

SOLDIER WRITES OF GOOD THINGS SERVED COMPANY

Corporal William A. S. Sylvester Gains 15 Pounds, Although Doing Hard Work in France.

HOTCAKES ARE REALLY HOT

Oregon Boys Working in Stone Quarry and Rock Crusher; Country Is Beautiful.

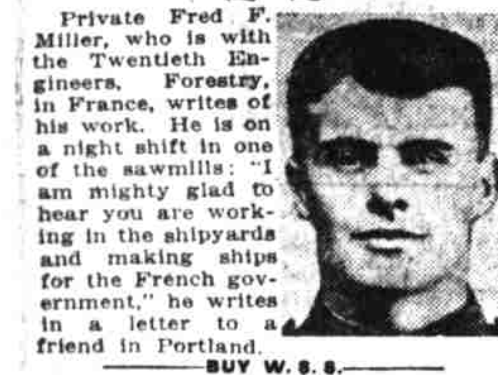

Corporal William A. Sylvester writes his mother, Mrs. S. Sylvester of 1004 East Twenty-seventh street north, from France, where he is with the American Expeditionary Force, and gives the usual report that he has gained in weight during his service in the army.

"Never felt better in my life," he writes. "I have gained 15 pounds since leaving the states. That doesn't mean that I am having an easy time. We have plenty of work, but we get plenty of good eats and regular living. For breakfast this morning we had hot cakes—really hot—right off the pan with butter and syrup and believe me, they were good. They were almost as good as the ones you make. Besides that we had rolled oats, with milk and sugar. Pie, cake, puddings, and baking powder biscuits are not strangers to use either, so you see it is no wonder that I gain."

"The platoon is working a quarry and stone crusher near the camps, plenty of work there but the men sure get away with it. They work harder than a bunch of laborers ever do in the states. Wheelbarrows, picks, shovels, pinchbars, sledge hammers, all are our constant companions. The company has split up and the first and second platoons have a peachy camp, the best in France. We are in a wood, the trees are beautiful—everything green. We could almost imagine we were in Oregon. There is a big day ahead of us, listen to the program: 9 a. m., inspection; 1 p. m., big ball game and 4 p. m., "smoker."

Ensign R. F. Tillman, who is now at Annapolis, has won his advance in the navy very rapidly. He enlisted as a seaman in April, 1917, in June was made coxswain, in August 2 boatswain's mate, and in February, 1918, a first class boatswain's mate, and in April he was made chief boatswain's mate. On May 28 he was commissioned an ensign and is now a cadet at Annapolis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tillman of Portland and has many friends here.

Private Fred F. Miller, who is with the Twentieth Engineers, Forestry in France, writes of a night shift in one of the sawmills. "I am mighty glad to hear you are working in the shipyards and making ships for the French government," he writes in a letter to a friend in Portland.

Do You Get 3 more or Three-less

To every woman, 3 more means a great deal in comfort and security in wearing her clothes. And it means something in money.

The woman who does not insist on 3 more Snaps might just as well accept 9 eggs for a dozen.

Full measure in Snap Fasteners to day is 15 for the price of 12 in Both 5c and 10c Grades

When it comes right down to facts, the store that does not carry 3 more snaps will have to admit that it is behind the times. It is giving its customers Three-less than they get elsewhere.

There are 3 more stores and there are Three-less stores, not for apart. Where do YOU buy? PENN RIVET CORPORATION 11th and Cambria Sts., Philadelphia

Handsome Service Flag Is Dedicated

St. Agatha's Parish Hall Represented at Front by 14 Young Men; Address Is Delivered by Rev. John Cumminsky.

A service flag of white and crimson satin with elegant gold trimmings bearing 14 stars in blue, set in the form of a Latin cross, now hangs in St. Agatha Parish hall, Sellwood. The event was an important feature of the graduating exercises of the parish school, June 14.

After distribution of the diplomas, the rector, Rev. John Cumminsky, made an eloquent address on the subject of the service flag and what it represented, after he had duly blessed the flag and had invoked the divine blessing on the St. Agatha boys in the army. The parish is represented by Frank Sorensen, Peter Leipzig, John Monaghan, Clifford and George Wurfel, Lewis Chundelak, Anthony Reiter, James Doyle, Lawrence Pitts, Lawrence and Lewis Flannery, John Leoffleman, William Herbers, Peter Marianni. Singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the large audience, with violin and piano accompaniment by the Misses Miller, concluded the patriotic function.

HAWAII BECKONS TO PORTLAND FOR TRADE FOLLOWING THE WAR

Representative of Hawaiian Promotion Committee Urges Preparation for New Trade Era.

Phil B. Danky of Honolulu, representative in the mainland of the Hawaiian promotion committee, is registered at the Imperial hotel. The Hawaiian promotion committee is a bureau of the government of the Territory of Hawaii and Mr. Danky's special mission to Portland and other Pacific Northwest ports is to interest commercial and industrial organizations in the after-war commerce of the Hawaiian islands. Mr. Danky's headquarters is Sana Francisco but it is possible that he will recommend to his committee the appointment of another representative to look after the Pacific Northwest field, with headquarters in Portland.

"I am delighted with Portland," said Mr. Danky this morning, "and from a casual survey of your port am impressed with the great opportunity it offers for ocean commerce with the Hawaiian islands. I hope to see a line of steamships plying between the islands and Portland after the war. We have sugar, pineapples and many other products to send to your market and in return there is a great demand in the islands for your commerce. Before the war the Hawaiian trade was practically monopolized by San Francisco, but after the war conditions will be different. There is not going to be any transportation monopoly of the Pacific trade. The government is going to see to that. It will have a tremendously large fleet of merchant ships to turn loose in these waters and these vessels are going to be run along routes that will develop the most commerce."

Auto Parking for Tourists Attracts

Automobile parking accommodations supplied tourists by the city administration have proved attractive to the outside travelers, according to Park Superintendent Keyser. The park, which is located near the old Forestry building on the fair ground site, has already been visited by a number of auto parties. A caretaker is in charge and the wants of the adults and children alike are looked out for.

Divorce Suits Are Filed

Three divorce suits were filed with the county clerk Thursday. Josie Freeman, who married Luther Freeman at Bridgewater, S. D., September 12, 1894, says he now squanders his money and contributes nothing to her support. They have eight children, five of whom are minors. She asks for their custody, $60 a month for their support and $25 alimony for herself. Gladys Swain alleges that Joseph Swain was guilty of an act of infidelity for which he is now serving a six months' term in the county jail. She asks for $100 suit money and $25 a month permanent alimony. They were married at Spokane, November 12, 1915. Fannie Swain complains that William Johnstone drinks to excess. They were married at Vancouver, Wash., July 3, 1914. She asks that her maiden name, Fannie, be restored to her. —BUY W. S. S.

President Ignores Third-Term Boom

Washington, June 21.—(I. N. S.)—President Wilson is too much interested in winning the war to be concerned with talk connecting his name with a third term, it was stated at the White House today. Speakers at the Democratic convention in Indianapolis who undertook to start a third term boom for Mr. Wilson, are believed to have been actuated entirely by a desire to be complimentary. It is definitely said that such use of the president's name had not been authorized.
