SAN FRANCISCO BOXING MANAGERS ADMIT THEY HAVE THING TO LEARN

Dolph Thomas and Tommy Simpson Breezed Into the North to Trim the Hicks and Got Clipped Themselves by Trying to Feather Their Nests With the Portland Promoters.

By R. A. Cronin

RAVELING TOMMY" SIMPSON and "Diligent Dolph" Thomas, two San Francisco boxing managers, are whetting up their bolos for each other as a result of simultaneous visits to Portland and the Good Judge Flanigan of Portland is sniggering up his mackinaw sleeve.

The foxy old judge played the two Frisco managers against each other and saw Al Sommers get a draw with Battling Oretga, actually shading the Mex, and Muff Bronson beat Frankie Farren, who became punch-clumsy and stepped on his own foot, necessitating the use of crutches.

Thomas and Simpson returned south together and mutual sympathy brought out the closely guarded secret of each manager's

"Tommy, old boy, we hadda hard time up there, eh? I been thinking this thing over, Tommy, and I guess us native sons oughtn stick a little closer together. Thass right. I guess that guy Flanigan plucked the 't' out of native on us. I been looking it up in the dictionary and I find 'naive' means artless or unsophisticated. can call us 'naive' after this an' get away with it. I been about as unsophisticated as a boob makin' Market street the first time from Yolo county.

Simpson Admits All

"Guilty is me, Dolph; I say guilty and more. They oughta sestence me to live in Sacramento the resta my life. I deserve it. Slick Joe Flanigan surely hung a record-maker on my stable. Well, Dolph, let's admit we disgraced the old city and were a couple of hick managers abroad with the wise birds. We gottlit comin' to us and we might as well admit it. Will you shake on it?

It is a matter of record that Dolph and Tommy passed out the right mitts with an appearance of cordiality, but it is asserted that each with Frankle Farren and after Frankie Juckwood Alex Trambitas, Dolph naturally became prideful. Also hesbecame loquacious and confidential.

He and Flanigan are, or have been, good friends. Ditto for Simpson in the Flanigan calling list.

. Was Only a Volunteer When Flanigan had Al Sommers, the northwest middleweight, matched with Ortega, Thomas volunteered to help shape Sommers for the battle with the Mexican, who is the pride of California and a battler who can sometimes beat the best of them. "Say, Al," said Thomas, "All you gotta do to beat this Mex is to keep your right hand roving around your midriff, lay in close so he can't lunge at you and uppercut him. Uppercut him every time you see an opening. He's a rip-snorter for punching to the stomach, but he's gotta get off to take aim. You just lay in close.

You won't have any trouble if you do what I say." Sommers followed orders like a little soldier and shaded Ortega in their six-round draw. They say down South that Al weighed a ton, but the good Judge Flanigan wants to wager a considerable "medal" that Al can do 158 for any good boy that comes this way. Naturally Simpson is nursing a large peeve at his pet's licking. All on Account of Duffy And now for Simpson's skit: He didn't know till Dolph fessed up how Sommers was able to outgeneral Ortega. His part of the duet concerns Jimmy Duffy, whom he would like to match with Bronson. "Give Duffy a fight with Bronson and I'll tip you how to beat Farren," said "Traveling Tommy." And here is what Simpson did: After a lunching party with Flanigan, he invited Bronson to the gymasium, explained the methods of Farren and tipped Muff how to act in the ring. "There's just one way to beat Farren," cautioned Simpson, "Don't rush after him, for that is just what back and wait for Farren to come in Then you've got him right. Didn't Jimmy Dundee always give Farren his toughest fights, and along that ine? This is something these other fellows overlooked."

The Work Is Done

Bronson and Flanigan rehearsed the boxer's act and then Muff went right out and gave Farren a beautiful lacing. Here's the way Simpson explained it to a San Francisco

"Well, that's just what we did. We had Bronson working with big rough boys and he stalled. He did the same thing the night of the fight and the scheme worked to perfection. He beat Farren and they agreed to give Duffy a chance. Now I understand there is some talk of matching Bronson and Alec Trambitas, putting Duffy on with the winner. That will suit us fine.' In summing up the situation, Simpson explains that he is friendly Thomas and Farren, but that Bronson is a big card in Portland and that Flanigan promises him a match for Duffy some of these days. So it looks as if things are about even up between the two Californians and, if anything is necessary to cool off the heat generated by the Portland friction, why there is always one of those things that are but sad memories in prim Oregona big "steam."

Last season Bernie Morris scored 37 goals in 24 matches.

Tommy Dunderdale is the "bad man" champ on present records. He won this title last season and it begins to look as if he would retain the honors without even a close argument.
