Route of Columbia River Highway Tentatively Decided on Makes Detour Through Town of Wasco.

Personal Investigation Will Be Made Before Making Final Decision; Other Important Matters Come Up.

The state highway commission decided today not to take any definite action relative to the location of the Columbia river highway through Sherman county. As the matter now stands the route tentatively decided upon is to leave the river at Sherman or Biggs and make a detour into the interior through Wasco and return to the river at the mouth of the John Day. Before making final decision the commission, accompanied by the state highway engineer, will make a personal investigation of both this route and the one proposed along the river. Owing to the scarcity of labor in getting out spruce for government necessity it was ordered that all force account work now being done by the commission be suspended where it was profitable to do so and leave the roads in good condition for winter.

Boys Almost Burn To Death in Jail

Mainly Morrow, 17, Who Escaped from State Training School, Will Be Disfranchised for Life, Is Report.

Salem, Or., Nov. 6.—Mainly Morrow, 17-year-old boy, who escaped from the State Training school for boys last Friday, will be disfranchised for life as the result of burns received when he attempted to burn his way out of jail at Jefferson Sunday, according to reports from the school. He is now in the institution hospital. Young Morrow, who was sent to the institution from Klamath county, and Peter Maui, sent up from Portland, escaped together. Saturday they robbed a store in Turner and Sunday the marshal at Jefferson arrested Morrow and placed him in jail while he continued to burn for Maui. As the jail is a wooden building, Morrow attempted to burn a hole through the door. Flames soon filled the interior of the building and the lad began to scream for help. The fire department responded and by the time the marshal could unlock the door Morrow was badly burned and almost drowned. He is severely burned on both arms and about the neck and ear. Maui was caught a little later and returned to the school.
