San Francisco, April 6.—California crop report: Weather Bureau—A large acreage of barley and oats was sown in March, as well as some wheat. The early seeded grain has come up to a good stand, and the late sown is sprouting nicely. Some barley in the San Joaquin valley is now in the boot and is about ready to head, but in general, wheat, barley and oats are not so far advanced in growth as is usual at this season of the year. In the interior valleys a few correspondents complain of the great amount of wild oats in the wheat sown last December; but it is not believed the damage from this source will be of serious consequence. Chairman Hurley Says "De Our All" The message from Chairman Hurley, read before the workers of each shipyard, was as follows: In this hour of national peril, when the forces of despotism, long gathered, are hurling themselves against us, I call upon you, the shipbuilders of America, to put forward all your might to our common purpose. It was an evil thing that the phrase was coined that "we do our bit." The nation of which each member today merely does his bit is lost. Doing our bit is too small a bucket to bail back the sea. The tide of despotism is too great for such small and unavailing measures. We must "do our all." And, therefore, on this day, marking the anniversary of our entrance into this war which threatens civilization, it is fitting that I appeal to you for the large and full measure of your help. And I ask you, as far as possible, that you consider that my appeal is personal to yourself-each man of you in the shipyards of America. And I ask you to scrutinize yourself and to put to yourself the question, each man of you, whether you yet work to your highest limit. For your brothers and your sons and the men who were the comrades at your elbow in other days are fighting in the trenches of France, and their safety depends upon the measure and the quality of your work. Their munitions of war, their reinforcements and their food are dependent upon the rivets that you drive and the ships you launch. The great battlefield, next to the smoking battlefield of France, is the blacksmith shop, the machine shop and the shipping ways, and the roar of your furnaces and the noise of your riveting arise from your strife and mighty contest which must hold open the seas for civilization. It is a high and honorable responsibility that rests on you, the shipbuilders of America, and you must meet it fully.

And some day, when this war is done and German despotism has been destroyed, it will be not only our army and navy, who will pass in giorious review before our nation, but also it will be the shipbuilders of America to whom our gratitude is shown — the shipbuilders who worked with full and untiring endeavor through many days and months in order that the ocean might be bridged and civilization be FRED W. MULKEY TO
