CHILDREN ARE TO TAKE PART

Music Has Received Careful Attention, and Will Be Featured at All of the Services.

The Yuletide has come again, bringing with it its wonted glorious significance and universal celebrations. The significance is greater this year probably than ever before. With elaborate ceremonies the Yule tide spirit will be voiced through sermons, prayers, music and entertainments n Portland churches on Sunday and Christmas Eve. Both will reflect the holiday atmosphere through carefully elaborately arranged programs, Music has received special attention and will be featured at all the services. Entertainments have been planned for both children and the adults, and the pomp and ceremony will embody Christmas cheer and sentiment.

Following are the announcements the various churches:

First Presbyterian

At the First Presbyterian church, Rev John H. Boyd, D. D., will preach both morning and evening and there will be special Christmas music. The subjects special Christmas music. The subjects of both services will pertain to the Christmas season and Christmas les-son: At 10:30 a. m., Dr. Boyd will preach on "The Advent of Christ and the Duty of the Present Hour." The choir will sing several an-Hour." The choir will sing several an-thems accompanied by a string quintet consisting of four violins and a cello. The anthems are: "Hail to the Lord's Annointed," Shackley; "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear." Scott: "Hark, the Hosts of Heaven Are Singing." Schnecker. Edgar E. Coursen will pre-side at the organ and play as a prelude "A Christmas Revery" by Parker. At 7:30 p. m. Dr. Boyd will preach on "The Christmas Hope of a World at Peace." The Sunday school orchestra will play two pleces under the leader-ship of William Bittle Wells with Mr. Coursen at the organ. The choir will Spence; "Hymn of the Nativity." Stewart; "Cra-died in a Manger." Schnecker; "O Lit-tle Town of Bethlehem." Marzo. In the Sunday school, each department will have exercises appropriate to the day with Christmas songs and lessons and Christmas stories. In the primary department there will be an illustrated talk on Christmas. In the junior de-partment Mrs. A. B. Slauson will tell a Christmas story, "Why the Chimes Rang." In the sepior room the or-chestra will play and James F. Ewing will tell a Christmas offering of the whole Sanday school goes to the aid of chil-dren in Armenia and Belgium who are in want on account of the war.

The Sunday school of Central Presby-terian church will give its annual Christmas entertainment on Monday evening when contributions of money, clothing and provisions for the Visiting Nurse association will be donated. A special sacrificial offering will be taken Sunday morning for the Presby-terian foreign mission fund, demands upon which have been greatly enhanced by war conditions.

the morning at 11 o'clock there will be Christmas music, with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Edward Constant, on the following topic, "A Christmas Salutathe Bethlehem birth, as all the centuries called "A. D." are but the tribute to that unique birth, and all the coming eternity will be expository of the in-finite effects of the Christ birth. At night Dr. Hinson will preach on "The Second Coming of Christ." The Sunday school of this church unanimously voted to bring gifts rather than receive them, and the entire re-turns from their special Christmas en-tertainment, with their gifts, will be do-nated to the suffering children of Ar-menia. following topic, "A Christmas Saluta-tion." In the evening at 7:30 there will be an interesting Christmas concert. There will be carols, anthems by the choir, vocal solos, instrumental selections and literary numbers. The program, which will be varied and pervaded by the sea-son's joyous spirit, will also include a short address on "The Story of a Christ-mas Carol." This address, like others which the pastor has been giving on Sunday nights, will be found aglow with practical vitality and sunny enthusiasm. Warmth and cheer will be evident in all the services of the day.

First Congregational A splendid program of Christmas music has been arranged by the choir of the First Congregational church, and will be given both morning and evening on Christmas Sunday. Superintendent A. J. Sullens will preach at both services in the absence of Dr. Dyott who is ill.

Waverly Heights Congregational Waverly Heights Congregational The Christmas program to be given by the Sunday school and choir of the Waverly Heights Congregational church at 7 p. m. Sunday is as follows: Song, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear." Invocation. Dust, "Silent Night".--Miss Eva Nelson and Mrs. H. H. Harris. Scripture lesson. Solo, "Christmas Message'-E. H. Walters. Song. "A Lamp Within a Stable." Selection, "The Message of the Holly".--Edna Bird. in the absence of Dr. Dyott who is ill. A Christmas social was given in the parlors of the First Congregational church on Friday evening, by the mem-bers of the Bible school. For many years it has been the custom of this school to have a tree with presents and baskets for those less fortunate, but this year, having in mind President Wilson's ap-peal on behalf of the Armenian chil-dren, the entire collection was given to this 'cause. The evening proved most successful, financially and socially. ed. Selection, "I Think When I Read"-Primary
