The Study Hour club benefit dance for Oregon boys' hospital fund at Laurelhurst club.

Eighth Company Auxiliary Ball

Friends of Coast Artillery Boys Will Dance at Waverly Hall Tonight.

The friends of the boys of the eighth company, coast artillery, will give a dancing party for all the residents of the Richmond district and their friends this evening at Waverly hall, East Twenty-sixth and Clinton streets. Those in charge of the affair are: Captain Paul C. Northrup, First Lieutenant George Harkender, Second Lieutenant Lloyd Rogers, Top Sergeant James Rintoul, First Sergeant Floyd Hubbard, Corporal H. Stephenson, Emma Farmer, Frances Freund, Loyd Jenkins and Winford Meade. The patronesses will be Mrs. T. R. Stephenson, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. Mary E. Palmer, Mrs. Farmer, Mrs. A. H. Hubbard, Mrs. Anna Jenkins, Mrs. M. E. Kinsey.

The marriage of H. C. Craner and Doris Idell A. Grimes took place Wednesday at 3 p. m. in the parlors of the Mallery hotel, Judge Robert O. Morrow officiating. The wedding dinner was served in the private dining room of the Mallery immediately following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Craner are graduates of the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Craner is the assistant manager of the Willamette Fuel company with office in Portland. They are both members of the Multnomah club, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, Franklin Research board and Pennsylvania club. Mrs. Craner is vice president of the Philadelphia County Osteopathic society, also an ex-president of the Philadelphia Osteopathic college alumnae, and served several years as treasurer of the county society. The guests included Judge and Mrs. R. G. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Stone, Mrs. Jane West, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bates, Mrs. Annie Bates, Professor and Mrs. Otto Mauehe, Otto Mauehe Jr., Marion R. Cummings.

The many friends of Miss Laura Shay will be interested in knowing that she has gone East to visit with friends and relatives over the holidays and to study her dancing and voice. She will go first to New York to see her brother, Roger Shay, who is with the stern corps at Camp Mills, and then will go to her aunt, Mrs. F. Adelle Hamill, at Gowanda.

The 60 young women comprising the Red Cross unit of the Patriotic Conservation league will give a big "Red Cross" benefit at the Grand Opera house, December 13, the proceeds to be used to purchase materials for further bandage-making. Those in charge of the affair are: Mrs. Sidney Benedict, Misses Velna King, Cora Milhausen, Laura Ekfor, Evelyn Lind and Carrie Byers.

The Pythian Sisters' Patriotic league will meet every afternoon from 2 o'clock to 4 in the sewing room on the fourth floor at Olds, Worman & Kings, to sew for the Red Cross. All members are asked to bring thimbles and needles to their garments begun at the last meeting. Mrs. S. L. Nelson is president and Mrs. Florence De Barr secretary.

The members of the Macdowell club held a reception Friday evening in honor of the convention of music teachers in Portland. The reception followed the manuscript concert which was held in the ballroom of the Multnomah hotel. The officers of the Macdowell club and of the Music Teachers' association received.

Miss Bert M. Denison will open her home, 646 Cypress street, Ladies' addition, Saturday, December 1, for a benefit bridge tea for the Dr. Lovejoy fund. The proceeds will go direct to the babies and mothers of France. Cards at 2:15. For reservations, phone East 2163.

Dallas Pioneers Critically Ill
Dallas, Or., Dec. 1.—Two pioneer residents of Dallas are critically ill. Thomas J. Hayter, aged 87, is suffering from the infirmities of age, and Daniel Byron, aged 81, a few days ago was stricken with paralysis and is in a critical condition.

BAKER'S COCOA
HAS GREAT FOOD VALUE
THE food value of cocoa has been proven by centuries of use, and dietitians and physicians the world over are enthusiastic in their endorsements of it. It is said to contain more nourishment than beef, in a more readily assimilated form. The choice, however, should be a high-grade cocoa,—"Baker's" of course.

Woman's War Work

The general population, infants and small children in particular, living in that part of Poland back of the German lines, who are threatened with starvation, are the objects of an appropriation of $300,000, immediately available, which has just been made by the American Red Cross. This money will be paid to the Warsaw Polish committee of which Prince Lubomirski, the president of Warsaw city, and Archbishop Kawowski of Warsaw, are members.

The entire present generation in Poland is facing immediate starvation. The Red Cross has been asked to furnish relief by sending food, as was done in Belgium. The present donation has been made with the idea of extending some immediate relief.

This money will be furnished the Warsaw Polish committee just as soon as this committee gives adequate guarantees that the money so appropriated will be used in releasing food or funds for the benefit of Germany.

If proper guarantee can be secured, milk relief for infants and small children in Poland will continue after January 1, 1918.

The bargain sale of the Portland Grade Teachers' association will be held on Friday and Saturday at 70 Third street. The store will be open to receive children from 4 to 6:30 o'clock, and Thursday morning. The sale begins Friday at 10 o'clock. If contributions cannot be sent, Miss Orvold, chairman of the patriotic committee, may be notified this evening, East 24th.

The last shipment of Christmas packages for soldiers is being prepared in the Oregon City Red Cross rooms in the Masonic temple for shipment to home cantonnments. Recently the local society sent 200 boxes to soldiers in France. With $13,500 collected to make up the Christmas fund the society is assured of money enough to carry out its plans.

The club also noted $25 to the way of supplies and Mrs. C. O. Uelau, chairman of the musical department, announced receipts for piano and a baritone, Tom Dobson of Portland, to be given at the high school auditorium.

CLUB NOTES
Saturday at 2:30 p. m. women representatives from the various communities in the Red Cross room in Hillside organized a home economics council to promote the food conservation work.

An open meeting of the Forest Grove Woman's club was held at the Star the other afternoon. President Mrs. White presided and the first number was a vocal solo by Mrs. Fred W. Jones, the number being so pleasing that the speaker was encored. Mrs. Hazel Carmack's piano solo was received in the same manner, as was the vocal solo of Mrs. M. E. Erwin of Hillsboro, who took for her selections very effective compositions. The speaking number on the program had been assigned to Rev. S. F. Fetter, who took for his subject, "Woman's Part in the New Internationalism." The speaker characterized Woodrow Wilson as "the premier potentate of the world" and declared it was destined that the United States was to have a determining influence in the war, with woman nobly holding up her part of the work.

A home economic club was organized in Moro Tuesday afternoon by Miss Martha Bechen of The Dalles. The club has a membership of 45. Miss Lillian Höfner was elected president and Mrs. A. Ross secretary. The next meeting will be at the call of the president when Miss Bechen can be present. The club is organized for the purpose of studying practical food conservation.

Teachers and all others who wish to make surgical dressings are notified that the Red Cross workroom, eighth floor of Lipman, Wolff & Co. building, is open from 9:45 to 12 o'clock Saturday mornings. Overall aprons and head coverings are required. The work is needed. A good attendance is desired.

Dr. Maude Tanner has returned from a several weeks eastern trip, during which she attended the annual convention of the National Dental association in New York. Dr. Tanner was the first woman delegate to attend the convention of this association.

The Woodstock Parent-Teacher association will give a moving picture show at the Woodstock theatre today, December 1, at 2, 7 and 9 p. m. The five reel film, "We Are French," which was presented at the Hellig several weeks ago will be given together with other films.

Red Cross Sale Adds Nearly $1100

Thanksgiving Special Swells Funds for Work Among Boys in France.

By Vella Winner
THE amateur saleswomen at the Red Cross shop Thanksgiving sale covered themselves with glory. The sale which, because of the generously large donation, cutswore the confines of the shop—was held at the old Lumbermen Bank building, at Fifth and Stark. The departments were transformed into booths, where the attractive stock of Thanksgiving supplies was displayed.

All day Tuesday and Wednesday the bank building was crowded with patriotic shoppers. The many beautiful and artistic fruit baskets lent a holiday atmosphere, while the hurrying amateur "cash girls" and saleswomen imparted a businesslike note.

The exact sum the sale will add to the fund for the comfort of the soldiers in France is not yet known, but it will run very close to $1100. This sum is over and above the amount talked in the shop itself, where business continues uninterrupted to the amount of nearly $100 a day.

Three particularly large and attractive fruit baskets, containing also crackers, toys and candy, were ordered made up by three of Portland's big downtown citizens, who had no families of their own, and sent to the children in each of the hospitals. All that was left after the sale was over was a lot of preserved polish, two cans of spices and some glasses of jam and jelly, which will be put into the regular stock at the shop for sale. Who's business isn't good?

Wednesday, November 21, was truly the day of the Red Cross. At the Hood River Woman's club held at Liberty hall. Since the opening of the club year in September it has been a place of activity for workers in both organizations that the Red Cross and Woman's club meetings occurred on the same day. However, since it seemed an involvement of either organization to change its time of meeting, a plan was originated by the chairman of the educational department of the Red Cross, Mrs. R. Moller—and approved by the Woman's club president—Mrs. A. G. Lewis—which would have the meetings of both organizations at the same time. At the urgent request of the president, Mrs. Moller appeared before the Woman's club and outlined the plan for the more increasing demand upon the Red Cross for a larger output of all sorts of hospital supplies and suggested that the two organizations be joined together, service if it would form an auxiliary and make garments at the Red Cross rooms any day except Wednesday and Saturday.

This plan was adopted and Friday was chosen for the day of meeting. Mrs. S. E. Bartness was elected chairman and Mrs. J. C. Moller, secretary. With $13,500 collected to make up the Christmas fund the society is assured of money enough to carry out its plans.

The club also noted $25 to the way of supplies and Mrs. C. O. Uelau, chairman of the musical department, announced receipts for piano and a baritone, Tom Dobson of Portland, to be given at the high school auditorium.

December 1, the proceeds of which are to be donated to the Red Cross.

The next meeting of the Woman's club will be held on Wednesday, December 5, and the topic will be "Women in Music." The program will be in charge of Mrs. L. E. Tart and will consist of a paper on the topic of the day by Mrs. William Moore. Illustrated by several vocal and instrumental numbers.

The Oregon State Music Teachers' association, which opens its convention at Hotel Commodore this morning, has sent an invitation to the members of the Parent-Teacher associations of the city. The association and the Grade Teachers' association to attend its discussion of public school music this afternoon and Saturday evening.

The luncheon to be given Saturday at 12 o'clock by the Monday Musical club at Hotel Commodore, when the faculty of the school of music, Oregon Agricultural college, will be present, will be presented by Portland musicians and by members of the faculty of the school of music. Oregon Agricultural college.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by calling Mrs. George W. Burt, East 5803.

The College Crest Neighborhood club of Eugene held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Jay. Especially interesting was the story of the life and Red Cross work of Clara Barton reviewed by Mrs. Joseph Muhr. Plans were formulated so that this club may become an auxiliary to the local Red Cross chapter. Miss Ruth Corbett was a visitor at the meeting and explained her desire to gain the cooperation of clubs here in the food conservation movement as explained in her course of study. After refreshments were served in which a presentation featured the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. J. A. Cressay in December.

The postponed meeting of the Eugene Fortnightly club occurred Friday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce. After the opening business session was concluded, Mrs. H. D. Shelton gave a review of Basil King's recent book, "The High Heart." This was followed by a paper read by Mrs. E. E. De Cou, on the literary history of the author, and his literary efforts. Regular meeting date for the club will be next Saturday.

The regular meeting of the Portland Railroad Women's club was held in Room "E" Central Library, Friday afternoon. After the order of business Mrs. Colista M. Dowling gave an interesting talk on patriotic art, followed by Miss Grace Phelps, chief nurse of the Oregon base hospital unit, who gave an excellent address on the subject, "Influence of J. Rousseau on Modern French Novelists." This was followed by a plan read by Miss Nubby which closed the afternoon.

The Shakespeare club of McMinnville met last week in the library room and was opened by two solos by Miss Hennes Anderson, "To You" and "Lassie of Mine." Professor Birchfield of Oregon agricultural college gave an excellent address on the subject, "Influence of J. Rousseau on Modern French Novelists." This was followed by a plan read by Miss Nubby which closed the afternoon.

Household Hints

These dinners are for the average workman who must labor for his bread.
The most sanitary and satisfactory utensil is an enamel dinner pail fitted with trays. This may be thoroughly aired and scalded each day, thus preventing the growth of germs. Not many men want hard bread or unattractive dinners. Waxed or paraffin paper is indispensable, as by its use are prevented from taking on the mixture of flavors that permeates a luncheon box or pail. This paper should be purchased in large quantities and stored in a box of rubber bands. Each sandwich should be wrapped separately. By this means pie, sliced cold meats, cheese and cake may be kept moist when wrapped separately and secured by a rubber band. A large jelly tumbler with saw-wood bottom and a best quality glass, filled with meats and salads, creamed vegetables, cooked cereals, rice and milk, preserved fruits, custards and puddings, should be wrapped in hot-cold drinking cup should be the most important addition. This prevents the ever-possible contraction of disease.

In all demi-toilettes waists are often indicated simply by a line of ribbon tied in a bow with long ends.
A number of the new frocks are unbalanced in design, with a band of trimming on one side, while the other is plain.
Peplum blouses are more becoming to the average figure than the blouse that is worn under the skirt. The peplum is very fashionable.

Donations Made for Red Cross Shop

Proceeds of Tuesday's Sale Will Go to Buy Good Things for Men at Front.
THERE will be Thanksgiving in the American trenches, no matter what the date, when the proceeds of the Red Cross Shop's Thanksgiving sale next Tuesday are converted into good things for the boys at the front. All of Portland, and indeed most of Oregon, will have a hand in this Thanksgiving for the boys. There is no one who is not eager to have some part in it. All those who are not giving things for the sale are going to buy things, and many are going to do both.

A remarkable spirit of patriotism was shown by the merchants in the public market, for with only one exception every booth has promised a generous donation of fruits and vegetables. A booth for the collection of these and other donations has been assigned the shop by the market master, and will continue open on Monday and Tuesday, with Boy Scouts in attendance.

Much interest in the sale was shown by the exhibitors of farm products at the land show, and many counties have offered the shop a part or all of whatever surplus they had on hand. Some commodities remain after the show is over. Among those who have promised their help are Jefferson, Klamath, Lincoln, Polk, Clackamas and Crook counties. Sparta community, in Baker county, promised its entire display, consisting of potatoes weighing three or four pounds each, two mammoth potatoes, squash, and apples from the first orchard to be planted in that newly settled farming region. L. L. Holcomb of Sparta, a Civil War veteran, who brought the exhibit to Portland, donated it unasked to the Red Cross.

Donations have been promised in every department of the sale. Several hundred jars of jam and jelly have been given, and dozens of plum-pudding, raisin bread, and other goodies are nothing of a large assortment of staple groceries and of cigars and cigarettes.

Twenty-five hundred cigarettes have been promised, and three or four hundred cigars. All these things will be sold at extremely reasonable prices. The good housekeeper in search of bargains will find much to rejoice her heart. No pie will be offered at the sale, as the shop does not wish to interfere with the sales of pastry at the Woman's Exchange.

Almost half a hundred of the fruit baskets which are to be a feature of the sale have already been ordered. One well known Portland man ordered a $20 basket, to be filled with fruit, candy, crackers and toys, to make happy the children in the hospital.

A three-months' gift for which the shop is eternally grateful is that made by the Progressive Business Men's club, who have guaranteed the rent of the shop up to January 1. This is the shop's one big expense. The committee in charge has already determined that no penny of the proceeds shall be used for expenses; everything must go directly to the help of the boys. Already, after five weeks of existence, $1000 has been cleared, and several hundred dollars will doubtless be added to the fund by the sale.

Portland Men Will Speak

Salem, Or., Dec. 1.—W. H. Galvani and M. G. Montezza of Portland, will be the speakers at a meeting of the Salem Historical society and Democracy, which will be held Tuesday night, December 4, at Willamette University chapel. The subject of discussion will be the war situation in Russia and Italy.

WAR TIME COOKERY

The up-to-the-minute housewife will soon be using half a dozen new flour. For white bread, western women are beginning to use rice, mashed potatoes or white cornmeal in place of some of the wheat flour. If housekeepers are not fond of "strange-looking bread," as the German officer characterized American wheat loaves, they can use barley, rye, Graham, oatmeal or yellow cornmeal based bread. The following recipes have been tested by the home economics department of the University of Washington and are in right line with national food conservation:

Potato Yeast Bread.—One half cup milk and water, 4 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons fat, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 3 cups boiled potatoes (mashed), 1 cup flour, 1/4 cup compressed yeast, 1/2 cup warm water. The dough is soft at the second handling, but after baking produces a satisfactory loaf. This recipe makes three loaves.

Cornmeal Yeast Bread.—One and one fourth cups milk and water, 3 tablespoons sugar, 3 tablespoons salt, 3 cups white cornmeal (white or yellow), 2-3 cups flour, 1/2 cup compressed yeast, 1/2 cup warm water. Add sugar, fat and salt to liquid and bring to boiling point. Add cornmeal slowly, stirring constantly until all is added. Remove from fire, cool mixture and add compressed yeast. Knead and put in pan; warm water. Add 2-3 cups flour and knead. Let rise until double in bulk. Knead again and put in pan. Bake in light, bake in moderate oven at least one hour.

Barley Yeast Bread.—One cup milk and water, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon fat, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 cups barley flour, 1/2 cup compressed yeast. Soften yeast in part of the liquid. Combine ingredients. Mix into dough. Knead and bring to double original bulk. Knead again. Put in pan and when again double in bulk, bake about 45 minutes.

Oatmeal Yeast Bread.—One cup milk and water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 cup rolled oats, 1/2 cups wheat flour, 1/2 cup compressed yeast, 1 cup warm water. Scald liquid and pour it over rolled oats, sugar, salt and fat. Let it stand until lukewarm, add yeast softened in warm water. Add flour and knead. Rise until double in bulk. Knead again and place in pan. When light, bake in moderate oven 45 to 60 minutes.
