Reed College Has Special War Work

Three Months' Course of Special Instruction Outlined by War Department to Qualify for Hospital Units in France.

Seniors at Reed college who are majoring in physical education will be recommended for work in the hospitals in France this summer, President Foster announced Tuesday. The physical education course at the college was recently reconstructed by the war department.

Reed college expects to turn over to the government the first contingent of workers in this field from any school in the west. About 1000 men and women skilled in this line are wanted.

No Peace Sign Seen By Italian Premier

Rome, Feb. 12.—(U. P.)—Premier Orlando, addressing parliament, declared the central powers in their recent peace programs had "affirmed nothing but the most obstinate, irreconcilable determination to carry out a previously formed plan of imperialistic domination."

Reames Will Take New Work Monday

Special Assistant to Attorney General to Conduct Espionage Cases and Those of Sedition and Treason, Allied Crimes.

Clarence L. Reames, special assistant to Attorney General Gregory, will leave Portland Sunday for Seattle, where he will begin his new duties in the enforcement of war protective measures.

As special deputy he will receive a salary of $7200 a year. He will conclude his activities as the United States attorney for the district of Oregon this week, answering correspondence and preparing cases on appeal.

As deputy to the attorney general, he practically will continue the work into which his office was thrust with the declaration of war. The "Canadian conspiracy case," in which the government obtained a conviction, was the last case personally tried by Attorney Reames.

COUNCIL IS DIVIDED ON ARCHITECTURAL PLAN FOR DETENTION HOME

Cottage Plan Is More Costly Than Barracks Style, but Better, Says the Mayor.

Shall the proposed municipal detention home for women be built on the "barracks" style or on the cottage plan, such as has been adopted by many eastern cities engaged in similar work?

This question will be decided by the city council at a meeting this afternoon. If the modern plan is adopted it will cost the city approximately $22,000, while the old plan of building will only cost $15,000.

The cottage type of building, consisting of numerous small cottages, is favored by Mayor Baker, who told the council this morning that this plan would aid in the work of reclaiming the women taken to the home for treatment and would also be more economical in the end.

Opposition to the modern and more expensive plan was voiced by Commissioner Bigelow, who declared that the city should take extreme care in expending funds so that it would not be in a difficult financial condition before the end of the present fiscal year.

PENALTIES WILL BE REFUNDED

Amount Is $1440 Exacted for Failure to Complete Contract.

Penalties amounting to $1440 paid to the city by the Star Sand company for failure to complete contracts on street improvement work within specified time in 1917 will be refunded.

An investigation, Commissioner Kellner declared, showed that the company had completed certain parts of the work in advance of the specified time, that it had made temporary repairs to the streets involved in the contract to make possible traffic during the winter months, and is entitled to the refund.

Dump Devises Ordered

All wagons used to haul garbage to the municipal incinerator must be equipped with devices to dump the contents quickly to comply with an ordinance passed by the city council this morning.

Commissioner Kellner, who presented the ordinance, told the council wagons not properly equipped cause long delays at the incinerator.

Fireless Holiday Welcomed

Fire alarms did not interfere with the celebration of Lincoln's birthday in the fire department of Portland Tuesday. It marked the first no-alarm day in the department for more than a month.

Three Hurt When Their Auto Upsets

A Linnton auto bus turned over in the road this morning near Olton and the driver and two passengers were slightly injured. They were taken to the Good Samaritan hospital. The driver, G. Myers, 69 East Twenty-second street, was injured about the head and the two passengers have injured shoulders. They are D. Rice, 423 East Ankeny, and a Hindu by the name of Dee Singh. The bus is supposed to have turned over as a result of skidding.

PITIFUL CONDITION OF WORKERS TOLD

Labor Organizer Portrays Poverty and Suffering of Packers' Employees.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—(U. P.)—Homes in wretched basements, homes of squalor; children huddled, shoeless and hungry; about inadequate fires; mothers out working at night to earn bread for their broods, and fathers in a torpor of exhaustion after 16 or 17 hours' labor—these were conditions in the district "back of the yards" pictured today by John Kitulski, general organizer in the hookyards for the American Federation of Labor. He was a witness at arbitration proceedings in the wage dispute between Chicago packers and their employees.

"Women, even women in a delicate condition," Kitulski said, "all worked in the slaughter department where they witness sights of killing, blood and filth. Many women have been injured permanently by being forced to lift heavy loads and push heavy trucks."

"I went to one home one night recently. It was cold. In two rooms, a living room and a bedroom, seven children stood hugging a stove. They had no stockings and no underclothing. The mother was away at work trying to add to the pitiful average of 27 cents an hour her husband earned."

Foremen in the packing plants, Kitulski said, curse both men and women alike and drive them with profanity to a maximum of 100 feet per hour.

While Kitulski told his story a crowd of bedraggled women and children from homes of "back of the yards" district, huddled in the court room, waiting to be called as witnesses.

Kitulski declared conditions like these exist in the homes of 50 per cent of stockyard workers.

"BY GOD, MAN, NOTHING IS TOO HELLISH FOR HUN"

Lauder, not only as the climax to the telling of this incident but time and again during his three quarters of an hour address.

A squad of Highlanders with bag pipe enthusiasm with their playing of the "Marshall's Tipperary," Yankee Doodle, W. J. Burns presented the entertainer.

"I want to add my word against anything and everything that will impede victory for the army of the United States," was the first expression that brought the cheers of his audience.

"The farther I come away from the scene of war the more I seem to feel and see an air of carelessness. We must be inoculated with the serum of service and sacrifice. You are citizens of a great nation, the United States of America and you are what your forefathers made you—free men. Doesn't it make you tingle from head to feet to know you are free men? It does not."

"This war that we are in is not a war for glory and riches, but for liberty alone. If any nation should fight for liberty that nation should be the United States. That is your symbol. The first thing to be seen entering the New York harbor is the Statue of Liberty. Men, that is the big statue crumble down into the sea."

"Liberty is the best word in any language. Liberty means respect for the rights of others. Our enemy has no respect for the rights of others at any time."

"Behind the gray walls of our cannon stand the best and noblest men the world has ever known. They are clearing the way for righteousness. They are opening a new civilization. They are the land of the future. Every blow they strike is for life and righteousness."

"You men (addressing himself to the soldiers) are the world. The world is on fire and you are called to put it out. Men, make no bones about putting it out as black as night."

"Don't let us be war-weary at any time. Give our men every encouragement, hope and faith that they may settle the war."

"The men at home bear a great responsibility on their shoulders. When you are called upon for this cause and that cause, don't pull out your bank roll and say, 'I'll see what I can do. There is only one thing to do and that is your very best.'"

"When the soldier loves there gets the order 'Up and over the top.' He doesn't say 'I'll see what I can do.' He does it and he can't do any more than lay down his life."

NEW FEDERAL JURY LIST FOR REST OF THIS MONTH IS DRAWN

Those Selected Will Report for Duty at 10 o'Clock Thursday, February 21.

A new federal jury list of persons from Multnomah, Washington and Clackamas counties was drawn Tuesday by United States District Court Clerk Marsh. The jurors will serve for the remainder of the month and will report for duty at 10 o'clock Thursday, February 21.

TRADING PROPERTY SIGHT UNSEEN LEADS TO DISAPPOINTMENT

Alleged Improved Riverside Olive and Prune Ranch Proves to Be Barren Hills.

Albany, Or., Feb. 12.—J. W. Hornback of this city, recently traded his lunch counter at the Oregon Electric depot and gave $4500 cash and two notes for $1000 in alleged improved olive and prune ranch in Riverside county, California. Last week he went down to take charge of his property and Tuesday morning he wired his son, T. W. Hornback, that the beautifully described real estate was no more than 10 acres of barren hills with an occasional sagebrush for decoration.

Stewart came to Albany several weeks ago to trade or sell his property which he described as highly improved, containing four acres each of olives and prunes and two of alfalfa, a fine house, barn and other buildings, 250 stands of bees, machinery and all things necessary for conducting the business. The deal was made and Mr. Hornback expected to go to Murriet, where the land is located, to make his inspection.

Stewart was arrested Tuesday before Justice of the Peace L. L. Swan and his hearing was set for Saturday morning, when Mr. and Mrs. Hornback will return from investigating the property.

"Stewart claims that if Hornback was 'stung' he is, too. For he claims that he has no money for the money he recently bought it from another party."

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

Your Headaches May Be from Anemia

Sufferers from frequent headache, especially young women, should look to their blood. A large percentage of all headaches comes from anemia—blood poverty. Other indications of an anemic condition are: lassitude, loss of interest in things and the tendency to postpone the performance of important work.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan "The Red Blood Builder"

If you are run down, if your energy is below normal and you must whip yourself to your daily tasks, take a course in Pepto-Mangan. It will help you as it has helped thousands of others.

For Pepto-Mangan builds up the health from a scientifically-sure foundation. It rebuilds the blood. It creates thousands of strong, red blood corpuscles which scour the body free of health-sapping poisons, and it charges the system with iron. When the blood becomes rich in iron and red cells there is usually a prompt return of good health.

WILL H. HAYS CHOICE WHEN ADAMS QUITS

sergeant at arms by acclamation. A resolution introduced by R. B. Howell of Nebraska and passed by the committee provides that the committee shall meet regularly once a year; that a special meeting may be held at the call of 25 members, and that all contributions shall be handled in each state by the national committeeman.

Hays has served his party in Indiana in humble as well as important positions. His first political job was the chairman of his precinct committee in 1906. From 1904 to 1908 he was chairman of the Republican committee of his county. He was made later a member of the advisory committee of the state. He was chairman of the Indiana speakers' bureau of the Republican party in 1906. He became a member of the state central committee in 1911.

Ralph K. Williams, Republican national committeeman from Oregon, was one of the strong supporters of John T. Adams, the defeated candidate.

C. H. Henney's Mother Dies C. H. Henney, one of the deputies under Collector of Customs More, this morning received a telegram announcing the death of his mother, Mrs. Carry Henney. She died Tuesday night at her home in St. Louis. She was about 75 years of age.
