Allied Bazaar To Be Opened On Wednesday

By Nona Lawler

THE Allied Bazaar, the biggest fête of the kind ever held in Portland, will open at the Auditorium Wednesday afternoon and continue, afternoon and evening, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This event offers something novel at every turn. For the entrance fee of 25 cents the thousands of visitors are guaranteed a passport to every land that floats an allied flag and many that float neutral flags. Representatives of these peoples will make them welcome and will offer the best and fairest of the treasures of their homelands to be sold for the cause of war relief in those countries.

The brilliant hued peasant costumes of eastern peoples will be in evidence and everywhere the allied colors of red, blue and streamers will be the fitting background in the decorative effect. The best talent in the city has united in producing this spectacle. Surprises beyond expectation will be found.

The international booth of the allied bazaar promises to be the largest and most complete of all the booths. Adolphe Wolfe is general chairman of a committee, consisting of Ira Powers, who has charge of the wholesale department; Ben Selling, the retail gifts; C. D. Brunson, who has charge of the manufacturing, and these have been assisted by Craig McKicken. The women who are members of the international booth committee are Mrs. Alice Benson Beach, chairman; Mrs. Thomas Roberts, Mrs. Leon Hirsch, Mrs. Walter Cook, Mrs. J. G. Gault, Miss Ruth Teal, Mrs. Robert Strong, Mrs. Julius Lott, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett. These will all be costumed to represent the allied and neutral nations, and other ladies who will assist in selling afternoons and evenings are Mesdames A. S. Moody, Frank McCauley, Florence O'Hanlan, E. E. Covert, J. C. English, Ted Reichard, Mrs. Taylor Rankin, J. C. Bectol, Walker Campbell, Lou McPherson, May Howell, George Kumler, H. Wentworth, Craig McKicken, and the Misses Beulah Masters, Beatrice Locks, Dorris Clarke, Ruby Hamerstrom, Jessie Johnson, Marian Grebel, Ruth Teal and others. Ira Powers will be assisted by all star salesmen: W. F. Lipman, Frank Case, C. J. Mathis, W. J. Hofmann, E. J. Yager, W. H. Staiger, John E. Cronin, Louis W. Cronin, Frank Dooly, A. S. Moody, Nick Pierong and Thomas Swivel. All of the ladies' costumes will be representatives of the allies—England, France, Belgium, Italy, Russia, Rumania, Serbia—and the neutrals represented will be Norway, Holland, Japan and China. This booth will also have a number of the officers of the Vancouver barracks and visiting Canadian soldiers to assist the young ladies in their sales.

The materials donated amount to several thousand dollars and range from furniture and groceries to neckties and handkerchiefs. There promise to be many bargains and a very interesting time for all.

At the refreshment booth, "Ye Colonial Inn," dainty maids and matrons in Priscilla costumes will serve tea and suppers every afternoon and evening. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 6 until 7:30 o'clock, a dinner will be served at 75 cents a plate. These dinners will be prepared under the direction of the Allied Bazaar on Thursday and Friday, and Saturday evening Henri of the Benson will preside. Among those who have made reservations for dinner are Mrs. J. G. Edwards, Mrs. and Mrs. C. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherwood, General and Mrs. Charles E. Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ruegnitz, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Clark, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Blackwood, Charles Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Answorth, Dr. S. H. Shafter, C. B. Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wyld, Mrs. H. A. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. L. Johnson, and Mrs. Louis Gerlinger Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Fleischman, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Mears, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pantan, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowperthwaite, Mr. G. H. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, Mr. and Mrs. William Gadsby and Mrs. M. C. Woodard.

The War Relief and Surgical Dressing committee completed the moving of their stock of articles for the Japanese drawing which they are to hold Friday, and today will arrange their booth at the Auditorium. Over 200 of the 25,000 tickets have been sold for the drawing, and the remaining tickets may be purchased at the Woman's Exchange, Lewis Arcade or Sherman-Clay. There is great interest in this sale, as most of the articles accumulated for the prizes are odd bits of antiques in silver, brass, chinaware and all manner and kind of necklaces which people have taken from their homes, that they may help to realize money for the war work. The 25 prizes of supreme value will be given to the lucky numbers in addition to the regular gifts.

He who is thrall to the epicurean delights of superior spaghetti and real ravioli, such as only Italian chefs and wives can achieve, will find the haven of happiness at the Italian villa. The villa of the Italian section will be of colonnade architecture. The colors of Italy will be in evidence, and the arts of Italy will be its wares. Needlework and embroidery, statuary, queer and quaint jewelry, and skillful work in metals will shine with the spaghetti for appreciation.

The guitar and mandolin will blend in the airs of Neapolitan folk songs. "O, Marie," "O, Sole Mio," and that whimsical bit of happiness, "Ceribacca." Graceful little maids of the Italian colony, in national costumes, will dance the folk-

The closing feature on Saturday evening will be the tableau of the Allied Nations, which will offer a grand finale, and will be staged while a chorus of men's voices sing the national anthems of America, France and England. America will be represented by Miss Ruth Teal, England by Mrs. C. H. Davis Jr., Miss Marion Citron, France: Mrs. David Honeyman, Russia: Mrs. Van Roosen-dal, Belgium, and Miss Caroleen Armenta.

The Monday Night Dancing club's regular party will be given December 10 at Harlow Grady hall. In its series march and just prior to the ceremony Monday club, which is foremost among the old and well established dancing organizations of the city, has selected December 31, New Year's eve, for its final dance.

Many farewells are being said to Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Edwards, who plan to make their departure soon for France where Mr. Edwards has accepted a call from the government for Red Cross service. The bride is among the most pitiable and interesting people of Portland society and will be much missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Frank were hosts at a theatre party Friday evening at the Heilig, having 18 guests. Later they gathered at the Multnomah for supper and dancing, circling a table charmingly decorated with a huge cluster of the mauve and small white chrysanthemums.

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Read, the daughter of Charles Read, and John Vincent Murphy was an important event of last Tuesday evening. The ceremony was read at the residence of the bride in Irvington at 6:30 o'clock before a large assemblage of friends and relatives. Rev. Father George Campbell officiated and the bride was attended by Mrs. Walter Gadsby as matron of honor and little Marie McDougall as flower girl. The bride is a pretty and charming girl and her wedding was of interest to hosts of friends. In her wedding robe of ivory white duchesse satin, made in full draped skirt, round length, with cascade trimming of rose point lace and bodice trimmed with tulle, the bride was a lovely picture. Her train was fashioned in square effect, stayed at the shoulders and trimmed with ruchings of tulle and sprays of orange blossoms. The rose point lace fell in graceful fan-like folds from the back of her gown, where the train was fastened to the high empire waist line. Her veil was stayed with a becoming mob cap banded with orange blossoms, and she carried orchids, bouvardia and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Gadsby was gowned in lavender with silver lace and tulle elaborations and she carried the mauve toned chrysanthemums. The house was prettily decked in a profusion of the white and mauve toned chrysanthemums banked against a background of dances of Italy, the "tarantella" and others.

The Italian queen of beauty, with her four ladies-in-waiting, will reign at the villa. In general charge will be Mrs. Jennie Corlano, M. G. Montreux, Otello Colistro and James Cini. Music and dances will be supervised by Mrs. Jennie Corlano and Dr. C. Visetti; booths and decorations by Dr. Perini and Dr. C. Visetti.

At Urfer hall, on Saturday night of this week, the Italian-American club will give a ball for the benefit of the bazaar fund, at which the queen of beauty and her maids will be chosen.

A general meeting of the Italian colony is called for Sunday, at 2 p. m., to meet at Urfer hall, where final plans for the bazaar will be discussed and additional funds raised.

Portland musicians have responded loyally to the call sent out by the Russian committee of the Allied Bazaar for their services in putting on a series of concerts in the Russian village. John Claire Monteth has consented to arrange the program and among those who will give their services are: Mrs. Lulu Dahl Miller, Miss Mary Van Dyke, Lucien E. Becker, George Hotchkiss Street, Nettie Leona Holmes, Helen Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Franck G. Eichenlaub, William Robinson Boone, Miss Dorothy Bliss, Mrs. Pauline Miller Chapman, Miss Marie Chapman, Roberto Coruocini, Mrs. Coruocini, Mrs. June Chapman Eddy, Robert Flack, Eloise Anita Hall, Carl Herbering, Virginia Spencer Hutchinson, Bernice Helm, Edgar Piper, Mischa Pels, Mrs. Fred Olson, Mrs. George Hotchkiss Street, Marie and Mrs. Astris Roal, George Wilber Reed, Mrs. Ora Bess Seeburger and Charles South.

The schedule of the concerts is now ready and musicians are asked to call at once at Mr. Monteth's office, 507 Columbia building, and choose the time for their performance. It is hoped to have the complete complete and programs printed before the opening of the bazaar. All musicians willing to enlist in the patriotic service of raising money for the world wide work of the Red Cross by assisting at these concerts are asked to enroll with Mr. Monteth today.

The Russians, in addition to the interesting musical numbers will give at each concert Russian folk and ballet dances under the direction of M. Marcella, which will be served by girls in Russian peasant costume and the decorations of the theatre will be Russian in character.

The closing feature on Saturday evening will be the tableau of the Allied Nations, which will offer a grand finale, and will be staged while a chorus of men's voices sing the national anthems of America, France and England. America will be represented by Miss Ruth Teal, England by Mrs. C. H. Davis Jr., Miss Marion Citron, France: Mrs. David Honeyman, Russia: Mrs. Van Roosen-dal, Belgium, and Miss Caroleen Armenta.

Key to the Pictures

MRS. JOHN VINCENT MURPHY (Marjorie Read) was married Tuesday evening at a pretty home ceremony solemnized at the residence of her father, Charles F. Read, in Irvington.

Mrs. Richard Wilder is one of the prominent workers in the Red Cross in Portland which is sending her as a patroness for the Allied Bazaar and will assist in selling, costumed in white as an American Indian Princess.

to their hosts of friends. Mrs. Murphy is a charming and popular girl, and her husband is general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific railroad, with headquarters in this city. He is a prominent and active member of the Portland Hunt club and a devotee of polo.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy have left for an extended wedding trip through the Canadian Rockies, and will be at home in Irvington upon their return.

The Beh Greet players who appeared at the Auditorium last Monday evening in "The Merchant of Venice," were entertained immediately after the performance with a public reception at the Auditorium held by members of the Portland Shakespeare club. About 100 guests greeted them and short speeches were made by Miss Grace Halsey Mills, who played Portia, and Erskine Sanford, Shylock. Later the players were guests of Mrs. Louise Gerlinger Jr. at her residence when a midnight supper was served. Members of the Drama league board were additional guests. Mrs. Anton Gleich, president of the Shakespeare club, received with the honor guests.

Mrs. E. M. Andrus will leave Tuesday for American Lake where she will be the hostess at the Y. W. C. A. hostess' house at Camp Lewis.

Friends and all the expressions of congratulation are being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Fielding S. Kelly over the arrival Tuesday of a baby son, their first boy.

Mrs. Sigmund Frank is being welcomed here from New York where her serious illness was a matter of concern to her hosts of Portland friends. She is now quite recovered.

Mrs. Cornelius Gardner was hostess Saturday of a social event of exceptional interest—the appearance of the San Carlos Grand Opera company for eight performances at the Auditorium. The after-holiday attraction will be a delightful interlude between benefits and Red Cross activities. Many local and out of town society folk will arrange line parties for the musical folk.

Mrs. Christopher MacRae of University Park entertained at a luncheon last Tuesday complimentary to Miss Willa Mae Sluser, whose marriage to Warren Eugene Shirey of Chicago is to be an event of the Christmas holidays. Covers were laid for nine guests. The table was daintily decorated with pink roses and ferns, with place cards and favors appropriate for a bride-elect.

The dinner and dance given Wednesday evening by the Waverley Country club to engineers from Vancouver barracks was a great success and merrily enjoyed by the army men. Many army officers were guests at dinners given

Portland Fund Doing Its Bit For Italians

PORTLAND society folk will recall with much pleasure the garden fête of last summer, given in Trinity rectory garden by Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. J. D. Farrell and a committee of prominent matrons and maids for the benefit of relief work among tubercular Italian children. Six hundred dollars was realized for the cause and forwarded to Italy to Miss Susan Clark, a former Portland woman, well known here, who is giving her time to this work. Miss Clark has written her receipt for the money and the acknowledgment of it by the tubercular relief committee with whom she is working. Miss Clark told of the splendid work this committee is doing and said the generosity of Portland's contribution was greatly appreciated and the money would do great good. Miss Clark is living at La Tagore, near Florence.

A dinner party was given Tuesday evening by the crew, which was sent from London, by the Cunard company, to take charge of the British steamer War Viceroy, to the many friends made since arriving in Portland. The toast of the evening was given by W. Donaldson. Songs were rendered by various members of the company and dancing and games were enjoyed afterwards. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The Study Hour club, which gave the successful tea at Mrs. J. E. Kiefer's home in July for the benefit of the sanitary corps of the Third Oregon, will again dance at the Laurelhurst clubhouse on Monday for a fund for the sanitary corps of the One Hundred Sixty-second infantry. Forty-first division. The personnel of the club is Mesdames H. A. Friedrich, J. B. Kiefer, P. H. Fox, Edward Trob, Louis Prince, Fred Burgard, Harry Keely. The expenses of the dance are being met through the efforts of Mr. Donaldson. It is hoped that all the friends and relatives of the boys will do their part by participating in the dance.

President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon, and Miss Jane Campbell of Eugene; David Campbell of Walla Walla, and Mrs. Mary S. Campbell, Miss Catherine Campbell, and Miss Cassie B. Stump of Monmouth, formed a happy gathering of relatives which spent Thanksgiving together at Hotel Portland.
