

FRAME-UP IN MOONEY CASE IS EXPLAINED AT OXMAN HEARING

F. E. Rigall Testifies to Remarkable Series of Acts When Put on the Stand.

San Francisco, Sept. 21.—(I. N. S.)—Relating the story of the alleged frame-up by which he was falsely identifying Thomas J. Mooney as the perpetrator of the preparedness parade bomb murders, F. E. Rigall of Grayville, Ill., Thursday was on the stand testifying at the trial of Frank C. Oxman, Oregon cattleman, on a charge of attempted subornation of perjury. Oxman, whose identification of Mooney was the evidence on which the latter was convicted and sentenced to death, is accused of attempting to bribe Rigall to falsely give similar testimony.

Rigall, for the prosecution, testified that he told Oxman that he would have to be accurate in telling such a story, and that the two visited a railroad office to arrange a fictitious time of arrival in San Francisco for Rigall on the day of the explosion, July 22, 1916.

Rigall testified that he did not receive $250 promised him by Oxman, but did receive $150 from the district attorney's office as "expenses" and that from Lieutenant of Police Steven Bunner he received other expense money. He testified that he exposed the alleged frame-up to Edward Cumba, assistant district attorney, when the latter urged him to "come clean" as it was Cumba's first big case.

Rigall admitted under cross examination that he had used the name "Frank C. Oxman" in Grayville once when he was arrested for drunkenness. He said that at the time of his arrest he was a city councilman and that though he hid his identity while in jail under the name of his friend, Oxman, he paid the fines of himself and his companions.

Polk County Fair Is Great Success

Dallas, Or., Sept. 21.—Ideal weather conditions have attended the Polk county fair this week and large crowds are in attendance. In spite of an unfavorable growing season, many of the exhibits are better than ever before. The exhibit of horses and hogs is said to be the best so far made at any county fair in the state, but cats and sheep exhibits are short. Tuesday afternoon E. Benson, chairman of the state highway commission, delivered an address at the pavilion on "Better Highways and Their Value to the Farmer." Wednesday afternoon Governor Withycombe and President W. J. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college, were among the speakers. Thursday afternoon the principal speaker was Bruce Dennis, manager of the Oregon Patriotic league.

Changes Being Made At Pacific College

Newberg, Or., Sept. 21.—With funds furnished by the woman's auxiliary to Pacific college, extensive changes are being made in the old college building. The upper floor of the north half of the building is to be vacated by the science department and made available for dormitory purposes. The science department will be installed in the lower floor of the south half of the building, and will furnish more room. The old library room will be available for the girls' gymnasium classes, and a new stairway will be built from the north half of the south half of the building to the main hall above, communicating with the commercial department and the old library room.

Paroled Prisoner Held for Forgery

Roy Woods, Under Arrest With M. F. Jackson, Admits He Is Probationist From Reform School of Oregon. Baker, Or., Sept. 21.—Roy Woods, arrested here Wednesday with M. F. Jackson, on a forgery charge, Thursday admitted he was paroled from the Oregon reform school and had been using the name of Roy Thomas. He and Jackson will plead Saturday. Jackson stopped at Haines, writing letters to Woods, signed by prominent ranchers, enclosing checks for "work" referred to in the letters. They were arrested after unsuccessful attempts to cash checks.

Pioneer Mining Man Dies Baker, Or., Sept. 21.—Frank W. Thompson, 78 years old, a pioneer freighter and mining man here since 1865, died Thursday afternoon. He was a native of Maine, went to California in 1850 and came to Eastern Oregon in 1865, residing here ever since. He leaves a wife, seven sons and one daughter.

Fuel Administration Sidesteps Hearings

Washington, Sept. 21.—(I. N. S.)—Fuel Administrator Garfield Thursday announced that he had perfected an arrangement with the federal trade commission by which the latter body will investigate all complaints against the fuel administration. This step is taken, it is asserted, to prevent the work of the fuel body being tied up by numerous lengthy hearings. The trade commission investigators will obtain all the facts concerning the business of the objectors, lay them before Dr. Garfield, and if he deems the case worthy of attention, a hearing will be granted.

Nekrasoff Named Governor of Finland

Petrograd, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—Former Vice Premier Nekrasoff was today appointed governor of Finland in place of M. Stokilovitch, resigned. The central committee of the cadet party formally voted against the proposed democratic conference and ordered that none of the cadet party members participate. Reports to army headquarters today indicate acts of insubordination are now infrequent and that the whole condition of the fighting forces is improving. Rigid discipline is being enforced.

Better Milk Route By River Is Opened

Newberg, Or., Sept. 21.—The Western Condensed Milk company has chartered the big launch Argo of Oregon City to make daily trips on the Willamette from New Era to Newberg, thus giving the farmers better transportation accommodations for marketing their milk and cream. A number of milk landings have been established, in addition to the regular steambot landings along the route, where the milk can be delivered for shipment. This saves the farmers time and travel in marketing their product and the daily average of 211 cans will be increased as more farmers learn of this convenience for them.

Postpone Purchases Of Steel, Suggested

Washington, Sept. 21.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Baruch has informed Senator McNary that he would advise that no contracts for steel purchases be closed for public use until after the price to be paid by the government is named. The final conference for this purpose is to be held Friday, when priority classification will be arranged. Baruch's attention was called to prices asked by the steel trust in Oregon.
