

UNISON ONLY AIM IN POLITICS NOW, DR. SMITH FINDS

Returns From Washington and Other Eastern Cities Filled With "Win the War" Spirit.

"AMERICA" IS ONLY PARTY

Expects Registration of All Men and Women of Over 16 Years for Labor Distribution.

After a few weeks' visit in Washington and other eastern cities, where he talked with men in direct connection with the operation of America's war machinery, Dr. C. J. Smith returned to Portland Tuesday and voiced the slogan that has resounded throughout the nation—"win the war."

"There is only one aim in politics now," he said, "unison from every angle to bring triumph for democracy. The only political party I can see is America. There seems to be no effort to criticize, and on the other hand there is the continuous cry for more teamwork."

"We Americans know that it is the only way in which we can win the war. Each one must do his or her bit, work to which each is adapted."

Labor Supply Plentiful

"Registration for every one in the country, whether male or female, above the age of 16 years appears inevitable. This is not my opinion, but that of men whom I met and who are in positions to know. Such a registration would enable an equal distribution of labor."

"There is enough labor in the country and there will be enough. We will not have to import coolie laborers or any other kind. But we must bring about better distribution. This can be seen in Portland. There are plenty of workmen in the Northwest but all want to work in shipyards and other plants in the city, while there are not enough for logging and spruce cutting."

"The greatest problem in the east at present is traffic. War shipments have congested freight transportation to such an extent that the east hasn't enough rolling stock."

Women Take Men's Places

"Women are taking to men's work more and more. This is more noticeable in the East than in the West. Between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia on the Pennsylvania road are 130 women second class. It is not what you could call a good distribution of labor. Waiters, elevator men and other positions that can be as efficiently performed by women should get out and do other work. Many concerns have answered to the demands. Several of the largest department stores have replaced men floor walkers with women."

"I was particularly impressed with the economy in the East. While not stinting themselves the people have

Little Black Dog Missed by Scores Expressman Loses His Best Friend

Did you know the little, black, curly Cocker Spaniel doggie who for several years held undisputed sway over the corner, by the postoffice, at Sixth and Yamhill? Well, he has passed on to doggie heaven and has left a big hole in the hearts of all who knew the faithful little fellow. He guarded the express wagon of his master, whose stand is made there, and chummed with the solemn faced old horse.

He was a loyal little friend to many, many people who passed the corner. Everybody who has an eye for an engaging puppy dog knew him and one by one they are adding to the bereavement in the heart of the dog's master by their doubled inquiries as to what has thoroughly adopted the Hoover standard of living. This is shown in clothes and the elimination of fancy, wasteful dishes.

"Financial conditions in New York appear to be excellent and every one is optimistic."

Washington Busy Place

"Never was there so much excitement in Washington since the Civil war. The regular government buildings are not nearly adequate to house the additional work wrought by the war and many new buildings have been constructed and many are being built. Several, in the pressing need of working room, have been made from plaster and lath, like exposition buildings."

Dr. Smith visited the Oregon troops at Camp Mills, on Long Island. When he was there about two weeks ago the thermometer registered about 29 degrees above zero. One fault he found with the camp is the lack of commissary equipment.

"The boys have to run with their meals from the camp kitchen to their tents to keep the food from freezing on the way," he said.

Archbishop Observes 40th Anniversary

Solemn Pontifical High Mass Is Celebrated This Morning at Cathedral; Reception Will Be Held This Evening.

St. Mary's cathedral was filled to capacity yesterday when solemn pontifical mass was celebrated by Right Rev. Alexander Christie, archbishop of Oregon City, the occasion being the fortieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. Elaborate music was rendered by the choir and 61 priests and two bishops were in attendance.

At 12:15 the visiting clergy was entertained at luncheon at St. Mary's academy and last evening the friends of Archbishop Christie greeted him at an informal reception at his residence, Sixteenth and Davis streets. At the special request of the archbishop the reception was informal and no refreshments will be served, in keeping with the war time conservation. The reception function was under the charge of a committee headed by Mrs. J. P. O'Brien and Miss Margaret Burke.

CITY GETS READY TO RENT FISHING BOAT TO SUPPLY MARKET

Commissioner Kellahe Authorized to Get Vessel and Employ Crew.

The city is now going into the fishing business to supply fish for its municipal fish market.

The city council Wednesday afternoon unanimously adopted an ordinance authorizing Commissioner Kellahe to rent a fishing boat, hire a crew and go sailing on the ocean after fish. The ordinance also provides for a campaign to educate the public in fish eating.

The ordinance provides for the employment of a captain at not to exceed $150 a month, an engineer at not to exceed $100 a month and a cook at $80 a month. It also permits of the employment of fishermen and laborers at the customary wages paid for such services.

Kellahe plans to get the "Joseph Pulitzer" from the Port of Portland and use the boat for fishing purposes. He says that the Port of Portland commission should allow the city to use the boat without charge.

Kellahe told the council Wednesday afternoon that since the city has been in the fish business the market for fish is greatly enlarged and fish which formerly grieved the market is being sold readily now.

Non-Naturalized German Arrested

W. C. A. Kaach, Employed Within Restricted Waterfront District, Taken When He Discovers Warning.

William Charles Augustus Kaach, 25 years old, non-naturalized German, was arrested yesterday at his place of employment for being within the restricted waterfront zone for alien enemies.

He was warned to leave the restricted territory when the law prohibiting alien enemies from being on any docks or waterfront went into effect, but continuing to work on the advice of his employer, who said to the federal authorities at that time that Kaach was needed by the firm and could not be replaced.

Personal employment matters did not stand in the way of the federal government, however, and this morning Kaach was placed in the county jail. He faces internment.

MAXWELL, THE TAILOR

MAKER OF FINE CLOTHES
289 WASHINGTON ST.
PHONE MAIN 3153

PORTLAND, OREGON, Dec. 13, 1917.

AN OPEN LETTER

To My Friends and Patrons

The time is now at hand where a little good advice from AN OLD RELIABLE MERCHANT TAILOR will be appreciated by those who desire to have CLOTHES MADE TO ORDER FROM PURE WOOLEN GOODS of the GOOD old dyes.

You know as well as I do the situation of the cloth market. We cannot buy today PURE WOOLEN GOODS in open market in quantity. If we are able to get any kind of pure woolen cloth at all—we are asked 200 and 300 per cent more per yard. Most of the goods offered on the market today are nothing more than mercerized wool mixed with cotton and will not hold its shape or colors.

I wish to call your attention to the fact, AND I CAN PROVE THE SAME, that I bought the largest stock of PURE WOOLEN CLOTH that was ever brought to Portland—and this stock of woollens I bought in December of 1915—and ever since I was only able to pick up about 30 pure woolen suit patterns at the old prices.

I've still on hand between 650 and 700 suit and overcoat patterns—ALL of pure wool and of the GOOD OLD DYES—most of these goods are in staples including Blue and Black Serges. Fine Black and Blue Imported Unfinished Worsteds, Black French Drape for Dress Suits—Vicunas, Banker's Grey Worsteds—Thibets, Tweeds and Chevots.

I must assure you that I can easily sell out all my Woolen goods to tailors or even to the wholesale woolen houses at more than double the prices that I originally paid, but I would rather give my friends and patrons THE preference because they have stood by ME for these past 20 years.

Therefore I will sell these fine woollens made into suits and overcoats TO YOUR MEASURE AT THE SAME OLD PRICES that you've paid me in the past years.

You can still secure in my place an ALL PURE WOOL SUIT FOR $30 TO ORDER.

I still have quite a number of bolts and half bolts from which I can make you EXTRA TROUSERS and which gives DOUBLE LIFE to the wear of the suits.

I'm still fortunate to furnish good old serge linings and British Linen Canvas—which I bought also at that time.

Here is your chance to fill your wardrobe while the goods last as later on you'll be compelled to take what's offered—DONT DELAY.

Sincerely Yours,
MAXWELL, The Tailor.
