Society Girl Is On Way to Toronto

Miss Genevieve Brooke to Spend Christmas With Sister; Mrs. Lewis Is Recovering.

By Nona Lawler

MISS GENEVIEVE BROOKE left this morning for Toronto, Canada, to join her mother, Mrs. Edward Brooke, and pass Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Richard V. Look (Margaretta Brooke). Mrs. Brooke and her daughter passed the summer here, and Mrs. Brooke left for the East in the fall, accompanying her sister, Mrs. C. Hunt Lewis, to Mayo Bros.' hospital in Rochester, Minn., where Mrs. Lewis underwent an operation. Miss Genevieve Brooke remained here with Mrs. Lewis' children and has been here since that time. Mrs. Lewis is now home and is rapidly recovering.

The Irvington club will give an informal dance at the clubhouse Friday evening. Dancing will start promptly at 8:30. Much interest is being taken in this party and a large attendance is expected. Mrs. W. H. M. Drescher is chairman and will be assisted by Mesdames Ernest Allmen, Wallace Shearer, Sidney Rasmussen, Nagel Sealy and C. P. Scott.

The Ladies' Aid of Lincoln M. E. church, East Fifty-second and Lincoln streets, will give a bazaar and social Friday evening at 8 o'clock. There will be fancy work, cakes and other cooked dainties on sale and a program will be given, including a recitation by Miss Roma Gillihan and songs by the Franklin High School Girl's Glee club.

The Madeleine church in Irvington opened its bazaar Wednesday evening with a dinner at 6 o'clock. The women of the parish are in charge of the various booths and dinners are being served each evening under the direction of Mrs. T. J. Murphy. The bazaar will close Saturday evening.

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leonard Jeffers, 1077 East Davis street.

The Colorado society will meet Friday evening at W. O. W. hall at Tenth and Taylor streets.

Soldier Horsemen Will Participate

The Chamber of Commerce has been asked to encourage the military exhibition to be held at Camp Lewis on December 15 and 16 under the auspices of the remount depot for the benefit of the 35,000 troops of the Ninety-first division. Captain J. W. Jackson writes:

"Each organization of the division will take an active part both in the review and the general program during which the men of the remount depot service will put on exhibitions of western horsemanship. We do not believe a greater body of horsemen has ever been gathered together than we have in our 200 men, a large number of whom have competed annually in the great contests at Pendleton, Cheyenne, Miles City, California, Canadian and other similar events.

"Every effort is being made to make the exhibition of sufficient interest to the people of Portland and other cities of the northwest to warrant their coming here in very considerable numbers. Not only will it be interesting to them, but opportunity will be afforded to inspect entire Camp Lewis and visit with friends or relatives who may now be here in the service of the government."

MISS FRANCES GILL, who will take prominent part in a Christmas pageant, a dramatization of an old English house party at Christmas time, to be given Friday evening at Hotel Multnomah.

FRATERNAL NOTES

The annual homecoming of Samaritan lodge, I. O. O. F., was attended by a large number of members, their families and friends. The hall was occupied to capacity by a delighted audience as the program began. K. J. Nolan, past grand, made the opening address of welcome. Miss Bernice Helme gave a piano selection and encore. Miss Melba Brownrigg delighted the little folks with a recitation. G. A. Johnson, conductor of Samaritan lodge, made an address. A patriotic tableau, "Little Alice Brown," was participated in by a number of members and children. E. Malwyn Evans gave a recitation. Ralph Osvald, secretary of the lodge, operated the fish pond, which yielded the most wonderful catches to every fisher. Cards and dancing followed.

The members of Portland lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, Wednesday night elected R. T. Burns prelate to fill the unexpired term. The committee in charge of the dedication of the new temple at Fourth and Taylor streets will meet Sunday at 2 p. m. to make arrangements for that event.

Gresham camp, M. W. A., will hold an open meeting at that place Friday night to hear fraternal addresses by J. G. Tate, head auditor, and J. W. Simmons, state manager. Two moving picture reels will be shown at the theatre, and then the members of the M. W. A. will adjourn to their new hall for a stag social. The admission to the lectures and moving pictures will be a smiling face. Gresham camp has elected the following officers: C. S. Walrod, venerable consul; H. Bolhman, advisor; C. S. Lindquest, banker; C. S. McCormack, clerk; R. Kaser, escort; Fred Floos, watchman; L. Walrod, sentry; Alfred Hanna, manager.

The following officers of Cosmopolitan lodge, Knights of Pythias, were elected Monday night: H. Friedlander, chancellor commander; George Layman, vice chancellor; M. Crouse, prelate; A. G. Thompson, master of work; H. L. Born, keeper of records and seal; L. C. Otto, master of exchequer; W. S. Titus, master of finance; C. T. Smith, master at arms; J. H. Mayer, trustee; E. J. Gilson, inner guard; L. J. Stoops, outer guard. The lodge meets every Monday night in Ainsky hall.

The members of Star lodge, I. O. O. F., tonight will be hosts to Samaritan lodge, which will attend in a body and will put on the work of the third degree for a class of candidates. Many members of other lodges have been invited to attend this gathering of "three linkers" at Killingsworth and Union avenues and there is sure to be a large number of visitors. K. J. Nolan and a team of carefully instructed participants will deliver the important work in an impressive manner.

The second of the series of silver teas given by the Progressive Woman's league at the home of Mrs. Captain Nielson was well attended and quite an enjoyable affair. A part of the afternoon was devoted to the hemming of the tea towels for the soldiers. Mrs. E. Johnson received the prize for the best work. Mrs. Alice M. Shearer and Mrs. S. S. McGrew presided at the tea table. The next tea will be given at the home of Emily Potter Duke, 1227 East Lincoln street, December 21.

The auxiliary to Company F, Eighteenth railway engineers, will meet this evening in the tea garden of the Multnomah hotel. The affair will be in the nature of a social, with cards, dancing and other amusements. Light refreshments will be served. All members and their friends are urged to attend and join in the merrymaking.

Bed-Time Tales

BY DR WARREN C PARTRIDGE

The Secret of the White Visitor

YOU see everyone heard about the Strange Visitor or Ghost. And all hid in their houses, and didn't dare to put a foot on the ground. It was comical to see them all poking their heads out of their top windows and peeking about, to catch a sight of the monster!

But Teddy Possum was on the ground kicking up his heels, and laughing as if he would burst off all the buttons of his vest. And Mr. Wolf and Mr. Fox heard all that Teddy Possum said, and they tried to hide behind two trees, because they were so ashamed. But all the Little People saw Mr. Wolf and Mr. Fox slinking off into the woods, and Teddy followed them calling loudly, "Oh, you heroes! Don't be afraid of the little widow, Mrs. Peggy Porcupine! She is blind and she couldn't hunt. So don't run away in fear."

And Mr. Wolf and Mr. Fox were so angry and so ashamed that they didn't turn up for months, and no one shed a tear at their absence.

Teddy Possum made so much noise; and seemed so safe down on the ground, that many of the little people ventured out of their hiding places and crowded around Teddy Possum; and all cried together, "Teddy Possum, what's the joke? Do you know anything about the great White Monster, that's as big as an elephant. Tell us all you know!"

And Teddy Possum threw his little knowing head on one side and winked his left eye, and called out to all, "I was up in a tree and saw the whole business! He, He, He, Ha, Ha, Ha!"

And Jimmy Coon was awfully angry and blurted out, "I guess you would have laughed out of the other corner of your moth if you had seen what I saw. If course I was not so frightened as were Mr. Wolf and Mr. Red Fox!"

And again Teddy Possum exploded with peals of laughter at Jimmy Coon, saying, "I wish you all could have seen Jimmy Coon! Why, he was as white as a sheet with fear; and he sat down in the water of the brook; and was so scared that he sat as still as a bump on a log! He didn't have the spunk to get out of the water. And if I had blown a breath he would have fainted away!"

And everybody crowded around Teddy Possum, asking together, "Tell us quick, who is that big White Stranger who scares all the Little Folk in the Great Wood?"

"Well," drawled Teddy Possum, "if you really wish to know, I'll tell you the sober truth. It is a poor blind little widow, Mrs. Peggy Porcupine." And she lost her way, as she is stone blind; and she was stumbling around, trying to find her brother's house!"

And all the Little People shouted at the immense joke on Jimmy Coon. And Jimmy Coon was so angry he snorted, "I guess I know when I see a Ghost. Why Mr. Wolf and Mr. Red Fox would have been eaten alive, if it hadn't been for me!" And all shouted at Jimmy Coon's bragging.

Tomorrow—Jimmy Coon goes to see the widow, Mrs. Peggy Porcupine.

Red Cross Shop Extends Its Scope

Friendless Soldiers at Vancouver and American Lake Can Now Be Helped.

THE Red Cross shop is making itself useful in a variety of ways outside its regular sphere of activity. Friendless soldiers at Vancouver and American Lake can now be reached and helped through the medium of the shop. The adjutant general has furnished the management a list of all the boys who have no relatives or friends to send them home comforts, and who are not provided with even the sweaters and knitted things necessary for their warmth. Their suffering in camp is already considerable, and many of them are soon to sail for France, where their need for such garments will be increased a hundred fold. The many women who want to do patriotic knitting but have no son or husband who needs to be supplied can get at the shop the name of one of these boys and know that her work is going directly to the relief of a great and immediate need. Here is an opportunity also to send letters and Christmas packages that will be most welcome and heartily appreciated.

Another new departure at the shop which should prove most useful is the establishment of an information desk. Young men are constantly coming in to ask the address of the recruiting stations for the various branches of the service. Women often come to inquire for knitting directions. The answers to these and other similar questions will be kept on file so that the information may be promptly had from the lady at the "Information and Receiving Desk."

There are many calls for games—dominoes, checkers, puzzles, etc.—suitable for gifts to the boys at the cantonments. Donations of these will be much appreciated by the shop management, as there are numbers of women anxious to buy them for the pleasure of the men at the Hostess House in Vancouver and elsewhere.

Dolls, clothing and toys, old or new, continue to be the greatest general needs.

Raiders Find Whiskey

A soft drink and confectionery store, operated at 80 North Second street by Harry Fleming, was raided by Police Captain Jenkins, Sergeant Erwin and Patrolmen Green and Russell yesterday afternoon. A couple of spoonfuls of whiskey in a small bottle were found. Fleming was arrested. His bond was set at $3000, which he could not furnish.

They love to "dress up"

Once there was a Mother with three Babies. Said she, "I'll ruin the Children's best Dresses if I wash them. I'll wrap them up in Tissue Paper and put them on the Top Shelf in the Closet." So the Children wore Dark Gingham Jumpers and all the Neighbors said, "My, my, what grubby little Children. Stay in your own yard, Emily."

You can let your children wear their best fluffy dresses often. Keep their little flannels and sweaters white, and be proud of your children always.

You can keep the children's dresses fresh and clean without any chance of injuring them. Lux, the new soap product, will accomplish results you would scarcely believe possible. It actually won't shrink baby's flannels or woolens.

For all their best dresses

The clear, transparent flakes whip up into the thick sudsy lather that immediately dissolves the dirt without a bit of rubbing. The flakes dissolve perfectly, so there is not a particle of solid soap to yellow or weaken the fabric. If the little garments can be trusted to pure water they are safe with Lux!

Get a package at your grocer's, druggist's or at any department store. Try Lux on all your children's dainty clothes. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

How to wash fine fabrics and woolens

Fine fabrics—Whisk a handful of Lux into a thick lather in very hot water. Put in the sheer little dresses and petticoats. Let them soak for a few minutes. Then dip the garments through the creamy lather again and again. Do not rub. Any spots may be pressed between the hands. Rinse in three waters the same temperature as the water in which you washed them. Dry in the sun—(colored things in the shade.)

Woolens—Whisk the Lux flakes into a lather in boiling or very hot water. Put in your woolens and let them soak until the water is comfortable for the hands. Then work them about in the suds, but do not rub. Rinse in three waters the same temperature as that in which you washed them. Dissolve a little Lux in the last rinsing water; this leaves the woolens softer and fluffier. Dry in the sun—(Wash colored woolens in lukewarm suds, and dry in the shade.)
