HUN CHIEF MAKING OVER WORN FORCE

Practically Seven Ninths of Fit German Divisions Have Been in Great Battle.

By William Phillip Simms With the British Armies in France, April 29.—(U. P.)—Practically seven ninths of the fit German divisions on the west front have appeared in the fighting, either on the Somme or the Ysa, since Hindenburg loosed his drive March 21.

About 35 fresh divisions (420,000 men) have been thrown against the allies on the northern front and about 15 divisions (1,200,000 men) on the southern. As about 20 enemy divisions are unfit out of the 205 (2,480,000) on the west front, it is plain the majority of the Germans already have shared in the offensive.

This explains the lulls in the fighting. The tired demand rest and those units which were smashed up must undergo repairs, the gaps being filled with recruits from the field depots or the interior.

The 1918 class now appears to be in the line and the 1920 class is ready to be called up. One must not get the idea the divisions mentioned are definitely used up, although at least 135 of the 185 fit divisions have been in the fighting.

Hindenburg has been busy during April in grooming up and making fresh divisions from the battered ones. This is the meaning of the long quiet period on the southern battlefield. Perhaps 40 divisions which were used on the Somme are already able to return to the line.
