

FOURTH OF JULY PARADE WILL BE GREAT SPECTACLE

More Than 10,000 People Will Be in Line Which Will Cover Two and One Half Miles.

MANY NATIONS TO BE SEEN

Great Military and Patriotic Celebration to Be Held on Multnomah Field.

"We want everybody to stay in Portland on the Fourth of July, at least until afternoon," said Sam C. Bratton, chairman of the Portland Fourth of July committee, yesterday.

"The parade will be two and a quarter miles long. It will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning over a line of march which will be announced Tuesday.

"The climax of the Fourth of July will be a great patriotic and military spectacle in Multnomah field at 1 o'clock.

"On the evening of the Fourth we will have a municipal reception and ball at the Auditorium, and only uniformed men will be invited on the floor. The Auditorium program will be interspersed with vaudeville turns and native folk dances of the allied nations."

"The Fourth of July parade, in Chairman Bratton's description, will be unique in the memory of Portland because it will include participants and floats representative of each local group of foreign born people.

Germany will be represented in the parade by native born Germans and Austrians, but they will carry only the Stars and Stripes, not the German flag, and they will find striking methods of attesting their loyalty to the country of their adoption.

Naval units, military divisions—such as the spruce production division—the war work agencies like the Red Cross, War Savings and Y. M. C. A., will enter the parade.

A float of heroic proportions will be entered jointly by the allied nations. The float will represent the world, and the proper insignia of the globe will be placed on a shield indicating each of the several nations and by the side of the shield will stand a native woman of that nation clad in native costume.

Many Nations Represented As an indication of the cosmopolitan character of the demonstration, the following nations are represented in preparation for the parade: Belgium, Poland, Czechia, Danes, Slavs, Dutch, French, British, Germans, Greeks, Italians, Japanese, Norwegians, Romanians, Swedes and Russians.

A company of Mexican editors that will arrive in Portland on the Fourth is expected to take part in the parade. All ships will be in port on July 4. A float will be launched until after 2 p. m.

Colonel John Hibbard of the Multnomah guard will be named grand marshal of the parade.

British and Canadian born residents of Portland and vicinity will meet at the council chamber on Monday, July 2, at 8 o'clock to arrange for participation in the parade.

Hollanders are asked to be at the Green room of the Oregon building, Fifth and Oak streets, Monday night at 8 o'clock to make plans for participation in the parade.

Wood Dealers Behind In Filling Orders

A number of complaints have reached the office of Fuel Administrator Holmes from people who have been unable to secure prompt delivery of ordered fuel.

In some cases, householders complain that wood dealers refuse to accept their orders.

Investigation of complaints by officials of the fuel administrator's office indicates that many dealers are far behind in their orders due to the early rush for winter fuel.

For this reason, some dealers have declined to accept orders for delivery within a stipulated date. In this connection, the administrator advises patience for the reason that dealers are making deliveries as rapidly as possible.

"FIGHTING MECHANICS" ARE SPLENDID LOT OF MEN

"Fighting Mechanics" at Benson Polytechnic, who tumbled out for first inspection Saturday after a week of training in manual tasks in accordance with government's call.

"The finest lot of boys I have ever seen in uniform"

This is the estimate of the 209 "fighting mechanics" of Uncle Sam, who are undergoing a course of technical training at the Benson school, as given by one of the officers following general inspection Saturday morning.

The inspection included not only the personnel of the enlisted men, but the barracks and grounds as well. Every detail of the busy training camp was gone over and found to be in perfect condition.

Despite the fact that the general quarantine of 31 days, placed over the camp when it was opened on June 15, has not yet been raised, the men have taken their enforced confinement like real soldiers and they have made rapid progress in their class room work. In fact, they are now ahead of their schedules. Today some of the boys will be given a temporary leave of absence to visit their families and friends in the city.

Baseball, handball and volley ball are practiced daily by the boys. The contingent has been provided by the government with Krag Jorgenson rifles of the kind used in the Spanish American war. The guns will be issued to the men in a few days.

Captain Roos, commanding officer, is highly pleased with the school.

A. forces over there, is enjoying good health, but that during the winter he suffered with several attacks of cold so severe that he was threatened with pneumonia. The great need of workers in his department of the service is emphasized by the fact that Lieutenant Collier is said to be doing three men's work at the present time.

Lieutenant Collier's mother is at present at Camp Lewis bidding goodbye to another son who leaves soon. It is said for France. The father of the men, Lieutenant Collier, is a surgeon of note in the Northwest, and at present is stationed at Vancouver, British Columbia.

Every male member of the Collier family is in the service.

On the evening of June 28 the campaign closes, and everyone is asked to gather at 8 p. m. in the schoolhouse in the district in which he lives. The results of the campaign will be announced, subscriptions taken and appropriate exercises will take place. As soon after the campaign closes as possible the pledges and census cards will be mailed to the county chairman, J. L. Sutherland, in this city.

Freight Rates for Cement Attacked

Beaver Cement Co. Asserts Southern Pacific Company Discriminates Against Company, Favoring California Plants.

Unreasonableness and discrimination in freight rates are charged by the Beaver Cement company of Gold Hill, Or., in a complaint against the Southern Pacific Railroad company heard by the Oregon public service commission Friday.

The cement company declares that differential rates observed on the main line of the railroad are not observed on the branch lines, and that discrimination, particularly in favor of lines in California, is being practiced.

The Beaver Cement company further alleges that the sum of $600,000 was invested in the plant at Gold Hill, with the understanding that proper freight rates would be given shipments of cement.

The main purpose of the cement firm is to be enabled to reach the Willamette valley trade in competition with the plant at Oswego, Or., and the Washington plants.

Portland deliveries of cement brought up from California on steam vessels form another factor in the freight rate controversy.

MEDFORD ORCHARDIST IS A CANDIDATE FOR HOUSE SPEAKERSHIP

Ben C. Sheldon, Who Is Seeking Return to Legislature, Makes Announcement.

Ben C. Sheldon, prominent Medford orchardist and newspaper man, has announced to his friends his candidacy for the speakership of the house at the coming session of the state legislature and is inaugurating an active campaign, not only for the speakership, but for reelection to the seat in the house which he held in the last session.

As a legislator, Mr. Sheldon was author of a bill granting voting privileges at all school elections to regularly registered voters, an honor confined to taxpayers. He also presented and saw passed two prison reform measures. The first was a bill proposed by the state parole board that divorced the parole officer and the prison warden from the parole board. The second was a bill to give trial judges discretionary powers in making sentences under the indeterminate sentence laws.

The candidate will make these bills and the statement that he is a champion of more extensive normal school facilities, as well as his experience in the house, his campaign arguments.

Mr. Sheldon was born in Pike county, Missouri, 18 years ago. He was educated in the Minneapolis, Minn., schools and at the University of Minnesota. For 12 years he has been a resident of Oregon and of Medford, and shortly after he retired from the presidency of the Medford Commercial club, he successfully arranged and carried out all details of the program of entertainment for the convention of the state editorial association at Medford in 1916. His home is at Medford, although he declares his citizenship of the Ashland normal school and is editor of a newspaper at Grants Pass.

Steadfast Loyalty to Government in War Work Promised; Hurlburt Is Re-elected President of Organization.

Steadfast loyalty to the government and a promise to cooperate with federal officials in every undertaking which might be asked was pledged by the sheriffs of Oregon at the closing session of their annual state convention Friday at the courthouse. This declaration to render all possible service to the state and nation was given after talks had been given by United States Attorney Bert E. Haney, United States Marshal Alexander, William Byron, special agent of the department of justice, and other government officials.

The sheriffs re-elected Sheriff Hurlburt of Multnomah county as president and Sheriff Lillie of Gilliam was re-elected secretary of the organization. Sheriff Gage of Coos county was chosen as vice president. Portland was named as the place of meeting for the 1919 convention.

Saturday the Oregon sheriffs met with the State Association of Sheriffs of Washington at the annual convention at Vancouver. In the afternoon they went for an automobile trip over the Columbia river highway.

An unique, and perhaps the most enjoyable feature, of the convention was the luncheon provided by President Hurlburt and served in the main corridor of the county jail. Looked behind the gate, the assembled sheriffs and guests, including Judges Morrow, Tucker, Stapleton, Bell, Jones, County Commissioners Holman, Muck and Holbrook, District Attorney Evans, Chief of Police Johnson, Captain Jenkins, United States Attorney Haney, Special Agent Byron of the federal department of justice and United States Marshal Alexander, enjoyed an elaborate menu, served by six of the trustees.

No new contracts calling for delivery on or after October 1 are to bear a price unless bearing an agreement making the price subject to revision by any authorized government agency. The base price for Lake Superior iron ore will be increased or decreased according to the change in rail or lake freight rates.

Iron and Steel Price Pact Given Approval

Washington, June 22.—(U. P.)—President Wilson today approved the agreement made by the price fixing committee of the war industries board with representatives of the iron ore, pig iron and steel interests that the maximum prices now prevailing on iron ore, pig iron and iron and steel products be continued in effect for three months ending September 30, with two exceptions.

The exceptions increased the basic prices of Lake Superior iron ore 45 cents a gross ton on and after July 1. The prices being based on the advances in freight rates effective June 25 and the basing points for steel bars, shapes and plates were changed to be at Pittsburgh, Pa.
