

PEACE PROPAGANDA OF BULGAR MINISTER ANGERS DIPLOMATS

Greek Envoy Says Kaiser's Ally Sees Handwriting on the Wall.

Washington, Oct. 22.—(U. P.)—Bulgaria is frightened at the handwriting she sees on the wall, and hence is conducting a separate peace propaganda through her envoy here, according to Greek Minister Roscoe Georges today.

In an interview with the United Press he expressed the opinion that Bulgaria is already making plans for eventualities that will come with a crushing German defeat. Georges openly charged that the Bulgarian envoy in Washington, at the instigation of his government, is trying to influence peace propaganda in the United States, though the Bulgarian claims to have no communication with his government.

The Greek minister stated that the "answer" to Bulgarian peace talk will come in due time, while confidential advisers indicate that the allied armies around Saloniki will probably be ready for a blow against the Austro-German-Bulgarian forces some time in April.

The allied conference in Paris will settle the question of the date when the advance against Bulgaria shall occur. Meantime French officers are reorganizing the Greek army and are paving the way for a smash which shall cut the Berlin-Constantinople railroad. Such a maneuver would cut Turkey from Mittel Europa—the Kaiser's not-to-be empire.

The Greek minister said Bulgaria entered the war in sympathy with the German idea of world conquest and because of a heavy German loan.

Allied diplomats are frankly displeased at the Bulgarians peace propaganda and still wonder why the state department permits him to remain here.

Government officials explain, however, that he will be useful as a means of communication when peace talk becomes a reality.

SHIPYARDS AGAIN OPEN; THOUSANDS RETURN TO WORK

over 1000. He expected to add to his force each day until a full crew is obtained. Supple & Ballin opened up with an addition of 250 men. When the plant is running full blast nearly 500 will be employed.

At the Grant Smith-Porter-Guthrie wooden yard at St. Johns 150 men were put to work on the construction of the government ships contracted for.

Ships Will Be Finished Soon. The G. M. Standifer Construction corporation, Kierman & Kern, and yards in Vancouver resumed operations. The Foundation company, which has contracts for the French government, also speeded up its work with new men. By the end of the present week it is expected that every one of the more than 7000 men who went out on strike will have been back to work. Resumption of shipbuilding in the Columbia river basin will soon result in several new ships taking to the water. President Corbett expects to launch a steel vessel within 10 days. A month following he will launch another steel boat. Both are commanded by the government.

Supple & Ballin will launch the first of their wooden steamers within a short time. The craft is now about ready, but the launching will wait until the water in the Willamette rises before letting the ship take its dip. Another wooden steamer in the yard is nearing completion.

The Northwest Steel company and the Columbia River shipbuilding corporation have seven steel vessels on the stocks.

Contract Shops Resume. Contract shops which have been furnishing materials for the steel and wooden yards and which were affected indirectly by the strike, also resumed operations today. Among these are the Smith & Watson iron works.

The entire atmosphere about the shipbuilding plants today is one of mutual satisfaction to both employer and employee; that the trying strike ordeal is over. Mutual concessions, made as a patriotic manifestation, include the agreement of the bosses not to discriminate against union men. The shop grievance committees which will represent the employees are expected to take care of any misunderstandings which may arise until the period of the present war shall have ended. Following are the salient features of the agreement subscribed to by the employers and the employees:

The eight hour day. Overtime to be paid at rate to be fixed by board, including holidays—New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Labor day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and general election days.

Grievances to Be Adjusted. Each craft to be represented in a shop by three representatives selected by its members, each chairman to be a member of general shop committee.

Grievances to be adjusted by shop committee and president, or by selected arbitrator, or finally, by permanent adjuster of board, or the board, if local efforts fail.

Every Saturday shall be a payday. Any employes discharged, laid off or quitting to be paid in full within 24 hours.

A trained nurse to be at hand at all times for first-aid work. So far as practicable positions to be filled with employes in trades or callings generally recognized.

All concessions are for purpose of assisting the government.

Strike Leaders Not Aliens. During the hearings last week before the federal adjustment board an incident occurred which has given rise to some mistaken reports. M. Hausman, a shipyard worker, said to have been discharged by the Northwest Steel company because he was a union man, testified that he was an Austrian by birth, that he had lived in this country for 13 years but had never been naturalized. Out of this incident grew the report that the striking shipyard workers were being led by aliens.

There was nothing in the testimony before the adjustment board to justify this supposition. So far as known the officers of the unions involved in the recent strike are American citizens.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES STARTED ON THEIR WAY TO MEN IN FRANCE

Mrs. W. D. Wheelwright and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson Supervise Shipments.

Christmas packages were started on the way Monday afternoon to 250 Oregon men serving with American military units in France. Mrs. W. D. Wheelwright and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson are responsible for the sending of the gifts. The proceeds of a benefit picture show in the Hellig theatre two weeks ago provided $650 toward the purchase, preparation and mailing of the packages.

Every effort was made to secure the names of all the Oregon men now actually serving with the army in France. Each man of the 250 whose addresses were secured, has been sent a package containing 5 packages of cigarettes, 2 packages of tobacco, 1 pipe, 1 deck of cards, 5 packages of chewing gum, 2 bars of soap, 1 package of note paper, 25 envelopes, 1 pencil, and eraser, 1 toothbrush, 1 tube of toothpaste, 1 steel trench mirror, 2 packages of handkerchiefs, 5 packages of hard chocolate. One package in each four also contained either a mouth organ or a set of dominoes.

I. Lowenarth supervised the purchase of the contents of the packages and the packing and mailing. The work was done with the sanction of the local Red Cross officials, but not through their agency.

Fortune Is Located After Long Search

Chicago, Oct. 23.—(I. N. S.)—Ending a search of six years for stocks, notes and other documents declared to represent a fortune of more than $400,000, out of which Miss Agnes Skelly alleges she was duped, T. W. Froelich and J. S. LeBell were arrested here today. With their arrest, it is alleged, some of the missing stocks and notes were recovered.

Miss Skelly alleges that Froelich and LeBell are former officials of the Farmers' Packing company, of which H. J. Froelich, a brother of the man under arrest, was the head. She declares she entrusted between $200,000 and $400,000 to their care to be invested and never received a dollar in return.

After repeated demand for the stocks had been made, Miss Skelly charges, the men disappeared. Froelich and LeBell deny ever receiving any money from Miss Skelly for investment.

Burnside Bridge in Need of Repairing

Engineer Purcell Says $30,000 Will Be Needed and Then Suggests that Traffic Be Regulated.

That the Burnside bridge is feeling the weight of its years is the substance of a report filed with the board of county commissioners Monday by C. H. Purcell of the state highway department.

He recommends repairs totaling $30,000 and is of the opinion that along with the necessary repairs the bridge will be incapable of sustaining for long the traffic going over it without undue hazard. However, he says it will last a few years, and recommends a supervision of the street traffic by adopting regulations compelling cars to follow each other at regular stated intervals and at a sufficient distance apart.

The matter was referred to District Attorney Evans to arrange a conference with the city authorities to determine whether the legal burden of the necessary repairs lay with the city or with the county.
