$50,000,000 MARK IS LEFT BEHIND IN W. S. S. CAMPAIGN

National War Savings Committee Reports Daily Receipts of $1,500,000 to $2,500,000.

JUNIOR REGIMENT GROWING More Than 100 Boys and Girls in Oregon Have Already Sold $50 Worth of Stamps.

Washington, Feb. 12.—(I. N. S.)—The sale of War Savings Stamps today passed the $50,000,000 mark, the national war savings committee announced. The daily receipts are ranging from $1,500,000 to $2,500,000. These figures show that the American people, after subscribing billions to the two Liberty loans and giving many millions to the Red Cross and war relief, are continuing their small savings at the service of the nation at a rate far in excess of pre-war savings bank accumulations.

Salem, Or., Feb. 12.—More than 100 boys and girls in the public schools of Oregon are now members of the Junior Rainbow Regiment, a patriotic organization launched by the government. To become eligible for membership in this organization, a boy or girl must be one of the first 1000 to sell at least $50 worth of War Savings Stamps.

Stephen E. Albeck Here on Way to San Francisco Office of Banking House. Adelbert Rees of Shaniko was the first boy in Oregon to become a member of the Rainbow Regiment, as his name appears on the first one reported to Mr. Churchill.

Following are the names and addresses of the first 100 boys and girls to sell the $50 worth of Thrift Stamps and thus become members of the regiment: Adelbert Rees, Shaniko; Johnnie Faulner, Harbursburg; R. L. Hadden Grant, Dallas; Ruby Jorjia, Dallas; Sena Morrison, Dallas; Josephine O'Brien, Warrenton; Floyd Reed, Dallas; Eugene Rooster, Dallas; Alice Patterson, Dallas; Walter, Dallas; Josephine, Dallas; Aumsville; Harry Logan, Dallas; Wendall Sanders, Dallas; Homer Ellis, Dallas; J. Linn County Awake
Albany, Or., Feb. 12.—Linn county is keeping pace in the sale of Thrift and War Savings Stamps, a summary of the business done in the county up to February 12 showing that $18,282.17 worth of small investments have been taken. There are several sales of the limit amount for a $1000 bond at maturity in 1922.

In proportion to its size, the Seio postoffice holds the record in the county. Through the efforts of the enterprising postmistress Mrs. Daley Buckner, a total of $4747.28 has been sold. Albany people have taken $6657.78; Brownsville, $200.15; Berlin, $412.61; Cascadia, $32.48; Crabtree, $707.54; Poster, $16.48; Hood, $4.12; Hillsboro, $17.75; Kingstonsburg, $122.36; Holley, $5.12; Kingstonsburg, $12.86; Lyons, $214.24; Lebanon, $2442.12; Shedd, $1770.85; Shelburn, $417.87; Scioville, $17.75; Sweet Home, $74.31; Tallman, $164.80; Tangent, $17.90.

One notable fact is that the size of the sales does not depend upon the size of the town but upon the patriotism of the residents. Tallman, a little place near Lebanon, sold nine times as much as Tangent.

Claclamas Workers Meet
Oregon City, Feb. 12.—Captains and workers for the War Thrift campaign in Claclamas county, to the number of more than 150, attended a meeting in the Commercial club room Monday afternoon, presided at by County Superintendent J. E. Calavan, who is chairman of the county campaign. The workers planned the campaign for the sale of Stamps outside the schools, the latter having already started their work.

Council Rows Over Appointing Matron
Salem, Or., Feb. 12.—After a long verbal combat between members of the council Monday night, Mrs. S. J. Dorsey was re-elected police matron. Her opponent was Mrs. Myra Shank, former matron, and who was recognized by Police Chief Poland, and by a majority of the police committee of the council. The final vote was eight to five in favor of Mrs. Dorsey.

John Todd was re-elected superintendent of the Salem schools.

One Little Ad Brings a Flood Of Phone Calls

Mrs. George Dusham resides at 829 Yamhill street. She had an apartment for rent and told the world about it in The Journal's Want Ad columns. Right then was the time she made an investment which gave her immediate reward.

"Say," the woman telephoned to the Want Ad counter, "I want you to discontinue publication of my apartment for rent ad in The Journal. I had three insertions, but the paper had not been out three hours until my phone began ringing. In 20 minutes I had rented the place, but that made no difference to the readers, and my phone bell has been calling me about every two minutes for the last three hours. I have had to 'blow' the thing in order to get a little rest, and I do not want the ad to appear a second time. I should have known better than to contract for three insertions, however. I have used your paper's class of advertising on several occasions and have found it a faithful and hustling servant. You have a fine daily newspaper for the classified advertiser."

Almost everybody speaks in like strain of Journal Want Ads. They do the business.

NATIONAL CITY BANK ACTIVE IN BUILDING NEW FOREIGN TRADE

Stephen E. Albeck Here on Way to San Francisco Office of Banking House. Stephen E. Albeck, assistant vice president of the National City bank of New York, arrived from the east this morning and will remain in this city several days in connection with the transfer of his bank. Mr. Albeck is on his way to San Francisco, where he will take charge of the office of the National City bank, succeeding W. C. Mortimer, who has been recalled to New York.

The National City bank of New York maintains branches in South America, Asia, Europe and Africa, and is especially active in building up the trade between the United States and the countries in which its branches are located. To this end the United States has been divided into 12 zones, corresponding to the 12 federal reserve bank districts. A manager with headquarters in the city in which the district reserve bank is located looks after the interests of the National City bank in that district.

Exports Trade with Countries of South America and Asia and the islands of the Pacific is becoming of great importance and is bound to increase to vast proportions after the war," said Mr. Albeck. "It will be a part of my duties as representative of the National City bank in the Twelfth federal reserve district to investigate trade possibilities and lend any assistance possible in establishing new trade with countries in which our branch banks are located. Portland ought to get a large share of this trade. The opportunity awaits the man. If he is in Portland and wants to direct foreign trade to this port, he may do so. But the foreign trade will not come begging for entrance to the port of Portland. Some effort must be put forth to secure its benefits."

Mr. Albeck leaves for Seattle the last of this week and will go from there to San Francisco to take up his duties as manager for the National City bank.

Memorial Service Held
Raymond, Wash., Feb. 12.—A memorial service was held Sunday in honor of Dr. Russell B. Owens, who died in Portland of pneumonia on January 22. The services were held in the Presbyterian church, the address being made by Rev. Mr. Hyton, who is a member of Company M of the Washington State Guard. The company attended in a body as did also many of the soldiers who are here working in the mills getting out spruce.

RED CROSS SHOP TO HOLD GARDEN SALE TWO DAYS NEXT WEEK

Plants, Cuttings, Shrubs, Trees and Seeds Will Be Contributed by Best Gardens of City.

The management of the American Red Cross Shop, 106 Fifth street, ever on the alert for new means of adding to its popularity with the buying public, announces a garden sale for Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Mrs. S. S. Montague being chairman of the affair. There will be offered for sale at this time everything to add to the attractiveness of a garden, including plants, cuttings, shrubs, trees and seeds. Many of these things are being contributed by the owners of Portland's most beautiful gardens, which have been largely stocked with rare imported specimens not available in local markets. E. B. McFarland will contribute cuttings from some of his choice roses; Dr. C. H. Chapman has promised some remarkable daffodil bulbs and C. E. S. Wood will give some rare shrubs. There will also be many things from the famous gardens of Thomas Kerr and Peter Kerr.

The manual training departments of the public schools are contributing to the sale by making artistic bird cages and fancy garden sticks. In the art department fancy hand-decorated envelopes for the seeds are being made, and there are also to be hand-made labels. All money made at this shop goes directly to the Red Cross fund and already as a result of the little shop's activity more than $8000 has been realized.

Junk Dealer Held As Result of Theft

E. Schmitzer, a First street junk dealer, was arrested Tuesday on a warrant in connection with the theft of several hundred pounds of brass journal castings belonging to the Southern Pacific and Spokane, Portland & Seattle railroads. Similar warrants are held by the police for S. Caplan and M. Chessman, other dealers.

Officials of the railroad companies say these three men can account for nearly 1500 pounds of brass taken from the yards of the two companies. They are not charged directly with the theft, but the authorities believe they can throw light on who is responsible.

Shoemaker Forced To Kiss Flag of U. S.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 12.—(I. N. S.)—When David Pillar, shoemaker in the village of Rockton, near here, made slurring remarks Tuesday about the American flag displayed in honor of Lincoln's birthday, a crowd of more than 50 indignant villagers forced him to kiss the flag. Pillar claims to be an Englishman.

Negro Is Burned at Stake by Big Mob

Eastell Springs, Tenn., Feb. 12.—(I. N. S.)—Disregarding the plea of their leaders to let the law take its course, a mob of more than 1000 persons burned at the stake Jim McMilleron, a negro, who confessed to the murder of two white men here Friday. The confession, it is declared, was wrung from McMilleron by the application of red hot irons. Authorities today are investigating the lynching, but it is considered unlikely that prosecutions will result.
