

SHIPYARD TROUBLES ARE OF AID TO KAISER, VIEW OF W. A. HOLMAN

Prime Minister of New South Wales Urges Arbitration as Duty of Workingmen.

CONFIDENCE NEEDED, TOO

Visitor Says Allies Must Have Constant Supply of Vessels in Order to Win War.

New York, Sept. 21.—Strikes which interfere with America's production of ships are "a blow at the vitals of the nation," W. A. Holman, prime minister of New South Wales, declares.

Holman, labor chief of a labor administration, urged closer cooperation between the workers and the government to prevent misunderstandings, and said arbitration should stand between the country and industrial troubles which may lead to disaster. The New South Wales premier is en route home after a visit to the trenches.

Strikes Aid Kaiser

"As a labor man of life-long standing," he said, "I should be the last to deprecate labor's assertion of its rights, but labor should shrink from an alliance with the criminal designs of the Kaiser by striking when arbitration machinery is available. Striking without first using the machinery must be strongly condemned."

"I know nothing of the merits of the strike on the Pacific coast, and it is not within the province of a visitor like myself to attempt to judge of those merits. But nothing could be more fatal, if protracted and embittered, than the shipbuilding strike on your west coast. Shipping is the prime necessity of the allies at the present moment. We of Australia and New Zealand, most distant of all the allies, deeply feel our dependence on ocean commerce in this crisis. We can only deplore any strike which is holding up direct assistance to Germany's criminal submarine campaign."

Allies Must Have Ships

"I have had enough experience to know that in a large proportion of cases the workmen do not strike until there has been large measure of exasperation. Wartime seems unfortunately prolific in industrial misunderstandings. The real need is for a clear understanding by the government of the workers and for more confidence by the workers in the government."

Premier Holman emphasized that he was speaking of the world shipping situation, not specifically of that in the United States, which he is unfamiliar. He laid stress on the fact that the allies are held together by shipping, that the enemy has all the advantage of the central location where men and supplies may be quickly transferred by rail.

"Workers should take their grievances to the government before impugning the nation's cause by striking," he said. "Every man and every horse that America sends to the front will call for a fresh effort by the shipping yards. A dispute there is a blow at the vitals of the nation and the nation's friends."

North Yakima Fair Is Drawing Crowds

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 21.—Thursday was Governor's day and Pioneer's day at the State fair. Governor Lister arrived in the city this morning and was met at the train by a delegation from the Commercial club and escorted to the club rooms where the party registered, and then to breakfast at the Commercial hotel, where the club had also a delegation of business men from Seattle. Following breakfast, Governor Lister was taken to Wenatchee to attend the pioneer picnic, returning to the State fair in the afternoon, and other members of the party were given an automobile ride through the valley.

TREMENDOUS SUCCESS MARKS MOBILIZATION OF FIGHTING FORCES

Movement of More Than 300,000 Drafted Men to Camps Is Progressing Finely.

Washington, Sept. 21.—(U. S. S.)—Everything is going smoothly. Movement is proceeding according to schedule.

This was the gist of messages received Thursday by Provost Marshal General Crowder from practically every state in the country. They told of the tremendous success attending America's first heavy mobilization, the moving of more than 300,000 drafted men from their homes to the camps.

The messages came from governors and camp commanders. Within the last two days approximately 130,000 men have been transported to mobilization camps. From messages received here there have been few cases of desertion, little grumbling and scarcely any breakdowns in the mobilization machinery.

The movement of drafted men practically will be continuous until late in October. From 10,000 to 50,000 a day will be moved to the camps. The mobilization of the present 40 per cent or more will be completed only in time to begin on the next 40 per cent ordered out on October 5 and succeeding days. No date has been set for the mobilization of the final batch which will bring the full quota of 887,000 conscripts to the camp. It is expected that October 15 or some date within a week of that will be selected. Meanwhile, preparations were being made by the war department Thursday for the examination for the 7,000-000 men left over from the present draft.

Secretary Baker has ordered that these men be examined and enrolled for military service or exempted, as the case might be. By this means such registered man would know where he stood and could shape his private affairs for the necessary end.

The provost marshal general's office says that it is prepared to send orders to each local board to start on the work immediately if it is authorized by the secretary's office.

Britain to Require Great Food Supply

Lord Rhondda Says Ten Million Tons Must Be Furnished in Year by the United States and Canada.

London, Sept. 21.—(U. S. S.)—Warning that unless the allies are able to import supplies to feed the army and civilians "victory may slip from their grasp," was voiced by Lord Rhondda, food controller, in an interview with the United Press.

"Britain during the next 12 months will require 10,000,000 tons or a billion dollars' worth of foodstuffs from the United States and Canada," he declared.

This great supply of foodstuffs, Lord Rhondda said, would include mostly cereals, sugar and hog products.
