

FARMERS' UNION GETS SQUARELY BEHIND WAR POLICY OF PRESIDENT

Members Pledge Lives, Property and Sons to Help Defeat the Prussian Autocracy.

Pendleton, Or., Dec. 7.—Pledging their lives, their property and their sons that the war might be fought to a successful conclusion, the members of Farmers' Union Thursday afternoon in convention by resolution placed the organization squarely behind President Wilson. The union commended the Port of Portland for pushing construction of the 1,000,000 bushel terminal elevator to completion in time to handle the 1918 crop, in spite of high cost of materials and the labor shortage, and also praised the Port of Astoria for aiding and co-operating in the handling of bulk grain, and the port of Seattle for doubling the capacity of its elevators.

The convention went on record against the county unit management of schools and in favor of the state printing and distributing school textbooks at cost. It urged farmers in future to buy Liberty bonds through farmer organizations, in order to secure proper credit for farmers' patriotism.

The convention, in resolution, declared it infraternal and detrimental to the union for any member publicly to oppose the declared policy of the union. Bulk handling of grain has been one of the principal subjects discussed at the convention. G. B. Hegardt, engineer of the Port of Portland, declared the farmer would have no choice but to use the bulk method next year, inasmuch as government has commandeered $6,000,000 sacks for use in making trenching, thereby creating a condition making it imperative for the farmer to abandon the sack method.

Albert L. Rush, federal grain supervisor, declared the government ready to cooperate in helping farmers and urged the necessity of attending the bureau hearings in Spokane, Seattle and Portland later in the month for the purpose of adjusting and correcting present arrangements for grading grain. The convention will discuss other resolutions at the final session today. Thursday afternoon they took a trip over the Umatilla farm lands and inspected the local elevator Thursday night they attended a banquet.

Pendleton Home Burns
Pendleton, Or., Dec. 7.—The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Chamberlain, four miles east of Pendleton, was completely destroyed by fire Thursday night. Part of the contents were saved. The fire started from a defective flue.

Alleged Offenders Are Held
Pendleton, Or., Dec. 7.—Guy McCoy of Helix Thursday was held under $1000 bonds for alleged attempt at criminal assault on a 7-year-old girl. Fred Young, who disclosed in police court Thursday that the woman he has been living with is not his wife, was held to the grand jury on a statutory charge.

Huntington Pioneer Dies
Baker, Or., Dec. 7.—John Thompson, aged 68, a pioneer resident of Huntington, died at the hospital here Thursday, after a short illness from pneumonia, having been brought here several days ago. Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Genevieve McLaren of Baker. The funeral will be held Friday.

Commercial Club Elects
White Salmon, Wash., Dec. 7.—At the regular election of the White Salmon Commercial club the following board of directors was elected: George Head, R. L. Heaman, H. L. Douglas, for two year terms; and the following for one year terms: J. L. Peterson, Robert White and H. G. Hagdon.

Hardman Dies in France
Hood River, Or., Dec. 7.—Word has reached Hood River of the death of Alva Hardman of Hood River, who enlisted a few months ago in the engineer corps that went to France. The message states that Mr. Hardman died of pneumonia. His parents reside at Alberta, Canada.

THAT DESIRE TO GIVE OR POSSESS A PIANO CAN BE GRATIFIED IN A MOST PROFITABLE WAY THROUGH THIS HOLIDAY SALE of PIANOS of Merit

—Recall, if you can, a sale during previous holiday seasons, that presented such an opportunity. Not alone do reductions prevail on every instrument (contract pianos alone excepted), but the event has been made doubly prominent for the reason that advances already received in the prices of pianos will not be applied by us until after the holidays.

Santa Claus Has Arrived In Toydom

HE WILL MEET all his little friends tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 here in TOYDOM.
—He's just the same old hale and hearty Santa we've always known—and he's needed more than ever this year, he says. Just because the world for grown-ups is cast in such deep gloom this year—the world for little folk should be made bright and happy—for what have the dear little folk to do with the gloomy, agonizing business of war?
—He says the LAND OF TOYS is just as bright and busy and jolly as ever—and ALL SORTS OF TOYS are being turned out by the thousands.
—And then he said—"From now until Christmas

TOYDOM WILL BE MY HEADQUARTERS

—tell all the little folk to come in and see me. I've all sorts of interesting things to show and tell them. So, little folk, and grown-ups, too, come right along and greet Santa Claus!"
