Furthermore, the Daughters of the American Revolution in 13 states have pledged themselves to provide needed garments for the period of the war to the crews of 34 United States ships, comprising battleships, destroyers, torpedo boats, cruisers, submarines and submarine chasers, and 22 states have States vessels, making a total of 88 boats on which the men are today wearing garments made by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Daughters have also "adopted" companies of soldiers to keep supplied with knitted garments for the period of the war, have given ambulances and field kitchens, have provided hot meals and box lunches for departing troops, have presented regimental flags, have contributed to the ideal conditions surrounding some of our camps, have extended cheer and comfort to the lonely camp guards who are watching our rali-road bridges, tunnels and other prop-erty and have been leaders in establishing Red Cross chapters.
