LEE STAR PERFORMER IN GAME THAT GIVES SERIES TO BUCKAROOS

Clever Catcher Not Only Carries Portland Team "Over Top" in Second Event of the Double-Header, but Does Some Brilliant Work in the First Th at Prevents Disaster.

LIFFORD LIGHTFOOT LEE heard that Brooklyn was looking for a good catcher, so yesterday C. Lightfoot proceeded to demonstrate to the world that he is the greatest young ball player in the league. Of course, the fans have been aware of that for some time, but the youthful Buckaroo decided, evidently, to end up the business with an exclamation point.

Young Mister Lee was the entire show. He not only whaled the ball for six out of eight hits off McMorran, but he gave the Portland club the odd game of the series by stealing home in the seventh inning with the winning run of the second game, after tying it up with his double.

What Young Mr. Lee Did The score matters not. As said before, Lee was the whole performance. This is what he did:

First game-Doubled to center in first inning and scored a run, singled to cen-ter in third inning, ditto fifth inning. ditto seventh inning scoring the second run for his club. Second game-Infield out, first inning; hit home run into centerfield bleachers, third inning; infield out, fifth inning; doubled to center, seventh inning, scoring tying run; stole home in seventh with winning run. Yes, it was a very large day for

Catcher Lee. Six clean, terrific, driving hits in the eight times up. The scores were: Seattle 5, Portland the first game, and Portland 9, Seattle 8, in the second game. Big Blowup in First Game

In the first game, Portland was enjoying a 1 to 0 lead and Arkneburg was for women by three fifths of a second. pitching good ball, when the big blowup came in the sixth. Dempsey started with a single to right, Lebourveau following with one to left and Smale through short, filling the bases. Murphy hit a flukish fly over Fisher and two runs came in. Murphy stole second and then Carman hit one just over the drawn in infield, spreading two more runs across.

Seattle made another in the ninth, Ritter's error of Richie's ball, Leather's single and the hitting into a double play by Dempsey.

For Portland, Lee scored Daubert in the first inning and Smith in the

After having disposed of the Bucks in the first game, Lefty McMorran at-tempted to repeat in the second. Bucks Finally Tear Loose Then they tore loose. Richie started with a single, Leathers walked, and right, cleaning the bags. Lebourveau to center. Smale skied to Daniels. Murphy singled to left and sored McMorran. Carman walked and did Mitchell-to the bench. Rapp took up the pitching and Ritter threw Downey out, Lebourveau scoring. Richie tripled to center and brought the total hits oft Arlett.

Daubert doubled to left on McMorran and Lee to center, tying the score and sending Alexander to the pitching line. Fisher's out put Lee on third and then he dashed home, while Alex was trying frantically to get the ball to Richie on a pitch. It was the prettiest steal seen here in years, Richie not having a chance to get the big boy.

Honors in the 500 bird match race between Frank Troeh of Vancouver, Wash., and William Heer of Guthrie, Okla., shifted back and forth today and finally ended with each dropping 21 targets in 300. In vesterday's events Heer broke 187 and Troeh 184. They start today with 179 each.

The wind played havoc with the targets throughout the entire day. Neither shooter was sure of himself but both are confident of being able to shoot the final 200 today. Troch lost an excellent opportunity to hang onto the lead in the fourth stri ngof 20 targets. Heer missing six targets, but the Oklahoma man broke straights in the next two events, while Troch dropped four targets. Starts With Straight

Heer started the day with a straight while Troeh dropped three targets, squaring the match. Heer went into the lead on the next event, breaking 19 to Troch's 18. Both were straight in the third string, Event four was disastrous to Heer, six being declared lost. Troch was three up at the start of the fifth event, but Heer took the lead by breaking two straights, while Troch fell down to 18 in the sixth event. Both shooters dropper three targetts in the seventh event and they powdered every target in the eighth string. A 19 for Troch in the ninth and a score of one less for Heer evened the match and it remained so, as both missed one target in the final string of the day.

Of the 13 targets dropped by Heer four were straightaways, four from left angles and five from right angles. Troch's hardest target was the right angle, seven being the total straightaways and four left angles.

Big Crowd Sees It The match attracted about 300 people in addition to the 147 shooters, the largest on the Pacific coast, the former record 136 being made at Port and during the Pacific
