

YOUNG OFFICERS ANXIOUSLY WAIT FOR COMMISSIONS

Men at Camp Lewis Who Completed Third Officers' Training Course Return to Ranks.

EXPENSE ALLOWANCES MADE

Schedule for Commutation of Quarters, Heat and Light Dating From April 1, Is Relief.

Camp Lewis, April 20.—Six hundred young Americans, the cream of the camp, were graduated today from the third officers' training camp, where for the past three months they have alternately studied and drilled in preparation to accept commissions as officers. They were reviewed this morning by Major General H. A. Greene, and afterward the general told them of the duties which lie ahead of them and the responsibilities which would hereafter be theirs.

To the onlookers who watched the men as they stood at attention while the general made his short address, the picture was impressive. With intelligence fairly blinding from every countenance, the men who have gone through the camp gave the impression that the officers who have chosen them for commission from the 216 who began the course made a wise choice.

Men Have Been Diligent
Tonight every man is enjoying the first real liberty which he has had for three months; for, though they had Wednesday afternoons and Saturdays and Sundays off, the duties exacted were such that many preferred to stay in camp and study. No stone was left unturned to win a commission, and if the losing of a few hours' leave was an aid, they were given over to study instead of recreation.

Monday morning the men will be back to their old organizations to active service as officers. In the meantime they will drill and fulfill the duties which they had before going to the camp. Recommendations will be forwarded to the war department in a few days by the officers who have the duties of grading the men, and the announcement of who have won commissions will be made from there through the committee on public information. Exactly how many men will be recommended out of the 600 who finished the course, and whether there will be any above the grade of second lieutenant the officers in charge of the camp refuse to state, acting under orders they received from the war department that all information in this respect shall emanate from Washington.

Commutation for Officers
Of a great deal of interest to every married officer in camp is the publication this week of the schedule for the commutation of quarters, light and heat which will be paid them for every month beginning April 1. Every married second lieutenant will receive $31.50 in addition to his pay for the month of April, the amount varying with the months in the year on the allowance given for heat and light. The allowance for quarters remains stationary—$24 a month.

First lieutenants will receive $36 for quarters every month, and for this month $10.25 for light and heat; captains get $48 for quarters and $12.24 for light and heat, while majors receive $60 for their rooms and an additional $14.12; lieutenant colonels who are entitled to $72 a month, plus $16.28 for April for light and heat, while colonels will get $84 for their quarters and $18.16 for the balance; brigadier generals will draw $96 for their rooms and $19.90 with which to heat and light them, and the allowance for a major general is $129.33.

Incentive to Matrimony
While every officer in camp is not married—the bill providing that only those who have families shall be beneficiaries under it—nearly all of those above the rank of first lieutenant are. The commutation of quarters, light and heat is expected to be a very material aid to Cupid in the number of marriages among the junior officers, for it brings the pay of a second lieutenant who is married up to $12.12 a month. In December and January this is increased, the allotment for light and heat being raised for the second lieutenants up to $24, giving him a total of $17.16 a month.

There are 641 second lieutenants in camp, while the rest of the officers are: First lieutenants 421, captains 210, majors 29, lieutenant colonels 15, colonels 12, brigadier generals 2, and major general 1.

Flyer With Record Breaks Leg at Play

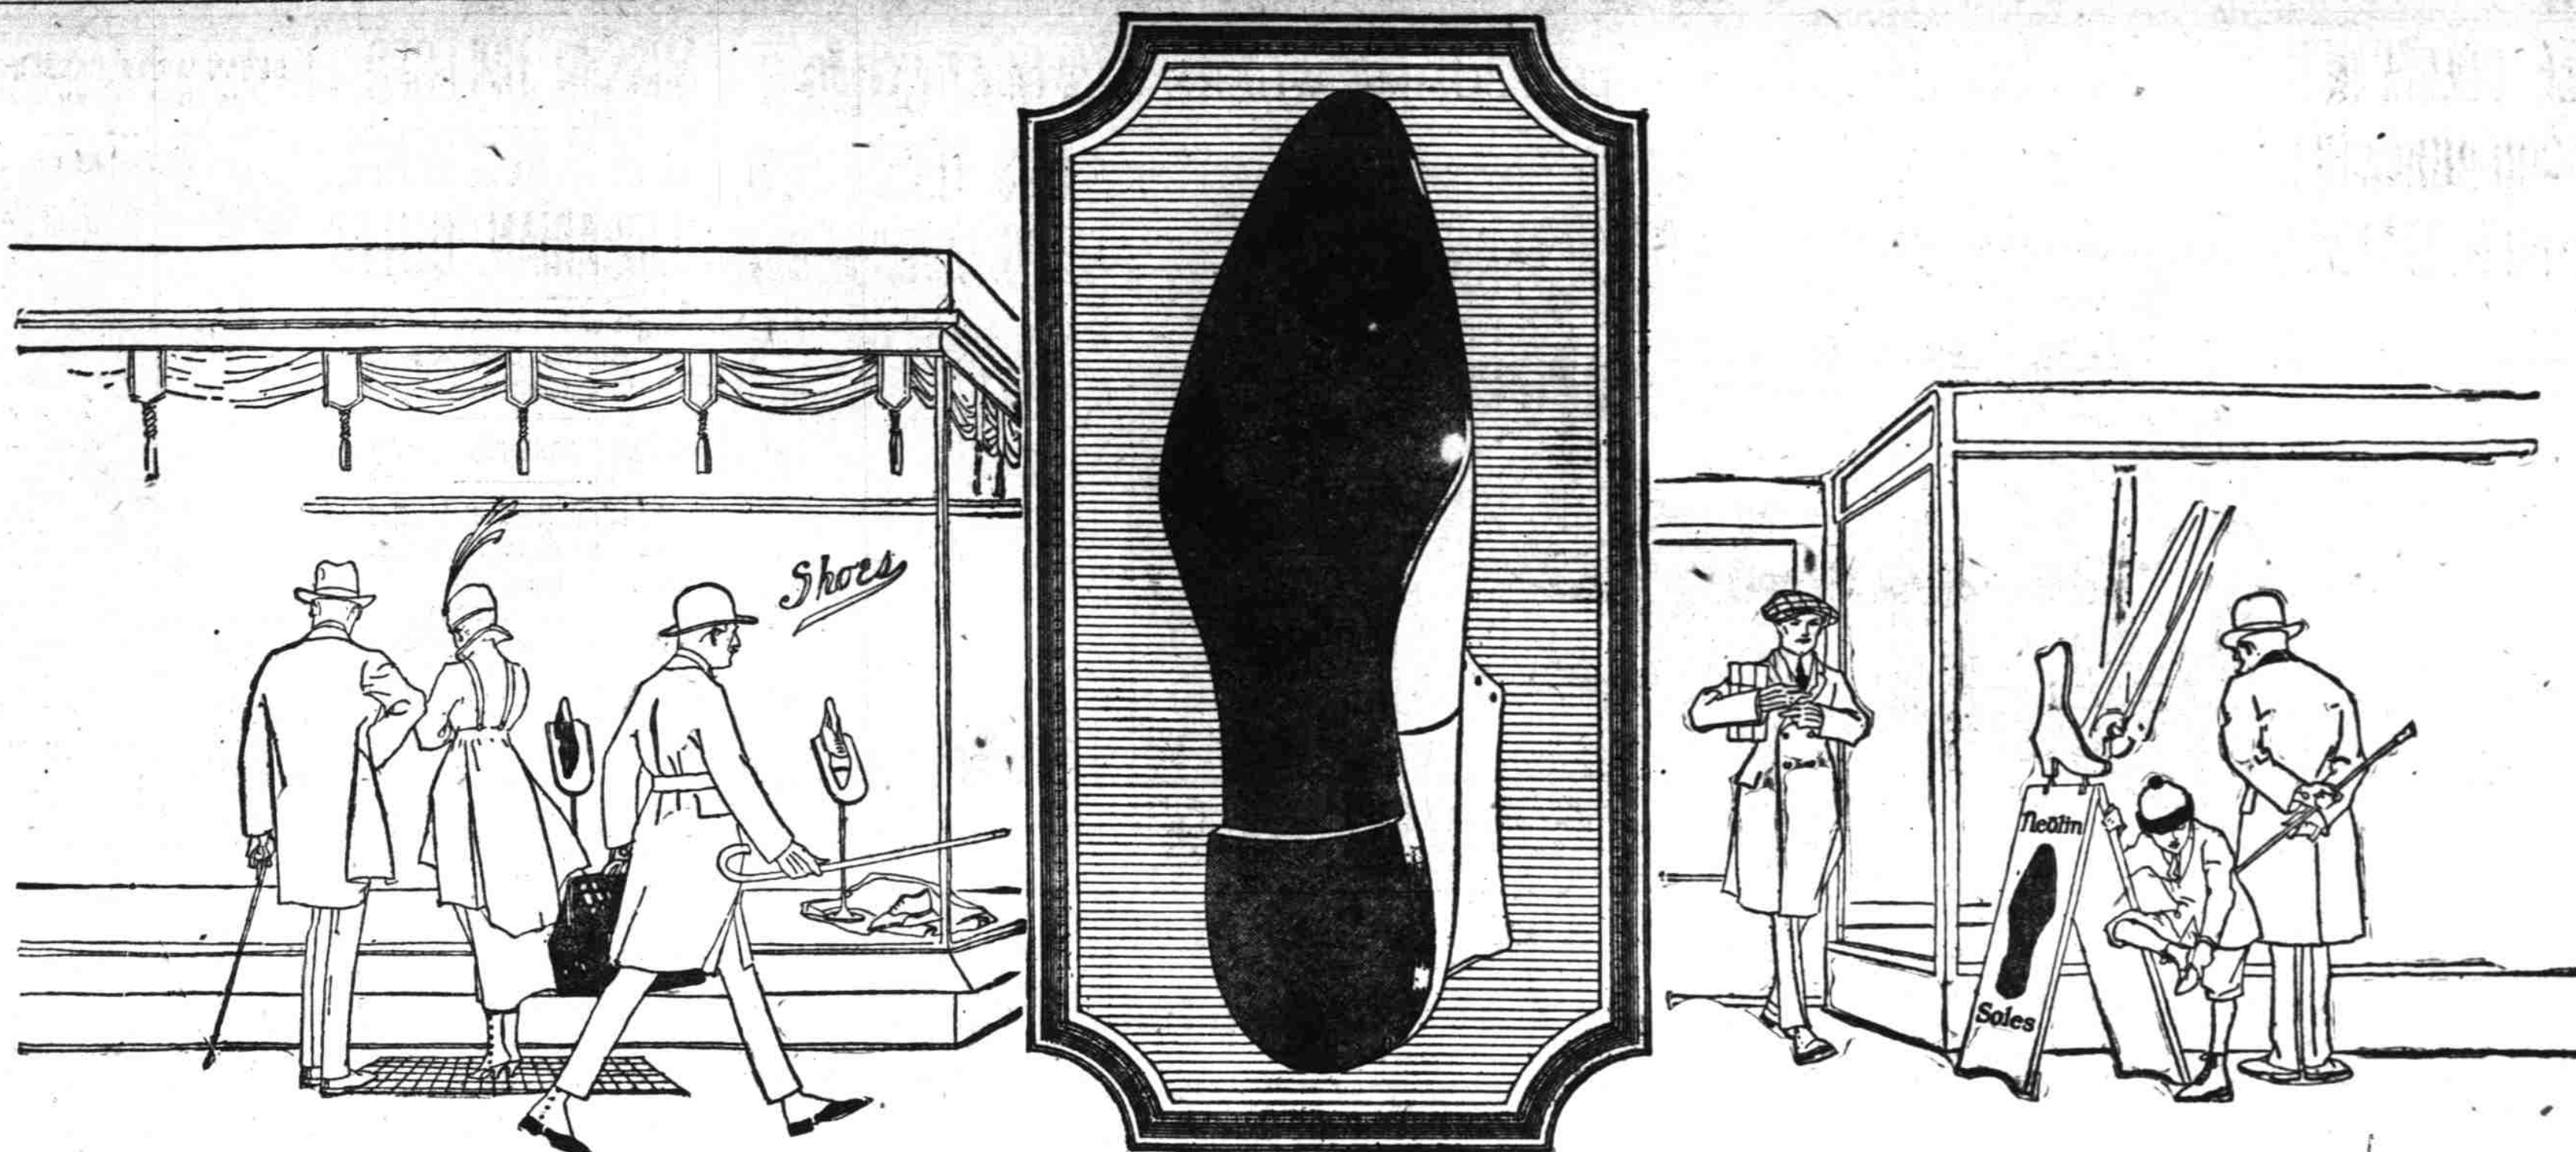

London, March 24.—(By Mail).—After escaping injury by hair-breadth scores of air fights from a few thousand feet to three miles above earth, Captain Philip Fletcher Fullard, one of the British air "stars" broke his leg playing football. Fullard has had one of the most amazing careers of the war. He is a curly-haired, clear-eyed youth of 29 years of age. In six months flying he has sent 42 German airplanes spinning to earth and downed three captive balloons.

For his exploits in the air Captain Fullard has gained the Distinguished Service Order and the Military Cross with one bar.

Drafted Man Robbed On Way to Report

Conway, Ark., April 20.—(I. N. S.)—Ben Hyatt was working at Norfolk, Va., when he received notice from the selective service board at Conway, Ark., to appear there for examination. He bought a ticket, but while on the way he was robbed of ticket, money and all. Undaunted, he continued on the way, walking. He had a postmaster write the board that he was coming but that as he was forced to walk he might be a few days late. He finally reached Conway.

Women Like Mothers-in-law
Memphis, Tenn., April 20.—Elliott E. Loving, a soldier, was defendant in a divorce case in the Shelby county courts. His wife had brought the action just before he went to war. On the stand Loving indicated that he had soured on women in general. He defined a woman as follows: "A woman—well, she is more like a mother-in-law than anything else I can think of."

How to Cut Shoe Expense

Shoes are judged largely by the way they wear.

And shoe wear, analyzed, means sole wear. What you have to pay for shoes, by the year, depends almost altogether on how long your soles last.

So when you buy shoes this Spring—for yourself or for others in your family—it will pay to give separate and thoughtful attention to the soles.

It will pay to learn the merits of Neolin Soles—for these soles, costing no more than others, wear longer and so make shoes cost less.

If you have not learned the economy of these soles do so now. Get them on all the shoes you buy for members of your family this Spring. And specify Neolin Soles when you send worn shoes to the repairman for re-soleing.

You will find that you get not only longer wear—money-saving wear—but also a pleasant and satisfactory kind of wear that you have not known before. For these soles were created by scientists to have all the qualities that soles should have—long wear, comfortable flexibility, waterproofness and resistance to slipping.

But when you ask for Neolin Soles, look underneath for the Neolin trade mark. Dealers and repairmen in the lists below will point out this mark to you as identifying the genuine.

Mark that mark; stamp it on your memory: Neolin—the trade symbol for a never changing quality product of
