COL. MILLER OPENS UP FOR BIDS FOR COMBAT 'TWIXT JESS AND FRED

Matchmaker Announces That the Boys Must Step Up and Talk in Large Figures if They Want to Land That Natal Day Fistic Contest for Title.

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, March 29.—(U. P.)—General belief today is that within a few days final announcement of the spot where Fred Fulton and Jess Willard will muss each other will be made in this city.

Colonel Joseph C. Miller of Bliss, Okla., is here meeting eastern promoters. He has declared himself in favor of an eastern location for the scrap, because population is more concentrated along the Atlantic seaboard. However, Denver and Minneapolis, not to speak of other cities, are still bidding and the bout may go to one of them.

Difficulties in traveling will be taken into consideration by the promoter. An out of the way spot is not to be considered, Colonel Miller said, for the reason that transportation of passengers in these days is largely a matter of luck.

No Change for New Orleans

So long as Dominick Tortorich and Matt Hinkel, who are trying to pull off the mill in New Orleans, stick to a demand for a change in the proposed date to some time in November, they will not be given any consideration. Colonel Miller has made up his mind to that. The bout will be held July 4, next. It will be held some place where there isn't a chance that the authorities will interfere.

Colonel Miller protests that there isn't any circus involved. He merely wants to promote the bout and he's determined to do it just as he first stated.

PLANS ON FOOT-FOR-CIRCUIT

Certain International League Magistrates Will Take Steps to Form a New Organization.

NEW YORK, March 29.—(I. N. S.)—Certain club owners of the International league, which was disbanded here yesterday by a vote of 6 to 2, may take immediate steps toward the formation of a new circuit.

Charles Chapin, president of the Rochester club and acting president of the league, intimated that some action may be taken by the magistrates within a day or two. He refused to commit himself regarding the sentiment of any other club, but hinted that the plan for a ball club in Rochester this season has not been abandoned altogether.

Dunn Refuses to Talk

Jack Dunn, owner and manager of the Baltimore club, flatly refused to make a statement regarding which side of the fence he had been on when the vote was taken, but as he has been active in the advancement of several plans by which the league might have been held together, it is believed that he will be linked with certain club owners, including Chapin of Rochester and President McCaffery of Montreal, in the formation of a new circuit.

The probability that certain clubs in the defunct International league will be combined with clubs of the New York state league, which is on the rocks, was discussed by baseball men here this afternoon.

Board in Favor of Labor Conscription

Livestock Sanitary Board Adopts Resolutions Urging That Every Able-bodied Man Perform Constructive Work.

Salem, Or., March 29.—The state livestock sanitary board, at a meeting held in Portland Thursday, adopted a resolution petitioning "our senators and congressmen to enact a system of labor conscription that will insure that each able-bodied man, between the ages of 18 and 60, be required to perform, during the period of war and as long thereafter as may be necessary, some specific war or food production labor."

The resolution also discourages "during seed time and harvest making of all unnecessary improvements not conducive to winning of war or feeding of our people."
