

CHARGE OF DRY BRIGADE
"Slacker" Barnes' story gets around more Portland people will be wanting to break into jail than out.

FANS EYE TURK DAY FOOTBALL IN GAMES

University and College Play First Time in Years on Multnomah Field.

Football fans of the Pacific Northwest are focusing their eyes on the Thanksgiving day gridiron classics between the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural college and Washington State college and the University of Washington.

The Oregon-O. A. C. game will be played on Multnomah field and it is expected that one of the largest crowds that ever attended a conference game in this section of the country will be in the stands when play is called. The Washington-Pullman game will be played on University field in Seattle and it will be the first contest between the two teams since 1914, when the state's were downed 45 to 0 by Bill Dobler's aggregation.

Secret Practice Coming
Secret practice for the Oregon-Aggie game will be started Monday and will continue until next Tuesday, when both coaches will bring their teams to Portland for a final workout on Multnomah field.

Aggie followers are predicting that Egan's men will win over Oregon, while Beedle's supporters are claiming a victory. The game promises to be one of the hardest fought contests ever played between the two institutions.

O. A. C. Has Experience Edge
From a standpoint of experience, the Aggies have a slight edge on the Oregon-Yellow team.

On the line, the Aggies will have Oz Walker, a brother of the famous Dow Walker, who played with the Aggies a number of years ago; Tubby Selph, Lee Bissett and Harry Cole. These men can all be classed as veterans. The other Aggie linemen showed up in great style against the University of Oregon and they can be counted on to put up a brilliant battle against their old rivals.

Dutton Looks Good Again
Running with Newman and Reardon in the backfield will be Roone, Dutton and Lodeell.

At Eugene—University of Oregon 21, University of California 0. At Seattle—Oregon Agricultural college 0, University of Washington 0. At American Lake—Ninety-first Division 10, Multnomah club 2.

At Mt. Angel—Mt. Angel college 13, Salem high school 0. At Forest Grove—Forest Grove high 7, At Syracuse, Syracuse 27, Colgate 7. At Cleveland, Heidelberg 19, Western Reserve 0. At Exeter, Exeter 3, Andover 0. At Hoboken, N. Y. U. 6, Stevens 5. At Manchester, Dartmouth 0, Tufts 27. At Evanston—Iowa, 14; Northwest, 26.

At Pittsburg—Pittsburg, 27; Carnegie Tech, 0. At Ithaca—Fordham, 27; Cornell, 0. At Fairmount, W. Va.—W. & J., 6; West Virginia, 7. At Cincinnati—Camp Sherman 13; Camp Sheridan, 0.

At Harrisburg, Pa.—Chicknell, 6; Gettysburg, 6. At Columbus—Ohio State, 13; Illinois, 0. At New York—Wesleyan, 6; Columbia, 0. At Cambridge—Harvard Cuba, 0; Yale Cuba, 14.

At Philadelphia—Pennsylvania, 16; Michigan, 0. At Providence—Brown 19; Colby, 7. At Providence—Harvard Informal, 0; Newport Navy, 14. At Annapolis—Navy, 61; Villa Nova, 3. At Alliance—Case, 14; Mount Union, 0.

At Lawrence, Kan.—Nebraska, 13; Kansas, 3. At Bloomington, Ind.—Indiana, 25; DePaul, 0. At Fayette, Ind.—Purdue, 28; Wabash, 0. At St. Louis—Missouri, 19; Washington, 7. At West Point, Army 50, Lebanon Valley 0.

At Williamstown, Williams 20 Amherst 0. At Augusta—Camp Hancock 13, Charleston navy 7. At Nashville—Auburn 31, Vanderbilt 7. At New Haven—Yale Informal 7, Trinity 0.

At Newport—Newport naval reserve 14, Harvard Informal 0. At Durham, N. H.—New Hampshire State 17, Westminster Poly, 0. At Oxford—Miami 0, Wooster 0. At Marietta—Marietta 0, Western Virginia Wesleyan 27.

At New Brunswick, N. J.—Rutgers 27, League Island Marines 0. At Boston—Camp DeWens 0, Camp Dix 27. At Atlanta—Georgia Tech 98, Carlisle Indiana 0.

At Los Angeles—Occidental 32, Whittier 7. At Kansas—Reelands 27, Throop 6. At Salt Lake—University of Southern California 51, University of Utah 0.

Pacific Club to Assemble
"Handsome Mike" DeCicco, manager of the Pacific Athletic club football team, requests his players to show up for practice this afternoon at the club rooms at Fourth and Morrison streets at 1 o'clock.

Among sweeping proposed changes in the laws of the Amateur Athletic union to be considered at the annual meeting in St. Louis, November 19, will be one permitting amateurs and professionals in the military service of the country to compete against each other during the war period, provided the prize competed for is not money.

Is it the Masses or Appeal to Reason upon which Prexy Wilson closed the season? Unto our dugout comes the post-a-creeping, and hands us what? Ye Gods! 'Tis Good Housekeeping!

FANS WANT MORE HITS IN GAMES

Spitball Is Given Another Knock—Western League Head Against Wet Delivery

By H. C. Hamilton
New York, Nov. 17.—Day after day new falls are being taken out of the spitball, the particular delivery of baseball against which Governor John K. Tener, president of the National league, has set his head.

Some real support from the minor leagues is beginning to crop out, for E. W. Dickerson, president of the Western league, has gone into the lists against the shower spreader.

In Factor in Minors
The Western league, while not powerful in a financial sense, has a lot of power in the National association, by reason of its age and the dignity that goes with it.

The recent world's series games probably will be sufficient to open the big league campaign against the delivery once more. While Eddie Cicotte was brought under the eyes of umpires on several occasions he succeeded in keeping his delivery going over fairly well.

Tener Against 'Wet One'
Gov. Tener has openly expressed himself against the spitball and he has gained some support. It would be folly to "Butt" the governor in the use of these freak deliveries if the major permitted them, for it would be made that much harder for the minors to dispose of the ball players.

Dickerson's first contention, which he opened fire on the followers of Jack Chesbro and Ed Walsh was that the pitcher like to see free hitting, which brings thrills. The spit ball, state claims, has reduced the chances of the batsman to such an extent that games are permitted to drag on with too few features, with the result that the fan loses his enthusiasm.

FOOTBALL RESULTS

At Eugene—University of Oregon 21, University of California 0. At Seattle—Oregon Agricultural college 0, University of Washington 0. At American Lake—Ninety-first Division 10, Multnomah club 2. At Mt. Angel—Mt. Angel college 13, Salem high school 0. At Forest Grove—Forest Grove high 7, At Syracuse, Syracuse 27, Colgate 7. At Cleveland, Heidelberg 19, Western Reserve 0. At Exeter, Exeter 3, Andover 0. At Hoboken, N. Y. U. 6, Stevens 5. At Manchester, Dartmouth 0, Tufts 27. At Evanston—Iowa, 14; Northwest, 26.

At Pittsburg—Pittsburg, 27; Carnegie Tech, 0. At Ithaca—Fordham, 27; Cornell, 0. At Fairmount, W. Va.—W. & J., 6; West Virginia, 7. At Cincinnati—Camp Sherman 13; Camp Sheridan, 0.

At Harrisburg, Pa.—Chicknell, 6; Gettysburg, 6. At Columbus—Ohio State, 13; Illinois, 0. At New York—Wesleyan, 6; Columbia, 0. At Cambridge—Harvard Cuba, 0; Yale Cuba, 14.

At Philadelphia—Pennsylvania, 16; Michigan, 0. At Providence—Brown 19; Colby, 7. At Providence—Harvard Informal, 0; Newport Navy, 14. At Annapolis—Navy, 61; Villa Nova, 3. At Alliance—Case, 14; Mount Union, 0.

At Lawrence, Kan.—Nebraska, 13; Kansas, 3. At Bloomington, Ind.—Indiana, 25; DePaul, 0. At Fayette, Ind.—Purdue, 28; Wabash, 0. At St. Louis—Missouri, 19; Washington, 7. At West Point, Army 50, Lebanon Valley 0.

At Williamstown, Williams 20 Amherst 0. At Augusta—Camp Hancock 13, Charleston navy 7. At Nashville—Auburn 31, Vanderbilt 7. At New Haven—Yale Informal 7, Trinity 0.

At Newport—Newport naval reserve 14, Harvard Informal 0. At Durham, N. H.—New Hampshire State 17, Westminster Poly, 0. At Oxford—Miami 0, Wooster 0. At Marietta—Marietta 0, Western Virginia Wesleyan 27.

At New Brunswick, N. J.—Rutgers 27, League Island Marines 0. At Boston—Camp DeWens 0, Camp Dix 27. At Atlanta—Georgia Tech 98, Carlisle Indiana 0.

At Los Angeles—Occidental 32, Whittier 7. At Kansas—Reelands 27, Throop 6. At Salt Lake—University of Southern California 51, University of Utah 0.

Pacific Club to Assemble
"Handsome Mike" DeCicco, manager of the Pacific Athletic club football team, requests his players to show up for practice this afternoon at the club rooms at Fourth and Morrison streets at 1 o'clock.

Among sweeping proposed changes in the laws of the Amateur Athletic union to be considered at the annual meeting in St. Louis, November 19, will be one permitting amateurs and professionals in the military service of the country to compete against each other during the war period, provided the prize competed for is not money.

HANDSOME CRUISER IS ADDED TO WILLAMETTE FLEET

Christened but unnamed pleasure craft owned by Fred W. Vogler, which was launched Thursday and which will be familiar figure on Willamette and Columbia rivers next summer. Mrs. Vogler is seen christening the boat and Mr. Vogler is on the deck of the vessel.

Christened but unnamed pleasure craft owned by Fred W. Vogler, which was launched Thursday and which will be familiar figure on Willamette and Columbia rivers next summer. Mrs. Vogler is seen christening the boat and Mr. Vogler is on the deck of the vessel.

A notable addition to Portland's fleet of fine cruisers was launched at the von der Werth boat house Thursday afternoon, when the namesake craft built by F. W. Vogler, president of the Northwest Auto Company and an enthusiastic member of the Columbia pilots' colony, glided into the Willamette. It is said to be one of the finest of its kind on the Pacific coast and is valued by its owner at $10,000. One of the usual formalities attending every well-managed launching was missing. Despite the fact that Mrs. Vogler broke a bottle of regulation Oregon beverage over the cruiser's prow, she did not give it a name. This was due to the fact that the launching was announced unexpectedly and the builder was unable to decide as to what it should be called.

Spotlight For Name
This dilemma resulted in the decision to appeal to the yachting fans to suggest a name. Mr. Vogler asked that suggestions be sent to him at the Northwest Auto Company. The person who submits the selected name will be given an automobile spotlight. The name and winner will be announced next Sunday.

The new cruiser is 43 feet over all, with an 11-foot beam, and is powered by a four-cylinder Buffalo engine 54x64, which develops 60 horsepower. It is of the semi-heavy duty type. The boat carries a 60-gallon gasoline tank, which will propel it about 1500 miles, and a 15-gallon tank for lubricating oil. Another tank holds 100 gallons of fresh water. The cruiser's normal speed is 12 miles an hour.

Can Carry 16 Passengers
The interior is finished in solid mahogany and has sleeping accommodations for eight. Its passenger capacity is 16. It has three cabins and a pilot house. An independent lighting plant furnishes electricity for 40 lights. The upholstery is of tapestry. An electric starting system is included.

Ohio State Has Another Title To Grid Credit
Spokane, Nov. 17.—By a score of 23 to 0 the Washington State college team beat the University of Montana here today. Twenty-two of the points were made by Left Half Bangs of the Washington team in the English cafe, where Hanley pulled off a forward pass of 35 yards, and the longest run of the day was made by Dick Hanley, who raced 45 yards.

For Montana, Fullback Bents played a great game in the secondary defense of the Montanans.

Girls' High Organize Teams
Eight Pittsburg high schools for girls have organized a swimming league. Points scored during a series of dual meets will require the two high schools to meet in a series of championship contests.

Some assistance. When that didn't work he would boot a field goal.

South Has All-American Man Greater Even Than Mate Guyon

New York, Nov. 17.—For the first time in several years the Sunny South has a candidate for All-American football honors who is going to receive close attention when the experts start making their awards.

His name is Everett Strupper, and he is a halfback on the Georgia Tech. football eleven at Atlanta. He is only twenty years old, but all reports below the Mississippi line, and a few from the North coaches and critics from the North who have seen him play ball, agree that he is a curly wolf on the gridiron.

Much has been written about the football prowess and ability of Joe Guyon, formerly of the Carlisle Indians, but now in the Georgia Tech. backfield with Strupper and Hill. Guyon is, without a doubt, a real star. He is a man of the Oliphant calibre in the way of experience, and having received his football shephard under Glenn Warner, he certainly ought to know something of the art of working a pigskin across the lime lines.

But Guyon notwithstanding, the football South is solid in the opinion that Strupper is the best player developed in Dixie for many a moon, and no less an authority than Bob Folwell, coach of the Pennsylvania University eleven, which lost an early season game to Georgia Tech. on the north with a boost for the young player.

"No small part of Georgia Tech's success this year has been due to Strupper," said Folwell in a recent interview. "He is without a doubt one of the greatest backs developed in recent years. He is one of the best backfield stars of this country have been and then a little more."

Coming from Folwell, this—boost means something, for the opinion of the Penn coach is respected wherever they play football, and it may work for the surgeon. He will see Strupper in action to place him on their All-American eleven this year.

Berry Couldn't Stop Him
In the game between Penn and Georgia Tech. Howard Berry tried everything he knew to stop the young backfield demon. Four different times Berry camped for Strupper, as he came hurtling down the field, but Strupper showed himself a cleverer man than Berry by eluding the Penn star. The score of that ball game was 41 to 0 in favor of Tech, and Strupper played a big part in piling up that overwhelming count.

Strupper is an all-around athlete. He was born in Columbus, Ga., and is just an averaged size youth, weighing about 160 pounds and standing about five feet ten and one-half inches tall. He can do the 100-yard dash in 16 1-5 seconds consistently in football togs, and is said to be one of the surest-footed players on the gridiron today.

Mostly One-Man Teams
In writing of Strupper as the outstanding factor on the Georgia Tech. team, the thought comes that a good many football eleven this year are needed by the performances of a single player. Elmer Oliphant is the outstanding star of the army, and Howard Berry is by far the best footballer in the South.

The Great McLaren, whose work in the Penn game was responsible for Pittsburg's victory, is another player whose work in the game has been above most of his team mates, while such players as Robeson, of Rutgers, and Boynton, of Williams, are other examples.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—(I. N. S.)—Outplayed in every department of the game from start to finish, and never within striking distance of their opponents' goal line, the University of Michigan football team suffered a decisive defeat this afternoon by the University of Pennsylvania team by a score of 18 to 0.

Seldom during the game did the team from the West have possession of the ball, and they never were able to make any effective impression on the Quaker defense, making most gains on straight football.

Howard Berry, the Red and Blue fullback, was the star of the afternoon. He kicked three field goals, one from a difficult angle on the 37-yard line, and was a mighty power in both offense and defense.

During fierce scrimmage in the second quarter, Weston, the star quarterback of Michigan, and Strauss, Penn's left halfback, came to blows and were put out of the game. The loss of Weston weakened the Wolverines.

For the first half of the game the team could not score. A score was made when Berry dropped back to the 30-yard line and kicked a goal from the field, the first score of the game.

Just before the third period closed the Quakers got possession of the ball on the 32-yard line. Berry dropped back to the 37-yard line and kicked

Pitcher Slapnicka Testifies for Shay
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—(U. P.)—Cyril Slapnicka, pitcher for the Milwaukee baseball club, was placed on the stand today by the defense in the trial of Danny Shay on the charge of murder. Slapnicka declared that he was in the English cafe, where Shay shot and killed Clarence Euell, a negro waiter, shortly after the shooting and that Shay told him it was the case of "shooting Euell or he is killed."

Louis Nahn, treasurer of the Milwaukee club, testified regarding Shay's good character. The story of the shooting was told by Harry Archibald, a nurse of Mount Carmel, Ill.

Ohio State Has Another Title To Grid Credit
Spokane, Nov. 17.—By a score of 23 to 0 the Washington State college team beat the University of Montana here today. Twenty-two of the points were made by Left Half Bangs of the Washington team in the English cafe, where Hanley pulled off a forward pass of 35 yards, and the longest run of the day was made by Dick Hanley, who raced 45 yards.

For Montana, Fullback Bents played a great game in the secondary defense of the Montanans.

Girls' High Organize Teams
Eight Pittsburg high schools for girls have organized a swimming league. Points scored during a series of dual meets will require the two high schools to meet in a series of championship contests.

Some assistance. When that didn't work he would boot a field goal.

South Has All-American Man Greater Even Than Mate Guyon

New York, Nov. 17.—For the first time in several years the Sunny South has a candidate for All-American football honors who is going to receive close attention when the experts start making their awards.

His name is Everett Strupper, and he is a halfback on the Georgia Tech. football eleven at Atlanta. He is only twenty years old, but all reports below the Mississippi line, and a few from the North coaches and critics from the North who have seen him play ball, agree that he is a curly wolf on the gridiron.

Much has been written about the football prowess and ability of Joe Guyon, formerly of the Carlisle Indians, but now in the Georgia Tech. backfield with Strupper and Hill. Guyon is, without a doubt, a real star. He is a man of the Oliphant calibre in the way of experience, and having received his football shephard under Glenn Warner, he certainly ought to know something of the art of working a pigskin across the lime lines.

But Guyon notwithstanding, the football South is solid in the opinion that Strupper is the best player developed in Dixie for many a moon, and no less an authority than Bob Folwell, coach of the Pennsylvania University eleven, which lost an early season game to Georgia Tech. on the north with a boost for the young player.

"No small part of Georgia Tech's success this year has been due to Strupper," said Folwell in a recent interview. "He is without a doubt one of the greatest backs developed in recent years. He is one of the best backfield stars of this country have been and then a little more."

Coming from Folwell, this—boost means something, for the opinion of the Penn coach is respected wherever they play football, and it may work for the surgeon. He will see Strupper in action to place him on their All-American eleven this year.

Berry Couldn't Stop Him
In the game between Penn and Georgia Tech. Howard Berry tried everything he knew to stop the young backfield demon. Four different times Berry camped for Strupper, as he came hurtling down the field, but Strupper showed himself a cleverer man than Berry by eluding the Penn star. The score of that ball game was 41 to 0 in favor of Tech, and Strupper played a big part in piling up that overwhelming count.

Strupper is an all-around athlete. He was born in Columbus, Ga., and is just an averaged size youth, weighing about 160 pounds and standing about five feet ten and one-half inches tall. He can do the 100-yard dash in 16 1-5 seconds consistently in football togs, and is said to be one of the surest-footed players on the gridiron today.

Mostly One-Man Teams
In writing of Strupper as the outstanding factor on the Georgia Tech. team, the thought comes that a good many football eleven this year are needed by the performances of a single player. Elmer Oliphant is the outstanding star of the army, and Howard Berry is by far the best footballer in the South.

The Great McLaren, whose work in the Penn game was responsible for Pittsburg's victory, is another player whose work in the game has been above most of his team mates, while such players as Robeson, of Rutgers, and Boynton, of Williams, are other examples.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—(I. N. S.)—Outplayed in every department of the game from start to finish, and never within striking distance of their opponents' goal line, the University of Michigan football team suffered a decisive defeat this afternoon by the University of Pennsylvania team by a score of 18 to 0.

Seldom during the game did the team from the West have possession of the ball, and they never were able to make any effective impression on the Quaker defense, making most gains on straight football.

Howard Berry, the Red and Blue fullback, was the star of the afternoon. He kicked three field goals, one from a difficult angle on the 37-yard line, and was a mighty power in both offense and defense.

During fierce scrimmage in the second quarter, Weston, the star quarterback of Michigan, and Strauss, Penn's left halfback, came to blows and were put out of the game. The loss of Weston weakened the Wolverines.

For the first half of the game the team could not score. A score was made when Berry dropped back to the 30-yard line and kicked a goal from the field, the first score of the game.

Just before the third period closed the Quakers got possession of the ball on the 32-yard line. Berry dropped back to the 37-yard line and kicked

Pitcher Slapnicka Testifies for Shay
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—(U. P.)—Cyril Slapnicka, pitcher for the Milwaukee baseball club, was placed on the stand today by the defense in the trial of Danny Shay on the charge of murder. Slapnicka declared that he was in the English cafe, where Shay shot and killed Clarence Euell, a negro waiter, shortly after the shooting and that Shay told him it was the case of "shooting Euell or he is killed."

Louis Nahn, treasurer of the Milwaukee club, testified regarding Shay's good character. The story of the shooting was told by Harry Archibald, a nurse of Mount Carmel, Ill.

Ohio State Has Another Title To Grid Credit
Spokane, Nov. 17.—By a score of 23 to 0 the Washington State college team beat the University of Montana here today. Twenty-two of the points were made by Left Half Bangs of the Washington team in the English cafe, where Hanley pulled off a forward pass of 35 yards, and the longest run of the day was made by Dick Hanley, who raced 45 yards.

For Montana, Fullback Bents played a great game in the secondary defense of the Montanans.

Girls' High Organize Teams
Eight Pittsburg high schools for girls have organized a swimming league. Points scored during a series of dual meets will require the two high schools to meet in a series of championship contests.

Some assistance. When that didn't work he would boot a field goal.

South Has All-American Man Greater Even Than Mate Guyon

New York, Nov. 17.—For the first time in several years the Sunny South has a candidate for All-American football honors who is going to receive close attention when the experts start making their awards.

His name is Everett Strupper, and he is a halfback on the Georgia Tech. football eleven at Atlanta. He is only twenty years old, but all reports below the Mississippi line, and a few from the North coaches and critics from the North who have seen him play ball, agree that he is a curly wolf on the gridiron.

Much has been written about the football prowess and ability of Joe Guyon, formerly of the Carlisle Indians, but now in the Georgia Tech. backfield with Strupper and Hill. Guyon is, without a doubt, a real star. He is a man of the Oliphant calibre in the way of experience, and having received his football shephard under Glenn Warner, he certainly ought to know something of the art of working a pigskin across the lime lines.

But Guyon notwithstanding, the football South is solid in the opinion that Strupper is the best player developed in Dixie for many a moon, and no less an authority than Bob Folwell, coach of the Pennsylvania University eleven, which lost an early season game to Georgia Tech. on the north with a boost for the young player.

"No small part of Georgia Tech's success this year has been due to Strupper," said Folwell in a recent interview. "He is without a doubt one of the greatest backs developed in recent years. He is one of the best backfield stars of this country have been and then a little more."

Coming from Folwell, this—boost means something, for the opinion of the Penn coach is respected wherever they play football, and it may work for the surgeon. He will see Strupper in action to place him on their All-American eleven this year.

Berry Couldn't Stop Him
In the game between Penn and Georgia Tech. Howard Berry tried everything he knew to stop the young backfield demon. Four different times Berry camped for Strupper, as he came hurtling down the field, but Strupper showed himself a cleverer man than Berry by eluding the Penn star. The score of that ball game was 41 to 0 in favor of Tech, and Strupper played a big part in piling up that overwhelming count.

Strupper is an all-around athlete. He was born in Columbus, Ga., and is just an averaged size youth, weighing about 160 pounds and standing about five feet ten and one-half inches tall. He can do the 100-yard dash in 16 1-5 seconds consistently in football togs, and is said to be one of the surest-footed players on the gridiron today.

Mostly One-Man Teams
In writing of Strupper as the outstanding factor on the Georgia Tech. team, the thought comes that a good many football eleven this year are needed by the performances of a single player. Elmer Oliphant is the outstanding star of the army, and Howard Berry is by far the best footballer in the South.

The Great McLaren, whose work in the Penn game was responsible for Pittsburg's victory, is another player whose work in the game has been above most of his team mates, while such players as Robeson, of Rutgers, and Boynton, of Williams, are other examples.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—(I. N. S.)—Outplayed in every department of the game from start to finish, and never within striking distance of their opponents' goal line, the University of Michigan football team suffered a decisive defeat this afternoon by the University of Pennsylvania team by a score of 18 to 0.

Seldom during the game did the team from the West have possession of the ball, and they never were able to make any effective impression on the Quaker defense, making most gains on straight football.

Howard Berry, the Red and Blue fullback, was the star of the afternoon. He kicked three field goals, one from a difficult angle on the 37-yard line, and was a mighty power in both offense and defense.

During fierce scrimmage in the second quarter, Weston, the star quarterback of Michigan, and Strauss, Penn's left halfback, came to blows and were put out of the game. The loss of Weston weakened the Wolverines.

For the first half of the game the team could not score. A score was made when Berry dropped back to the 30-yard line and kicked a goal from the field, the first score of the game.

Just before the third period closed the Quakers got possession of the ball on the 32-yard line. Berry dropped back to the 37-yard line and kicked

Pitcher Slapnicka Testifies for Shay
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 17.—(U. P.)—Cyril Slapnicka, pitcher for the Milwaukee baseball club, was placed on the stand today by the defense in the trial of Danny Shay on the charge of murder. Slapnicka declared that he was in the English cafe, where Shay shot and killed Clarence Euell, a negro waiter, shortly after the shooting and that Shay told him it was the case of "shooting Euell or he is killed."

Louis Nahn, treasurer of the Milwaukee club, testified regarding Shay's good character. The story of the shooting was told by Harry Archibald, a nurse of Mount Carmel, Ill.

Ohio State Has Another Title To Grid Credit
Spokane, Nov. 17.—By a score of 23 to 0 the Washington State college team beat the University of Montana here today. Twenty-two of the points were made by Left Half Bangs of the Washington team in the English cafe, where Hanley pulled off a forward pass of 35 yards, and the longest run of the day was made by Dick Hanley, who raced 45 yards.

For Montana, Fullback Bents played a great game in the secondary defense of the Montanans.

Girls' High Organize Teams
Eight Pittsburg high schools for girls have organized a swimming league. Points scored during a series of dual meets will require the two high schools to meet in a series of championship contests.

Some assistance. When that didn't work he would boot a field goal.

THE WAR'S CONCERNS
Chicago stockyard workers want higher wages, which proves that Packey McFarland may soon have financial equals.

SOUTH IS FAVORING THE RING

California's 4-Round Events May Grow Into Longer Bouts and Lead Again.

New York, Nov. 17.—(U. P.)—Sunny California, scene of so many historic battles of the pained fist, again is the beckoning, the flinker from the box office. California, with its legalized four-round exhibition bouts, is drawing the best of the nation's boxers.

Ted Lewis and many others are there. The list is growing, and they like it in California. Will California again have a law that will permit boxing? Is the present convention of high-class boxers the forerunner of an attempt to juggle California's legislative into line, or bring the thing down to a popular vote?

California went through the period of box-office manipulation, and the slippery-handed efforts of certain promoters that put the game on the fringes in New York, and California probably will think it over a long time before she again starts such a thing. But California is the ideal spot for bouts.

Lighting made California a sought-out state. The tourist made it more his goal than ever has been the case since. If California does come back into the dwindling circle of spots where boxing contests can legally be staged, it will be with a real boxing law, in the opinion of a majority of fight followers. Some of the best points men in the game make California their home, and they will bend their efforts toward taking the game back with a clean road ahead of it.

World Give Decisions
It doubtless will not be a decisionless law that they will attempt to have spread on the records. They know the result of no-decision fighting as practiced in the states that now permit it, and they will go far around this barrier to avoid the same. It may be the limit of the bill, but it may be even lower, but a decision probably will be tacked to the end.

California's days of boxing was the hey-day of the sport in this country. Even the days of the old Coney Island club, where Fitzsimmons and Jeffries had their difficulties, were not more prolific in history-making phases of contest. The old glove game would indeed be seeking a higher shelf if California should again open the gate.

Dartmouth Is Strong On Hanover Gridiron

Dartmouth college has lost but four football games at Hanover in the last 18 years. The Green lost to Williams in 1899, Brown in 1900, Amherst in 1902 and Colgate in 1