

SHOW PATRONS HELP WAR SERVICE FUND FOR SALVATION ARMY

Workers in Front of Theatres Secure Substantial Sums; Two $100 Checks Secured.

Mrs. Willis Dunaway and the workers on her team "started something" when they took their places in front of the theatres Monday night and took in $40 for the Salvation Army War Service fund. The next night their receipts passed the $70 mark and Wednesday night other teams followed suit and established workers in front of all the theatres.

Mrs. G. B. Cellars and Mrs. Charles M. Young of Mrs. Lee Davenport's team collected $66.56 and of this $42 was in nickels and dimes. Mrs. J. C. Mana and Mrs. William Hull collected $32. Three members of Mrs. Dunaway's team collected $50. Many others also made fine collections at the theatres.

Office Manager Hertzinger and Dr. E. B. Moore of Chicago, who is assisting in the drive, decided to try their luck at soliciting Wednesday and got a check for $100 from Mrs. Jacob Kamm. When George Lawrence, senior member of his firm, saw an official car from the Salvation Army driving up in front of his office, he opened his check book and by the time they got inside a check for $100 awaited them. The Bootblacks' Union at a meeting Wednesday night decided to make a collection among their members and contributions made at the small attendance of the union resulted in $25.76, which was brought to headquarters this morning by the treasurer, Peter Kromidas. Mrs. O. W. Mielke and Mrs. Richard Adams secured $167 from 200 employees at one of the shipyards Wednesday, some men subscribing one day's wages, and all showed the greatest sympathy with the drive. The total collections of these two women for the day were $229.01. The Salvation Army lassies continue to do a thriving business with their kettles. A man dropped a check for $200 into one of the kettles Wednesday.

Second Futile Trip Searching for Wife

John Wells Came From Moosejaw, Sask., to Meet Son and Make Search for Wife; Falls to Locate Son.

John Wells of Moosejaw, Saskatchewan, arrived in Portland Wednesday to meet his son and with him search for Mrs. Wells who disappeared from home a year ago and who is believed to be here.

Arriving here he not only failed to find his son but he has made a second futile trip to Oregon in search of his wife.

Wells came to Portland about two months ago in search of his wife. After spending a few weeks he returned to Moosejaw. His son lives in San Francisco, but telegraphic inquiries fail to reveal that he has returned there.

Berkeley Teachers Must Swear Fidelity

AD CLUB ENTERTAINED WITH WAR STORIES BY COLONEL JOHN LEADER

Anecdotes of Boer War and the Present Contest in Europe Related by Speaker.

Colonel John Leader of the Royal Irish Rifles, members of the Ad club found on Wednesday, at the Benson hotel, a born entertainer, able to see and express both the tragedy and the humor of war scenes. Forbidden by a board of volunteer feminine censors from saying to the club anything about the war which, then, he might have to repeat to the same auditors at the Auditorium Friday evening, Colonel Leader found it possible to fill his 30-minute address with war time reminiscences and anecdotes that had rare charm, humor, and, in at least one instance, sadness.

Story of Boer War Recounted
"In the Boer war," he said, "my brother was in the column next to me. We came out on a valley, a charming place of homes and trees and meadows, and I got to wondering if I was really going to make war on those people toward whom I wished everything well, and who probably had the same feeling toward me, or whether this was just an extraordinary dream. But soon the firing began and I realized it was war. My brother told me when he went into the fight he and another encountered a little group of Boers. They got his friend but his shot accounted for one and he got his bayonet into the stomach of another. Then he was wounded and fell.

"When he came around he saw that the mortally wounded Boer was near him sitting up but failing fast. 'Can I do anything for you?' my brother asked. 'Nothing,' answered the Boer. Then, 'Yes, you can, if you will. Write a letter home to my wife.' And my brother wrote that letter home to the wife of the man he had killed. It was the most horrible experience! The Boer said, 'Here in my pocket are lockets with the hair and pictures of my wife and baby. Send those back to them with my love.' My brother said, 'Wouldn't you like to see the pictures?' and the dying Boer answered, 'No, I couldn't quite stand that.' And he died.
"My brother and I agreed that that is what makes war hell."

Negro's Uniform Saluted
Colonel Leader told another story from the present war. Two privates refused to salute a black quartermaster's sergeant because of his color. The colonel submitted without comment twice. But when the privates came down the road again, they found the black man had removed his uniform coat and hung it on the branch of a tree. He was waiting across the road. "Now," said he, "you don't have to salute my black face. I don't care about that. But there is Uncle Sam's coat and you'll either salute it or I'll knock your damned heads off." The privates, said Colonel Leader, saluted.

Water Free for War Gardens
The ordinance providing free water for war gardens was adopted by the city council Wednesday. Attached to the ordinance is a penalty of not more than $10 fine in the municipal court and revocation of the permit for the conviction of any person who violates the provisions of the ordinance. War gardeners may use free water every day from 4 a. m. until noon.
