CITY FIREMEN ARE DOING THEIR BIT: 36 HAVE ENLISTED

Sixteen Thousand Dollars Have Been Subscribed for Liberty Bonds by Bureau Members.

WORKING FOR RED CROSS

Time Put in When Off Duty Earning Funds for Contribution to Various War Activities.

Portland's fire bureau is more than doing its bit in the present war. It has contributed men, money and Christmas presents and subscribed to Liberty bonds and the Red Cross. Its members are actually doing outside work to get money to turn over to the cause.

Because of the efforts of the department, E. F. Dowell, chief engineer, is the proudest man in the city. He knows to the penny what the men are doing and is encouraging them in every possible way to continue their efforts.

An example of the spirit in the fire department is the way the boys in fire engine company No. 3 are getting money to turn over to the Red Cross and purchase presents for the soldiers at the front.

During their leisure moments they are wrecking automobiles in a garage across from the fire station at Third and Gilman streets. The men receive $15 for tearing down each one. They have dismantled four, receiving $60 for their work. All the money goes for war purposes and there is no overhead expense there.

48 Members Volunteer

The fire bureau has contributed 36 men—all volunteers and more are going into the army and navy. Ten others have entered other branches of the federal service to do their bit.

Two men have gone in for aviation.
They are Charles Héveland, hoseman of Engine 12, now in France, and James Evanis, assistant engineer of Engine 6.
Nine men who have joined other branches of the army are Ralph Stevart, hoseman of Engine 10; Win. Mc-Hugh, hoseman, Engine 15; Lloyd Prideaux, truckman, Truck 1; W. C.
Bates, hoseman, Engine 5; E. E. Danila, hoseman, Engine 10; J. C. Tentegardt, hoseman, Engine 28; E. L.
Boatright, hoseman, Engine 6; William Geislar, hoseman, Engine 8; H. D. Sul-field, hoseman, Engine 10.

Blue Jay Lister, hoseman of Engine 1; Lieutenant J. Cahill of Engine 28, J.
R. Gilmer, Engine 21 and Julius Hei-berg, hoseman, Engine 3, have enlisted in the medical corps. W. T. Murphy, hoseman Engine 28, is in the cavalry; W. J. Costello, hoseman, Engine 1, is in the quartermaster's corps and Walter J. Bray of Fireboat No. 2, is a musician in the Coast artillery.

Eighteen of the boys heard Uncle Sam call them to the sea and they enlisted in the navy. They are Thomas Stohlman, hoseman, Engine 10; G. J.
Enoff, hoseman, Engine 10; G. Kaufman, hoseman, Engine 15; I. A. Groscup and E. B. French, hoseman, Engine 1; G. A. Oiler and John Bush, hoseman of Engine 3; J. E. Hill, hoseman, Engine 20; R. F. Tillman, hoseman, Engine 18; George Merriwell, hoseman, Engine 9; P. J. Bird, hoseman, Engine 18; John Reis, lieutenant, Engine 11; A. C. Fryhelt, hoseman, Engine 25; W. A. Fran-zell, hoseman, Engine 23; William Georg, hoseman, Fireboat No. 1; Jack Matton, hoseman, Fireboat No. 2; F. A.
Arndt, hoseman, Engine 23 and F. W.
Short, relief engineer.

Invests $16,000 in Bonds

H. A. Miller, lieutenant of Engine 26, is now a lieutenant in the army. J. R.
Sherwood and R. C. Bruntzsch, other members of the department, are working in the Bremerton navy yard. C. W.
Oberg, hoseman of Engine 18, joined the navy but was discharged on account of sickness.

When the call was made for Liberty bond subscriptions the men came to the front with a willingness which caused surprise. They purchased $16,000 in bonds during the closing days of the campaign.

Then a demand came for contributions to the Red Cross. The boys did not hesitate. They dug up $147 in cash and several hundred dollars in presents. Later came the call for Christmas presents and the men were right on the job. Individually and collectively the men made up several hundred packages.

Council May Give Wiegand New Office

Chief Clerk of Department of Public Utilities Loses Position and May Be Made City Storekeeper.

Charles F. Wiegand, chief clerk of the department of public utilities under John M. Mann, was let out Saturday morning and now the city council proposes to create the position of city storekeeper to be filled by Wiegand. The storekeeper would keep a check on the city's property and prevent duplication of supplies and materials.

Commissioner Mann notified Wiegand late Friday that his services would be no longer needed. Mann says he can get along without him in his department and save money by having his private secretary do Wiegand's work.

Mann proposed this change several weeks ago when he attempted to get the council to increase his private secretary's salary. The council at the time refused to comply with the request and provided an appropriation to continue with Wiegand's services.
Wiegand was chief clerk of the department when Will H. Daly was commissioner. Previously he was a deputy in the city auditor's office. Wiegand has also been curator of the city's museum for five years.

The council Monday morning will decide what is to be done in Wiegand's case.
