

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES WILL BE PICTURED IN NEXT SUNDAY'S JOURNAL

New Offerings on the Screen and Stage

SERVICE
To serve thy generation, this thy fate:
'Written in water,' swiftly fades thy name:
But he who loves his kind does first and late,
A work too great for fame.
—Mary Clemmer.

RULE FOR LIVING

Give me, made lowly wise,
The spirit of self-sacrifice,
The confidence of reason given,
And in the light of truth
Thy bondman let me live.
—Wordsworth.

The Best Ever Barring None, Is Comment

"Turn to the Right" at the Heilig Arouses Enthusiastic Praise of Audience.

By Edna Irvine

THE man of the world on my left said "Turn to the Right," the comedy-drama at the Heilig Thursday night, "It's the best play I ever saw, bar none." And the gracious debutante just behind me exclaimed, "It's wonderful; it reaches the heart and I've had in a Portland playhouse." Thus, the comment runs. And thus it is. There are few, if any, plays that so arouse the sweeter emotions of humanity as intensely human; it portrays familiar intimate emotions. It is very real, very humorous, and very touching. It keeps one laughing and smiling; it reaches the heart and understanding of all people, and that, after all, should be the goal of art.

"Turn to the right" has its basis in the deep, Christian affection which a mother bears her erring boy—her only son—gone wrong through the lure of the race track and the wine cup.

One of the many splendid things about "Turn to the Right" is the perfect harmony between play and players. Seldom is a play produced in such charming completeness. The heart of the piece is in the part of Mother Bascom, delightfully played by Mabel Bert. Ralph Morgan's Joe Bascom was a perfect characterization. Philip Bishop made a great hit as Sam Martin, crack salesman of the peach jam syndicate. Barry McCormack and William Foran, as the two crooks who never knew what mother love meant until they found it in the bosom of the mother of their pal, were inimitable types. Helen Collier, Dorothy Betts and Ethel Itemy were perfectly natural girls, and, therefore, appealing.

Don't miss "Turn to the Right." It is probably the most human play on the stage today.

Lots of Laughs at Hippodrome

Funsters seemed to have everything their own way at the Hippodrome Thursday afternoon. A trio billed as Pearl Brothers and Burns in vaudeville vagaries carried headline honors. They burlesqued opera stars and did clever characterizations. A man of corpulent frame did the Hula Hula dance and a little man who presides at the piano during the act demonstrated vocal powers in a feminine voice. Also the main feature of the very clever sketch which was presented by James S. Devin and Leatta Miller, entitled "Just One Little Girl." Helen Collier, Jack Fox and Joe Evans, blackface comedians, have a line of songs and talk which entertains. They are a versatile pair. The three Xylofiends proved excellent entertainers, bringing melody out of glass bottles as well as the xylophone, the saxophone and the concertina. Acrobatic features have a prominent place in this week's bill, the program including a cyclista act by Chester B. Johnson company, and one of the Rivo Larson troupe of gymnasts, two men and two women. The photoplay feature was Gail Kane in "A Game of Wits."

City Clean-Up On Again

Fifteen women were gathered in by the police Thursday in North End raids when the clean-up campaign was reopened under orders from Mayor Baker and Chief Johnson. Bail of $500 was demanded in each case.

SESSUE HAYAKAWA, starring in "The Secret Game," a romance of the secret service, at the Columbia theatre, says of dramatic art: "It is the most difficult in the world—because, to succeed, you must never try to act."

Most Dangerous Parts Played by Women

Director Donald Mackenzie Calls Attention to Odd Thing About Motion Pictures.

"One of the odd things about motion pictures is that it is the only calling in life in which the most dangerous parts are played by the woman," said Donald Mackenzie, well-known director, recently. "Of course, when we have a woman plunge off a cliff, we have the hero, or villain, plunge after her, but you notice she has to pave the way. She has to go desperately, recklessly, blindly, to act her part well, but the man who follows her is a failure in the character he screens if he does not go cautiously. See the difference? She is the one left alone in the house that is set on fire. Of course, the hero who rescues her runs a risk, but not as great as hers. "I think I may safely say that while men have their venturesome deeds before the camera, there are 10 women risking their lives every day to one man in the motion picture game. Women seldom show fear. It is a part of the game, you know. But I must say that women are braver than they are credited with being. I take off my hat to them every day."

Wounded Soldier Wants Agent Job

Who will aid a wounded French soldier? The victim of the Kaiser's bullets is now in a hospital in France. He has written to Mayor Baker for aid in securing a position as foreign representative of an American business firm. He expects to leave the hospital soon and he asks that he be given the job of representing a "manufacturer of paper for newspapers and for printers and publishers."

Benefit Will Be Given For Engineers

Axa Paget to Supervise Dances at Event to Be Given at Lincoln High.

THE following program will be given for the benefit of Company C, 116th Engineers, at Lincoln high school auditorium, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock: Selection—Lincoln High School Orchestra (Directed by Carl Denton). (a) "Soldiers' Chorus" (b) "Keep the Home Fires Burning" (Directed by W. H. Rogers). Monologues—"Sunshine" (Edna May Bush) "Smiling" (Mabel Bert) "Madre" (Kathryn Brandeb). Perdan Slave—Ruth Bromberg. Buttery—Elizabeth Bromberg. Dragon—Miss Marie Walker. Prelude—C. Marie Walker. (a) "Song of the Moon" (b) "Love's Freedom" (Lyric and music by E. Franklin Walker). Mrs. Ray is in charge. Reading—"Sarah" (Edna May Bush) "The Land of Hope and Glory" (Dugan) "Invictus" (Otto Wedemeyer, Baritone). Ushers—Boy Scouts.

FRATERNAL NOTES

Oregon assembly No. 1, United Artisans, Thursday night had the large hall at W. O. W. temple crowded with members and guests. At the closed session a class of 18 was initiated and 17 applications were received. At the open session short addresses were made by Mayor George L. Baker, Dr. J. Francis Drake, Judge William A. Gansen, Dr. Eschelman and others. A silver dinner service of 39 pieces was presented by the assembly to Fred W. German, retiring master of the assembly. Mrs. Jennie Smith, district deputy, who has been instrumental in placing over 300 new members under the protection of Oregon assembly, was given a handsome traveling bag and a hearty Godspeed for her campaign now opened in The Dalles. Dancing followed.

The M. W. A. Christmas roundup will be held at the hall of the fraternity, Eleventh street near Stark, Saturday night, and will be in charge of Charles D. Jester, district deputy. R. W. Foster will preside over the meeting. A large class of candidates will be given the degree words by a large attendance of Charles D. Jester, district deputy, R. W. Foster will preside over the meeting. A large class of candidates will be given the degree words by a large attendance of Charles D. Jester, district deputy, R. W. Foster will preside over the meeting. A large class of candidates will be given the degree words by a large attendance of Charles D. Jester, district deputy, R. W. Foster will preside over the meeting.

Portland Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, is weary in hopes deferred of getting into its new temple. The temple is there—almost. It has all been finished but it is still waiting for the electric lighting accessories. Then it is the new hardwood dancing floor that has buckled. Then the glass is slow in arriving. First, the Katsides and the railroad rush. But the Moose expect now to be in and going by New Year's day.

Fram Assembly, United Artisans, Thursday night held an enjoyable basket social at M. W. A. hall on Eleventh street. J. S. Smith acted as emcee and baskets and all enjoyed the supper and dancing. Fram Assembly has arranged for a big class initiation on the night of January 1st. At least 30 or more citizens will be given the hand of fellowship.

Portland Star homestead, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Thursday night had a large attendance of visitors and members at its dance and card party in Moose hall, Royal building. Next Thursday night will be devoted to initiation. Mrs. Yetta Haines, the incoming correspondent and financier, has secured an office for headquarters on the second floor of the Aliski building, and the district deputies will make it their headquarters also.

The Eastern Star chapter of Oakland, O., has elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: Kathryn Dearling, worthy matron; James Bovingdon, worthy patron; Ruth Chenoweth, associate matron; Esthery Stearna, conductress; Byrde Easley, associate conductress; C. L. Chenoweth, secretary; T. B. Davis, treasurer.

Al Kader Temple, Mystic Shrine, will elect officers Saturday night at its stated session. A large attendance is expected. The Al Kader band will play in the open at the Masonic Temple as a summons to the faithful just before the portals are closed and the potentate calls the Shrine to order.

Representatives of the various lodges of the A. O. U. W. in this city are conferring with Grand Master D. C. Herrin, Grand Recorder Newton Clark and other grand officers with a view of so arranging affairs that a united effort to double the membership will be started immediately after the holidays.

The campaign for the Sunnyside Masonic Temple fund is progressing satisfactorily. A large attendance is expected. The Al Kader band will play in the open at the Masonic Temple as a summons to the faithful just before the portals are closed and the potentate calls the Shrine to order.

Mount Hood circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, Thursday night held a Christmas tree festival at headquarters building, Tenth and Taylor streets. A program was given that was greatly enjoyed and the tree yielded a variety of delightful fruit. E. S. Rutledge spoke in behalf of the Red Cross.

The second social party of the season was given by the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons at their Cathedral at Morrison and Lowndes streets Thursday night attended by members and their ladies exclusively.

The officers and members of Sumner post, No. 21, W. R. C., extend thanks to the public for the generous patronage given to the dinner and basket sale last week, the total net proceeds being $200.

W. J. Cole, a well known and active member of Portland Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, has been appointed local field worker for the order by Harry Millsap, national director.

MISS AXA PAGET, who will direct fancy dance at entertainment Saturday evening at Lincoln High.

TODAY'S AMUSEMENTS

FEATURE FILMS
COLUMBIA—Sixth between Washington and Stark. Marguerite Clark, in "Bab's Matinee Idol." 10:30 a. m. to 11 p. m.
LIBERTY—Broadway at Stark. Sasnie Hrynka in "The Secret Game." 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.
MAJESTIC—Washington at Park. Dustin Farnum, in "North of Fifty Three." 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.
PEOPLE—West Park at Alder. Elaine Hammerstein, in "The Co-Respondent." 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.
SUNSET—Broadway at Washington. Rex Beach, "The Barrier." 10 a. m. to 11 p. m.
STAR—Washington at Park. William Russell in "New York Luck." 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.
DRAMA
HEILIG—Broadway at Taylor. "Turn to the Right" comedy-drama. 8:15 p. m.
VAUDEVILLE
PANTALOONS—Broadway at Alder. Headliner, "The Honey Bee." Musical comedy, with Billy Rowland. Added attraction, the Truffled Sisters, musicians. 7:30, 7 and 9 p. m.
HARDY—Broadway at Yamhill. Headliner, Duvell and Miller in "Just One Little Girl." Photoplay feature, Gail Kane in "A Game of Wits." 7:30 and 9 p. m.
STRAND—Washington between Park and West Park. Vaudeville headliner, Jessie Sutcliffe and Co. in an aquatic novelty. Feature

Beauty Chat

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL

The Elevator Girl
Now that girls are taking the places of boys in the lesser lines of work, study should be given to the proper and appropriate uniform for them to wear while in the exercise of their duties.

Boys look tidier than girls for the reason of their short hair and masculine clothes—but girls can look as neat and be as clean as they are permitted to be. The first elevator girl I had the pleasure of seeing wore in the Woman's hospital in New York. There women do all the work except scrubbing and that is given to men to do, as should be the case always and everywhere.

The elevator girls at the hospital wear white uniforms the same as the nurses, but with different caps. A uniform could be designed for the girls who run the department score elevators that would be becoming and useful without appearing masculine. Many girls resent anything in the manner of a uniform, but they cannot prove a rational excuse for their objection. The days are at hand when women are obliged to take up all kinds of work that has been left by men who have gone into the army, and it is a splendid thing for the girls. There will be no excuse for idle, indolent, useless women who spend their lives wondering how they can acquire and spend money. Efficiency and action is the order of the day, and but two years of that will show a finer and better set of women than the world has.

Working clothes are of the greatest importance. The skirt and coat that are used in the place of business should never be used outside of it. If you do the work of boys who wore uniforms, a uniform should be furnished to you, equally appropriate. The elevator girl should have a neat, plain, dark blue or gray skirt, with pockets for her gloves, a jacket of the same color with a white collar and a cap to cover her hair, made of China silk, gathered around the edge with an elastic band. She should wear her gloves to protect her hands. The cap is essential, for the hair flying around gathers particles of dust and microbes of disease. What is it that makes a girl resent wearing a uniform for work? I have often wondered. It takes persuasion to make a waitress or chambermaid wear a cap. When I do housework—and I do quite a good deal of it—I am particularly careful to cover my hair first and then wear gloves to protect my hands.

There is a splendid thing to bring out the capabilities of the girls of today. Many would continue to live on the belief that to do nothing is ladylike. To be ladylike is to be nothing and know less. Be womanly and you stand a chance of being queenly. The highest place to which a girl may attain is the throne of perfect womanhood. And that throne is not reached over a path of ease and plenty.

The path to that goal is rough and full of pitfalls. It takes a sturdy mind and much love of humanity and justice to pass over it. Selfishness must be forgotten in good deeds. Selfishness and service are the beacon lights to lead you there. And when you reach the state of perfect womanhood nothing can touch you. You can do any and all kinds of work with a laugh. It won't matter what you wear while working, so long as it protects you from contact with the outer influences that are flying about in proximity.

So, dear girl, go about your work with a brave heart, doing it as nearly right as you can. Keep your mind free from dissatisfaction and your body as clean as you possibly can. Many an elevator boy has attained wealth. Why shouldn't you have the same chance to attain that perfect pinnacle of real womanhood? It isn't work that hurts the woman—it is usually the lack of it that does the damage.

photography, George Walsh in "The Pride of New York." STOCK OFFERINGS
BAKER—Broadway between Morrison and Alder. The Alcazar Players in "Too Many Husbands." Evening, 8:30.
LYRIC—Fourth at Stark. Musical comedy, "The Merry Liars," with Ben Dillon and Al Lewis. Matinee, 2:30 p. m. Evening, 7:15 and 9 o'clock.

totally wrecked house valued at 100,000 francs. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

War Work

The following cablegram has just been received by the American Red Cross from the Paris headquarters of the organization:

A report from — announces the American Red Cross opening a children's dispensary Tuesday in a garage which is now the American Children's hospital. The hospital was opened 10 days earlier with 70 beds and is already overcrowded with diphtheria, measles, and whooping cough cases. The American doctors twice daily examine an average of 250 children arriving from behind the German lines and send contagious cases to the American hospital. Every contagious case thus stopped may mean an epidemic prevented somewhere in France. An American dentist has opened a dental dispensary in the old kitchen with a dental chair improvised from a wine barrel.

"Among the first dispensary patients was an underfed boy from Lens. His family of seven had been living two and a half years in the cellar under their frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

frances. The family was evacuated last April to Luxembourg and lived seven in one room, sleeping on straw. In the first week of the American dispensary over 2400 children were examined, more than 1900 being between the ages of three and 13 years.

"Eat oats," that is the advice given out by Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of home economics at the University of Oregon, in her desire to supply food substitutes for Oregon men and women in line with the national food conservation campaign. The new cereal food is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups. "Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and are cheaper than any other cereal at this time." According to Miss Tingle the hulled oats can be purchased at any feed store, and should be washed and soaked in cold water. Later they should be boiled in hot water and drained. They may then be served the same as rice, or used in any of the above mentioned ways.

The federal bureau of mines is opening its services to women as never before. Since the beginning of the war it has more than quadrupled its clerical force of women employed in the department of the interior at Washington. In addition to its regular force of stenographers, typists, filing clerks, etc., who work during the day, the bureau has been compelled to employ a night force, and this includes about 25

There Is One Gift

—that you can depend upon to please.
—that will surprise him or her.
—that will give a lifetime of service.

It's Feldenheimer Jewelry Selected From This List

- Diamond Wrist Watch
Necklace
Table Silver
Leather Novelty Clock
Cuff Links
Scarf Pins
Umbrella
Cigarette Case
Lodge Emblem Watch

Store Open Evenings Until Xmas
Mail Orders Will Receive Our Prompt, Personal Attention

A. & C. Feldenheimer

Jewelers, Silversmiths, Opticians
Estab. Since 1868
Washington Street at Park
Join the Red Cross

Give That VICTROLA to the family this Christmas

You have been planning every Christmas to surprise the folks with a VICTROLA—then why not make this one that long-promised Victrola Christmas? We have Victrolas to suit every purse—as low as $20, with a wide range of prices upward—$20, $30, $45, $57.50, $85, $110, $165, $215, $265 and up to $380. You have no idea how easy it is to have a Victrola—so many styles from which to choose and such easy payment terms.

Open Evenings
Dealers in Steinway and Other Pianos, Pianola Pianos, Victrolas and Records, Player Music, Music Cabinets, etc.

Sherman, Clay & Co.

Sixth and Morrison Streets (Opposite Postoffice) PORTLAND
Seattle—Tacoma—Spokane
Join the Red Cross Today.
A duty everyone owes to humanity.

Furs for Xmas

Largest and Most Complete Stock of Popular Priced FURS in the Northwest. Splendid assortment of Foxes, Wolves and Lynx—at very reasonable prices.

Hudson Bay Fur Co.

EXCLUSIVELY FURS
147 Broadway, near Alder

BUY A PUDDING

Plum Pudding

The Christmas Treat
FRUIT PUDDING
FIG PUDDING
Good every day in the year
15c and 25c. All Grocers.
More reasonable than they can be made at home.

AMUSEMENTS

SEASON'S BEST PLAY

HEILIG Broadway at Taylor
Tonight, 8:15 TOMORROW NIGHT
SPECIAL PRICE
Mat. Tomorrow, 2:15

MICHAEL SMITH & JOHN L. GOLDEN
PRESENT THE COMEDY-DRAMA

TURN to the RIGHT

A PLAY OF Love, Laughter, Thrills
Evening—Floor 11 rows, $2; 7 rows $1.50
Gallery $1, 75c, 50c. Gallery 50c
SAT. MAT. $4.50, $1.00, 75c, 50c
TICKETS NOW SELLING.

Orpheum

Next Week—McINTYRE & HEATH, Matt Travers and Bessie Douglas, Max Kleiser, Bill Helms, Helms and Matt, and The Ho Gray and Ada Summerville, 3 Misses Stewart, ALEXANDER KIDS.

NOTE! NO SHOW WED. NIGHT

BAKER ALCAZAR PLAYERS

Tonight—All Well—Mat. Saturday
Auctioneering
"TOO MANY HUSBANDS"
One Continuous Screen of Laughter
Prices: 25c, 50c, 75c. Sat. Mat., 25c, 50c
Office hours, 11 to 12:30 p. m.
"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

PANTAGES

MAT. DAILY 2:30
"HONEY BEES."
With Billy Browning and Host of Pretty Girls
FIVE OTHER BIG ACTS
Three performances daily. Night curtain at 7 and 9.

LYRIC MUSICAL

Mat. Daily, 10c. Night entertainers, 15c, 25c
Dillon & Franks, Comedians.
The pretty Hostess Chorus and the Lyric Musical Comedy Company in
THE MERRY LIARS
CHORUS GIRLS' CONTEST TONIGHT