Mr. Boone will also contribute musical numbers. Two thousand complimentary tickets have been distributed to privates in the army. All exchange tickets must be turned in for Thursday at 6 p. m.

Laurelhurst Club Notes

The drill team of the club held a "middy party" Tuesday evening at the club house. Coffee and sandwiches were served by the ladies after dancing.

A food conservation lecture was given at the club house on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Mrs. M. E. Hawley. The Portland Railway, Light & Power company installed an electric range for the occasion and all enjoyed an interesting afternoon.

On Thursday evening, March 21, members of the club will be entertained at 8:00 by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Boffinger. Hereafter card nights will be on alternate Thursday evenings, instead of on Fridays as formerly, so as to allow the junior members of the club to hold their semi-monthly dancing parties on an evening that will not interfere with their studies.

The junior dance that was to have been given on next Friday evening has been postponed for two weeks, because of this evening conflicting with other parties that had previously been arranged.

Irvington Club Formal

The formal party of the Irvington club takes place at the club house Friday evening. Mrs. Walter Zimmerman is chairman for the party and will be assisted by Mrs. C. M. Young, Mrs. N. A. Perry, Mrs. R. M. Irvine, Mrs. E. A. Hartman and Miss Sara Patrick. The Irvington club will give an Easter party for children under 14 years of age Friday evening, March 29, from 7:30 to 9:30. ## Household Hints

It is now incumbent upon us to see how far we can substitute the labor of women for that of men, says the New Republic. Before the war it would doubtless have been urged that the private interest of employers had already introduced women's labor wherever this would pay. We have now learned that mere inertia is an important determinant of industrial arrangements. The British government is employing women where it formerly employed only men, and with results that are satisfactory from a financial point of view, as well as from the more essential point of view of economy of national resources. At the Woolwich arsenal, for example, only 125 out of the 10,866 persons employed in August, 1914, were women. According to the latest available reports, 25,000 out of 75,500 now employed are women. Women make up over 60 per cent of the personnel of the department of design and inspection. In private industry women have found their way into numberless employments formerly monopolized by men. In this movement toward the employment of women the private interest of the employer has been reinforced by patriotic considerations. Doubtless in many instances women are employed where it would be more profitable to employ men, even at society wages. But in time of war such a consideration is of no determining importance.

Steamed Pig Pudding—Mix and stir cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder,

1/2 teaspoon salt; work in 2 tablespoons butter, using tips of fingers, and add gradually 1 cup milk; then add 1 cup of figs. Turn into buttered mold, add just buttered cover and steam 1 1/2 hours. Blueberries, peaches, etc., may be used in place of figs.

For the Child Avoid—Underwear: Thick woven; heavy cotton fleeced-lined; all or three quarters wool (unless open weave and soft); rough seams; corsets.

Stockings: Thick, heavy; all wool; seams, much darned; round garters; tight hose supporters.

Shoes: Patent leather or other non-porous material; rough inside seams and soles; tight across toes, instep or ankle; stiff, inflexible soles; rubber soles unless with leather insoles; high heels; tight.

Wraps: Fur or other heavy neck pieces; mufflers, except in very cold weather, for children over 5; gloves in winter; rubbers or overshoes except in rain or slippery weather; ear muffs; vells; unventilated hats.

Tight clothing: Gloves, neckbands, waists, underwear, stockings, shoes. The latter is especially important with growing children and easily overlooked or neglected as they outgrow their clothes. Rubber in the legs of ready-made rompers is always too tight and is better removed. Non-washable dresses or wraps for children under 3 years. Elaborate, showy clothes. Unbecoming clothes.

Club Election Arousing Keen Rivalry

Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Drake Aspire for the Presidency of Woman's Organization.

By Yella Winner
MUCH interest centers in the annual election of officers of the Portland Women's club to be held Friday at Hotel Multnomah, the polls being open from 1:30 to 3. Keen, but friendly, rivalry exists for the presidency, the candidates being Mrs. C. B. Simmons, who has been president of the club for the past year, and Mrs. J. Francis Drake.

Other candidates for the various offices are: First vice president, Mrs. C. E. Runyon; second vice president, Mrs. Martha Webb and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas; recording secretary, Mrs. Chester W. Hopkins; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. B. McLeod; financial secretary, Mrs. D. L. Povey; treasurer, Mrs. A. C. Jackson; auditor, Mrs. D. M. Watson; directors, Mrs. A. A. Bailey, Mrs. A. T. Titzer, Mrs. Grace Wait Ross, Mrs. W. T. Deeming, two to be elected.

The Wednesday Study club of Medford met March 6 in the military reading rooms with 18 officers and members present. Topics for next year's study were discussed. After the business session two papers were read, Mrs. Torney illustrating hers, on "Russian Art," with many reproductions of pictures. Mrs. Means' subject was "Manual and Domestic Art of the Russians," with pictures of many of their products, pottery and laces in particular. Mrs. Cathcart read an interesting magazine article on "Russia," by Ellis. General discussion closed the afternoon's program.

Mrs. E. N. Warner entertained the College Women's club of Medford at its March meeting at her home on West Main street last Saturday. About 30 members were present. A short business meeting and announcement of the names of five new members preceded a paper by Mrs. West on "Cantonments," to which pictures of Camp Grant at Rockford, Ill., added much interest. During the pleasant social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Milton Jones, assisted by Mrs. Root, Mrs. Harris Jones and Mrs. Robinson. The April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Myron Root.

The City Federation of Women's Organizations will be host at the Art Museum Friday, this being its hospitality week when different organizations are alternating in doing the honors. Mrs. J. C. Elliott King, chairman of the art committee of the federation, is in charge of the affair and it is hoped that every organization in the federation will be largely represented. Between the hours of 4 and 6 tea will be served, Mrs. G. J. Frankel, Mrs. C. C. Overmier, Mrs. E. W. Finzer and Mrs. King pouring.

The Alpha class of young ladies of the East Side Baptist church will give a literary and musical entertainment in the church Friday evening for their members and friends. Mrs. Katherine

Woman Knits Socks for Pershing Fancy Quilt Sent to President

Freewater, Or., March 20.—Mrs. Sarah Hoon of Umapine has a beautiful satin bed quilt on exhibition in the Milton Furniture store which she intends to send to President Wilson. She was in Washington with the request that he dispose of it and give the proceeds to the Red Cross for the benefit of the boys in France. It was at his home that Mrs. Hoon is one of the most enthusiastic workers for the Red Cross in the Umapine auxiliary. A short time ago she knitted a pair of socks and sent them to General Pershing in France and received a most gracious acknowledgment from the general himself. The quilt was made by Mrs. Hoon and is made of the national colors. It was exhibited for the first time at the Lewis and Clark exposition and afterward at other coast expositions. Mrs. Hoon's great-grandfather lived in Southern Illinois and it was at his home that Lewis and Clark made preparations for their great expedition and exactly 100 years later Mrs. Hoon exhibited for the first time the quilt at the Lewis and Clark exposition.

Bed Time Tales

BY DR. WARREN G. PARTRIDGE

Jimmy Coon Goes to Sea
JIMMY COON slept all night in that hemlock log, as it floated out to sea. You see there was a nice little bedroom in it, and that big log; and it was just as if Jimmy Coon had a berth in a steamboat.

I think Red-cap, the Woodpecker, had made that hole in the log; for there was a front hall, that led to the little bedroom, so that Jimmy Coon was warm and dry; as the log floated out to sea. But during the night there came up a thick fog; and when Jimmy Coon woke up, and looked out of his little window, he could see water, water, everywhere, but not a grain of sand anywhere. And Jimmy was so surprised that he couldn't speak a word, even to himself. And a great terror crept into his little heart. Jimmy saw that now he was out on the water; and he was frightened almost to death. He trembled all over with fear. Jimmy was swimming, but he saw no shore to swim to. He got out on the log, and walked back and forth to see if he could discover any signs of land, in any direction. And Jimmy got terribly hungry for his breakfast. But he couldn't find a mouthful of a crumb to eat. Then Jimmy said to himself, "Well, I must take a drink of this nice water, anyway!" And Jimmy leaned over and took a big swallow of water. And Jimmy spit out the water, saying, "My, what makes this water so salty? It makes my throat sore. I guess I'll take a drink on the other side of the log; and he took a big swallow of the water on that side. And Jimmy made up an awful face, and gagged, and spit out all the water, saying, "My, but that water is horrid! Where did it get so much salt? I wish Quilly Porcupine was here. "For he loves salt so much, he would

Boyer Smith will give readings and a delightful time is anticipated.

Mrs. A. F. Foley was hostess for the Broadway W. C. T. U. Monday afternoon, when an unusually instructive and interesting program was given by the patriotic relief division. The state and county superintendents of soldiers' and sailors' work, Mrs. Elizabeth Dalgleish and Mrs. Louisa Nutt, were present with instructions on how to make samples and all the various articles being made for the unions for Red Cross work. The Broadway union has made and has now ready for shipment two blankets for the Armenians. In the center of one is an American flag, and in the

Measure to Control All Communication

Washington, March 21.—(I. N. S.)—A bill to lease all the telegraph and telephone agencies to be operated under the postoffice department was introduced in the house Wednesday by Representative Hilliard of Colorado. "Instead of direct compulsory purchase," said Representative Hilliard, "the bill proposes a lease, under eminent domain, and thus eliminates the necessity of large financing by purchase."

War Work

Pajamas made from scraps, termed at the Eugene headquarters the "clown suit," were yesterday turned in to the Eugene chapter of the Red Cross. The first suit, which was made by the South Fairmount auxiliary, is made of scraps of cloth of different hues, and the ladies placed notes, gum and other things in the pockets. The pajamas are well made, and of good material. "Whoever gets them, if he has a sense of humor, should appreciate them," Manager F. R. Wetherbee said.

A meeting of the Oregon State Women's Executive committee of the third Liberty Loan was held Wednesday of this week.
