

PORT OF RUFUS IN SHERMAN COUNTY IS ORDERED SURVEYED

Claude McColloch Makes Request as Part of Movement Inaugurated by Journal.

CITY DOCK INCOME $86.41

Home Industry League Asks Oswego Plant's Product Be Considered in Buying Cement for Grain Elevator.

In response to a request from Claude McColloch, the engineer of the dock commission, G. B. Hegardt, will map the proposed boundaries of the Sherman county Port of Rufus, one of the first of the cooperative movements for upper Columbia port development and river transportation undertaken by the dock commission. Mr. McColloch is representing the legal phases of the port organization as his contribution to a movement inaugurated by The Journal.

That the detailed map would be made together with a description was announced at a meeting of the dock commission, this morning.

Dock Income Reported

Judged by one of the bills approved by the auditing committee of the commission, this morning, the dock commission has gone into the business of rubber boots. A bill of $41 for the boots was presented. Engineer Hegardt said that men engaged in the excavation work of the St. Johns grain and freight terminal must wear boots, but that their employment is temporary and to get them to work at all it is necessary to provide them with the waterproof footwear.

Offer Is Refused.

An offer of the Ash street dock for use as a public river boat landing was rejected, the dock being deemed unfit for the purpose. For excavating 10,000 cubic yards of material at the freight and grain terminal, Lyons & Sons was ordered to be paid $3892.57, this being 90 per cent of the contract price. A request of Albers Brothers to pave and use the area under the approach of the Broadway bridge was referred to a committee on representation that the city may wish to use the space for storage. Supple & Ballin offered $300 for a former meat inspection booth on the grounds of the East Washington street terminal and $250 a month rental for the grounds on which the building sits; the commission decided not to sell but to rent the building for $10 a month. As apparently the Coast Steel & Machinery company proposes no compensation to the city for a portion of Versteeg street, which it desired vacated, the commission referred the application to a committee.

The Home Industry league by A. G. Clark, manager, asked the commission to give maximum consideration to the facilities of the Oswego cement plant for furnishing cement to be used in the construction of the public grain elevator. Chairman B. H. Moores, Commissioners Ben Sellinger and Alva H. Averill were present at the meeting this morning.

Portland to Equip Soldiers' Clubroom

Portland will raise $23,000 for the equipment of club rooms for the soldiers of Vancouver barracks. The campaign for the fund will be started as soon as the Y. M. C. A. drive has been finished. The movement is in line with a nationwide campaign to conserve the morals of the soldiers stationed at forts and training places.

Emerj Olmstead is chairman of the campaign committee. The plans were discussed at a meeting at the Multnomah hotel today. Robert Reid of Washington, D. C., western director, Albert E. Carter, an Oakland, Cal., attorney, in charge of the Seattle section, and D. M. Linnard, president of the California Hotel association, attended the meeting in interest of the cause.

Among those present were: Mayor Baker, Mr. Olmstead, Samuel Hill, Edgar B. Piper, Sam Bratton, Charles Berg, John McCourt and Frank McKelvey, president of the Portland Realty board.

Mrs. Roberts Asks Divorce Emma Roberts filed suit for divorce this morning against Bryan J. Roberts. She alleges in her complaint that her husband never had a steady job and did not pay their household bills. Cruelty is the specific charge.

Suffragist to Eat, Even if Force Used

Washington, Nov. 8.—(U. N. S.)—Forcible feeding, it was announced Wednesday night, would be the resort of the jail officials if Miss Alice Paul, national chairman of the woman's party, does not break her hunger strike. Miss Paul, who is serving a seven-month sentence for picketing the White House, has resisted food for 35 hours.

BOND SLACKERS GET NO PAY INCREASE AND MAY LOSE THEIR JOBS

City Council Investigating Unmarried Employes Who Fail to Aid Uncle Sam.

It was a sorry day for unmarried men with German-sounding names in the street cleaning bureau when they failed to subscribe for Liberty bonds.

They are not to get their wages increased and, if a way can be found to discharge them from the city service, will lose their jobs.

Such was the city council's decision today after Commissioner Bigelow had explained that several single men refused to purchase bonds.

Bigelow said one man with a German name and the owner of an automobile refused to subscribe, contending that he was in debt. Another said Bigelow wanted an increase of 50 cents a day before he purchased bonds. Another, he declared, was an Austrian who loaned money but refused to invest any in bonds.

"One man," said Bigelow, "openly stated that working men should not buy the stock. He is married and declares that two of his children have to work. I believe he should be discharged."

"You bet," said the council. Bigelow declared that a thorough investigation was to be made in all cases before action was taken.

OREGON GOING OUT TO RAISE $300,000 FOR Y. M. C. A. WAR FUND

Campaign Workers - Hold Luncheon and Map Plans for Drive in City and State

National allotment, $35,000,000. Oregon's allotment, $300,000. Portland's allotment, $200,000.

This is the goal of the Y. M. C. A. fund campaign workers, who called at a luncheon at the Benson hotel at 12:15 today. The campaign will begin Sunday.

Preliminary reports from city committees and state managers indicate that the goal will be reached. Norman M. Coleman, one of the physical instructors of the Y. M. C. A. camp at American Lake, Wash., was the speaker of the day at the luncheon.

Plans are being made for the erection of a big triangle clock at the intersection of Sixth and Alder streets, hands of which will move in unison with the onward rush of the fund campaigners.

The following speakers have promised to aid in the city campaign: Churches—Rev. D. A. Thompson; schools, Superintendent L. R. Alderman; streets, District Attorney Walter H. Evans; civic organizations, Frank H. Hilton; fraternal orders, Judge R. G. Morrow; woman's clubs, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett; theatres, Sherman Hall.

Dr. Stansfield to Address Meeting

Commencing Wednesday night the First Methodist Episcopal church of Portland began a series of "weekend evenings." Dr. Josiah Stansfield, the pastor, spoke Wednesday on "An Urgent Need." Tonight he will speak on "What Shall I Do?" The meetings will be held at the Oxford chapel on Wednesdays and Thursdays, and at the church on Sundays. Special orchestra and choral music is a feature of the meetings.

Portland Selected As Factory Branch

Rathbone, Sord & Co., Stove Makers, Establish Distributing Point Here for Pacific Northwest.

Charles W. Reid, vice president of Rathbone, Sord & Co., manufacturer of Aodm stoves and ranges, has announced that Portland had been selected as the direct factory branch and distributing point of the entire Northwest and that wholesale warehouses and offices will be opened here November 15. Mr. Reid had been in Portland for a week looking over the situation, following a tour over other northwestern cities. Headquarters of the company are in Albany, N. Y., and Chicago.

R. C. Karberg of Spokane will be the manager. C. P. Jacques of Seattle will be sales manager. Warehouse space at East First and Madison streets has been leased. The Rathbone-Sord Electric Stove company will be a subsidiary concern represented in this project. Mr. Reid left Tuesday for San Francisco to establish a California branch and then come to Dallas, Texas, to establish a southern branch.

Only a small percentage of the men selected for the third training camps will be university men. The great majority will be enlisted men in the national army, national guard and regular army.

Jury Will Receive Fraud Case Today

After having taken three weeks for trial in the federal court, the "Canadian conspiracy" case, in which W. F. Halliwell, W. J. Earle, Gottlieb Miller and W. F. Lick are charged with defrauding persons out of a total of $100,000 for "locations" on lands not open for settlement by the government, will go to the jury this afternoon.

Fifty witnesses, alleged victims of the fraud, coming from British Columbia, Washington, Nevada, Iowa, North Dakota, Maine, Oregon and California, testified for the government.

The case is one of a series tried by United States Attorney Reames in California and British Columbia. The lands offered to the defendants' clients for filing fees ranging from $150 to $250, were those of the Oregon & California land grant, which have been returned to the government through default of a stipulation between the United States and the railroad company.

Telephone Pickets Called Off for While

Telephone operator pickets were called off their posts of duty temporarily today out of respect to the memory of the late Daniel P. Clarke, a line-man, who was killed by falling out of a tree.

The funeral was held at the undertaking parlors of F. S. Dunning, the members of the Electrical Workers' union and the switchboard girls marching in a body to attend. Clarke had been in the employ of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company.

The telephone strike condition remained virtually unchanged today. Tonight the unions concerned will go before the Portland Central Labor council to ask that the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company be declared "unfair" for refusing to recognize the union.

District Commercial Superintendent Halliday of the company claims that a number of new applications for employment were received by the company Wednesday.

Four or five more may avail themselves of the trip to the Lewiston livestock show with the Portland delegation, as there are that many reservations left on the special car chartered for the purpose, according to E. N. Weinbaum of the Chamber of Commerce, who is assisting in the arrangements.

The train will leave Portland at 7 o'clock, Friday night, and arrive at Lewiston, Saturday morning. On the return trip it will leave Lewiston Saturday evening and arrive in Portland Sunday morning.
