

PORTLAND LEAVES $1,000,000 MARK IN W. S. S. SALES

Rose City Shakes Bushels of Coins From Savings Banks and Old Stockings.

LENDS ALL TO "UNCLE"

Figures for First Half of April Show Big Increase Over Early March.

Portland has reached the $1,000,000 mark in War Savings Stamps sales.

State Director C. S. Jackson doesn't make such a statement officially, because Saturday's totals have not been compiled, but the city had only to record transactions amounting to $13,000 yesterday to make it a million, and according to the law of averages in local stamp sales, this figure was exceeded.

The total sales in the state are nearing the $3,000,000 mark, and will have attained it by May 1.

The significance of the sales for the first two weeks in April lies in the steady increase they show over the first two weeks in March.

For instance, State Distributor Curry finds that Clackamas county is $600 ahead of its March record. Douglas shows 100 per cent increase. The first 16 days of March sales in Douglas were $670.57 and for 16 days in April they were $12,743.32.

Klamath shows only 50 per cent efficiency.

Multnomah Goes Strong

Multnomah is hitting the high spots. The first half of March showed $96,778.78 and the first half of April shows $145,003.07, reflecting the effective work of school children and the postoffice and mail carriers.

Wasco, under Chairman Marx Vogt, shows slightly more than 100 per cent increase, and Wheeler, which occupies No. 1 position in the percentage of quota attainment column, sold in the first half of March $115,656, and in the first half of April $207,830.

Washington county shows the biggest increase, going from $799,993 for the first half of March to $1,526,639 for the first half of April.

In the state at large sales showed $329,088.09 for the first half of March, while April has jumped to $522,447.20, or an increase of approximately 60 per cent.

Lane county is evidently saving the report on its sales, for so far this month it has reported only $38,142, whereas for the first 16 days of March it sold stamps amounting to $17,103.30.

Baker county has more than doubled its sales for the first half of April over those of the first two weeks of March.

Banks Getting Busy

The United States National Bank, Sixth and Stark streets, which has led all banks in Portland in the sale of War Savings Stamps, is preparing plans for a Thrift Stamp contest which will appeal to all savers.

President J. C. Alingworth, Vice President G. Crawford and Assistant Cashier W. A. Holt yesterday held a conference with State Distributor Jesse W. Curry at which the plan for the contest was discussed.

Formal announcement of the conditions of the contest will be made by the bank during the week. The general plan is to give to 200 persons every two weeks a War Savings Stamp without the additional cost, provided the thrift card is retained at the bank and returned to it within two weeks for exchange.

This contest at the start will be limited to every two weeks to the first 200 persons who secure a registered thrift card from the United States National Bank and there will be a new contest every two weeks.

Contest Starts Soon

The first contest will start in about a week and the definite date of its start will be announced in the papers and through the advertisements of the bank.

Assistant Fire Chief "Johnny" Young is one of the best salesmen for War Savings Stamps and is running an agency of his own. In fact "Johnny" Young's business in War Savings has reached such a point that nothing short of the United States Federal Reserve bank seems to satisfy his need for supplies, so if you see Chief Young coming out of the Federal Reserve bank on Stark street you may know that he is not making an inspection trip for fire hazard, but that he has been having a conference with National Bank Examiner George S. Loveland, arranging for a supply of War Savings Stamps to meet the demand of his growing thrift card holders.

Of the school boy hustlers of the city Thomas Miller Campbell of 445 East Eighteenth street North is a shining light. In four days last week he made 25 calls and sold $603.25 worth of Thrift Stamps.

MISS EMMA WOLD IS NEW WOMAN'S PARTY PRESIDENT IN OREGON

State Branch Urges President Wilson and Senators to Back Amendment.

The Oregon branch of the National Woman's party, which has been holding a convention in this city for some days, brought it to a close Saturday with a luncheon and election of officers at the Multnomah hotel, with 75 present. In the absence of the president, Dr. Florence Manion, the first vice president, Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, presided.

The first speaker was Lieutenant Hector MacQuarrie of the British royal field artillery, who paid tribute to English womanhood and to America and American ideals. Bishop W. T. Sumner spoke on patriotism and woman's place in the body politic.

Miss Margaret Whittemore, eastern representative of the Woman's party, detailed the activities of the party in picketing the White House in its effort to force the passage of a federal amendment for suffrage. At the conclusion of the meeting a resolution directed to President Wilson and Senators Chamberlain and McNary of Oregon, Martin of Virginia and Gallinger of New Hampshire urging them to put their political power behind the suffrage amendment to push it to a quick passage was adopted.

The session closed with the election of officers as follows: President, Miss Emma Wold; first vice president, Mrs. W. J. Hawkins; second vice president, Miss Ruth Catlin; third vice president, Mrs. Otis B. Wright; fourth vice president, Dr. Florence Manion; secretary, Miss Gertrude Talbot; treasurer, Miss Caroline Shearer.

DEATH TAKES AWAY ONE OF PROMINENT LIBERTY WORKERS

Mrs. Joseph Savan Succumbs to Pneumonia; Took Severe Cold While Loan Campaigning.

Hearts of the Third Liberty Loan workers of Portland are saddened today over the untimely and unexpected death of one of their most faithful colleagues—Mrs. Joseph Savan.

That this devoted humanitarian and steadfast friend of the war-ridden victims of Europe died a sacrifice to the patriotic cause she had espoused is the unanimous opinion of those who worked with her in the campaign now in progress to put Oregon over the top in the race for national bond sale honors.

Contracting a cold as result of her arduous labors early and late, Mrs. Savan was later stricken with pneumonia. Sunday a week ago she had attended a luncheon in honor of the soldier boys. Monday she was taken suddenly ill while visiting her friends, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Singer, of 111 1/2 North Twenty-first street. Despite heroic medical treatment, the patient sank gradually, and the end came Saturday afternoon at the Unger home. In desperate effort to save the patriot's life, attending physicians administered oxygen as a last resort, but without avail.

Her death has caused profound sorrow in the hearts of all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. The following tender tribute was paid by one of her most intimate friends:

"Mrs. Savan gave her life for her adopted country. She died fighting gloriously for the right, and her sacrifice on the altar of freedom is just as great as the sacrifice of the soldier who gives up his life on the field of battle. Mrs. Savan worked faithfully and hard, and it was because of her defiance of physical discomfort and exposure to inclement weather that she fell a victim to the disease that claimed her young life."

Mrs. Savan was 27 years of age. She was born in Russia and had lived in this country 12 years. About six years ago she was married to Joseph Savan, a Portland jeweler.

Her life in her adopted land since the war began had been one of devotion to every phase of war relief. She aided in the Armenian relief campaign, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. drives and the Liberty loan projects. She took a prominent part in charitable undertakings in behalf of both Jews and Gentiles. She was a member of the Council of Jewish Women and was formerly president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the B'nai B'rith.

She is survived by her husband of 765 Marshall street; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rubenstein; Goldie and Cecil, sisters, and Abe E. Savan, Harry Savan, Roy Savan and Samuel Savan, brothers.

The funeral will be held from the Holman undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Hazelip Sues for Divorce

Mary Edna Hazelip filed suit for divorce against W. R. Hazelip in the Circuit court Saturday afternoon, alleging cruelty. They were married in this city December 17, 1916. Decrees of divorce were granted by Presiding Judge Morrow to Agatha M. Gregory from N. C. Gregory, cruelty; Eldon S. Park from Myrtle M. Park, desertion, and Jennie A. Britt from Orin W. Britt, cruelty and non-support.

Sold Hard Cider, Charge

On a charge of selling hard cider which failed to come within the prohibition law, Antoine Eoter, who runs a refreshment stand at 314 1/2 Burnside street, was arrested Saturday night by Sergeant Zan Overan and Officer Skulpins. He put up $200 bail and was released.

EVERY TOWN IN OREGON IS NOW IN BLUE COLUMN

City Chairman Edward Cookingham Telegraphs Washington Oregon Is 100 Per Cent State.

'BILL' HART COMING MONDAY

Noted Film Star and Senator Kenyon Will Speak at The Auditorium on Monday Night.

With the close of the second week of the third Liberty loan drive, City Chairman Edward Cookingham was able to telegraph to headquarters at Washington Saturday night that every town in the state has now passed its assigned quota, making Oregon a full 100 per cent state.

This report was made possible by the fact that Oakland, only town that had not passed its quota a week ago, had finally joined the "blue" column and was still adding to its subscription.

Estimates Saturday night, based on scattering reports that were not compiled, were that Oregon's total date is in excess of $24,000,000. Of this sum, $13,000,000 was subscribed in Portland and more than $11,000,000 outside of Portland. The quota assigned Oregon was $18,985,000, of which Portland was to produce $10,050,000.

All Over Top

The following telegram was sent to R. W. Emerson, director of publicity, at Washington, by Mr. Cookingham:

"Every county, every town and every community in Oregon to which a quota was assigned has gone over the top in the third Liberty loan. But for one town this report would have been made a week ago."

A telegram was also sent to George K. Weeks of San Francisco, campaign manager of the Twelfth federal reserve district, announcing the new record set by Oregon. The message read:

"Every town in the state of Oregon is now over the top, as well as all of the counties. Report on counties was sent in a week ago."

Campaign officials are of the opinion that Oregon is the first state in the Union to report all its towns 100 per cent subscribed.

State Campaign Manager Robert E. Smith made a special trip to Oakland to find out why the delay in getting its quota raised. He telegraphed that it had been raised and the people there complained at the criticism directed against their town as being unjustified. Many of the people listed as heavy bank depositors reside elsewhere and subscribed in other places, making the burden too heavy on the actual residents. He reported the quota was reached Saturday.

Outsiders Yet to Hear From

Many outside corporations are still to be heard from by the state committee. The United States Steel corporation turned a subscription of $100,000 to the credit of Portland Saturday morning and there are said to be others equally as large who will be reported before the end of the campaign. It is freely predicted that the state will subscribe well toward $30,000,000.

Reports from points outside Portland will be received Monday and Tuesday. A few scattering towns have already reported on the activities of the past week. Among the number Rainier registers $45,450 in subscriptions, bringing its percentage to 300. The local committee is not yet satisfied, but insists that the town will make its total an even $50,000.

"If you can't wear the khaki yourself, come through with your money. Make it fight for you with the boys who have given themselves in this struggle to make the world a safe and decent place to live in," says Bill Hart, hero of filmdom, who will speak at the Auditorium Monday night.

"Bill" Hart to Speak

Hart is on a speaking tour of the country in the interests of the third

Liberty loan, called to this service by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. Mr. Hart will appear with Senator Kenyon of Iowa before three Portland audiences. Monday noon they are scheduled to meet the members' council of the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon.

At 2 o'clock Hart will speak to the students of Franklin high school, and at 3 o'clock he will speak before the high school students of the grade and the teachers of the Portland public schools at Lincoln high. Superintendent L. R. Alderman will preside at these meetings.

Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, in The Auditorium, Senator Kenyon and Bill Hart will be the drawing cards at a mass meeting. Edgar B. Piper will preside. Besides the speaking, a special musical program has been arranged by Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke:

Organ concert, Frederick W. Goodrich; "America," audience; "There's a Long, Long Trail," Mrs. Jane Burns Albert and audience; "Star Spangled Banner," audience. Adrian Epping, director.

Comes on Monday

Milton R. Klepper, manager of the Liberty loan campaign, announces the receipt of a telegram from Sam E. Rook, announcing that Mr. Hart will arrive Monday morning, instead of this morning, as previously announced. This necessitated cancelling meetings arranged for Sunday, including the mass meeting this evening at Liberty Temple.

Mr. Klepper also announces the following Liberty loan speakers: Monday afternoon, Mayor Charles Gordon (Ralph Conner) will speak. Bishop W. T. Sumner will preside at this meeting. Music will be furnished by the Orpheum orchestra and the following musical program will be given: "America," audience; "Somewhere in France is a Little Italy," Mrs. Louisa De Miller and audience; "Star Spangled Banner," audience.

Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian church, Dr. John H. Boyd will preside and the following musical program will be rendered: "America," audience; "Somewhere in France is a Little Italy," Mrs. Louisa De Miller and audience; "Star Spangled Banner," audience.

Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian church Professor S. H. Clark of Chicago will speak. The program will begin at 8 o'clock and besides the speaking, will consist of the following musical numbers: "America," audience; "God Be With You Boys Tonight," Mildwyn De Witt and audience; "Keep the Home Fires Burning," Mr. Evans and the audience; "Star Spangled Banner," audience. Dr. W. T. Foster will preside.

Wednesday noon at the Multnomah hotel Professor S. H. Clark will be entertained at luncheon by the Four-Minute Men. He will give an address. Everett Ames will preside and the following musical program will be given: "America," audience; "Invictus," Otto Wedemeyer; "Star Spangled Banner," audience.

Jurors Tentatively Accepted for Trial

Chicago, April 20.—(I. N. S.)—Twelve jurors have been tentatively accepted by the defense in the trial of the 113 I. W. W. members on the charge of obstructing the government in the conduct of the war. Both sides said there was a prospect of the present venire standing. Federal Judge Landis has announced session to last one hour longer daily in an effort to speed up the trial.

The boy will be subjected to a mental examination.

ITALY'S PART IN WORLD FIGHT IS HIGHLY PRAISED

Professor Clark of American Academy at Rome Speaks Before Audience at Lincoln High.

GREAT INJUSTICE BEEN DONE

Speaker Says Attitude of Italians Saved Allies' Cause When Germany Had Victory in Grasp

Putting great emphasis upon the part Italy is playing in the war and upon the fact that Austria was the prime aggressor in starting the present world conflict from two to four years before it would have been started under the German ambitions, Professor Charles

Clark addressed an interested audience at the Lincoln high school auditorium Saturday night.

A large representation from Portland's Italian colony greeted the noted educator and displayed its patriotism by its interest in his talk and his pictures. Professor Clark is director of the school of classics in the American academy at Rome, and by virtue of several and extended trips to the front is versed on Italian activities in repelling the invading hordes from Austria.

Professor Clark reviewed the history of the war from Italy's viewpoint, and brought out many new viewpoints that were revealed to him officially by the Italian government. Italy, he declared, has actually been in conflict since 1911, when she declared war on Turkey and started the long Tripoli campaign from which she has really not yet emerged.

Has Twice Saved Allies

"In the world war Italy has at least twice saved the allies," Professor Clark said. At the beginning of the war France had to keep large numbers of troops on the Italian frontier, owing to the fact that Italy was a member of the triple alliance, therefore supposedly hostile to the French. But Italy at once declared her neutrality and in time permitted the French to rush troops to battle of the Marne, where they turned the tide against the Hun.

When Italy finally entered the war on the side of the allies, thus denying the allegation that has since been foolishly made, that she jumped toward the greatest personal profit, the Central powers found themselves once more overbalanced. It was at the time that Germany had victory within her grasp, Italy's weight in the fray defeated the Central powers and enabled France to hold the Hun.

"Two popular and fundamental misconceptions in the United States are that Italy entered the war from land grabbing, imperialistic motives and that Italy still has great reserves of fresh men to draw from. The only land that Italy wants is land that honest opinion has held to be rightfully hers for more than a century. The statement that she has great reserves is false. Her women and her aged and maimed men are doing all her civilian and much of her war work, so that all able bodied men can do her fighting.

Remarkable Slides Are Shown

"I want, and I am sure the Italian people want, to see American troops beside the English and French on the Italian front. Just to have the Americans march down the streets of their chief cities would wonderfully freshen the dogged courage of those people."

Following his very interesting lecture, Professor Clark showed a series of remarkable stereopticon views furnished to him by the Italian government, showing conditions that maintain throughout Italy. Scenes of devastation that rival those of stricken Belgium and France were pictured. A three reel motion picture review of war activities at fever heat in Italy were screened. These pictures also showed fighting above the clouds in a most realistic manner.

The money Professor Clark is gathering from the free will offering of his American audiences, and he is lecturing in practically every important city in the nation, goes direct, through American hands, to the relief of suffering, both in civil and military populations of that country. Re-education of maimed troopers is an important part of the work of the fund he is gathering and in the expenditure of which there is no waste.

Professor Clark leaves at 10 o'clock this morning for Tacoma, where this evening he will deliver the first of a series of lectures in Washington cities. He was entertained in Portland today by friends and prominent Italians.

HORSE RACE SWINDLE FOR $10,000 NIPPED IN BUD BY SLEUTHS

Promoters and Victim Arrested as They Go to Bank to Take Out the Cash.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, April 20.—Council Bluffs police, acting in conjunction with State Agent Jack Farrand from the attorney general's office, and Deputy Sheriff Gillispie of the local sheriff's office, nipped a suspected $10,000 horse race swindle in the bud here today.

F. J. McWeeney and John Price are charged with promoting the alleged swindle. They were arrested with their alleged victim, Henry C. Thiessen of Keystone, Iowa, when they called at the Commercial National bank for $10,000 in cash, which Thiessen had instructed the bank to secure from his home banker.

Thiessen met the two strangers recently at Excelsior Springs, Mo. They began betting small sums on a horse race. Thiessen doubled his money each day on small bets, until he had won $120. Finally they induced him to place $10,000 upon a single race. They told Thiessen he won the $10,000 bet, but through unfortunate circumstances the manager of the race was arrested by the authorities just as the race closed and had been brought to Omaha.

They told the farmer that it would be necessary to come to Omaha and straighten out the affair in order to secure the $10,000.
