COUNTY PREPARES BUDGET

Various Departments Estimating Needs for Coming Year.

The various departments of the county government are preparing estimates of necessary expenditures for 1918.

These budgets have been requested by the board of county commissioners to enable the board to give them a preliminary inspection before turning them over for a vigorous scrutiny of the hands of the official budget committee, composed of taxpayers. This committee will be chosen by the commissioners within a few days and will begin its labors next month.

The total expense of Multnomah county for nine months of 1917 from the general fund amounted to $760,569.44, or a monthly average of $84,508. The interest on the Interstate bridge and road bond issue, also paid out of the general fund, amounted to $62,562.40 for the first nine months.

The 1917 general fund budget amounted to $1,238,087.83, leaving a balance of $414,954 in the budget for the last three months of 1917.

The total road fund budget amounted to $525,535. The expenditures of the first nine months amounted to $349,792.73, leaving a balance for the last three months of $175,742.27.

WIFE SHARES PROPERTY

Mrs. Crook Also Allowed Sum of $400 Alimony by Judge Littlefield.

Nellie Crook was granted a divorce from John H. Crook by Circuit Judge Littlefield yesterday. Mrs. Crook was awarded one third of $9000 of their joint property, $500 of her own money in the hands of her husband and alimony in the sum of $400, to be paid in monthly installments of $25. The Crooks have been married 17 years.

Frank Ayotte is suing Keiva Ayotte for divorce, alleging desertion, and asks the custody of two minor children. They were married in Vancouver in 1909.

Other suits for divorce filed yesterday were: Nellie M. Howard vs. Jack H. Howard, cruelty; Laura M. Rawlinson vs. J. W. E. Rawlinson, cruelty.

MARRIED AT SEA; REPENTS

Mrs. Anthony Complains Husband Doesn't Treat Her Right.

Alice M. Anthony, who married W. A. Anthony at sea on the steamship Klamath, February 18, last, filed suit for divorce Friday in the circuit court. Mrs. Anthony complains that her husband says she is "not as nice as some other women he knew."

Other divorce suits filed Friday are: Helen Loretta Hebblewhite vs. Earl Hebblewhite, married at Vancouver, Wash., 1913, desertion; Sadie Pfister vs. Mathew J. Pfister, married at Volga, S. D., 1908, cruelty; Frank Perry vs. Pearl Perry, married in Portland, 1912, desertion.

Piano Firm Collects Interest

Bush & Lane Piano company obtained a judgment against Fred Hartley Thursday in District Judge Dayton's court for $93.77 and $15 accumulated interest on a piano contract. The defendant averred he had paid all installments and denied that the contract called for interest. Receipts for $325 were produced, that being the principal called for in the contract. The contract, filed with papers in the case, shows that it provided for interest at 8 per cent.

Secret Indictments Returned

The October grand jury made its report Friday, returning seven secret indictments, two true bills and one not true bill. An indictment was returned against August Perry, alleging an assault with intent to commit a statutory offense, and one against Albert L. Norton, alleging non-support. A not true bill was returned in the case of Sam Rice, charged with a statutory offense.

Fessler Fined $25

C. A. Fessler, arrested at the Medford hotel and charged with having liquor unlawfully in his possession, pleaded guilty in District Judge Dayton's court. On recommendation of Deputy District Attorney Delch he was let off with a fine of $25. Fessler, Delch said, had no known connection with any bootlegging operations. He had never been arrested before and the small quantity of liquor found in his possession was for his personal use.

Dry Law Violator Fined

John Lehmart, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ward just as he was leaving the steamer Beaver, charged with violating the prohibition law, was fined $50 by District Judge Bell this morning. Lehmart is a German and was butcher on the Beaver. He has been in this country three years. He had a registration card.

Nine Months in Jail for Squires

M. H. Squires, convicted recently in Circuit Judge Littlefield's court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, was sentenced by Judge Littlefield to nine months in the county jail. A motion for a new trial was denied.

Birth Date Cleared And Youth Released

Clifford S. Weaver of Eugene, now recognized to be under the draft age, was freed from the charge of slacking when the assistant United States attorney received a letter from N. A. Murphy, postmaster of Latrobe, Cal., giving evidence that the Eugene lad was born there in 1897. Charges that he was a slacker were brought against Weaver because he entered a lodge giving his age as 21, but did not register for the draft.

D. W. Anderson Was Pioneer of Klamath

Klamath Falls, Or., Oct. 13.—In the passing of D. W. Anderson of Olene at 12:50 o'clock this morning, Klamath county loses one of its pioneers. Mr. Anderson's death was caused by pneumonia. He was born in Farmington, Iowa, in 1836, and went to California in 1856 by way of the isthmus. He had been located on his ranch at Olene for 33 years.

Mr. Anderson was twice married, having four children by his first wife and 10 by the second.

Enlisting Masons In Ambulance Corps

H. G. Squier Here From San Francisco to Recruit Men for Corps Now in Training at American Lake.

H. G. Squier, formerly secretary-manager of the Masonic club of San Francisco, is in Portland for several days soliciting enlistments in an ambulance corps now at Camp Lewis and which is entirely composed of members of the Masonic fraternity.

Mr. Squier has traveled extensively in China and Japan and is well informed as to the requirements of the country in a military way. He will have his headquarters at the Acacia club, Tenth and Alder streets, from 10 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. daily during the coming week. He will visit lodges in the city and vicinity in the evenings in the interest of his campaign. His rooms are at the Multnomah hotel. Mr. Squier said many of the most prominent young Masons in San Francisco are joining the ambulance corps and that his mission is approved by the grand masters of California, Oregon and Washington.

Guns Heap Good Way Bust China Lottery

Four armed Chinese demonstrated their belief Friday night that the only way to get money out of a lottery game is at the point of a gun.

Seven Chinese crowding around a lottery drawing at 83 Second street, within hailing distance of the police station, were held up by four of their countrymen and $216 was carried away by the quartet. This amount included $180 composing the "pot" for which they were drawing. Chin Sing, one of the operators of the game, lost the remainder of the money. When guns were flashed Chin Sing had his purse in his hand, making change for one of the robbers.

Jung Nom was arrested as one of the gunmen just after the holdup by Patrolmen Wendorf and Pratt at First and Oak streets, as he fled from the scene. The police were called by the Chinese.

Detectives Goltz and Howell this morning arrested three Chinese and are holding them for investigation.

Infantile Paralysis Cases Are Reported

Two cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the city health bureau today, making the first cases coming under the observation of the health bureau this month. While both cases are said to be serious neither is of the malignant type. Both are now under quarantine.

Dr. J. C. Abele, acting city health officer, says it is almost impossible to trace the source of the disease in the two cases.

"In children," he said, "the first symptoms are indigestion, a rising temperature and sometimes a soreness of the muscles. In its earliest stages it is sometimes quite difficult to determine whether paralysis is to develop."

Portland has been nearly free of the disease, less than a half dozen cases being reported so far this year.

Forest Officials to Attend Convention

Four officials of the forest service will leave Sunday for Seattle where they will attend the annual meeting of the Western Conservation association. The men are: George H. Cecil, district forester; C. H. Flory, assistant district forester; C. M. Allen, telephone engineer, and W. B. Osborne, forest examiner.

The association meets October 15 and the Portland men are going in cooperation with the forest interests. Mr Flory will address the meeting on "Fire Cooperation." Mr. Allen will speak on "Construction of Forest Service Telephone Lines," and Mrs. Osborne on "Forest Fire Lookout Stations."

HALF OF TIME TO GET LOAN GONE; TENTH TAKEN UP

13 days—must be subscribed between nine and twelve million dollars an hour.

Small investors particularly are wanted.

The official returns made public last night show the following sale of Liberty bonds:

Boston	$ 48,600,000
New York	228,527,000
Philadelphia	14,712,850
Cleveland	1,371,000
Richmond	14,360,450
Atlanta	1,703,000
Chicago	5,677,000
St. Louis	3,113,040
Kansas City	1,237,500
Dallas	2,208,400
San Francisco	22,091,200

Minneapolis district reports the campaign has not gotten under way, but said the state deposit board had a resolution directing that state funds be withdrawn from all banks failing to push the loan and subscribe for bonds with their own funds, if their reserves warrant.

This action is expected to stimulate the sale.

"If the Fatherland needs a spanking I am ready to help administer it, although I do it with tears in my eyes," wrote Rev. Christian Hohen, a German minister of New Ulm, Minn., the scene of some recent disloyal meetings.

San Francisco reports brisk sales, two fifths of the district's maximum allotment, $139,000,000, being already subscribed, according to unofficial estimates.

Iowa Showing Form

Iowa was reported to be showing new enthusiasm. The state quota, it was said, would be met by "hard and persistent efforts." Country banks, farmers and wage earners particularly are lining up for the loan throughout the state.

Chicago continues a steady drive and reported good sales in the various Illinois districts, while 4500 subscriptions were obtained by the Chicago flying squadron yesterday.

Cleveland reported its district showed an unofficial total of $60,000,000, a total of about $18,000,000 of which is from the city itself. The big Columbus drive, in Columbus, Ohio, was a disappointment because of a driving snowstorm. All bankers and their employes turned out and worked for the loan, however.

Atlanta Is Helping

Nashville got $2,500,000 in subscriptions and two Atlanta banks subscribed $1,500,000 each.

Great rivalry is being stirred up in southern army training camps over which shall buy the largest amount of bonds. One brigade at Camp McClellan bought $107,000 worth of bonds and the enlisted men at Pensacola invested $14,000.

Thomas H. West, chairman of the St. Louis Union bank made an individual subscription of $250,000 today and Charles B. Rawlins, grand secretary treasurer of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, announced that his organization would subscribe $100,000.

Many cities failed to report today because their banks were closed on account of Columbus day.

McAdoo Expects Farmers' Help

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—(I. N. S.)—During his San Francisco visit, Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, made the following statement concerning the farmer and the second Liberty loan:

"Now I should like to say a word about the farmer in this particular campaign. In the first campaign for the sale of Liberty bonds I expressly requested that the farmer should not be solicited because we were then trying to stimulate production, and I did not think it was just to ask the farmer to buy at that time, but now that the crops have been harvested the farmer is receiving the surplus from very bounteous harvests and there is nothing he can buy any better than these bonds.

The son of the farmer is taking his part in this war. I found the little village people who came out to railroad stations asking me to say a few words. I found that every one of these villages was contributing its quota and doing it in fine spirit, and so the sons of farmers, like the sons of others, all are being brought together in this great army without distinction and going forth to serve their country. The farmer is as much interested in this great army of ours as any other class of people and I think if these bonds sold to provide arms, ammunition and supplies for that army are brought particularly to the attention of the farmer he will respond and do his share.

Bell Phone Takes Bonds

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—A telegram from U. N. Bethel, senior vice president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company announces the investment on behalf of the Bell system and their employes of $5,000,000 in the second Liberty loan. The investment is to be allotted to localities or sections of the country as nearly as may be in proportion to the quotas assigned by the treasury department to the various federal reserve districts.

Kern county and Bakersfield invested $683,600 in one hour.

Soldiers Take $3,000,000

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—(I. N. S.)—Three million dollars have been raised by military units throughout the United States since the inception of the Liberty loan drive among the soldiers, ordered by the war department. This information was given out today by Lieutenant Colonel C. J. Mund, at Fort Scott, who is in charge of the loan campaign in the five San Francisco forts.

Plans are rapidly shaping among the artillery forces here for the big drive that will open next week. Today the officers at Fort Scott were addressed by A. E. Dubrow of the Wells-Fargo Nevada National bank, who explained the system best to be followed by them in urging the need for Liberty loan investment upon the soldiers.

At Camp Kearny, Linda Vista, Colonel Mund announces the soldiers' per capita contribution to the Liberty loan totals $26. The Eighth Illinois infantry so far has the largest regimental investment in bonds, its total being $54,000. Campany G of the Second Washington infantry, bears the distinction of having every man in it an investor in bonds.

NEW YORKERS GET LEAD IN FIFTH OF BIG SERIES GAMES

gathered around Sallee for a consultation. Felsch up. Ball one. Felsch safe on Fletcher's error. McMullin going to third and E. Collins to second. The ball hit Fletcher's hands and bounded toward second base. Gandil up. Foul, strike one. Strike two, swung. Ball one. Gandil popped to Holke. No runs. One hit. One error.

The cold weather seemed to bother Sallee and he had difficulty in locating the plate. He was working his crossfire and bending a slow curve across the corner.

Second Inning.

New York—Bariden up. Ball one. Bariden singled to center. The ball was just out of E. Collins' reach. Sallee up. Sallee forced Bariden, Gandil to Weaver. He tried to sacrifice. Strike one, called. Ball one. Strike two, called. Burns fanned. He swung at the last one. Cicotte was warming up. He apparently went in cold. Herzog up. Ball one. Herzog safe on Weaver's error, Sallee going to second. Weaver made a bad fumble when he had plenty of time to catch Sallee at second. Kauff up. Strike one, called. Ball one. Ball two. Kauff out, Fletcher to E. Collins to Gandil. No runs. One hit. One error.

Cicotte grew better as the inning progressed, and was breaking over a sharp curve that had the Giants guessing.

Chicago—Weaver up. Ball one. Strike one, swung. Ball two. Strike two, swung. Weaver out, Fletcher to Holke. Fletcher made a magnificent play, knocking down a hard smash and throwing out Weaver. Schalk up. Schalk out, Fletcher to Holke. Cicotte up. Strike one, called. Ball one. Ball two. Strike two, called. Ball three. Cicotte walked. He worked Sallee and walked on a low one. J. Collins up. Ball one. Strike one, called. J. Collins fouled to Bariden. No runs. No hits. No errors.

Third Inning

New York—Zimmerman up. Zimmerman singled to center. It was a high fly that fell safe with E. Collins, J. Collins and Felsch racing for it. Fletcher up. Ball one. Ball two. Strike one, foul. Foul, strike two. Cicotte tried to catch Zimmerman off first and had him, but Weaver dropped Gandil's throw and Zimmerman got back to first. Weaver was given an error. Fletcher lined to McMullin, who doubled Zimmerman off first. It was a most sensational play by McMullin. He snatched the ball from the air with his gloved hand. Robertson up. Robertson beat out an infield hit to the box. Cicotte knocked the smash down as it went by, but was unable to throw the speedy outfielder out. Holke up. Strike one, called. Ball one. Foul, strike two. Holke fanned. He swung at the third one. No runs. Two hits. One error.

The Giants were laying the wood on the ball with a vengeance and McMullin's sensational stab of Fletcher's drive kept Cicotte out of a bad hole.

Chicago—McMullin up. Ball one. Strike one, called. McMullin filed to Robertson. E. Collins up. Strike one, called. Ball one. Ball two. Ball three. E. Collins walked. Jackson up. Jackson flied to Robertson. Felsch up. Felsch doubled to left, scoring E. Collins. The ball hit the left-field fence and Burns was forced to play it fast to hold Felsch at second. Gandil up. Ball one. Strike one, swung. Gandil flied to Kauff. One run. One hit. No errors.

Felsch's drive was a mighty one, and with one foot more to carry would have landed in the left-field stand. The bleacherites gave Happy an ovation when he trotted to his place in center.

Fourth Inning

New York—Rariden up. Strike one, called. Ball one. Rariden singled to right. Sallee up. Ball one. Sallee sacrificed, Gandil unassisted. Rariden took second. Burns up. Ball one. Ball two. Burns singled to right and took second on J. Collins' error. Rariden scoring. Collins tried to take the ball on the hop and dropped it. Herzog up. Ball one. Foul, strike one. Foul, strike two. Herzog safe on Weaver's error, Burns going to third. Kauff up. Strike one, swung. Strike two, swung. Kauff safe on Gandil's error, Burns scoring, Herzog reaching third. Gandil fumbled the ball and threw wild. Zimmerman up. Foul, strike one. Strike two, called. Zimmerman forced Kauff, McMullin to E. Collins, who doubled Zimmerman to Gandil. Two runs. Two hits. Three errors.

The Sox' work in the field was a sorry exhibition. They were entirely up in the air and appeared to be working too fast. Zimmerman got his usual bouquet of boobs when he protested a called strike.

Chicago—Weaver up. Foul, strike one. Ball one. Weaver out, Zimmerman to Holke. Schalk up. Ball one. Schalk out, Holke unassisted. The Sox catcher put an easy roller down the first base line. Cicotte up. Cicotte filed to Burns. No runs. No hits. No errors.

Sallee looked better in this inning than at any time heretofore. His crossfire was breaking nicely over the corners.

Fifth Inning

New York—Fletcher up. Strike one, swung. Ball one. Ball two. Fletcher lined to Jackson. It was a hard drive, but Jackson took it almost in his tracks. Robertson up. Foul, strike one. Robertson singled to right. It was his third straight hit, a grounder between first and second. Holke up. Holke popped to Weaver. Rariden up. Ball one. Ball two. Robertson stole second. Ball three on Rariden. Rariden was purposely walked after Robertson's steal. Sallee up. Ball one. Foul, strike one. Ball two. Foul, strike two. Sallee struck out. He swung at the third one. No runs. One hit. No errors.

Chicago—J. Collins up. Ball one. Strike one called. Foul, strike two. Foul. J. Collins fanned. He missed the last one a foot. McMullin up. Ball one. Strike one, called. Ball two. McMullin filed to Kauff, who made a running catch of his high fly. E. Collins up. Foul, strike one. Ball one. Strike two, called. E. Collins singled to left. It was a line drive over Fletcher's head. Jackson up. Strike one, called. Jackson singled off Sallee's knee. E. Collins took second. It was a hard smash that nearly turned Sallee around. Felsch up. Felsch out, Sallee to Holke. No runs. Two hits. No errors.

E. Collins and Jackson drove out beautiful hits. Sallee pitched the best inning of the game thus far. His fast one had developed a big hop and he was mixing them up beautifully.

Sixth Inning

New York—Burns up. Ball one. Ball two. Ball three. Strike one, called. Burns filed to Jackson. Herzog up. Ball one. Herzog out, E. Collins to Gandil. Kauff up. Kauff singled to left. It was the home-run demon's second hit of the day, a line drive. Zimmerman up. Kauff stole second. Strike one, swung. Ball two. Strike two, swung. Foul. Zimmerman out, E. Collins to Gandil. No runs. One hit. No errors.

Kauff accomplished his second big ambition when he cleanly stole a base off Schalk. He spent his waiting time at second kidding E. Collins and Weaver.

Chicago—Gandil up. Gandil out, Sallee to Holke. Sallee made a pretty play on Gandil's slow roller. Weaver up. Ball one. Weaver singled past third. Zimmerman failed to knock the ball down as it whizzed by. Schalk up. Ball one. Schalk singled to center, Weaver going to third. Schalk's hit slipped through Herzog's legs and the official scorer gave him a hit. Risberg, batting for Cicotte, up. Ball one. Ball two. Strike one, called. Risberg singled to right, scoring Weaver. Schalk going to second. It was a clean smash between first and second. J. Collins up. Strike one, swung. Ball one. J. Collins out, Holke unassisted. Schalk took third and Risberg second. McMullin up. McMullin out, Herzog to Holke. One run. Three hits. No errors.

Sallee had a stormy passage. The Sox were laying for his fast one and were meeting it hard.

Seventh Inning

New York—Fletcher up. Williams now pitching for Chicago. Ball one. Strike one, swung. Ball two. Fletcher doubled to left. It was a drive over Jackson's head and barely missed hopping into the bleachers. Robertson up. Robertson safe on an infield hit. Fletcher held at second. Williams was given an error. Holke up. Foul, strike two on Holke. Holke hit by the foul tip and laid out. The ball glanced off the bat and hit him in the head. The players gathered around him as he lay stretched at the home plate. The Giants' first baseman was trying to bunt and stood with his head over the plate in a crouching position.

Holke resumed his place at the bat. Foul, Foul. Holke fanned. He swung at an inside ball. Rariden up. Ball one. Rariden singled to right, scoring Fletcher. Robertson went to second. It was Rariden's third hit and the fourth time he had reached first. Sallee up. Ball one. Foul, strike one. Ball two. Strike two, swung. Sallee fanned. The third was called. Burns up. Ball one. Strike one, called. Ball two. Foul, strike two. Foul. Burns fanned, swinging at the last one. One run. Two hits. One error.

When Williams dropped Robertson's pop bunt he lost an easy double play on Fletcher at second. The players gathered around Umpire O'Loughlin and wrangled over the play. Rowland claimed Williams held the ball, but O'Loughlin ruled he had dropped it. Williams fell in making the play.

Chicago—E. Collins up. E. Collins popped to Fletcher Jackson up. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two. Ball one. Jackson singled to left. Felsch up. Strike one, called. Felsch singled to left, Jackson going to second. Gandil up. Gandil doubled to center, scoring Jackson and Felsch. The drive was over Kauff's head. Weaver up. Strike one, swung. Foul, strike two. Foul. Foul. Ball one. Ball two. Foul. Weaver out, Fletcher to Holke. Gandil scoring
