-Whittier.

Joan the Woman

Is Declared

Film Epic

A TRULY wonderful photo-spectacle is "Joan The Woman," the Christmas offering at the Liberty theatre. It represents perfection in the art of motion picture spectaculars. It is a monreincarnation theory, whereby a young

British soldier "Somewhere in France," about to volunteer for a duty which means death, sees Joan's spirit, and hears heer say that the time has come for him to explate the wrong he did her in ancient years. Then the story of who repaid her generosity in freeing him twice from his captors, by betraying her

Geraldine Farrar gives a tremendous impressive characterization of Joan

No less impressive are the portrayals of worth, Tully Marshall and Charles Clary.

The battle scenes are especially note worthy, and the musical score by Wil liam Furst, with its constantly recurring

theme of the "Marselliaise" adds no repertoire of songs. On the same bill are Three Melody Girls, who are equally diverting and entertaining. "On the Ladder of Success" is a comical little affair, sponsored by Loraine and Mitchell. It was a laughing hit with act comprised yodeling, singing, dancing, a clever line of patter, and a few other odds and ends that amused. Balancers of skillful method are the Dudley

Trio. Ethel Clayton in "Easy Money" is

A spectacular hand-to-hand balancing assurance and just as good results.

Denver and Minch, in a high-class act of singing, "joke-smithing," and dance imitations; Allaire, club-swinger, and The Turners, in a roller skating exhibition featured by high and broad jumping conclude, the vaudaville means.

favorites and versatile ones, too.

the photoplay feature.

little to the enjoyment of the spectacle

Wallace Reid as Eric Trent. Theodor Roberts. Raymond Hatton, Hobart Bos

to the Duke of Burgundy.

Mew Offerings on the Screen and Stage

Old Favorites Are Strong As Ever

McIntyre & Heath Lead Bill of Unstinted Enjoyment at Orpheum Theatre.

By Edna Irvine

THOSE perennial favorites, McIntyre and Heath, lead the bill of unstinted enjoyment at the Orpheum this week. In "On Guard,"—James McIntyre as a colored washerwoman of flirtatious mien and sartorial investiture that startles and Tom Heat as Tim Trigger, a regular "nigger"—gave forth volleys of spon-taneous talk that fairly convulsed their Dearers. These two have a grip on their audiences that makes one believe in per in it. you have chanced to have dined vell, you may see six of those Alexander kids, instead of only three. And if you do. it will be a treat, for those kiddies are sure winners. They give a most amusing effair of their own with dances and songs and quick changes that are original and most diverting. A jolly little skit, presenting the fascinating stranger raising the mortgage and saving the working girl and her sick mother, is "Meadowbrook Lane," with Noel Travers and Renie Douglas featured. Rae Eleanor Ball, billed as the princess of the violin, lives up to the titling. The three Misses Stewart pleased with a nifty dancing act. Henry Sylvester and Maida Vance pleased in a satirical comedy with songs, "Get Out of the Theatre," written by Willard Mack. Bee Ho Gray and Ada Summerville closed the show with a rope-throwing and trained

New Thrills in "The Warrior" The first conclusion one reaches after seeing "The Warrior" at the Peoes theatre is that Douglas Fairbanks has a rival. And a likely one at that. He is Ernesto Pagani, better known as Maciste, the giant slave of "Cabiria." Though at least three times the size of Fairbanks, he goes up the side of house with the same speed and ease nd seems to extract the same amount of enjoyment in his playing. To see a man toss his enemies about as if they were infants and hurl half a dozen of them through an open window without the slightest effort is to get There are other thrills in "The Warrior," however. It is a vivid story for the cause of justice and is replete with scenes of Alpine warfare that are startling in their sheer audacity. There is a thread of romantic interest that runs through the series of exciting incidents. But, towering above alr, is the picturesque and huge figure of the Italian giant, Maciste. It is enough to have seen him.

Mary Pickford at Star

In "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" at the Star theatre, we have Mary Pickford as a creature of fire and daw, and yet forever transparently nocent and ingenuous. So completely does the star characterization of Rebecca dominate the picture that one resents the intrusion of even the slightst bit of plot; one would rather see Rebecca leap from rug to rug, like Eliza crossing the ice, so as to keep from slipping on the polished floors. And her soap selling campaign to accumulate enough premiums to get a banquet lamp for a poor family is immensely funny as is her feud with Minnie Smellie, the parsons daughter. There are comedies which make people laugh because they show situa-Rebecca arouses memory laughter over things which have happened and been forgotten.

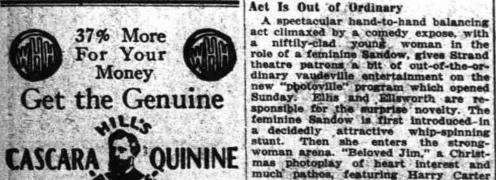

Mary Pickford is admirably supported by Eugene O'Brien as Adam Ladd, millionaire, and Josephine Crowell, as the crabbed maiden aunt. Others in the cast are Helen Jerome Eddy, Marjorie Daw, Violet Wilkie and Mayme

"Polly of the Circus" at Sunset "Polly of the Circus," scenarioized from her own play of the same name by Margaret Mayo, is at the Sunset theatre. That wistful little lady of the films, Mae Marsh, is Polly, and a most loveable Polly, too. However, it is the story and fidelity of circus enes that is emphasized in the production, rather than the star. As the and we find him as the original Eric, camera follows Polly through her visaitudes to the final triumph of love and faith, the combined spell of Miss Marsh's wonderful acong and the re-markable photography and lighting and the sympathetically interwoven subtitles stir the spectator deeply. There is pathos and many dramatic moments while the little girl from the "big tops" tries to understand the new world of a small town, where fate and a fall from her circus horse has marooned her. The circus scenes, the parade, the country fair race, where Polly wins $600 to help her old circus pal, Toby the clown, back to health—all are pictorially unique and immensely ef-fective.

Strong Moral Lesson Taught

A strong moral lesson is taught prodigal young men in "The Pool Room," the featured number on the vaudeville bill at the Hippodrome. Dealing with one of the audience. Leever and Le Roy were the biggest sociological problems of the times, this dramatic sketch of the underworld is based on the experience of every young man whose feet stray from the beaten path of righteousness. The Anglelus Trio are three young men of leasing personality who present a fine

NID BENNETT, Australian star of the screen, whose rise to fame has been meteoric. Miss Bennett is one of Thomas H. Ince's wonder girls, whoe elevation to stardom has been induced by the consideration of beauty first. Miss Bennett was recently seen here in "They're Off," a racing comedy, in which she appeared to advantage in racing silks.

ionable dressmaking establishment. and said in a hard, cold voice: "Well, Portland Symphony orchestra and the most elegant fur coats in the world. And The salesladies were looking over their where is Miss Brown? Are my gowns organist did splendidly. Carl Denton was of course these woodfolk wear out stock of importations. The little girls ready? Well, well, well, well, well, well "The girls concert master, and Mr. Goodrich was their clothing; and they have to get new were arranging the novelties in the show rushed about to call Miss Brown, bumped at the organ. cases. Fans, handbags and dainty lace into her at the door and all was a collars were arranged in picturesque flurry until the gruff lady was installed after paying exproups surrounded by a glorious rose in the fitting room. "My things are not leave a very sma or an orchid. All was harmonious until here! What does this mean; I never the manager came forward with her heard of such treatment. I will never appointment book: "Miss Brown, your come here again."

The gross red After paying explanation of the customer, Mrs. Black, will be here at 10 o'clock for her fitting. You had better have the lightest room ready. You know what you will get from her if you are She was promptly shut up by her with Written for Wormer. not ready, and see that Miss Murphy has a request for her knitting bag, out of her dress ready."

oh' that little nervous bride, Miss Bell, whose trousseau we are making. She is a vixen—well, you surely have a pleas-ant morning to look forward to. I don't envy you, dear, cheer up. Things will be worse before they are better." As Miss Brown rushed up to hurry Miss Murphy, the fitter, the girls called after her: "I am glad I haven't your job-some fine morning for you. Brace yourself and say a prayer, dear—you will need a half holiday when 1 o'clock comes. Such was the reputation of the two customers that every one stood in fear of the irritation which they never took the trouble to conceal, but rather vented upon anyone who happened to be doing anything for them, from the house maid and chauffeur to the manicure and dressmaker. Many women are of the opinion that to fight through the world ument of the genius of its director, Cecil is far more satisfactory than to go B. DeMille. It is an epic of the films, through harmoniously. Their idea is to Joan's story follows with considerable start battle at once and start it strong accuracy the historic record of Jeanne that there is no use for anyone to give d'Arc, but the author has linked the past with the present by a suggestion of the ers and abettors of their personal attractions as menials of the lowest order. And to them worse than that. "Here she comes, girls." The page opened the

RedCrossAiding 20,000 French Children

Relief Work in War-Stricken Country Being Done by Americans.

THERE are 20,060 children in Franc at the present time receiving Amer ican Red Cross assistance, according to a cablegram just received from the Paris headquarters of the Red Cross. Com-plete medical care is being extended to 700 of this army of children, while dispensary medical care claims 3060 patients. Orphans and other children who are aided by the Red Cross directly or indirectly account for the remainder. Five hundred children per day, for instance, receive medical attention at the point of repatriation for nationals of France who are being returned from ehind the German lines. The relief of suffering among children with the care and education of destitute children, embraces one of the principa abroad. At one point in the war zone in France a children's refuge and hospital has been opened, where several hundred sponsible for the surprise novelty. The just to keep them out of danger of gas feminine Sandow is first introduced in a decidedly attractive whip-spinning the wrecked villages there is a medical a decidedly attractive whip-spinning stunt. Then she enters the strong-woman arena. "Beloved Jim." a Christmas photoplay of heart interest and much pathos, featuring Harry Carter and Priscilla Dean, and six acts of lished in response to an urgent appeal from leaders of the French Red Cross. vaudeville, comprising the fourteenth from leaders of the French Red Cross, transcontinental road show. Bob Lee keeps his houses in excellent humor with the conditions found villages looted and his magical nonsense. Lee's added specialty is chatter. The Columbia Trio, harmony boys, attack musical instruments, chiefly the banjo, with perfect of them without medical care. These assurance and turn of them without medical care. These children, of course, were miserably dirty. Half of them were infected with skin or eye lesions. Many of them were seriously ill.

No effort is being spared by the American Red Cross in its work among the door and in walked Mrs. Black, stately, dignified and with a frown upon her brow. She glanced about her quickly and said in a hard, cold voice: "Well, tle girl rushed to hurry up the fitter, who was 10 minutes late at that moment. Time passed, and finally the fitter and saleslady appeared together fearfully, with apologies and a couple of concocted stories to appease the wrath of the waiting customer. They were met by the bad tempered woman with a smiling face, a new face to them, "See, I have knitted two whole inches while over in France." Something had hap-pened in her life and it had changed her. Her fittings went on in an entirely different manner than was the usual cus tom. The saleslady and fitter hardly the front of dared speak to one another until she had abandonment. ence. Then they looked at each other and wondered. Miss Brown said: "What the war. can it be? It was like a dream." well, remember, Miss Murphy, you will be awake all right when your little bride gets here. She will cut up some tantrum, for I am not quite ready for her.' Just then the little bride appeared at the door. Miss Brown saw her from and patience. the window and cried: "It's all right, Miss Murphy, she has her knitting with her. God bless her!"

Tomorrow-Hat Box Holidays.

AMUSEMENTS

FEATURE FILMS COLUMBIA—Sixth between Washington and Stark. Jack Pickford in "Tom Sawyer." 10:30 s. m. to 11 p. m. LIBERTY—Broadway at Stark. Geraldine Farrar in "Joan the Woman." 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. MAJESTIC—Washington at Park. Mae Marsh Dec. 24.—(I. N. S.)—The number of Gerin "The Cinderella Man." 11 a. m. to 11 man measies cases here increased during to the p. m.
PEOPLES—West Park at Alder. Maciste in "The Warrior." 11 a. m. to 11 p. m.
SUNSET—Broadway at Washington. Mae Marsh in "Polly of the Circus." 10 a. m. Marsa in Foldy to 11 p. m.

STAR — Washington at Park. Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." 11 a. m.
to 11 p. m.

VAUDEVILLE

ORPHEUM—Broadway at Taylor. Headliner, Meintyre and Heath in "On Guard," Extra attraction, the Alexander Kids. Matinee, 2:15 p. m.; evening, 8:30 p. m.
PANTAGES—Broadway at Alder. Headliner,
"The Beasts and the Fairy," featuring Marguerite and her trained leopards and punas.
Added attraction, Olga Arlova and dancers. 1
p. m., continuous.

Added attraction, Viga at 10 and 10 p. m., continuous.

HIPPODROME — Broadway at Yamhill. Headliner, "The Poulroom," dramatic sketch.
Photoplay feature, Ethel Glayton in "Easy Money." 1 p. m., continuous.

STRAND—Washington between Park and West Park. Vaudeville headliner, The Turners, fancy skaters. Feature photoplay, Priscilla Lonesome Pine." Evening, 8:20; matinee, Park. Vaus. Factorial Fact

BAKER—Broadway between Morrison and Alder.
The Alexar Players in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Evening, 8:20
LYRIO—Fourth at Stark. Musical comedy,
"Mustard Kings," with Ben Dillon and Al
Franks. Daily matinee, 2:30 p. m. Evenings,
7:15 and 9 o'clock. To Cure a Cold in One Day

Absolutely Removes Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets. Druggists refund money if it falls to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 30c. (Adv.)

OREGON GRILLE Christmas Dinner Dew Dear's Ebe. $1.50 PER PLATE December 25

Do not wait until the last minute to, make your reservation as you may be disappointed. As soon as all tables are reserved we will stop the sale of reserva-tions, and on New Year's Eve no one will be admitted to the Grille without reservation tickets of admission.

Festival Chorus Is Heard In Oratorio

Handel's "The Messiah" Other Numbers Form Program at Auditorium.

By J. L. Wallin HANDEL'S oratorio, "The Messiah," cessfully but never on as elaborate scale as Sunday afternoon when the Portland Music Festival association gave its first annual Christmas concert, with W. H. Boyer directing.

It was at the Auditorium and the attendance while not equal to the capacity of the huge structure, was gratifying and indicative of the fact that there still exists ample interest in oratorio to warrant the no small task of assembling the forces required for the production that the composer had in mind. About 1650 were present.

The chorus, not as large as the festival in July when it numbered 250, did splendidly. This time the voices numbered about 115. In addition to the oratorio, which by the way was not sung in its entirety, other numbers were given, among these organ solos by Frederick W. Goodrich, and a baritone solo by George Hotchkiss Street, who sang as a tribute to Red Cross Novello's popular "Keep the Home Fires Burning," with chorus. It won an ovation.

The program opened lelssohn's beautiful hymn, "Hark the Herald Angel Sings," sung gloriously by the chorus. Then followed "Adeste Fideles," for chorus, orchestra and organ, and after a group of emertaining organ solos, Franz Gruber's familiar "Silent Night, Holy Night," by chorus, a capella, which after all, is the acme of vocal music. The selections from the oratorio formed the second half of the program and the soloists were Pauline Miller inson, contralto; George Wilber Reed, tenor, and Mr. Street, baritone. All were in fine voice and sang recitatives anced. "For unto us a child is born," plause almost warranted a repetition. The orchestra of 28 members from the

After paying expenses this sum will leave a very small margin towards wiping out the $700 deficit incurred druing to Own Sex in Series of Ten Commandments They Should Follow. New York, Dec. 24.-(I. N. S.) new decalogue of war for women has very nice little cane I could sell you; just been announced by Dr. Anna and here's one kid glove, which I picked Howard Shaw. It reads: "Do not chatter.

"Do not listen to alarmists, to slack I was waiting. It's for my son, who is ers or to those who would spread discouragement. Silence them. "Be moderate in your spending "Encourage national industry.

"Do not look upon the departure to the front of those dear to you as an "Do not complain of the difficulties annoyances and privations caused by

"Multiply your activities "Exhibit day by day and hour by hour the same courage a man shows on the field of battle. "No matter how long the struggle may last, await victory with strength

"If you are stricken in your dearest affections, bear your sorrow nobly."

Measles Increases At American Lake

Nearly 200 New Cases Are Reported for Deaths Among Soldiers on Duty There. I couldn't run in such tight pants!"

ing the past week, according to the weekly report issued by Lieutenant Colo-Mae nel D. C. Smith, division sanitary in-The report says that most of the case were from organizations that had not previously been quarantined and that the cases were scattered. There were four deaths, one cerebro spinal meningitis, two from acute lobar pneumonia and one from anapylaxis in scarlet fever case. Of the new cases of disease reported, there were three of cerebro spinal meningitis, 272 of German measles, six of pneumonia, 14 of scarlet fever, three of mumps and two of diptheria. The strength of the camp is given at 35,000 the most economical coffee you can buy.

BACKED-BY-A-GUADANTEE THAT MEANS SOMETHING

IN-THE-FIVE-POUND-SIZE

25 CENTS

Pretty Girls and New Auxiliary

"Mustard Kings," With Mike Women at Mabel Enter Into Red and Ike in Star Roles,

Kings." this particular brand consisting principally of fun, catchy musical hits and pretty girls in new and dainty costumes. That it reached the palates of the audience Sunday was evidenced by the generous rounds of applause and the constant outbursts of hearty laughter that greeted the sallies of our friends Mike and Iko (Dillon and Franks) who appear as a couple of very important Mustard Trust operators in Europe, introducing their wares and trying at the same time to mingle pleasure with business. They engage a dining room and give what is intended to be a grand banquet. It does not end exactly as planned but met the de-sires of the audience to a dot and had more the appearance of a first class riot. Among the songs introduced is one that ought to bring many Portlanders to the Lyric this week as it was written by Frank Hennessey and W. J. Carkeek two well known business men of the city. It is "Soidier Boy, Soldier Boy, Goodbye," and it scored many encores. The management wishes to announce that the regular Tuesday joined and a branch of the Mabel aux-country store added feature will be staged Wednesday this week and that Tuesday's performances will be continuous all afternoon and evening. Next week a midnight matinee will be given New Year's eve.

Bed Time Tales

Chapman, soprano; Virginia S. Hutch- Hard to Fit Pants to Peter Rabbit YOU couldn't guess who the Store-keeper was! Perhaps you didn't know that they had second-hand clothing and arias impressively. The chorus re-vealed enthusiasm and was well bal-must remember that all the wood folk wear clothes; and many of them like was given so effectively that the ap- Mr. Red Fox, Jimmy Coon, Mr. Beaver, Mr. Mink, Mr. Otter, Sammy Muskrat and their wives and children wear the suits. And they must be in style The gross receipts aggregated $650, just as we must be. And so it pays to have a second-hand or ready-to wear clothing store in the great forest. And Jimmy Coon took Peter Rabbit

M LLE. ROZIKA REIN-GOLD, recently re-

Pantages circuit, is visiting her mother, Mrs. B. Reingold.

turned from a tour on funny voice, "Peter Rabbit, I have very nice little cane I could sell you

"Oh, Peter Rabbit, don't be so fussy," son was 45 years old.

Catchy Songs At Lyric

Offers Lots of Fun.

to the most stylish tailor to be found.

The storekeeper's name was Mr. Jim keeper; but he had a very nice assort-ment of second-hand clothes and other Written for Women things. You remember that Jim Crow's a great collector. Why, Jim Crow went things. You remember that Jim Crow's around like a rag picker, and picked up all the bright and curious things he Dr. Anna Howard Shaw Gives Advice could find for his store.

Now it was indeed funny to hear Jim Crow speak up in his hoarse and up last week in town; and I'll sell both at a great bargain. And you really need this cane and this pretty glove!"
And Little Peter Rabbitt replied, "Mr. Jim Crow, how do you suppose I'd look walking along the little winding path, with a cane and one glove, and wearing no pants! You must find me a pair of

And Mr. Jim Crow pulled over all his lothes; and finally he said, "Peter Rabbit, I've found at last, just what you want! Here, look at this. You say you ike green. Here is a beautiful garment. It's as fine as silk. I have just one left in stock, and it's all the rage!" And little Peter's eyes sparkled with delight, as Mr. Jim Crow held up this handsome shining garment! So little Peter tried on the fine green garment. It was a very tight fit indeed. And Jimmy Coon had to help little Peter

And Jim Crow was bubbling over with

"Mr. Jim Crow, I just dote on green pants! But this is too tight; I couldn't run in such tight pants!

exclaimed Mr. Jim Crow. "What do you care if the pants are too tight. I tell you they're all the style. And comfort s nothing in clothes! You must be in style! My advice to you is, to buy that garment at once, before some stylish chap snaps up that great bargain!" "Alright," said Peter Rabbit, "I'll take that garment for one trouser leg. Now find me three more for my other three legs!"

Tomorrow-Jimmy Coon Helps Peter Rabbit at the Second-Hand Store.

Crawfordsville Man Dies at S. P. Station Brownsville, Or., Dec. 24 .- At the Southern Pacific station here Saturday morning, Henry Johnson of Crawfords-ville, bought a ticket for Portland and then fell dead. Mr. Johnson had driven excitement and remarked, "Why, Peter with his wife and daughter from Craw-Rabbit, it fits you like the paper on the wall! I never saw a better fit in all my o'clock train for Portland, which place he was to spend the holidays. He trans-But Peter was so tight in this gar- acted some business in town, and at Nearly 200 New Cases Are Reported for Week at Camp Lewis, With Four Deaths Among Soldiers on Duty There.

But Peter was so tight in this garacted some business in town, and at ment that he could hardly breathe and he said to Mr. Jim Crow, "I just dote he must have caught cold in his chest, on green pants! But this is too tight; as there was some pain there. At the ticket window he collapsed. Mr. John-

Waring listein 3

Branch Is Big Success

Cross Work With Great Enthusiasm.

RIGHT in line with the season, The Lyric is offering a very tasteful concoction entitled "The Mustard Cross, was launched on its career at an enthusiastic organization meetir on November 7. The ladies of Mabel represented by Mrs. J. P. VanOrsdel. met with immediate response to their plea for the establishing of the branch All present replied by payment of membership dues at once, or

Then followed the election of officers by acciamation: Mrs. J. P. VanOrsdel, chairman; Mrs. G. R. Dingle, vicechairman; Mrs. Whiting Alden, secretary; J. R. Stephens, treasurer. The first meeting adjourned every one eager to get at active Red Cross work, and to swell the membership of the new organization.

The figures show how well the latter was accomplished. From an initial membership of 30 at the first meeting. the roll at present includes 133 members. Of these about one-half were gathered from the town. The woods operations are at some distance from the town, and the Mabel women who visited the camp to interest the women there were greatly pleased at the enthusiasm displayed. Practically all foreman, heading the list, responded with gratifying generosity. The visit-ing women felt themselves greatly repaid as they reviewed the proceeds of their day's visit at the camp.

In addition to annual members, many gave contributing and subscribing nemberships, helping to bring the subscription receipts up to $147.50.

In the meantime, the women have been busy with doors open daily from 2 to 5 each afternoon, and two evenings

On December 8 the organisation gave a benefit dance and basket social. The affair was a great success. The early part of the evening was spent in dancing, and the latter was occupied by the sale of baskets. The women surpassed themselves in working out atractive and original ideas, and the judges found it hard to make a decision as to the handsomest basket. All the baskets sold for generous sums, and the total returns of the benefit, including contributions, amounted to $130.

As a result, Mabel is justly proud of the total receipts for its first month of Red Cross work—$277.50.

The Sefect Investment War Sarings Certificates bear interest and are gilt edged security. Sold at The Journal office.

ASK FOR and GET

The Original Malted Milk Substitutes Cost YOU Same Price.

AMUSEMENTS

TICKET OFFICE SALE

HEILIG Broadway at Taylor 4 Beginning WED., DEC. 26

Eves.: Floor, $1.50. Bal., $1, 75c, 50c Sallery, 50c. Saturday Mat., $1, 75c, 50c.

BAKER ALTHE Tonight, Bargain Night, 35c only hristmas Day Mat. Tomorrow, 20c, 50c, ill this week—the scenic wonder of the age The Trail of the Lonesome Pine satised from the noted novel, greater over before. Wednesday Bargain Mat., Saturday Matines, 25c, 50c. Evenings, 25c, 50c, 75c.

Gusheum

NO SHOW

MAT. DAILY 2:30 A

Matines Dally, 10c Only
Nights, Continuous, 15c, 25c.
Christmas, continuous from 2:30 p. m., 15c, 25c.
This week the shirtly, girly uprear of fun, musis and pretty girls, with Mike and Re as
"The Mistrard Kings." Wednesday night, The Country Store, added feature. Friday, Chorus Girls Contest. Coming, Midnight, Matines, December 5t

Hearst-Pathe News OREGON JOURNAL