Temple Beth Israel Adds Stars to Flag

Fourteen stars were added to the service flag at Temple Beth Israel last night in honor of members of the congregation who have gone into the army and navy since the flag was unfurled. Geremonies attendant to adding the stars were featured by an address by Rabbi Wise on "Can We Wave Their Offering Before the Altar of God?"

"These men are doing what in our own hearts we feel should be done. It is our duty to be worthy of the sacrifices our boys are making for us." Rabbi Wise said.

Stars for the following young men were dedicated: I. C. Brill, James Gilbert, Herbert Sichel, Jacob Feldman, Herbert Goldsmith, Louis G. Haas, Jesse J. Rich, Milton Smith, Clarence Fox, Sanford Adler, Bernie Baer, Joseph Spellman, William Heller and David Levy.

ALLY OFFENSIVE IN FEW DAYS NEEDED, IS BELIEF

ever it is used, it will have to cope with the British grand fleet, which now is reinforced. Secretary of the Navy Daniels has let it be known, by many first line American fighting craft, including battleships.

This means that the long looked for naval battle must materialize unless at the last moment the German plans are changed.

Washington Watching Closely

As the battle in France and Flanders develops, Washington watches closely for the first word of America's part in it. Every section of the nation is represented in the men who now are supporting the British in the north. The flower of the regular army, certain national guard and national army units, are on the ground. And while the losses must be very great, it is believed that the morale of these being engagd will have a wonderfully stiffening effect everywhere, but especially here at home.

It is pointed out that our real entry into the fighting finds a situation so far unprecedented since the war began existing. Not since the battle of the Marne has the German war machine possessed the force it now is showing. Consequently the entente must sacrifice men as prodigally as are the enemy to maintain the positions beyond which a retreat would mean a most serious disaster. There is now positive information in possession of the United States and the entente that the German plans are to force a complete issue with the present battle.

Huns Would Crush British

The kaiser, Hindenburg and Von Ludendorff have decreed that the "German peace made by the sword" shall come by August. Their plans—which incidentally have not taken into consideration the supreme war council—call for the complete crushing of the British army, establishment of positions on the coast from which British territory, and especially London, can be shelled with superguns, and a new movement against Paris when this is finished.

And realizing the objectives, the entente is taking the necessary steps to meet them. That is the reason for the Haig order of the day, which will go down into history with the ringing words of the French at the battle of the Marne. The Haig line will hold long enough for Foch to act, in the opinion of every army expert in Washington. America is pledged to replace the gaps in the British line. Already this country has taken the necessary steps to do so. The result has been the releasing to Haig of men and guns that up to the present have had to be held in reserve in England to meet any possible emergency.

SONS IN THE ARMY, MOTHER ASSISTING IN RUNNING RANCH

Widow Making Brave Fight, Aided by Daughter—Fifth Son to Enlist Soon.

Mrs. Carrie French, a widow, living on a ranch near Corvallis, has four sons in the United States army and a fifth son is preparing to enlist. Mrs. French is running the ranch with the assistance of two daughters. Another daughter is a nurse and has volunteered her services to the government.

It goes without saying that Mrs. French is a subscriber for Liberty loan bonds. "I have very little money," she told the canvasser, "and I don't know just how I'm going to pay for the bonds, but we'll manage some way."

Charles French, the eldest son, enlisted as a private in the artillery branch of the service two years ago. He has shown remarkable proficiency, has been promoted to a captaincy and is now an instructor in the artillery school at Mare Island.

James French, the second son, is a lieutenant of infantry, now with his command in France. Frank French, the third to enlist, is a sergeant in the engineer corps, last heard from at Camp Greene, N. C. The fourth son, Ernest French, enlisted in the aviation corps and is now thought to be in Egypt. Mrs. French's fifth son, Louis, has just become of age and is preparing to enlist in the army.

Mrs. Evert Lilsanatti, 467 East Fifty-first street north, is a daughter of Mrs. French and has joined her mother in the management of the ranch during the absence of her sons.

Big Central Meeting Follows

Immediately following the mass meetings all the crowds will move into Sixth street between the Liberty Temple at Sixth and Morrison and the intersection of Oak and Sixth street. There will be a band at each corner; the glee chorus of the 318th engineers will sing at one point after another; the people will join in communal singing of patriotic songs and spectacular special features are being planned.

At The Auditorium seats will be reserved for men and women campaign workers until 7:45 p. m., after which the reserved sections will be opened; there will be at least 3000 unreserved seats. The ushering will be in charge of the following team of young women: Mrs. James McCarren, general; Mrs. William M. Coplan and Mrs. Gertrude Coplan, lieutonant generals; Miss Charlotte Lee, Miss Catherine Riggs, Miss Pearl Sinfield and Miss Marjorie Schubel, captains; Winifred Bradley, Helen Ulion, Mamie Ulion, Anna Winters, Ana Cornupt, Edna Wilcox, Maude Wilcox, Violet Foster, Helen Krohn, Irene Saunders, Rosa Denham, Gladys Johnson, Lillian Cage, Grace Allen, Dorothy Ostrander, Ruth Cauthorn, Edith Driver, Margaret Alexander and Hilda Hinton. A remarkable feature of this evening's program is that it calls into action not only more speakers than were ever heard simultaneously in the city before, but more professional musicians of high talent. All the service is contributed to aid the patriotic cause. The band music down town will be so timed that music will be continuous and without discord.

NEW YORK LEARNING HOW OREGON WENT 'OVER TOP'

New York papers are getting the story of Oregon's remarkable achievement from interviews with residents of this state now visiting in the metropolis. Nathan Strauss, president of Fleischner, Mayer & Co., is now in New York on a business trip and is telling the people of that city what he knows about the Liberty loan campaign and the spirit of the people of Oregon.

Lieutenant General Julius L. Meier this morning received the following telegram from Mr. Strauss:

"Am delighted with the contents of your telegram. Extend my earnest congratulations to the entire Portland staff in their wonderful achievement. Liberty loan promises to be largely over-subscribed and I hope you won't stop until the quota is at least doubled. Let Portland and Oregon lead the nation in giving notice to the kaiser that we at home stand ready to give our last dollar to back up our boys over there."

A telegram was received by Arthur L. Fish, from the Benjamin & Kentnor company of New York, as follows:

"Last night's dispatches flashed the electrifying news to all the world. All hail! Congratulations to Portland and Oregon for the distinguished honor of being first over the top on third Liberty loan drive."

ALL COUNTIES BUT TWO HAVE FULL LOAN QUOTAS

With Liberty loan subscriptions totaling $12,000,000, Portland will continue the campaign until the canvass is completed in every district in the city. Men in close touch with the work believe that Portland's subscriptions will amount to $15,000,000 at the end of the four weeks' campaign officially designated by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

The following general order was issued by General Guy Talbot and Lieutenant Generals James A. Cranston and Julius L. Meier:

Secretary McAdoo's orders are that this campaign shall continue for four weeks, April 6 to May 4.

Portland has decided to maintain enough of its organization thoroughly to complete the canvass of all districts to the end that every potential subscriber shall be solicited.

Each colonel is to furnish two workers to be on duty each day at Liberty temple to take care of matters pertaining to districts under jurisdiction of colonels.

When in position to do so, captains are instructed to send to their colonels a signed statement to the effect that their district has been thoroughly canvassed and, to the best of their knowledge and belief, no prospect has been missed.

Captains are to keep all cards in their districts that require following up. These cards should not be returned unless prospect has actually been seen.

In some instances prospects have been out of town when first called upon; in some cases men in charge of local offices have been compelled to communicate with their home offices regarding Portland's quota of their subscription. See that these cases have been thoroughly covered.

Captains are instructed to send in a typewritten list of all their workers up to date, as numerous workers have been added since organization has been formed.

When district has been completed, return to headquarters, at Liberty temple, receipt books, writing workers' name, address and telephone plainly on back of book. Return celluloid buttons and all unused supplies, also receipts for badges and supplies (signed by workers and captains), to Liberty temple.

Bronze badges to be retained by workers.

Reports and cash will be received at Northwestern and United States National banks up until 7 o'clock Monday evening.

After Monday reports and cash will be received by cashier at Liberty temple.

The total of the state outside of Portland, according to Friday night's official statement, was $10,164,000. Very material additions have been made to this total today. All counties in the state with two exceptions have subscribed their full quotas. The two counties behind in their subscriptions are Josephine and Jackson. State campaign managers believe that Jackson county will come into the blue today. The work in Josephine county was late in getting started and it will probably be several days before complete returns are available.

GOVERNMENT CLOSES BYRON PROSECUTION IN FEDERAL COURT

Trial of Seattle Man Indicted With Frank E. Alley Concluding.

The government concluded its case today in the federal court against Carlos L. Byron, Seattle man charged with using the mails to defraud more than a score of persons who paid money for claims that were not secured.

Byron was indicted with Frank E. Alley, Portland attorney who disappeared shortly after his indictment.

The lands on which Byron is said to have guaranteed locations are in the Roseburg district in pending lieu selection of F. A. Hyde & Co. and Fred A. Kribs.

Evidence introduced by John J. Beckman, assistant United States attorney, who is trying the case for the government, was that Byron had declared he could locate persons and get for them the preference right when the selections of Kribs and the Hyde company had been cancelled and restored to entry.

Byron's counsel declared that Byron was acting in good faith and that he agreed to refund money of persons who obtained no title to the land. The defense has several witnesses who will testify that their money was so refunded.

Byron is said to have collected several thousand dollars on $1000 location contracts. Witnesses for the government testified that he collected from $150 to $500 cash on each contract.
