FATE OF PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE TO BE DECIDED AT MEETING TOMORROW

Government's Increase in Railroad Fares Presents Serious Situation to Owners; President Baum Says Attendance Up to Expectations in All Cities but San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—(I. N. S.)—The fate of the Pacific Coast Baseball league for the 1918 season will be settled at a meeting of the directors to be held here tomorrow, according to an announcement made today by President Allan T. Baum.

It is admitted that a serious situation has been presented by the government's increase in railroad fares. Although it has not been definitely determined to what extent this advance will affect the party rate now enjoyed by the ball clubs, Baum expected to be informed on this question today and the entire matter will be in readiness for discussion tomorrow.

Denying a rumor emanating from Salt Lake City that two of the teams are on the rocks, Baum said: "There is absolutely nothing to it. The attendance has been up to expectations everywhere except in San Francisco where the team has been in last place and where conditions have therefore been abnormal. I am convinced that everything would have been all right had not this transportation problem arisen."

Dr. Charles H. Strub, one of the owners of the San Francisco club, was quite as sanguine as Baum. "I do not believe that any of the clubs is in danger of going on the rocks," he said. "The Seals will weather the season if the league operates. All of the other teams will have to take water first."

"The railroad rate advance may force the transfer of the Salt Lake franchise, probably to San Diego or Fresno, or the dropping of that club and one other."

William Lane of the Salt Lake club is expected here tonight.

George Ingle Meets W. Robinson Tonight

Seattle, Wash., May 31.—(U. P.)—Six lightweight bouts make up tonight's arena smelter. George Ingle, Pacific coast lightweight champion, takes on Willie Robinson of San Francisco in a title bout, and Abe Kiby, a fast boy from Tennessee, boxes Leo Houck, naval training station boxing instructor, in the semi-final.

Owing to his decision over Willie Hoppe in California, Robinson is the favorite in the betting.

Manager Harker of the Cornfoot team has protested the contest on the grounds that Pillett, Marshall and Hartman were ineligible to participate in the game, and indications are that the game will be thrown out.

FIRST REGATTA OF MOTOR SEASON A HUGE SUCCESS

Thrilling Finishes Are Witnessed in Portland Motor Boat Club's Opening Race Program.

With Gus Gade as master of ceremonies and commodore and vice commodore of the present and past mingling among the spectators, the Portland Motor Boat club officially opened the 1918 season with the staging of its annual Decoration day regatta Thursday. The regatta consisted of seven events and despite the choppy condition of the water, the events were very interesting.

Captain Gray, former commodore of the club, paid his first visit to the club moorings in over a year. George Kendall, former vice commodore, was on the grounds. George L. Shepherd was there and in fact the regatta was a signal for old timers to get acquainted with the new blood in the motor boat game. In the evening, there was a dance in the club house.

The course extended from the end of Ross Island to the Hawthorne bridge, a distance of four miles.

The first event, a scratch cruiser race, resulted in the Wanderlust beating Peggy II. "Skipper" Johnson had some little trouble getting away from the start line in this event due to the flooded condition of his engine. The Wanderlust also walked away with first place honors in the cruiser handicap.

The feature event of the program was the scratch runabout race. Bill Parham's Neverin carrying off first place after one of the most exciting races in the club's history. The Mima Ross was second and Disturber third. The boats got away to an even start, but after reaching the half mile mark, the Neverin and Mima Ross drew away from the Disturber and the Wawego. The ability of Parham to turn in quicker time gave him an edge on the Mima Ross in the spurt during the final half mile of the race. The Mima Ross won the runabout handicap.

The Vogler Boy III, holder of the free-for-all speed championship, breezed up and down the river.

Saturday and Sunday the Portland Motor Boat club members will hold their first cruising picnic of the season at Magoo's Park.

The results: Scratch cruiser race—Wanderlust, first; Peggy II, second. Time 10:25. Neverin, first; Wawego, second. Time 10:45. Mixed handicap for cruisers—Core-mardo, first; Keeno, second; Mignop, third. Time 2:31.

Runabout handicap—Mima Ross, first; Neverin, second; Disturber, third. Time 9:20.
