SHIP BOLTERS TAKE A WHIRL AT FISHER AND ARE KINKED BY 6 TO 1

Professionals Touch Up Vancouver Shipyard Boys for 14 Hits—Cox and Lee Make Home Runs—Peterson, of the S. & C. Boys, Breaks Out With His in the First Inning.

By R. A. Cronin

TWO young men who heave bolts into the sides of ships on weekdays and pitch baseballs to batters on Sundays, got off long enough from Standifer & Clarkson's yard at Vancouver Friday afternoon to try out their kinks on Bill Fisher's leaguers. They are sadder but wiser young men. Mister Fisher's hirelings touched up their choicest for 14 hits, including home runs by Cox and Lee that brought in four of the six runs made by the professionals. A solitary home run and only four hits were made by the shipyarders.

Young Kirwin and Long Dick Mitchell were trotted out for the entertainment of the boys and girls of various ages who had foregathered at the brand new ball park of the Shipyarders league in Vancouver, and opposing them were a big left hander named Coleman and the veteran sem-pro. boxist, Jocko Krause. Jocko worked two innings and three hits were gathered, but no runs scored across the plate because of some good throwing on a runout play.

Peterson Makes Homer

L. Peterson broke loose in the first inning for the S. & C. last with a long shot over the right center field that was counted a homer. Four innings later the energetic young Mister Peterson, who is as peppery as a flock of guinea hens and as strong as a bevy of army mules, kicked another out of the lot. The rightfield fence is a Standifer parker, but the blow was counted as a two-bagger because it did not fall to the left of a post marking the homerun boundary.

Kibble's Double Opens Game

Jolly Jack Kibble, the rollicking ringer from Rouvray, Montana—not Pendleton—opened the game with a double to centerfield and went down to third on Ritter's infield hit. Ritter tried to steal and was picked off by Big Chief Emil Hauser, the widespread athlete who cut a lot of capers from Carlisle to Chemawa, via Corvallis. The blow was counted as a two-bagger because it did not fall to the left of a post marking the homerun boundary.

Walter Gearin and E. J. Wallace enjoyed three fine days of fishing at Kaskela on the Deschutes river, last week and J. W. Ladd and Dick Carlson landed the limit at Mecca last Sunday.

E. A. Parsons, the dog fancier, caught his first salmon last week. He had a hard time landing the chinook, but he was mighty pleased with his catch and he's going to try it again.

A. K. Downs and party had fine trout fishing in Dairy creek last Sunday.

The salmon run is at its height at the present time. It is expected that the river at the falls and at the mouth of the Clackamas will be dotted with fishermen Saturday and Sunday.

Trolling below the bridge at Oregon City is very good, according to reports from the boat houses.

Phil Metchan is planning a trout fishing trip.

Frank E. Bleeker fished on the Big asthousal last week and made a nice catch.

Marcius W. F. Helling landed a 45 lb. pound salmon at Jennings Lodge Friday afternoon after a battle that lasted nearly two hours. This is the biggest fish hooked this season.

They Show the Old Pepper

The Standifer-Clarkson team is a peppery one, and it shows in the end. Three snappy double plays were executed by the semi-pro, while two were put over by the pros. The feature of the fishing was contributed by Lee Dempsey, the left-handed first-sacker, who is understudying Boss Fisher. He stabbed them with one hook and hooked them out of the dirt. Lee pioneered in the base-stealing line, but when the dirt was found too adamant the pitcher were called for the day.

Today the Buckroos will return to Vaughn street park for a whirl at the Vancouver soldiers.

Ray photos of the team fight to the left wrist of Second Baseman Hancy contains a fractured tibia as the result of being struck there in Thursday's game by Wild Bill Jacobson, the soldiers' Indian pitcher. He will be out of it for four or five weeks, which handicaps the Bucks right at the start of the season. The score:

MIL WEBSTER BREAKS INDOOR JUMP RECORD; AGGIES CAPTURE MEET

National Junior Indoor High Hurdle Title Is Won by Radcliff of O. A. C., Whose Nine Competitors Included Halsted, Former Stanford Star; Hummel Winner of Two Firsts.

By George Bertz

CLEARING 6 feet 13 1/2 inches in the high jump, Millard Webster of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club established a Pacific coast indoor record in the Northwest military and open indoor track and field championships staged Friday night in the Ice Palace, under the auspices of the Portland war camp community service. Webster made an effort to clear 6 feet 2 3/8 inches, but failed.

The Oregon Agricultural college team carried off first place in the meet with a total of 38 points. George Philbrook's Multnomah Amateur Athletic club squad finished second with 29 points, and the University of Oregon team was third. The 364th field hospital team of Camp Lewis and the signal corps team of the Vancouver barracks each scored 10 points, and the Jefferson High school annexed 2 points, Ralph Thayer winning third place in the 220-yard event.

Although the attendance was not up to the expectations of the committee, the meet was a huge success. Considering the fact that the turns were not banked and that a majority of the athletes were unaccustomed to running on board floors, some excellent times were registered in the various events.

Radcliff National Champion

Radcliff of the Oregon Agricultural college captured the 70 yard national junior indoor high hurdle championship from a field of nine competitors. Radcliff nosed Halsted, former Stanford athlete, out in the first heat by a narrow margin. In the finals, there was very little difference in the time in which the four men finished. Radcliff nosing his team mate Ekkelman, out by a few inches. Still of Oregon was third and Halsted fourth.

Walter Hummel of Multnomah was the high individual point scorer, annexing two first places, the second one coming by default because Foster of the University of Oregon was unable to participate in the run-off after running a dead heat with Hummel in the finals of the 70 yard low hurdles. Foster skinned his knees when he slipped in negotiating a turn in the 225 yard run.

The military events, although the list of entrants was reduced by the departure of the 318th engineers from the Vancouver barracks, were interesting. Lieutenant Shely was in charge of the military events.

The most exciting numbers on the program were the high school and military events. The high school high school team winning the scholastic event and O. A. C. beating Oregon in the open relay. Neither Camp Lewis, Multnomah nor the signal corps was able to enter a team. Twelve schools participated in the grammar school relay, which was under the supervision of Robert Krohn, Richmond winning.

Never Headed in Quarter

The 440 yard run, which Walter Hummel won, was one of the fastest events of the meet. Hummel took the lead shortly after the start and held it for the balance of the race, although Sea of O. A. C. pressed him hard at the finish.

Captain Coleman of the Oregon Aggie team won the 880 yard run and was leading by a wide margin in the mile, but he slowed up and allowed his team mate, Spriggs, to carry off first place. Spriggs made a wonderful spurt at the finish.

Sam Cook and Bill Snyder of Camp Lewis were first and second respectively in the shotput, the former putting the weight 43 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Results—50 yard dash—First heat, Grant, M. A. A. C., time 7 seconds; second heat, Mettox, O. A. C., time 7 seconds; third heat, Mettox, O. A. C., time 7 seconds; fourth heat, Mettox, O. A.
