

WOMAN'S WAR WORK

BY VELLA WINNER

Miss Superior Jeanette of the Protestant Episcopal order of St. Mary's, Chicago, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. William Ladd of Marshfield, during the past few weeks, has returned to her home. Stopping in Victoria, B. C., on the way, she writes the following interesting account of "Miss Jeanette," a Russian spitz, 5 years old, owned by Mrs. George Woodward of Victoria and loaned to the Red Cross cause, during the war: "She leaves him daily on a little platform on the main street from 10 to 1:30 entirely alone, while she works for the Red Cross in various ways. He never leaves his stand and is always good natured. He shakes his box to attract attention and stands on his hind legs to beg for money. He takes him aboard the launch, and he collects large sums from the passengers."

He has been collecting for 10 months only and has nearly $3000 to his credit. At 4:30, when Mrs. Woodward comes for him, he is taken to the Red Cross headquarters where his boxes are unlocked and contents credited to him. A placard stands near his platform reading: "My name is Muggins. I am 5 years old. I have collected over $3000 for the Red Cross. Can't you help a little?"

LACKAMAS branch of the woman's committee of the council of national defense has as chairman, Mrs. L. Langenberg; vice chairman, Miss G. Hargrave; secretary, Mrs. L. Trabue; treasurer, Mrs. A. Ballie. The next meeting will be September 12, 2 p. m., at the school house.

Clackamas Red Cross Auxiliary—Excellent work is being done by the Clackamas Red Cross auxiliary which has a membership of 105 and holds a meeting each Friday afternoon in the Odd Fellows hall, Mrs. Otis Welch, captain. On Thursday evening they held an ice cream social in the grove adjoining the hall, which was well attended. A short program of singing and recitations by the best local talent was enjoyed by all, as well as the best of cake and cream, $10.10, net proceeds.

Mrs. Kemp in Medford—Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, state president of the W. C. U. and vice president of the State Defense League, will speak in Medford, Thursday, September 6, on "What Oregon Expects of Its Women." The Medford League has just recently been organized with the following officers: Mrs. E. N. Warner, chairman; Mrs. Clay, vice chairman; Miss Louise Burke, secretary; Miss Mildred Antle, treasurer.

Augusta Neighborhood Club.—The East Side neighborhood club gathered Monday at the home of Mrs. S. P. Ainsworth. There were 16 members present, who accomplished the usual amount of Red Cross work. Too much credit can not be given Mrs. L. A. Risley, Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Sage for their efficient handling of the planning of sewing and it is particularly an instance of their superior service that never has Red Cross work been returned to the club because it is so well handled by the committee.

Service Flag with Four Stars.—In the window of the home of Mrs. Mary Russell at Hope Garden, Troutdale, (the corresponding secretary of the state W. C. U.) hangs a service flag with four stars on its field of blue. This states the fact that three of the sons and the husband of the only daughter have enlisted. "Dale," a member of Company F, engineers, is now in France; "Gene" has gone with Company B, engineers, to American Lakes; "Dick" is an officer at Ft. Snelling, Minn., and "Vernie," the son-in-law, is a member of the aviation corps, which has gone to Texas. These devoted sons go out from an ideal home life. The mother left behind smiles bravely through her tears.

Bed Time Tales

BY CLARA INGRAM JUDSON

Mr. Garden Toad Brings Good News LL morning long the bees hummed back and forth around the garden. Every time Tommy Tittle-mouse stuck his head out of his hole, he heard that faint "hum, hum" now loud, showing that they were near, now soft and faint in the distance. But he would take no chances—not he! He was afraid to leave his nest for a minute for fear the bees would enter it while he was gone. You see, he liked his home so well himself that he couldn't but think the bees must be wanting it too—you know how that feeling goes yourself!

So he stayed tight in the dark corner of his home till morning and he kept his little mate close beside him for company and for protection. And that was why he knew nothing of what happened in the garden. Knew nothing, till late in the afternoon, when Mr. Garden Toad hopped up to the door of his home, called him out, and told him all the events of the day.

"Tommy was so interested! He and Mr. Toad sat there in the dimming afternoon light and blinked and blinked—and were so relieved. You would have been too, if you had been so frightened as they were by bluey and then had heard all that Mr. Garden Toad had to say. Listen! This is what he told them: "After the bees had been turned out of their nice new home by Ned's upsetting the box, they chased him round and round the house."

"But didn't they bite him?" asked Tommy, interrupting. "Seems to me I have heard that bees bite!" And "Not bite," corrected Mr. Garden Toad with dignity, "bees sting. Yes, they did sting him, but you must not stop the story. They stung him because he bothered them—and that does not concern us." Tommy felt so rebuked he just sat still the rest of the time and said not another word. So Mr. Garden Toad continued: "They chased him round and round the house till he was ready to promise never, never to touch a bee's home again (though to tell the truth he didn't know there was a bee's nest ing the summer vacation, the knitting and sewing going busily on. This past week supplies were sent out to Red Cross as follows: 30 dozen hospital handkerchiefs, 17 dozen napkins, 41 tray cloths, 13 bed socks. To Camp Wilycomber: 3000 gauz wipers, 614 tea towels, 95 housewives. To our navy boys: 182 comfort bags. To the British relief: 50 pounds of old linen and 182 "many tailed" bandages for the battle front. Mrs. Jennie Kemp, state president, recently addressed the South Mt. Tabor union, and is now touring Douglas county.

Laurelhurst Red Cross Work.—The women of the Laurelhurst Study club have been busy all summer with Red Cross work, having met every Monday afternoon at the clubhouse to sew with Mrs. Hubert Ferris in charge. As a means of interesting other women of that section it has been decided to hold an exhibition of the work together with a social afternoon at the clubhouse Monday at 3:30, when all work accomplished during the summer will be exhibited. Written by Elaine Bennett and recently presented with success at Mrs. Blair's home in Laurelhurst for the benefit of the Red Cross will be repeated and there will be musical numbers, after which tea and wafers will be served.

Special Car Will Carry Party to Coast Town for Saturday Session.

Cottage Grove, Or., Sept. 5.—Extensive preparations are being made at Newport for the entertainment of the editors of the valley, according to Elbert Bede, secretary of the Willamette Valley Editorial association, and letters from the editors indicate that there will be a record-breaking attendance at their approaching meeting Saturday, September 8.

A special car carrying the editors and their wives will be attached to the regular Albany-Newport train and the business session will be held in the car en route, beginning after C. E. Ingalls, president of the association, boards the train at Corvallis. The party will remain over Sunday at Newport and return Monday.

The business program follows: "My Experiences in Raising Advertising Rates," F. S. Dimes, Corvallis; "Are Patents and Pluses Really Readable and Worth What They Cost?" C. J. McIntosh, Press Building, Cottage Grove; "The Country Newspaper Competition and What is the Proper Balance of Pay and Other Matter in the Country Newspaper," A. K. Mickey, Astoria; "Progress, Junction City; 'Why We Don't Run a Job Shop in Connection With Paper,' W. L. Hornbrook, Democrat, Albany; 'Value of the Country Unit in Organization,' F. S. Dancing Is Feature

Dancing that is dashing in an outstanding feature in the principal acts in the new vaudeville bill that opened at the Strand theatre, this afternoon. Allen and Moore are one of the teams of light-foot artists that give tone to the new bill, and they have some of the cleverest steps imaginable. With their dancing is their forte, they have also a pretty bouquet of songs to offer their audiences. Then there is Collins and Lee, the former a dancing man whose clever feet are as speedy as cha-cha-lightning, and the latter a pretty girl, who knows the terpsichorean game quite as well as does her partner. Their act bristles with novelty and originality. George H. Ford and the Cunningham Sisters have a de luxe offering in a splendid show of love and fun—an act that is bright in every one of its three characteristics. Finally on the vaudeville bill there are the two Duffs, with a melodious and mirthful melange of drollery and smart impersonations. Franklyn Farnum and his dainty companion, Brownie Vernon, are the stars in the photodrama that completes the new bill.

A Stormy Knight

"A Stormy Knight" is the play, modern, breezy and romantic in the unusual and delightful story of love and exciting adventure that it unfolds.

Seat Sale Breaks Record

Judging from the early seat sales and reservations for the Pendleton Round-Up, September 29, 31 and 32, the frontier show will this year eclipse all others in point of attendance. At Pendleton, the ticket sale has been total so far, and it is early. In the first three hours of the Pendleton sale the receipts, amounted to $3000. Reservations for The Journal special train are coming in rapidly. Railway tickets will be on sale at The Journal Business Office Friday morning. The special car of Louis J. Simpson, who is playing host to a big Open Day party for the Round-Up, will be attached to The Journal Special at Portland.

PRASE THE BANANA

It is well to bear in mind in the case of the banana that its caloric value is very high—in fact, higher than that of any other common fruit of its natural state. Furthermore, bananas may be readily obtained at any time of the year and at a cost per calory about half that of other fruits.

The condition in which fruits are sold in many of our great cities is certainly far from sanitary, but the peel of the banana affords it almost complete protection in this respect. The banana has been called "the poor man's fruit" and the facts mentioned above would appear to justify this appellation.

Perhaps the worst criticism that can be made with regard to bananas is that they are frequently sold and eaten when they are not thoroughly ripe. This is in part due to a popular misconception that bananas should not be eaten after the appearance of brownish spots on the peel. The yellow color of the skin is not in itself sufficient evidence of ripeness; in fact, under certain climatic conditions the fruit may be entirely yellow and still be so underripe that its consumption in large amounts would be followed by discomfort. When the yellow of the peel takes on a golden hue and begins to underripe due to a popular misconception that bananas should not be eaten after the appearance of brownish spots on the peel.

The composition of the banana and the potato shows an interesting similarity both as regards total carbohydrate and the amounts of the different mineral constituents. While the banana can hardly be regarded as a potato substitute, the fact that it has practically the same caloric value as the potato is worthy of note.

Of even greater importance is the fact that bananas may be eaten uncooked. This is of interest in view of the increasing significance that is being attached to the "accessory food substances."

LAMB EN CASSEROLE

Put about two and a half pounds of lamb from the breast, cut in pieces for serving into a casserole. Season with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and sprinkle a few bits of butter on top. Put around the meat a peeled and sliced onion, a pepper pod cut in strips and a cup of sliced tomatoes, fresh or canned.

A Serving of Kellogg's for Less than a Penny

Corn is abundant, and it's rich in nutriment. The good sense of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes, costing less than a penny a serving, is appealing to thousands of thrifty women. Kellogg's, the original Toasted Corn Flakes, is made from the nutritious hearts of the finest corn that grows. It is presented in the most digestible form, cooked, flaked and delicately toasted, with an appetizing flavor that always has a refreshing appeal. Kellogg's is especially recommended by dietitians for children. The little folks love these crisp, dainty flakes, and it is an ideal way to give them plenty of milk.

Cuticura Heals Itching Scalp

Hair Thin and Dry. Dandruff So Bad Could Be Seen on Clothing. Hair Fell Out. Used One Cake Cuticura Soap and One Box Ointment.

"About nine months ago I had very thin, dry hair, and I had dandruff so bad it could be seen on my clothing. My scalp itched and burned and my hair kept falling out gradually until I had hardly any at all. I had to wash my hair every week. The dandruff was so bad that when I combed my hair the dandruff fell out in large flakes. My sister advised me to try washing my hair with Cuticura Soap and then applying Cuticura Ointment, so I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. After four months was up I was healed." (Signed) Miss M. Lenora Irish, R. 2, Box 47, Deer Park, Wash., March 20, 1916.

If you have a poor complexion improve it by using Cuticura Soap daily and Cuticura Ointment occasionally.

For Free Sample Each by Return Mail address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. H, Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c.
