Many Friends Attend Wedding Of Miss Malpas

By Nona Lawler

BEFORE a large gathering of the friends of the young couple, the marriage of Miss Ethel Malpas and Lieutenant John L. Riddell of the Forty-fourth Infantry, stationed at Camp Lewis, was solemnized at 2:30 yesterday afternoon at St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral. Dean McCollister officiated and the bride was unattended. She wore her wedding gown of dark blue cloth, a modish tulle, with a chic hat of black straw and a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Afternoon David Riddell, Jr., a brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the guests were ushered by Captain Platt and Lieutenant Lloyd of Camp Lewis. The church was decorated with Easter lilies and palms about the altar. Prior to the bridal party making its appearance, Carl Denton played a number of organ selections and followed with the "Bridal Chorus," from "Lohengrin" as a wedding march. Following the services at the church, a few of the intimate friends of the bride and groom, including a number of her sorority sisters from the University of Washington, gathered at the Malpas residence for tea.

The bride is a beautiful girl and is most popular in the younger set. She has been attending the University of Washington up to last February, where she was a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. The bridegroom is a southern man, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Davis Riddell, who came up from San Francisco for the wedding, having but recently come to the coast to live.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Riddell left Saturday evening for their wedding trip and on their return will make their home at Tacoma.

A number of affairs have been given complimentary to Mrs. John L. Riddell (Ethel Malpas) during the last few weeks of her prenuptial days. Monday, Miss Helen Platt gave an informal luncheon, asking, in addition, Miss Alice Dabney, Miss Irene Daly and Mrs. Harrison Platt.

Thursday Miss Irene Daly gave an informal luncheon for the bride, when Miss Helen McDonough of San Francisco, a cousin of the bridegroom, also came up for the wedding, shared honors with the bride elect. Miss McDonough and Miss Evelyn Magruder are both house guests of Mrs. Riddell.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Riddell entertained at dinner for the bridal party and the families at the Benson hotel, where they are domiciled.

Mrs. Frederick C. Malpas and her daughter, Mrs. John L. Riddell (Ethel Malpas), a bride yesterday, received Thursday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock at their home, 821 Kearney street, at one of the largest and most beautifully appointed teas of the season. The reception was arranged prior to the wedding after the custom now in vogue in England during war times, and the wedding Saturday afternoon. The informal, no cards being issued for the services at the church. The house was a veritable garden of flowers, the gifts of the guests to the bride in pink, the reception hall was filled with yellow daffodils, and in the drawing room huge baskets of pink toned snap dragons. The dining room was in pink, the Ophelia roses entering the tea table.

Mrs. Malpas and her daughter and Mr. Riddell's mother, Mrs. Jefferson Davis Riddell of San Francisco, received Mrs. Malpas at the church and blue gown of sheer material fashioned on modish lines, with gold lace elaborations. Mrs. Riddell was attired in a modish blue georgette crepe with chiffon and lace trimming, and the bride elect was a picture of loveliness in a tulle all of white, similar to a wedding gown. It was an important gift of white lace built over white satin and she carried an old fashioned nosegay of quaint spring flowers. In the drawing room Mrs. Malpas and her daughter, Mrs. Sanderson Reed assisted in receiving. Pouring at the tea table and cutting ices were Mrs. George Young, Mrs. William T. Dwyer, Mrs. Helen G. Galt and Mrs. Morton Insley. The girls assisting were Miss Helen McDonough of San Francisco, a cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Mary E. Galt, Miss Helen Platt, Miss Alice Dabney, Miss Martha Hoyt, Miss Catherine Beck and Miss Evalina Magruder. There were about 200 guests in attendance at the tea.

Mrs. Cyrus S. Steph opened her home on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the first of the series of four opera recitals to be given by Sydney Francis Hoban. Massenet's opera, "Thais," was the first to be interpreted and the subscribers are looking forward with great interest to Wednesday afternoon, when he will give "Iris at the residence of Mrs. Walter Taylor Sumner. Here, as usual, Mr. Hoban is drawing large and distinguished audiences, among those attending the opera recitals being Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. David T. Hensyng, Mrs. Walter Taylor Sumner, Miss Mackenzie, Miss Failing, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. Nathan Edward Ayer, Mrs. Everett Ames, Mrs. L. C. Gilman, Mrs. David T. Hensyng, Mrs. Guy Talbot, Mrs. Harrington Simmons, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mrs. T. Edward Harding, Mrs. Walter B. Beebe, Mrs. F. M. Warren, Miss Katherine S. Power, Mrs. John D. Coleman, Mrs. Alice Benson Beach, Mrs. W. B. Mackay, Mrs. Vanleer Eichenbaum, Mrs. Robert Inman, Mrs. J. D. Farrell, Mrs. J. N. Coghlan, Mrs. Francis R. Preston, Mrs. Charles T. Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Schnabel entertained with a line party at the Hellie theatre to see Otis Skinner, their guest being Miss Florence Ackerman, of San Francisco, who was maid of honor at the wedding of their daughter on Thursday night, and to Mrs. Charles H. Schnabel, twin brother of the bride, who was best man at the wedding, and Miss A. Cabell of Palo Alto, who is chaperoning Miss Ackerman. Miss Cabell is related to a number of prominent Portland families, by whom she is being entertained.

After the performance Mr. and Mrs. Schnabel further entertained their guests at the supper dance at the Multnomah Hotel.

Lucia Powell of Boston, president of the National Alliance of Unitarian Women, was a distinguished visitor in

MRS. JOHN L. RIDDELL (ETHEL MALPAS)

Portland last week when she appeared before the women of the Unitarian Alliance of Portland, Friday afternoon, at the church parlors, Broadway and Yamhill street. There was a preliminary address by the visitor, after which tea was served from 3 to 4 and hosts of guests called to greet her. She was a guest at the Portland hotel during her stay. Friday morning a trip was planned out the Columbia River highway in her honor. She left Saturday, continuing her tour of the western division, which includes California, Oregon, Washington and Canada.

Mrs. C. D. Stimson and Miss Stimson, prominent society people of Seattle, who have many friends in Portland, are spending a few days in the city and are guests at Hotel Portland.

Mrs. Adolph Neu was hostess Tuesday at a charmingly arranged box party at the Orpheum, followed by tea served in the grill of Hotel Portland. The affair was arranged as a compliment to Miss Katherine Schnabel, who on Thursday evening became the bride of Lieutenant Edward Alexander O'Neill, U. S. A. Those enjoying Mrs. Neu's hospitality were: Miss Schnabel, Miss Helen Page, Miss Jean Stevenson, Miss Helen Jones, Miss Dorothy Kerns, Miss Helen Morgan, Miss Marcella Smith and Miss Cornelia Tevis.

Miss Polly Young went Friday to Tacoma to spend the week end with Mrs. Charles T. Donworth (Evelyn Carey) at the Tacoma Country club. She expects to return to Portland on Tuesday.

Last week, at Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Teal and their house guest, J. Philmister Proctor, were guests of the university faculty and were among the honored guests at the reception given at the university Wednesday evening. The affair was given in the architectural studio and the faculty of the architectural department received the company who assembled to greet the visitors. The gathering was thoroughly informal and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Schreff with Dean E. H. Lawrence and Roswell Dosch introduced the callers. The exhibition of war-posters in the display room was viewed previous to the reception and by way of entertainment a musical program was arranged during which Arthur Faguy-Cote sang, Miss Winifred Forbes gave violin selections and Mrs. Hollis Johnston favored the company with a vocal solo. Coffee was provided for refreshment and Mrs. George H. Gerlinger and Mrs. A. C. Dixon presided over the service at the table. Mr. and Mrs. Teal are presenting a piece of splendid statuary done by Mr. Proctor to the campus in honor of Mr. Teal's father. They planned the trip to Eugene in order to find a desirable location for the "Pioneer" when it will be finally presented and dedicated. It is a considerable discussion, it is practically certain that the statue will stand facing Johnson hall, among the trees between Johnson and the Friendly hall. Mr. and Mrs. Teal and Mr. Proctor were guests at the president's home during their stay of two days' duration.

Mrs. H. R. Galt will leave May 1, accompanied by her little son, for Kansas City, where they will join Mr. Galt, who left last week to establish his home there for the present. Mrs. Galt is the daughter of Senator and Mrs. George E. Chamberlain and will be remembered as Miss Marguerite Chamberlain before her marriage.

Friends of Mrs. Henry W. Metzger will rejoice to learn that she is convalescing from a recent operation for tonsillitis and that she has been removed to her home. She will be able to see her friends in a few days, and in the meantime she is being showered with cheery messages and gifts of beautiful flowers.

Miss Evalina Magruder arrived on Wednesday from her home in Tacoma to be the guest of Mrs. John L. Riddell (Ethel Malpas) until after her wedding Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McBride had as their guests last week Dr. Cornelius M. McBride of New Plymouth, Idaho, who is a brother of Mr. McBride and a prominent orchardist of Idaho, and Professor and Mrs. Thomas Huston McBride, with their grandson, George, Professor McBride also being a brother. He is president emeritus of the state university of Iowa and with his wife has been visiting their son in Seattle.

Messages of congratulation are finding their way to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daly over the arrival Tuesday at the Portland Maternity hospital of a baby daughter.

Mrs. Thomas Joyce, who went to Baltimore to join her husband, Major Joyce, who is in camp there, has returned to Portland. She has been in the East for several weeks.

Mrs. William Carlisle, late of Petrograd, Russia, was the honored guest at a silver tea Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. A. Morrison, given by the women of Trinity Episcopal guild from 3 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Warren Keeler, president of the guild, and Mrs. Morrison received with Mrs. Carlisle and at 3:15 the latter gave an interesting talk on Russia in her present crisis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. O'Neill, parents and Mrs. M. T. O'Neill, grandmother of Lieutenant Edward Alexander O'Neill, (Ethel Malpas) who was married Thursday to Miss Katherine Schnabel, came up from Santa Cruz, Cal., early in the week to attend the wedding and are guests at the Hotel Portland.

Congratulations are being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas (Ruth Marvin) over the arrival of a baby girl last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Frost and their little daughter and maid have returned home from an extended sojourn in Southern California. Mrs. Frost Langdon and her daughter were in Los Angeles for over three months where Mr. Frost passed some time in the south and in New York. He returned west via Los Angeles and they motored as far as Oakland and shipped their car home from that point. They are now domiciled at the Nortonia.

Mrs. E. W. Langdon and her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Boscow (Grace Langdon), left Friday evening for Fortress Monroe to join Mr. Boscow, who is taking a course of training at the camp there. He formerly was stationed here with the Coast artillery. Mrs. Langdon and Mrs. Boscow probably will remain in the south all summer.

Miss Maude Ainsworth was honored by a number of smart social affairs, given recently in the Angel City. Yesterday she was the honored guest at a luncheon given at the home of Mrs. Charles Prager.

Miss Ada Alice Tuttle gave the assembly program at the University of Oregon on Wednesday. While in Eugene she was showered with social attentions, among them being a luncheon at the Hotel Osborne given by the Mu Phi Epsilon musical sorority, and a tea at the residence of Professor and Mrs. Schreff, who on the same afternoon were entertaining Mrs. Margaret Burrill Biddle of Portland and the noted sculptor, A. Phimister Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fielding S. Kelly entertained Tuesday night with a supper party and dance in the grill of Hotel Portland following a line party at the Orpheum.

to Ontario, Or., to attend the convention of the Cattle and Horse Raisers' association.

Mrs. Peter J. Holohan was a charming hostess of Thursday afternoon, when she presided at a luncheon of six covers at the Portland Golf club, after which the guests played golf. The table was decked with jonquils and little gold place cards marked covers for Mrs. A. Spangler, Mrs. George Wentworth, Mrs. Harry Joyce, Mrs. Edward Morris, Mrs. Charles Plank and the hostess.

Messages of sympathy are finding their way to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Healy (Mary Monks) over the death Friday of their infant son. The baby was born Friday morning and was baptized James Francis for his maternal grandfather and his father.

Miss Cumming Becomes Bride Of L. R. Wheeler

MISS SHANNA CUMMING and Lawrence R. Wheeler were married Tuesday evening at a simple though exceptionally pretty home wedding, solemnized at the suburban residence of the bride's father, Dr. W. A. Cumming, Dr. John H. Boyd officiated in the presence of a large assemblage of the friends of this popular couple. Miss Harriet Cumming was her sister's maid of honor and three little flower girls, Mary Elizabeth Wheeler, a niece of the bridegroom, and Anne and Lora Leadbetter, nieces of the bride, were the only other attendants.

The bride was a picture of loveliness in her quaint wedding robe, made with soft clinging lines, fashioned of Georgette crepe over white satin, with pearl embroidery and a charmingly trimmed train was of the sheer material, trimmed with pearl ornaments, and her tulle veil, fastened with a coronet of rose point lace and sprays of orange blossoms, completed a most unusual and charming toilette. She carried a graceful shower bouquet of orchids and white sweet peas. Her sister, as maid of honor, was stunning in a tulle gown of white tulle, built over satin in the same tones of blue and made with a wide girdle of silver. She carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. The little girls were daintily costumed in white frocks of batiste and lace and carried little baskets of pink sweet peas.

John E. Wheeler was his brother's best man.

The house was a burst of spring bloom with masses of the pink Japanese cherry blossoms, combined with the huckleberry greenery and illuminated with the soft light of countless candles. The couple pledged vows before an improvised altar of palms and flowers erected in the drawing room and the ushers held festoons of smilax and flowers from the garden. The ceremony was followed by the bridal party passed. An orchestra played the wedding march and for the dancing which followed later in the evening.

Receiving with the bridal party were the brother-in-law and sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perrell of Philadelphia; Mr. Wheeler's mother, Mrs. William Esbert Wheeler of New York; his sister, Mrs. Herman Pfeifer of New York; and his brother, William Wheeler of San Francisco.

Freelancing at the supper table were Mrs. Karkine Wood, Mrs. Charles E. Miller, Mrs. George E. Englesby, Miss Jean Mackenzie and Mrs. Louis Leadbetter.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler will make their home in Portland. Mrs. Wheeler is one of the most clever and popular girls of Portland society, being gifted as both an artist and a musician. Mr. Wheeler is vice president and business manager of the Evening Telegram, being associated with his brother, John E. Wheeler, as owner of the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Willbur Pelton Reid are being showered with messages of congratulation on the arrival Saturday of a baby boy, their second son. The new arrival has been named Arthur Pelton Reid. Mrs. Reid will be remembered as Miss Evelyn Hitchcock.

Mrs. C. R. Templeton is in Berkeley, Cal., where she is receiving much social attention. She will chaperon a group of Phi Beta Kappa girls in a house party, when they will be guests at the Lick observatory, through the invitation of a member of the P. E. K. fraternity who is in charge of the observatory. Dr. Templeton will go down to be present at his daughter's graduation, May 15.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Daughrey left Friday afternoon for a 10 days' visit at their ranches at Weiser, Idaho, and Umatilla, Or. They will go first to Weiser, Idaho, and then to Umatilla, Or.
